

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ASSOCIATE-REFORMED SYNOD,

AT GREENCASTLE, MAY 31, 1799.

THE Synod, having judicially ratified the Westminster Confession of Faith, and Catechisms Larger and Shorter, with a modification of the doctrine concerning the power of the civil magistrate in matters of religion; and having also ratified the Overture for the Government and Discipline of the Church, and the Directories for Worship, Public and Private, DO HEREBY DECLARE,

That they consider the said Confession of Faith, Larger and Shorter Catechisms, Form of Church-government, and Directories for Worship, as their FIXED TESTIMONY, by which their principles are to be tried; or as the Judicial expression of the sense in which they understand the Holy Scriptures in their relation to the Doctrine, Government, and Worship of the Christian Church: And it is their resolution to emit occasional testimonies, in particular acts, against errors and delusions.

Agreeably hereunto, the terms on which any person or persons shall be admitted as a member or members of this church, are, A profession of faith in the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, as the perfect and only rule of faith and practice; together with an approbation of the Confession of Faith, Larger and Shorter Catechisms, Form of Church-government, and Directories for Worship, as therein received; a holy life and conversation, and subjection to the Order and Discipline of the Church.

They moreover declare the aforesaid Confession of Faith, Larger and Shorter Catechisms, together with the Government and Discipline of the Church, and the Directories for Public and Private Worship, to be the Constitution and Standards of the ASSOCIATE-REFORMED CHURCH, in all matters relating to Doctrine, Government, Discipline, and Worship: Provided that nothing in this declaration shall be construed to extend to the Appendices thereunto annexed, so as to comprise the same within the terms of communion. Of all which the Judicatories and members of the Church are required to take notice, that they may govern themselves accordingly.

By order of the Synod,

JOHN RIDDELL, Moderator.

EBENEZER DICKEY, Clerk, P. T.

ASSOCIATE-REFORMED SYNOD, MAY 31, 1799.

THE Westminster Confession of Faith, with the Catechisms Larger and Shorter, having been formerly received by this Synod, with a reservation for future discussion of the doctrine respecting the power of the civil magistrate in matters of religion; and the said doctrine being now modified in a manner more agreeable to the word of God, to the nature of the Christian Church, and to the principles of civil society, The Synod do explicitly receive the aforesaid Confession and Catechisms, with the doctrine concerning the civil magistrate, as now stated in the twentieth, twenty-third, and thirty-first chapters of the Confession, as the system of doctrine which is built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, JESUS CHRIST himself being the chief corner-stone: And the Synod do hereby declare, that the aforesaid Confession and Catechisms, as herein received, contain the true and genuine doctrine of the ASSOCIATE-REFORMED CHURCH; and that no tenet contrary thereto, or to any part thereof, shall be countenanced in this Church.

By order of the Synod,

JOHN RIDDELL, Moderator.

Chapter I.

OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURE.

ALTHOUGH the light of nature, and the works of creation and providence, do so far manifest the goodness, wisdom, and power of God, as to leave men inexcusable ;^a yet are they not sufficient to give that knowledge of God, and of his will, which is necessary unto salvation :^b Therefore, it pleased the Lord, at sundry times, and in divers manners, to reveal himself, and to declare that his will unto his church ;^c and afterwards, for the better preserving and propagating of the truth, and for the more sure establishment and comfort of the church against the corruption

I. a Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law, are a law unto themselves. Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another. Rom. i. 19, 20. Because that which may be known of God, is manifest in them ; for God hath shewed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead ; so that they are without excuse. Psal. xix. 1 to 3. The heavens declare the glory of God ; and the firmament sheweth his handy-work. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. Rom. i. 32. Who knowing the judgment of God, (that they which commit such things are worthy of death,) not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them. With Rom. ii. 1. Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest ; for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself ; for thou that judgest dost the same things.

b I. Cor. i. 21. For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. I Cor. ii. 13, 14. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth ; comparing spiritual things with spiritual. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God ; for they are foolishness unto him ; neither can he know them ; because they are spiritually discerned.

c Heb. i. 1. God—at sundry times, and in divers manners, spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets.

of the flesh, and the malice of Satan and of the world, to commit the same wholly unto writing :^d which maketh the Holy Scripture to be most necessary ;^e those former ways of God's revealing his will unto his people, being now ceased.^f

II. Under the name of Holy Scripture, or the word of God written, are now contained all the books of the Old and New-Testament, which are these :

OF THE OLD-TESTAMENT :

Genesis,	I. Kings,	Ecclesiastes,	Amos,
Exodus,	II. Kings,	The Song of	Obadiah,
Leviticus,	I. Chronicles,	Songs,	Jonah,
Numbers,	II. Chronicles,	Isaiah,	Micah,
Deuteronomy,	Ezra,	Jeremiah,	Nahum,
Joshua,	Nehemiah,	Lamentations,	Habakkuk,
Judges,	Esther,	Ezekiel,	Zephaniah,
Ruth,	Job,	Daniel,	Haggai,
I. Samuel,	Psalms,	Hosea,	Zechariah,
II. Samuel,	Proverbs,	Joel,	Malachi.

^d Prov. xxii. 19 to 21. That thy trust may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee. Have I not written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge, that I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee? Luke i. 3, 4. It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee, in order, most excellent Theophilus, that thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed. Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. Mat. iv. 4, 7, 10. But he answered and said, it is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Isa. viii. 19, 20. And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead? To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

^e 2 Tim. iii. 15. And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus. 2 Pet. i. 19. We have also a more sure word of prophecy, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts.

^f Heb. i. 1, 2. God, who at sundry times, and in divers manners, spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the world:

All which are given by inspiration of God, to be the rule of faith and life.^g

III. The books commonly called Apocrypha, not being of divine inspiration, are no part of the canon of the Scripture; and therefore are of no authority in the Church of God, nor to be any otherwise approved, or made use of, than other human writings.^h

IV. The authority of the Holy Scripture, for which it ought to be believed and obeyed, dependeth not upon the testimony of any man, or church; but wholly upon God (who is truth itself) the Author thereof; and therefore it is to be received, because it is the word of God.ⁱ

H. g Luke xvi. 29, 31. Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead. Eph. ii. 20. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone. Rev. xiii. 18, 19. For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book. 2 Tim. iii. 16. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.

III. A Luke xxiv. 27 to 44. And beginning at Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded unto them, in all the scriptures, the things concerning himself. And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms, concerning me. Rom. iii. 2. Much every way: chiefly because that unto them were committed the oracles of God. 2 Pet. i. 21. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

IV. i 2 Pet. i. 19, 21. We have also a more sure word of prophecy, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth

V. We may be moved and induced by the testimony of the church, to an high and reverend esteem of the Holy Scripture ;^k and the heavenliness of the matter, the efficacy of the doctrine, the majesty of the style, the consent of all the parts, the scope of the whole, (which is to give all glory to God,) the full discovery it makes of the only way of man's salvation, the many other incomparable excellencies, and the entire perfection thereof, are arguments whereby it doth abundantly evidence itself to be the word of God; yet, notwithstanding, our full persuasion and assurance of the infallible truth, and divine authority thereof, is from the inward work of the Holy Spirit, bearing witness by, and with the word in our hearts.^l

VI. The whole counsel of God, concerning all things necessary for his own glory, man's salvation, faith and life, in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts: For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man, but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. 2 Tim. iii. 16. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. 1 John v. 9. If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son. 1 Thes. ii. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

V. & 1 Tim. iii. 15. But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

1 John ii. 20 to 27. But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things. But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: But as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie; and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. John xvi. 13, 14. Howbeit, when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself, but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. 1 Cor ii. 10 to 12. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Isa. lix. 21. As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

is either expressly set down in scripture, or by good and necessary consequence may be deduced from scripture : unto which nothing at any time is to be added, whether by new revelations of the Spirit, or traditions of men.^m Nevertheless, we acknowledge the inward illumination of the Spirit of God to be necessary for the saving understanding of such things as are revealed in the word ;ⁿ and that there are some circumstances concerning the worship of God, and government of the church, common to human actions and societies, which are to be ordered by the light of nature and Christian prudence, according to the general rules of the word, which are always to be observed.^o

VII. All things in scripture are not alike plain in themselves, nor alike clear unto all ;^p yet those things which are necessary to be known, believed, and observed for salvation, are so clearly propounded and opened in some place of Scripture or other, that not only the learned, but the un-

VI. m 2 Tim. iii. 15 to 17. And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. Gal. i. 8, 9. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again ; If any man preach any other gospel unto you, than that ye have received, let him be accursed. 2 Thess. ii. 2. That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

n John vi. 45. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. 1 Cor. ii. 9 to 12. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit : for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man, which is in him ? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

o 1 Cor. xi. 13, 14. Judge in yourselves ; is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered ? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him ? 1 Cor. xiv. 26, 40. How is it then, brethren, when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation ? Let all things be done unto edifying. Let all things be done decently and in order.

VII. p 2 Pet. iii. 16. As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of learned, in a due use of the ordinary means, may attain unto a sufficient understanding of them.^q

VIII. The Old-Testament in Hebrew, (which was the native language of the people of God of old,) and the New Testament in Greek, (which at the time of the writing of it was most generally known to the nations,) being immediately inspired by God, and by his singular care and providence kept pure in all ages, are therefore authenticall;^r so as in all controversies of religion, the church is finally to appeal unto them.^s But because these original tongues are not known to all the people of God, who have right unto and interest in the Scriptures, and are commanded, in the fear of God, to read and search them,^t therefore they are to be translated into the vulgar language of every nation unto which they come,^v that the word of God dwelling plentifully in all, they may worship him in an acceptable these things, in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures unto their own destruction.

^q Psalm cxix. 105, 130. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. The entrance of thy words giveth light, it giveth understanding unto the simple.

VIII. ^r Matthew v. 18. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot, or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

^s Isaiah viii. 20. To the law, and to the testimony: If they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. Acts xv. 15. And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written. John v. 39, 46. Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life, and they are they which testify of me. For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

^t John v. 39. Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me.

^v 1 Cor. xiv. 6, 9, 11, 12, 24, 27, 28. Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine? So likewise you, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air. Therefore, if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a Barbarian; and he that speaketh shall be a Barbarian unto me. Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church. But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all. If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret. But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

manner,^w and, through patience and comfort of the scriptures, may have hope.^x

IX. The infallible rule of interpretation of scripture, is the scripture itself; and, therefore, when there is a question about the true and full sense of any scripture (which is not manifold, but one) it must be searched and known by other places that speak more clearly.^y

X. The supreme Judge, by which all controversies of religion are to be determined, and all decrees of councils, opinions of ancient writers, doctrines of men, and private spirits, are to be examined, and in whose sentence we are to rest; can be no other but the Holy Spirit speaking in the scripture.^z

^w Col. iii. 16. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

^x Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

^y 2 Pet. i. 20, 21. Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. Acts xv. 15, 16. And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written. After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David which is fallen down, and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up.

^z Mat. xxii. 29, 31. Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God. But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God? Eph. ii. 20. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone. With Acts xxviii. 25. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Eneas the prophet unto our fathers.

OF GOD, AND OF THE HOLY TRINITY.

THERE is but one only,^a living and true God,^b who is infinite in being and perfection;^c a most pure spirit,^d invisible,^e without body, parts,^f or passions;^g immutable,^h im-

I. ^a Deut. vi. 4. Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord. 1 Cor. viii. 4, 6. As concerning, therefore, the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one. But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

^b 1 Thess. i. 9. For they themselves shew of us, what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God. Jer. x. 10. But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King.

^c Job xi. 7, 8, 9. Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection? It is as high as heaven, what canst thou do? deeper than hell, what canst thou know? The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea. Job xxvi. 14. Lo, these are parts of his ways, but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can understand?

^d John iv. 24. God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth.

^e 1 Tim. i. 17. Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

^f Deut. iv. 15, 16. Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves, (for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb, out of the midst of the fire.) Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female. John iv. 24. God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth. With Luke xxiv. 39. Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

^g Acts xiv. 11, 15. And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia. The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. And saying, Sirs, why do you these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.

^h James i. 17. Every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. Mal. iii. 6. For I am the Lord, I change not: therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

Chapter V.

OF PROVIDENCE.

God the great Creator of all things, doth uphold,^a direct, dispose, and govern all creatures, actions, and things,^b from the greatest even to the least,^c by his most wise and holy providence,^d according to his infallible foreknowledge,^e and after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

I. ^a Heb. i. 3. Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high.

^b Dan. iv. 34, 35. And at the end of the days, I Nebuchadnezzar lift up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation. And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What dost thou? Psal. cxxxv. 6. Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places. Acts xvii. 25, 26, 28. Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. And hath made of one blood, all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation. For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. Job xxxviii. xxxix. xl. xli. chapters.

^c Mat. x. 29, 30, 31. Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

^d Prov. xv. 3. The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good. Psal. civ. 24. O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. Psal. cxlv. 17. The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

^e Acts xv. 18. Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. Psal. xciv. 8, 9, 10, 11. Understand, ye brutish among the people; and ye fools, when will ye be wise? He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see? He that chastiseth the heathen, shall not he correct? he

the free and immutable counsel of his own will,^f to the praise of the glory of his wisdom, power, justice, goodness, and mercy.^g

II. Although, in relation to the foreknowledge and decree of God, the first cause, all things come to pass immutably and infallibly:^h yet, by the same providence, he ordereth them to fall out, according to the nature of second causes, either necessarily, freely, or contingently.ⁱ

that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know? The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

^f Eph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Psalm xxxiii. 10, 11. The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect. The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

^g Isaiah lxiii. As a beast goeth down into the valley, the spirit of the Lord caused him to rest; so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. Eph. iii. 10. To the intent that now, unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places, might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God. Rom. ix. 17. For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Gen. xlv. 7. And God sent me before you, to preserve you a posterity in the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance. Psal. cxlv. 7. They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shalt sing of thy righteousness.

II. ^h Acts ii. 23. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain.

ⁱ Gen. viii. 22. While the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night, shall not cease. Jer. xxxi. 35. Thus saith the Lord, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea, when the waves thereof roar; the Lord of hosts is his name. Exod. xxi. 13. And if a man lie not in wait, but God deliver him into his hand; then I will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee. With Deut. xix. 5. As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour, to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the ax to cut down the tree, and the head slippeth from the helve, and lighteth upon his neighbour that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live. 1 Kings xxii. 28, 34. And Micaiah said, If thou return at all in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, Hearken, O people, every one of you. And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and smote the King of Israel between the joints of the harness: wherefore he said unto the driver of his chariot, Turn thine hand, and carry me out of the host, for I am wounded. Isa. x. 6, 7. I will send him against an hypocritical nation; and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. Howbeit, he meaneth not so, neither

III. God, in his ordinary providence, maketh use of means,^k yet is free to work without,^l above,^m and against them at his pleasure.ⁿ

IV. The almighty power, unsearchable wisdom, and infinite goodness of God, so far manifest themselves in his providence, that it extendeth itself even to the first fall, and all other sins of angels and men,^o and that not by a bare doth his heart think so, but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few.

III. k Acts xxvii. 31, 44. Paul said to the centurion, and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship: and so it came to pass that they escaped all safe to land. Isaiah lv. 10, 11. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater. So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: It shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. Hos. ii. 21, 22. And it shall come to pass in that day, I will hear, saith the Lord, I will hear the heavens; and they shall hear the earth. And the earth shall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall hear Jezreel.

l Hos. i. 7. But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen. Mat. iv. 4. But he answered and said, it is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Job xxxiv. 10. Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness, and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.

m Rom. iv. 19, 20, 21. And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sara's womb. He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God. And being fully persuaded, that what he had promised he was able also to perform.

n 2 Kings vi. 6. And the man of God said, Where fell it? And he shewed him the place. And he cut down a stick, and cast it in thither, and the iron did swim. Dan. iii. 27. And the princes, governors and captains, and the king's counsellors being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

IV. o Rom. xi. 32, 33, 34. For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all. O the depth of the riches, both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord, or who hath been his counsellor? 2 Sam. xxiv. 1. And again the anger of the Lord was kindled against Israel, and he moved David against them, to say, Go number Israel and Judah. With 1 Chr. xxi. 1. And Satan stood up against Israel, and provoked David to number Israel. 1 Kings xxii. 22, 23. And the permission,^p but such as hath joined with it a most wise and powerful bounding,^q and otherwise ordering, and governing of them, in a manifold dispensation, to his own holy ends :^r yet so, as the sinfulness thereof proceedeth only from the creature, and not from God, who, being most holy and righteous, neither is nor can be the author or approver of sin.^s

Lord said unto him, Wherewith ? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also ; go forth, and do so. Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken evil concerning thee. 1 Chr. x. 4, 13, 14. Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword ; and thrust me through therewith ; lest these uncircumcised come, and abuse me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he was sore afraid. So Saul took a sword, and fell upon it. So Saul died, for his transgression which he committed against the Lord, even against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to inquire of it. And inquired not of the Lord : therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdom unto David the son of Jesse. 2 Sam. xvi. 10. And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah ? so let him curse, because the Lord hath said unto him, Curse David. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so ? Acts ii. 23. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ~~we~~ have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. Acts iv. 27, 28. For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, were gathered together. For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

^q Psalm lxxvi. 10. Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee : the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain. 2 Kings xix. 28. Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult, is come up into mine ears, therefore I will put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

^r Gen. i. 20. But as for you, ye thought evil against me ; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. Isaiah x. 6, 7, 12. I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge to take the spoil and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. Howbeit, he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so ; but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few. Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

^s James i. 13, 14, 17. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God : for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Every good gift, and every per-

V. The most wise, righteous and gracious God doth oftentimes leave for a season his own children to manifold temptations, and the corruption of their own hearts, to chastise them for their former sins, or to discover unto them the hidden strength of corruption, and deceitfulness of their hearts, that they may be humbled ;^t and to raise them to a more close and constant dependence for their support upon himself, and to make them more watchful against all future occasions of sin, and for sundry other just and holy ends.^v fect gift, is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. 1 John ii. 16. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. Psalm i. 21. These things hast thou done, and I kept silence : thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself : but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

V. t 2 Chr. xxxii. 25, 26, 31. But Hezekiah rendered not again, according to the benefit done unto him : for his heart was lifted up ; therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jerusalem. Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himself for the pride of his heart (both he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem) so that the wrath of the Lord came not upon them in the days of Hezekiah. Howbeit, in the business of the ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, who sent unto him to inquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart. 2 Sam. xxiv. 1. And again the anger of the Lord was kindled against Israel, and he moved David against them to say, Go number Israel and Judah.

v 2 Cor. xii. 7, 8, 9. And lest I should be exalted above measure, through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee : for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. Psalm lxxiii. throughout. Psalm lxxvii. 1, 10, 12. I cried unto God with my voice : even unto God with my voice, and he gave ear unto me. And I said, This is my infirmity : but I will remember the years of the right hand of the most High. I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings. (Read the intermediate verses in the Bible.) Mark xiv. from the 66th verse to the end, with John xxi. 15, 16, 17. So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these ? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord ; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me ? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord ; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me ? Peter was grieved, because he said unto him the third time, lovest thou me ? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things ; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

VI. As for those wicked and ungodly men, whom God as a righteous judge, for former sins, doth blind and harden,^w from them he not only withholdeth his grace, whereby they might have been enlightened in their understandings, and wrought upon in their hearts;^x but sometimes also withdraweth the gifts which they had,^y and exposeth them to such objects as their corruption makes occasion of sin;^z and withal, gives them over to their own lusts, the temptations of the world, and the power of Satan:^a whereby it comes to pass, that they harden themselves, even under those means which God useth for the softening of others.^b

VI. ^w Rom. i. 24, 26, 28. Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lust of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves. For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: For even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature. And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient. Rom. xi. 7, 8. What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for, but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded. According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this day.

^x Deut. xxix. 4. Yet the Lord hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day.

^y Mat. xiii. 12. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away, even that he hath. Mat. xxv. 29. For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away, even that which he hath.

^z Deut. ii. 30. But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass by him: for the Lord thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as appeareth this day. 2 Kings viii. 12, 13. And Hazael said, Why weepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I know the evil that thou wilt do unto the children of Israel: their strong holds wilt thou set on fire, and their young men wilt thou slay with the sword, and wilt dash their children, and rip up their women with child. And Hazael said, But what, is thy servant a dog, that he should do this great thing? And Elisha answered, the Lord hath shewed me that thou shalt be king over Syria.

^a Psal. lxxxi. 11, 12. But my people would not hearken to my voice: and Israel would none of me. So I gave them up unto their own heart's lust, and they walked in their own counsels. 2 Thess. ii. 10, 11, 12. And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. That they all might be damned, who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

^b Exod. vii. 3. And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and multiply my signs and my wonders in the land of Egypt. With Exod. viii. 15, 32. But when Pharaoh saw that there was respite, he hardened his heart,

VII. As the providence of God doth, in general, reach to all creatures ; so, after a most special manner, it taketh care of his church, and disposeth all things to the good thereof.^c and hearkened not unto them ; as the Lord had said. And Pharaoh hardened his heart at this time also, neither would he let the people go. 2 Cor. ii. 15, 16. For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish. To the one, we are the savour of death unto death ; and to the other, the savour of life unto life : and who is sufficient for these things ? Isa. viii. 14. And he shall be for a sanctuary ; but for a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin, and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 1 Pet. ii. 7, 8. Unto you therefore which believe, he is precious : but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner. And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence ; even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient, whereunto also they were appointed. Isa. vi. 9, 10. And he said, Go and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not ; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes ; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed. With Acts xxviii. 26, 27. Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand : and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive. For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed : lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

VII. c 1 Tim. iv. 10. For therefore we both labour, and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe. Amos ix. 8, 9. Behold the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth ; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord. For lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. Rom. viii. 28. And we know that all things work together for good, to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. Isa. xlii. 3, 4, 5, 14. For I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy Saviour : I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Sheba for thee. Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee : therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. Fear not, for I am with thee ; I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west. Thus saith the Lord, your Redeemer, the holy One of Israel, for your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships.

Chapter VI.

OF THE FALL OF MAN, OF SIN, AND OF THE PUNISHMENT THEREOF.

Our first parents, being seduced by the subtilty and temptation of Satan, sinned in eating the forbidden fruit.^a This their sin, God was pleased, according to his wise and holy counsel, to permit, having purposed to order it to his own glory.^b

II. By this sin they fell from their original righteousness, and communion with God,^c and so became dead in sin,^d and wholly defiled in all the faculties and parts of soul and body.^e

I. ^a Gen. iii. 13. And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this, that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat. 2 Cor. xi. 3. But I fear least by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

^b Rom. xi. 32. For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

II. ^c Gen. iii. 6, 7, 8. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise; she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her, and he did eat. And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig-leaves together, and made themselves aprons. And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden, in the cool of the day: And Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God, amongst the trees of the garden. Eccl. vii. 29. Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions. Rom. iii. 23. For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God.

^d Gen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die. Eph. ii. 1. And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins.

^e Tit. i. 15. Unto the pure all things are pure, but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving, is nothing pure, but even their mind and conscience is defiled. Gen. vi. 5. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. Jer. xvii. 9. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it? Rom. iii. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18. As it is written, there is none righteous, no not one. There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way; they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doth good, no not one. Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit: the poison of asps is under their lips. Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and misery are in their ways. And the way of peace have they not known. There is no fear of God before their eyes.

III. f Gen. i. 27, 28. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him : male and female created he them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it : and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth. And Gen. ii. 16, 17. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it : for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die. And Acts xvii. 26. And hath made of one blood, all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitations. With Rom. v. 12, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin ; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one man many be dead ; much more the grace of God and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many. And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift : for the judgment was by one to condemnation ; but the free gift is of many offences unto justification. For if by one man's offence, death reigned by one ; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore as by the offence of one, judgment came upon all men to condemnation : even so by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners : so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. And 1 Cor. xv. 21, 22, 45, 49. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. And so it is written, The first man, Adam, was made a living soul, the last Adam was made a quickening spirit. And as we have borne the image of the earthly, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

g Psal. li. 5. Behold, I was shapen in iniquity ; and in sin did my mother conceive me. Gen. v. 3. And Adam lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat a son in his own likeness, after his image ; and called his name Seth. Job xiv. 4. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean ? not one. Job xv. 14. What is man, that he should be clean ? and he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous ?

IV. h Rom. v. 6, 7. For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. Rom. viii. 7. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God : for it is not subject to the law wholly inclined to all evil,ⁱ do proceed all actual transgression.^k

V. This corruption of nature, during this life, doth remain in those that are regenerated:^l and although it be through Christ pardoned and mortified, yet both itself, and all the motions thereof, are truly and properly sin.^m of God, neither indeed can be. Rom. vii. 18. For I know, that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not. Col. i. 21. And you, that were sometime alienated, and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled.

ⁱ Gen. vi. 5. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. Gen. viii. 21. And the Lord smelled a sweet savour; and the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth: neither will I again smite any more every thing living as I have done. Rom. iii. 10, 11, 12. As it is written, There is none righteous, no not one. There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doeth good, no not one.

^k James i. 14, 15. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. Eph. ii. 2, 3. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past, in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh, and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others. Mat. xv. 19. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies.

Rom. vii. 14, 17, 18, 23. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin. Now then, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. For I know, that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not. But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin, which is in my members. James iii. 2. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. Prov. xx. 9. Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin? Eccl. vii. 20. For there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good and sinneth not.

^m Rom. vii. 5, 7, 8, 25. For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death. What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. But sin,

Chapter VII.

OF GOD'S COVENANT WITH MAN.

THE distance between God and the creature is so great, that although reasonable creatures do owe obedience unto him as their Creator, yet they could never have any fruition of him as their blessedness and reward, but by some voluntary condescension on God's part, which he hath been pleased to express by way of covenant.^a

II. The first covenant made with man was a covenant of works,^b wherein life was promised to Adam, and in him to

I. ^a Isa. xl. 13, 14, 15, 16, 17. Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him? With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding? Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold he taketh up the isles as a very little thing. And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt-offering. All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity. Job ix. 32, 33. For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgment. Neither is there any days-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both. 1 Sam. ii. 25. If one man sin against another, the judge shall judge him, but if a man sin against the Lord, who shall entreat for him? Psal. cxiii. 5, 6. Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high? Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth? Psal. c. 2, 3. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Job xxii. 2, 3. Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself? Is it any pleasure to the Almighty that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect? Job xxxv. 7, 8. If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand? Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousness may profit the son of man. Luke xvii. 10. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do. Acts xvii. 24, 25. God that made the world, and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands. Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things.

For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse : for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

III. ^e Gal. iii. 21. Is the law then against the promises of God ? God forbid ; for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. Rom. viii. 3. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. Rom. iii. 20, 21. Therefore, by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight : for by the law is the knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets. Gen. iii. 15. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed : it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. Isa. xlii. 6. I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles.

IV. This covenant of grace is frequently set forth in the scripture by the name of a testament, in reference to the death of Jesus Christ, the testator, and to the everlasting inheritance, with all things belonging to it, therein bequeathed.^b

V. This covenant was differently administered in the time of the law, and in the time of the gospel :ⁱ under the law it was administered by promises, prophecies, sacrifices, circumcision, the paschal lamb, and other types and ordinances delivered to the people of the Jews ; all fore-signifying Christ to come,^k which were for that time sufficient, and efficacious, through the operation of the Spirit, to instruct and build up the elect in faith in the promised Mes-him : and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

IV. & Heb. ix. 15, 16, 17. And for this cause he is the Mediator of the New Testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. For a testament is of force after men are dead : otherwise it is of no strength at all whilst the testator liveth. Heb. vii. 22. By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament. Luke xxii. 20. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you. 1 Cor. xi. 25. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood : this do ye, as oft as you drink it, in remembrance of me.

V. & 2 Cor. iii. 6, 7, 8, 9. Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit : for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance, which glory was to be done away ; how shall not the ministration of the Spirit be rather glorious ? For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

& (Heb. viii. ix. x. chapters.) Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised : that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised ; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. Col. ii. 11, 12. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ. Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. 1 Cor. v. 7. VI. Under the gospel, when Christ the substance^a was exhibited, the ordinances in which this covenant is dispensed are the preaching of the word and the administration of the sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper,^o which, though fewer in number, and administered with more simplicity, and less outward glory ; yet in them it is held forth in more fulness, evidence, and spiritual efficacy,^p to all na-

ⁱ 1 Cor. x. 1, 2, 3, 4. Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea. And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud, and in the sea. And did all eat the same spiritual meat. And did all drink the same spiritual drink. (For they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them : and that Rock was Christ.) Heb. xi. 13. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. John viii. 56. Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day : and he saw it, and was glad.

^m Gal. iii. 7, 8, 9, 14. Know ye, therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham. And the scripture foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you : and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. 1 Cor. xi. 23, 24, 25. For I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread : And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat ; this is my body, which is broken for you : this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

^p Heb. xii. 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27. But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels. To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven ; and to God the Judge of all ; and to the spirits of just men made perfect. And to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant ; and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things than that of Abel. See that ye refuse not him that speaketh : for if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven. the earth : but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more, I shake not the earth only, but also heaven. And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain. Jer. xxxi. 33, 34. But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord : for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord : for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

¹ Mat. xxviii. 19. (See letter c immediately foregoing.) Eph. ii. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19. Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments, contained in ordinances, for to make in himself, of twain, one new man, so making peace. And that he might reconcile both unto God, in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby. And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. For through him we both have an access by one Spirit unto the Father. Now, therefore, ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God.

³ Gal. iii. 14, 16. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith. Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many ; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ. Acts xv. 11. But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved even as they. Rom. iii. 21, 22, 23, 30. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets. Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe : for there is no difference. For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God, Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith. Psal. xxxii. 1. Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. With Rom. iv. 3, 6, 16, 17, 23, 24. For what saith the scripture ? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works. Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace ; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, (as it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were. Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him. But for us also, to whom it

Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein ; (which are offered by law ;) then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh the first, that he may establish the second. By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. John x. 18. No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself : I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father. Phil. ii. 8. And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

^y Gal. iv. 4. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law.

^z Mat. iii. 15. And Jesus answering, said unto him, Suffer it to be so now : for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him. Mat. v. 17. Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets : I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

^a Mat. xxiv. 37, 38. And he took with him Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful, and very heavy. Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death : tarry ye here, and watch with me. Luke xxii. 44. And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly : and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. Mat. xxviii. 46. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani ? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me ?

counsel and knowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it. Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell. neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption. And Acts xiii. 37. But he whom God raised again, saw no corruption. Rom. vi. 9. Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

^e 1. Cor. xv. 3, 4, 5. For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins, according to the scriptures. And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day, according to the scriptures. And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve.

^f John xx. 25, 27. The other disciple therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.

^g Mark xvi. 19. So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

^h Rom. viii. 34. Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. Heb. ix. 24. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us. Heb. vii. 25. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

ⁱ Rom. xiv. 9, 10. For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living. But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ. Acts i. 11. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee: why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. Acts x. 42. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. Mat. xiii. 40, 41, 42. As therefore the tares are gathered and burnt in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity. And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Jude 6. And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day. 2 Pet. ii. 4. God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment.

V. The Lord Jesus, by his perfect obedience and sacrifice of himself, which he, through the eternal Spirit, once offered up unto God, hath fully satisfied the justice of his Father;^k and purchased not only reconciliation, but an everlasting inheritance in the kingdom of heaven, for all those whom the Father hath given unto him.^l

VI. Although the work of redemption was not actually wrought by Christ till after his incarnation, yet the virtue, efficacy, and benefits thereof, were communicated unto the elect in all ages successively from the beginning of the world, in and by those promises, types, and sacrifices, wherein he was revealed and signified to be the seed of the

V. ^k Rom. v. 19. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners: so, by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Heb. ix. 14, 16. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. Heb. x. 14. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. Eph. v. 2. And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour. Rom. iii. 25, 26. Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. To declare, I say, at this time, his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believed in Jesus.

^l Dan. ix. 24, 26. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the war desolations are determined. Col. i. 19, 20. For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fulness dwell. And (having made peace through the blood of his cross) by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven. Eph. i. 11, 14. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance; being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Which is the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. John xvii. 2. As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. Heb. ix. 12, 15. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed : it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. Rev. xiii. 8. And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. Heb. xiii. 8. Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.

VII. n Heb. ix. 14. (See letter k, scripture the second.) 1. Pet. iii. 18. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, (that he might bring us to God,) being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit.

o Acts xx. 28. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. John iii. 13. And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man, which is in heaven. 1 John iii. 16. Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us : and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

VIII. p John vi. 37, 39. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me ; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. John x. 15, 16. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father : and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold : them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice ; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

q 1 John ii. 1, 2. My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. And he is the propitiation for our sins : and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. Rom. viii. 34. Who is he that condemneth ? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

lay down his life for his friends. Henceforth I call you not servants ; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth : but I have called you friends ; for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you. Eph. i. 7, 8, 9. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. Wherein he hath abounded towards us in all wisdom and prudence. Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in himself. John xvii. 6. I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world : thine they were, and thou gavest them me ; and they have kept thy word.

^s John xiv. 16. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever. Heb. xii. 2. Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith ; who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. 2. Cor. iv. 13. We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken : we also believe, and therefore speak. Rom. viii. 9, 14. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now, if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. Rom. xv. 18, 19. For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed. Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God : so that from Jerusalem and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ. John xvii. 17. Sanctify them through thy truth : thy word is truth.

^t Psal. cx. 1. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. 1 Cor. xv. 25, 26. For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death. Mal. iv. 2, 3. But unto you that fear my name, shall the Son of righteousness arise with healing in his wings ; and ye shall go forth and grow up as calves of the stall. And ye shall tread down the wicked ; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts. Col. ii. 15. And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

Chapter IX.

OF FREE-WILL.

God hath endued the will of man with that natural liberty, that is neither forced, nor by any absolute necessity of nature determined to do good or evil.^a

II. Man, in his state of innocency, had freedom and power to will and to do that which is good and well pleasing to God ;^b but yet mutably, so that he might fall from it.^c

III. Man, by his fall into a state of sin, hath wholly lost all ability of will to any spiritual good accompanying salvation :^d so as a natural man, being altogether averse from that good,^e and dead in sin,^f is not able, by his own

I. ^a Mat. xvii. 12. But I say unto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed : likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. James i. 14. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Deut. xxx. 19. I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing : therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live.

II. ^b Eccl. vii. 29. Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright ; but they have sought out many inventions. Gen. i. 26. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness : and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

^c Gen. ii. 16, 17. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree in the garden thou mayest freely eat. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it : for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die. Gen. iii. 6. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise ; she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her, and he did eat.

III. ^d Rom. v. 6. For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. Rom. viii. 7. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God : for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. John xv. 5. I am the vine, ye are the branches : he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit : for without me ye can do nothing.

^e Rom. iii. 10, 12. As it is written, There is none righteous, no not one. They are all gone out of the way ; they are together become unprofitable ; there is none that doeth good, no not one.

^f Eph. ii. 1, 5. And you hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins. Even when we were dead in sins hath quickened us together with Christ ; (by grace ye are saved.) Col. ii. 13. And you, being dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses.

strength, to convert himself, or to prepare himself thereunto.^g

IV. When God converts a sinner, and translates him into the state of grace, he freeth him from his natural bondage under sin,^h and by his grace alone enables him freely to will and to do that which is spiritually good;ⁱ yet so as that, by reason of his remaining corruption, he doth not perfectly nor only will that which is good, but doth also will that which is evil.^k

^g John vi. 44, 65. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father. Eph. ii. 2 to 5. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past, in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh, and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others. But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us: even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ; (by grace ye are saved.) 1 Cor. ii. 14. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. Tit. iii. 3, 4, 5. For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another. But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared; not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

IV. ^h Col. i. 13. Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son. John viii. 34, 36. Jesus answered them, Verily, verily I say unto you, whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

ⁱ Phil. ii. 13. For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do, of his good pleasure. Rom. vi. 18, 22. Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

^k Gal. v. 17. For the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. Rom. vii. 15, 18, 19, 21, 23. For that which I do, I allow not: for what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I. For I know, that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not. For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do. I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me. But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin, which is in my members.

V. The will of man is made perfectly and immutably free to do good alone, in the state of glory only.¹

Chapter X.

OF EFFECTUAL CALLING.

ALL those whom God hath predestinated unto life, and those only, he is pleased, in his appointed and accepted time, effectually to call,^a by his word and Spirit,^b out of that state of sin and death in which they are by nature, to grace and salvation by Jesus Christ;^c enlightening their minds spiritually and savingly to understand the things of

V. 1 Eph. iv. 13. Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. Heb. xii. 23. To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven; and to God the judge of all; and to the spirits of just men made perfect. 1 John iii. 2. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. Jude 24. Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless, before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy.

That in the dispensation of the fulness of times, he might gather together in one, all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even in him. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will.

^b 2 Thess. ii. 13, 14. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth. Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 2 Cor. iii. 3, 6. Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart. Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giveth life.

^c Rom. viii. 2. For the law of the Spirit of life, in Christ Jesus, hath made me free from the law of sin and death. Eph. ii. 1 to 5. And you hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world,

Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord, our God, shall call. And John iii. 3, 5. Jesus answered, and said unto him, Verily, verily I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Jesus answered, Verily, verily I say unto thee, except a man be born of water, and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. And 1 John v. 12. He that hath the Son, hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life. And Rom. viii. 9. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now, if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of ~~his~~. (Compared together.)

ⁿ John iii. 8. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth : so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

^o 1 John v. 12. He that hath the Son, hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life. Acts iv. 12. Neither is there salvation in any other : for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

IV. ^p Mat. xxii. 14. For many are called, but few are chosen.

^q Mat. vii. 22. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name ? and in thy name have cast out devils ? and in thy name done many wonderful works ? Mat. xiii. 20, 21. But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it. Yot hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while : for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended. Heb. vi. 4, 5. For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, and have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come.

^r John vi. 64 to 66. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him. And he said, Therefore, said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father. From that time, many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. John viii. 24. I said, therefore, unto you, that you shall die in your sins : for, if you believe not that I am ~~he~~, ye shall die in your sins.

OF JUSTIFICATION.

THEM whom God effectually calleth, he also freely justifieth:^a not by infusing righteousness into them, but by pardoning their sins, and by accounting and accepting their persons as righteous: not for any thing wrought in them, or done by them, but for Christ's sake alone: not by imputing faith itself, the act of believing, or any other evangelical obedience, to them as their righteousness; but by imputing the obedience and satisfaction of Christ unto them,^b they none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved. John xiv. 6. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. Eph. ii. 12. That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. John iv. 22. Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. John xvii. 3. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

^c 2 John 9 to 11. Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: he that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son. If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed. For he that biddeth him, God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds. 1 Cor. xvi. 22. If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema, Maranatha. Gal. i. 6 to 8. I marvel, that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another gospel. Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

^d 1. a Rom. viii. 30. Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified. Rom. iii. 24. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ.

^e b Rom. iv. 5 to 8. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works, saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin. 2 Cor. v. 19, 21. To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. For he hath made him to be sin for us, who know no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God.

receiving and resting on him and his righteousness by faith ; which faith they have not of themselves, it is the gift of God.^c

II. Faith, thus receiving and resting on Christ and his righteousness, is the alone instrument of justification ;^d yet

Even the righteousness of God, which is, by faith, of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe ; for there is no difference : being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ : whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins, that are past, through the forbearance of God. Where is boasting then ? It is excluded. By what law ? of works ? Nay ; but by the law of faith. Therefore we conclude, that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the law. Tit. iii. 5, 7. Not by works of righteousness, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. Eph. i. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. Jer. xxiii. 6. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely : and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. 1 Cor i. 30, 31. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption. That, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. Rom. v. 17 to 19. For if by one man's offence, death reigned by one ; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation : even so by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners : so, by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

^c Acts x. 44. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. Gal. ii. 16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law : for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. Phil. iii. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith. Acts xiii. 38, 39. Be it known unto you, therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins. And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from the which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. Eph. ii. 7, 8. That in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness towards us, through Christ Jesus. For by grace are ye saved, through faith ; and that not of yourselves : it is the gift of God.

^d II. ^d John i. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. Rom. iii. 28. Therefore we conclude, that a man is justified faith, without the deeds of the law. Rom. v. 1. Therefore, being

* James ii. 17, 22, 26. Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone. Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect? For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also. Gal. v. 6. For in Jesus Christ, neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but faith which worketh by love.

III. f Rom. v. 9, 10, 19. But God commendeth his love towards us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him. For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son: much more being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners: so, by the obedience of one, shall many be made righteous. 1 Tim. ii. 5, 6. For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time. Heb. x. 10, 14. By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. Dan. ix. 24, 26. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal of the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. Isa. liii. 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised of your iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed. All we, like sheep, have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him, he hath put him to grief; when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many: for he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore, will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong: because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors, and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

II. By this faith, a Christian believeth to be true whatsoever is revealed in the word, for the authority of God himself speaking therein ;^e and acteth differently upon that which each particular passage thereof containeth ; yielding obedience to the commands,^f trembling at the threatenings,^g and embracing the promises of God for this life and that which is to come.^h But the principal acts of saving faith are, accepting, receiving, and resting upon Christ

^c Rom. x. 14, 17. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed ? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard ? and how shall they hear without a preacher ? So then, faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

^d 1 Pet. ii. 2. As new born babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. Acts xx. 32. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised ; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised ; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. Luke xvii. 5. And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. Rom. i. 16, 17. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ : for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth ; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed, from faith to faith : as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

II. ^e John iv. 42. And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying : for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world. 1 Thess. ii. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe. 1 John v. 10. He that believeth on the Son of God, hath the witness in himself : he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. Acts xxiv. 14. But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets.

^f Rom. xvi. 26. But now is made manifest, and by the scripture of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith.

^g Isa. lxvi. 2. For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord : but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

^h Heb. xi. 13. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. 1 Tim. iv. 8. For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

i John i. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. Acts xvi. 31. And they said, Believe on the Lord, Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. Gal. ii. 20. I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. Acts xv. 11. But we believe that, through the grace of the Lord, Jesus Christ, we shall be saved even as they.

III. k Heb. v. 13, 14. For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are full of age, even those who, by reason of use, have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil. Rom. iv. 19, 20. And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sara's womb. He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God. Mat. vi. 30. Wherefore if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Mat. viii. 10. When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

l Luke xxii. 31, 32. And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat: but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. Eph. vi. 16. Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. 1 John v. 4, 5. For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

m Heb. vi. 11, 12. And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end: That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who, through faith and patience, inherit the promises. Heb. x. 22. Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. Col. ii. 2. That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ.

Chapter XV.

OF REPENTANCE UNTO LIFE.

REPENTANCE unto life is an evangelical grace,^a the doctrine whereof is to be preached by every minister of the gospel, as well as that of faith in Christ.^b

II. By it a sinner, out of the sight and sense, not only of the danger, but also of the filthiness and odiousness of his sins, as contrary to the holy nature and righteous law of God ; and upon the apprehension of his mercy in Christ to such as are penitent ; so grieves for and hates his sins, as to turn from them all unto God,^c purposing and endeavouring to walk with him in all the ways of his commandments.^d faith ; who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

I. a Zech. xii. 10. And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications, and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born. Acts xi. 18. When they heard these things, they held their peace and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

b Luke xxiv. 47. And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name, among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. Mark i. 15. And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand : repent ye, and believe the gospel. Acts xx. 21. Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord, Jesus Christ.

II. c Ezek. xviii. 30, 31. Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God : repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions ; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed, and make you a new heart and a new spirit ; for why will ye die, O house of Israel ? Ezek. xxxvi. 31. Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall lothe yourselves in your own sight, for your iniquities and for your abominations. Isa. xxx. 22. Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold : thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth ; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence. Psal. li. 4. Against thee, thee only have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight : that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. Jer. xxxi. 18, 19. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus : Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke : turn thou me, and I shall be turned ; for thou art the Lord, my God. Surely, after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth. Joel ii. 12, 13. Therefore also now, saith the Lord, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning; and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord, ~~your~~ God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. Amos v. 15. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord, God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. Psal. cxix. 128. Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way. 2 Cor. vii. 11. For behold, this self same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! in all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

d Psal. cxix. 6, 59, 106. Then shall I not be ashamed when I have respect unto all thy commandments. I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. I have sworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments. Luke i. 6. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameless. 2 Kings xxiii. 25. And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

III. e Ezek. xxxvi. 31, 32. Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall lothe yourselves in your own sight, for your iniquities, and for your abominations. Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel. Ezek. xvi. 61 to 63. Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger; and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant. And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord: that thou mayest remember and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

f Hos. xiv. 2, 4. Take with you words, and turn to the Lord: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our hips. I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him. Rom. iii. 24. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ. Eph. i. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace.

And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent: Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

IV. h Rom. vi. 23. For the wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Rom. v. 12. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. Mat. xii. 36. But I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

i Isa. lv. 7. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. Rom. viii. 1. There is, therefore, now, no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. Isa. i. 16, 18. Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, cease to do evil. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

V. k Psal. xix. 13. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression. Luke xix. 8. And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor: and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. 1 Tim. i. 13, 15. Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious. But I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly, in unbelief. This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

VI. l Psal. li. 4, 5, 7, 9, 14. Against thee, thee only have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities. Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness. Psal. xxxii. 5, 6. I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord: and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah. For this shall every one that

They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doth God service. 1 Sam. xv. 21 to 23. But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of the things which should have been utterly destroyed, to sacrifice unto the Lord, thy God, in Gilgal. And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt-offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice; and to hearken, than the fat of rams. For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry: because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king.

II. c James ii. 18, 22. Yea, a man may say, thou hast faith, and I have works: show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works. Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

d Psal. cxvi. 12, 13. What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits towards me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. 1 Pet. ii. 9. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light.

e 1 John ii. 3, 5. And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments. But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him. 2 Pet. i. 5 to 10. And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord, Jesus Christ. But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall.

f 2 Cor. ix. 2. For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many. Mat. v. 16. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father, which is in heaven.

g Tit. ii. 5, 9, 10, 11, 12. To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed. Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again, not purloining, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God, our Saviour, in all things. Herein is my father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples.

^k Eph. ii. 10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

^l Rom. vi. 22. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

III. ^m John xv. 4, 5, 6. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. Ezek. xxxvi. 26, 27. A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

ⁿ Phil. ii. 13. For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleasure. Phil. iv. 13. I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. 2 Cor. iii. 5. Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves: but our sufficiency is of God.

According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue. And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue ; and to virtue knowledge. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure : for if ye do these things ye shall never fall : for so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly, into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Isa. lxiv. 7. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee : for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us because of our iniquities. 2 Tim. i. 6. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands. Acts xxvi. 6, 7. And now I stand, and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers ; Unto which promise our twelve tribes instantly serving God day and night, hope to come ; for which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. Jude 20, 21. But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost, keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord, Jesus Christ, unto eternal life.

IV. ^p Luke xvii. 10. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things, which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants : we have done that which was our duty to do. Neh. xiii. 22. And I commanded the Levites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy. Job ix. 2, 3. I know it is so of a truth : but how should man be just with God ? If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand. Gal. v. 17. For the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh : and these are contrary the one to the other, so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

V. ^q Rom. iii. 20 Therefore, by the deeds of the law, there shall no flesh be justified in his sight : for by the law is the knowledge of sin. Rom. iv. 2, 4, 6. For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory, but not before God. Now, to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. Even as David also have done but our duty, and are unprofitable servants : and because, as they are good, they proceed from his Spirit : and, as they are wrought by us, they are defiled and mixed with so much weakness and imperfection, that they cannot endure the severity of God's judgment.^t describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works. Eph. ii. 8, 9. For by grace are ye saved, through faith ; and that not of yourselves : it is the gift of God. Not of works, lest any man should boast. Tit. iii. 5 to 7. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost : which he shed on us abundantly, through Jesus Christ, our Saviour : that being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. Rom. viii. 1-8. For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. Psal. xvi. 2. O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my God : my goodness extendeth not to thee. Job xxii. 2, 3. Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself ? Is it any pleasure to the Almighty that thou art righteous ; or ~~gain~~ gain to him that thou makest thy ways perfect ? Job xxxv. 7, 8. If thou be righteous, what givest thou him ? or what receiveth he of thine hand ? Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.

^t Isa. lxiv. 6. But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags, and we all do fade as a leaf ; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away. Gal. v. 17. For the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh : and these are contrary the one to the other, so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. Rom. vii. 15, 18. For that which I do, I allow not : for what I would, that do I not ; but what I hate, that do I. I know, that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing : for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good I find not. Psal. cxliii. 2. And enter not into judgment with thy servant : for in thy sight shall no man living be justified. Psal. cxxx. 3. If thou, Lord, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand ?

VI. ^v Eph. i. 6. To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved. 1 Pet. ii. 5. Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God, by Jesus Christ. Exod. xxviii. 38. And it shall be upon Aaron's forehead, that Aaron may bear the iniquity of the holy things which the children of Israel shall hallow in all their holy gifts : and it shall be always upon his forehead, that they may be accepted before the Lord. thereof : and the Lord had respect unto Abel, and to his offering. With Heb. xi. 4. By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts : and by it he being dead, yet speaketh.

^w Job ix. 20. If I justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me : if I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse. Psal. cxliii. 2. And enter not into judgment with thy servant : for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

^x Heb. xiii. 20, 21. Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work, to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. 2 Cor. viii. 12. For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. Heb. vi. 10. For God is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have showed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. Mat. xxv. 21, 23. His Lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant ; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things : enter thou into the joy of thy Lord. His Lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant ; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things : enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

VII. ^y 2 Kings x. 30, 31. And the Lord said unto Jehu, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Israel. But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel, with all his heart : for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sin. 1 Kings xxi. 27, 29. And it came to pass, when Ahab heard those words, that he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon his flesh, and fasted, and lay in sackcloth, and went softly. Seest thou how Ahab humbleth himself before me ? because he humbleth himself before me, I will not bring the evil in his days : but in his son's days will I bring the evil upon his house. Phil. i. 15, 16, 18. Some, indeed, preach Christ even of envy and strife ; and some also of good will : the one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds. What then ? notwithstanding every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached ; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

word;^a nor to a right end, the glory of God;^b they are, therefore, sinful, and cannot please God, or make a man meet to receive grace from God.^c And yet their neglect of them is more sinful, and displeasing unto God.^d

And Cain was very wroth, and his countenance fell. With Heb. xi. 4. By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead, yet speaketh. Heb. xi. 6. But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

^a 1 Cor. xiii. 3. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. Isa. i. 12. When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

^b Mat. vi. 2, 5, 16. Therefore, when thou dost thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are; for they love to pray, standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. Moreover, when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

^c Hag. ii. 14. Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord; and so is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there is unclean. Tit. i. 15. Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving, is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled. Amos v. 21, 22. I hate, I despise your feast-days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies. Though ye offer me burnt-offerings, and your meat-offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts. Hos. i. 4. And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel. Rom. ix. 16. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy. Tit. iii. 5. Not by works of righteousness, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

^d Psal. xiv. 4. Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the Lord. Psal. xxxvi. 3. The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good. Job. xxi. 14, 15. Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us; for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways. What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have if we pray unto him? Mat. xxv. 41, 42, 43, 45. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye through Jesus Christ ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. Heb. ix. 12 to 15. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood, he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. For if the blood of bulls, and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh ; how much more shall the blood of Christ, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God ? And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they, which are called, might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. Rom. viii. 33 to 39. Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect ? It is God that justifieth : who is he that condemneth ? It is Christ that died, yea, rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword ? (As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long ; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.) Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus, our Lord. John xvii. 11, 24. And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name, those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am ; that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me : for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. Luke xxii. 32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not ; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. Heb. vii. 25. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

^d John xiv. 16, 17. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever ; even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him : but ye know him, for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. 1 John ii. 27. But the anointing which ye have received of him, abideth in you : and ye need not that any man teach you : But, as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie : and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. 1 John iii. 9. Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin, for his seed remaineth in him : and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

III. ^g Mat. xxvi. 70, 72, 74. But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man. Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

^h Psal. li. (the title) 14. To the chief musician, a psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba. Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation : and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

ⁱ Is. lxiv. 5, 7, 9. Thou meetest him that rejoiceth, and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways : behold, thou art wroth, for we have sinned : in those is continuance, and we shall be saved. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee : for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us, because of our iniquities. Be not wroth very sore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity for ever : behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people. 2 Sam. xi. 27. And when the mourning was past, David sent, and fetched her to his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a son : but the thing that David had done displeased the Lord.

I sleep, but my heart waketh : it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled : for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night. I have put off my coat, how shall I put it on ? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them ? My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved for him. I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone : my soul failed when he spake : I sought him, but I could not find him ; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

Chapter XVIII.

OF ASSURANCE OF GRACE AND SALVATION.

ALTHOUGH hypocrites, and other unregenerate men, may vainly deceive themselves with false hopes and carnal presumptions of being in the favour of God and estate of salvation;^a which hope of theirs shall perish;^b yet such as truly believe in the Lord Jesus, and love him in sincerity, endeavouring to walk in all good conscience before him, may, in this life, be certainly assured that they are in sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

ⁿ Psal. xxxii. 3, 4. When I kept silence, my bones waxed old; through my roaring all the day long. For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Psal. li. 8. Make me to hear joy and gladness: that the bones which thou hast broken, may rejoice.

^o 2 Sam. xii. 14. Howbeit, because, by this deed, thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die.

^p Psal. lxxxix. 31, 32. If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments; then will I visit their transgressions with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes. 1 Cor. xi. 32. But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

ⁱ ^a Job viii. 13, 14. So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrite's hope shall perish; whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be a spider's web. Micah iii. 11. The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among us? none evil can come upon us. Deut. xxix. 19. And it come to pass when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, I shall have peace, though I walk in the imagination of mine heart to add drunkenness to thirst. John viii. 41. Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one father, even God.

^b Mat. vii. 22, 23. Many shall say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

the state of grace,^c and may rejoice in the hope of the glory of God; which hope shall never make them ashamed.^d

II. This certainty is not a bare conjectural and probable persuasion, grounded upon a fallible hope;^e but an infallible assurance of faith, founded upon the divine truth of the promises of salvation,^f the inward evidence of those graces unto which these promises are made,^g the testimony of the Spirit of adoption witnessing with our spirits that we are the children of God;^h which Spirit is the earnest

^c 1 John ii. 3. And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments. 1 John iii. 14, 18, 19, 21, 24. We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren: he that loveth not his brother, abideth in death. My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed, and in truth. And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God. And he that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit that he hath given us. 1 John v. 13. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God: that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

^d Rom. v. 2, 5. By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost, which is given unto us.

II. ^e Heb. vi. 11, 19. And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end. Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil.

^f Heb. vi. 17, 18. Wherein God willing more abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us.

^g 2 Pet. i. 4, 5, 10, 11. Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises; that by these you might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust. And besides this, giving diligence, add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall: for so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly, into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. 1 John ii. 3. And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments. 1 John iii. 14. We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren: he that loveth not his brother abideth in death. 2 Cor. i. 12. For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-wards.

^h Rom. viii. 15, 16. For ye have not received the Spirit of bondage of our inheritance, whereby we are sealed to the day of redemption.ⁱ

III. This infallible assurance doth not so belong to the essence of faith, but that a true believer may wait long, and conflict with many difficulties, before he be partaker of it;^k yet being enabled by the Spirit to know the things which are freely given him of God, he may, without extraordinary revelation, in the right use of ordinary means, attain thereunto.^l And therefore it is the duty of every one to give all diligence to make his calling and election sure;^m that thereby his heart may be enlarged in peace and joy in the Holy Ghost, in love and thankfulness to God, and in strength and cheerfulness in the duties of obedience, the again to fear : but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

ⁱ Eph. i. 13, 14. In whom ye also trusted after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation : in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise ; which is the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. Eph. iv. 30. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. 2 Cor. i. 21, 23. Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God : who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

III. ^k 1 John v. 13. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God. Isa. i. 10. Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light ? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. Mark i.: 24. And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe ; help thou mine unbelief. (See Psal. lxxxviii. throughout. Psal. lxxvii. to the 12th verse.)

^l 1 Cor. ii. 12. Now we have received, not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God ; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. 1 John iv. 13. Hereby know we, that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. Heb. vi. 11, 12. And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end : that you be not slothful, but followers of them who, through faith and patience, inherit the promises. Eph. iii. 17 to 19. That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith ; that ye being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height ; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

^m 2 Pet. i. 10. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure : for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall.

ⁿ Rom. v. 1, 2, 5. Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord, Jesus Christ ; by whom also we have proper fruits of this assurance :ⁿ so far is it from inclining men to looseness.^o

IV. True believers may have the assurance of their salvation divers ways shaken, diminished, and intermitted : as, by negligence in preserving of it, by falling into some special sin, which woundeth the conscience, and grieveth the Spirit ; by some sudden or vehement temptation ; by God's withdrawing the light of his countenance, and suffering even access by faith unto this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. Rom. xiv. 17. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. Rom. xv. 13. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost. Eph. i. 3, 4. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ : according as he hath chosen us, in him, before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy, and without blame before him in love. Psal. iv. 6, 7. There be many that say, Who will show us any good? Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us. Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their wine increased. Psal. cxix. 32. I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge my heart.

^o 1 John ii. 1, 2. My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous : and he is the propitiation for our sins : and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. Rom. vi. 1, 2. What shall we say then? shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? God forbid : how shall we that are dead to sin, live any longer therein? Tit. ii. 11, 12, 14. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men ; teaching us, that denying ungodliness, and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works. 2 Cor. vii. 1. Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. Rom. viii. 1, 12. There is, therefore, now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh to live after the flesh. 1 John iii. 2, 3. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be : but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him ; for we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure. Psal. cxxx. 4. But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared. 1 John i. 6, 7. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth : but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin.

such as fear him to walk in darkness, and to have no light :^r yet are they never utterly destitute of that seed of God, and life of faith, that love of Christ and the brethren, that sincerity of heart and conscience of duty, out of which, by the operation of the Spirit, this assurance may, in due time, be revived,^q and by the which, in the mean time, they are supported from utter despair.^r

Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness. Eph. iv. 30, 31. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby you are sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking, be put away from you, with all malice. Psal. lxxvii. 1 to 9. I cried unto God with my voice: even unto God with my voice, and he gave ear unto me. In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord; my sore ran in the night, and ceased not: my soul refused to be comforted. I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah. Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so troubled that I cannot speak. I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times. I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with mine own heart, and my spirit made diligent search. Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more? Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail for evermore? Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah. And I said, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High. Mat. xxvi. 69 to 72. Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth. And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man. Psal. xxxi. 22. For I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications, when I cried unto thee. (Psal. lxxxviii. throughout.) Isa. i. 10. Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. q 1 John iii. 9. Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin, for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin because he is born of God. Luke xxii. 32. But I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. Job xiii.

Chapter XIX.

OF THE LAW OF GOD.

God gave to Adam a law, as a covenant of works, by which he bound him, and all his posterity, to personal, entire, exact, and perpetual obedience, promised life upon the fulfilling, and threatened death upon the breach of it; and endued him with power and ability to keep it.^a

15. Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will maintain mine own ways before him. Psal. lxxiii. 15. If I say, I will speak thus: behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children. Psal. li. 8, 12. (See letter p immediately before.) Isa. i. 10. (See letter p immediately foregoing.)

r Mic. vii. 7, 8, 9. Therefore I will look unto the Lord: I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. Jer. xxxii. 40. And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. Isa. liv. 7 to 10. For a small moment have I forsaken thee, but with great mercies will I gather thee. In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the Lord, thy Redeemer. For this is as the waters of Noah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee. For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed, but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord, that hath mercy on thee. Psal. xxiii. 1. My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? (Psal. lxxxviii. throughout.)

I. a Gen. i. 26, 27. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image; in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them. With Gen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die. Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law, are a law unto themselves: which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another. Rom. x. 5.

II. This law, after his fall, continued to be a perfect rule of righteousness : and, as such, was delivered by God upon mount Sinai in ten commandments, and written in two tables ;^b the four first commandments containing our duty towards God, and the other six our duty towards man.^c

III. Besides this law, commonly called moral, God was pleased to give to the people of Israel, as a church under age, ceremonial laws, containing several typical ordinances, partly of worship, prefiguring Christ, his graces, actions,

For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doth those things shall live by them. Rom. v. 12, 19. Wherefore as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin ; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners ; so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Gal. iii. 10, 12. For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse : for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. And the law is not of faith : but, The man that doth them shall live in them. Eccl. vii. 29. Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright ; but they have sought out many inventions. Job xxviii. 28. And unto man he said, Behold the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom ; and to depart from evil, is understanding.

II. b James i. 25. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the word, this man shall be blessed in his deed. James ii. 8, 10, 11, 12. If ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty. Rom. xiii. 8, 9. Owe no man any thing but to love one another : for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet ; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Deut. v. 32. Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord, your God, hath commanded you : you shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. Deut. x. 4. And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the Lord spake unto you in the mount, out of the midst of the fire, in the day of the assembly : and the Lord gave them unto me. Exod. xxxiv. 1. And the Lord said unto Moses, Hew thee two tables of stone, like unto the first : and I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, which thou brakest.

c Mat. xxii. 37 to 40. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

sufferings, and benefits ;^d and partly holding forth divers instructions of moral duties.^e All which ceremonial laws are now abrogated, under the New Testament.^f

IV. To them, also, as a body-politic, he gave sundry judicial laws, which expired together with the state of that people, not obliging any other now, further than the general equity thereof may require.^g

V. The moral law doth for ever bind all, as well just-

III. d (Heb. ix. chapter) Heb. x. 1. For the law, having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never, with those sacrifices, which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect. Gal. iv. 1, 2, 3. Now I say, that the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be Lord of all ; but is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father. Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world. Col. ii. 17. Which are a shadow of things to come ; but the body is of Christ.

e 1 Cor. v. 7. Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened : for even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us. 2 Cor. vi. 17. Wherefore, come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing ; and I will receive you. Jude 23. And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire ; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

f Col. ii. 14, 16, 17. Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross. Let no man therefore judge you in meat or in drink, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath-days : which are a shadow of things to come ; but the body is of Christ. Dan. ix. 27. And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week : and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the over-spreading of abominations, he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate. Eph. ii. 15, 16. Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances, for to make in himself, of twain, one new man, so making peace ; and that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby.

IV. g (Exod. xxi. chapter. Exod. xxii. 1, to the 29th verse. See both in the Bible.) Gen. xlix. 10. The scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come, and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. With 1 Pet. ii. 13, 14. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake : whether it be to the king, as supreme : or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil-doers, and for the praise of them that do well. Mat. v. 17. Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets : I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. With v. 38, 39. Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. But I say unto you, that ye resist not evil : but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. 1 Cor. ix. 8, 9, 10. Say I these things as a man ? or saith not the law the same also ? For it is written in the fied persons as others, to the obedience thereof;^h and that not only in regard of the matter contained in it, but also in respect of the authority of God, the Creator, who gave it.ⁱ Neither dath Christ in the gospel any way dissolve, but much strengthen this obligation.^k

VI. Although true believers be not under the law as a covenant of works, to be thereby justified or condemned;^l yet is it of great use to them, as well as to others; in that, as a rule of life, informing them of the will of God and their duty, it directs and binds them to walk according-law of Moses. Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen? Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

V. h Rom. xiii. 8, 9, 10. (See above in letter b.) Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. Eph. vi. 2. Honour thy father and mother, which is the first commandment with promise. 1 John ii. 3, 4, 7, 8. And hereby do we know that we know him, if we keep his commandments. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him. Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment, which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning: again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

i James ii. 10, 11. (See in letter b.)

k Mat. v. 17, 18, 19. (See in letter g.) For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall, in no wise, pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do, and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. Jam. ii. 8. (See in letter b before.) Rom. iii. 31. Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

VI. / Rom. vi. 14. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace. Gal. ii. 16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ; that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. Gal. iii. 13. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. Gal. iv. 4, 5. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. Acts xiii. 39. And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. Rom. viii. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

ly;^m discovering also the sinful pollutions of their nature, hearts, and lives;ⁿ so as, examining themselves thereby, they may come to further conviction of, humiliation for, and hatred against sins;^o together with a clearer sight of the need they have of Christ, and the perfection of his obedience. P It is likewise of use to the regenerate, to restrain their corruptions, in that it forbids sin;^q and the threatenings of it serve to show what even their sins deserve, and what punishments in this life they may expect for them, although freed from the curse thereof threatened in the law.^r

^m Rom. vii. 12, 22, 25. Wherefore the law is holy; and the commandment holy, and just, and good. For I delight in the law of God, after the inward man. I thank God, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. So then, with the mind I myself serve the law of God: but with the flesh the law of sin. Psal. cxix. 4, 5, 6. Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently. O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes! Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments. 1 Cor. vii. 19. Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God. Gal. v. 14, 16, 18 to 23. See in the Bible.

ⁿ Rom. vii. 7. What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. Rom. iii. 20. Therefore, by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

^o James i. 23, 24, 25. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass; For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the word, this man shall be blessed in his deed. Rom. vii. 9, 14, 24. For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin. O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

^p Gal. iii. 24. Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. Rom. vii. 24. (See before in the letter o. v. 25, in letter m.) Rom. viii. 3, 4. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

^q James ii. 11. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now, if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law. Psal. cxix. 101, 104, 128. I have refrained my feet from every evil way: that I might keep thy word. Through thy precepts I get understanding: therefore I hate every false way. Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way.

The promises of it in like manner, show them God's approbation of obedience, and what blessings they may expect upon the performance thereof,^s although not as due to them by the law as a covenant of works :^t so as a man's doing good, and refraining from evil, because the law encourageth to the one, and deterreth from the other, is no evidence of his being under the law, and not under grace.^v ished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us such deliverance as this : Should we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of these abominations? wouldst not thou be angry with us, till thou hadst consumed us, so that there should be no remnant nor escaping? Psal. lxxxix. 30 to 34. If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments; if they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments : then will I visit their transgressions with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes. Nevertheless, my loving kindness will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fail. My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

^s (Lev. xxvi. to the 14th verse.) With 2 Cor. vi. 16. And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them : and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Eph. vi. 2, 3. Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise.) That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. Psal. xxxvii. 11. But the meek shall inherit the earth : and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. With Mat. v. 5. Blessed are the meek : for they shall inherit the earth. Psal. xix. 11. Moreover, by them is thy servant warned : and in keeping of them there is great reward.

^t Gal. ii. 16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ ; even we have believed in Jesus Christ ; that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law : for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. Luke xvii. 10. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things, which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants : we have done that which was our duty to do.

^v Rom. vi. 12, 14. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof. For sin shall not have dominion over you : for ye are not under the law, but under grace. 1 Pet. iii. 8 to 12. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another ; love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous : not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing ; but contrarywise, blessing ; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile. Let him eschew evil, and do good ; let him seek peace, and ensue it. For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers ; but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil. With Psal. xxxiv. 12 to 16. What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good ? Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile. Depart from evil, and do good : seek peace, and pursue it. The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. The face of the

VII. Neither are the fore-mentioned uses of the law contrary to the grace of the gospel, but do sweetly comply with it ;^w the Spirit of Christ subduing and enabling the will of man to do that freely and cheerfully which the will of God, revealed in the law, requireth to be done.^x

Chapter XX.

OF CHRISTIAN LIBERTY, AND LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE.

THE liberty which Christ hath purchased for believers under the gospel, consists in their freedom from the guilt of sin, the condemning wrath of God, the curse of the moral law ;^a and in their being delivered from this present evil world, bondage to Satan, and dominion of sin,^b from the evil of afflictions, the sting of death, the victory of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth. Heb. xii. 28, 29. Wherefore, we receiving a kingdom, which cannot be moved, let us have grace whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear. For our God is a consuming fire.

VII. ^w Gal. iii. 21. Is the law then against the promises of God ? God forbid : for if there had been a law given, which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

^x Ezek. xxxvi. 27. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. Heb. viii. 10. For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord ; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts : and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people. With Jer. xxxi. 33. But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

I. ^a Tit. ii. 14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works. 1 Thess. i. 10. And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus which delivered us from the wrath to come. Gal. iii. 13. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us : for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree.

^b Gal. i. 4. Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. Col. i. 13. Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son. Acts xvi. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive for-grave, and everlasting damnation ;^c as also in their free access to God,^d and their yielding obedience unto him, not out of slavish fear, but a child-like love, and willing mind.^e All which were common also to believers under the law ;^f but under the New Testament, the liberty of Christians is further enlarged in their freedom from the yoke of the ceremonial law, to which the Jewish church was subjected,^g and in greater boldness of access to the throne of grace,^h givenness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. Rom. vi. 14. For sin shall not have dominion over you : for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

^c Rom. viii. 23. We know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called, according to his purpose. Psal. cxix. 71. It is good for me that I have been afflicted : that I might learn thy statutes. 1 Cor. xv. 54 to 57. So when this corruptible shall have put on corruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. O death where is thy sting ? O grave where is thy victory ? The sting of death is sin ; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory, through our Lord, Jesus Christ. Rom. viii. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them, which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

^d Rom. v. 1, 2. Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord, Jesus Christ ; by whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

^e Rom. viii. 14, 15. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear ; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. 1 John iv. 18. There is no fear in love ; but perfect love casteth out fear : because fear hath torment : he that feareth is not made perfect in love.

^f Gal. iii. 9, 14. So, then, they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

^g Gal. iv. 1, 2, 3, 6, 7. Now I say, that the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be Lord of all ; but is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father. Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son ; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ. Gal. v. 1. Stand fast, therefore, in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. Acts xv. 10, 11. Now, therefore, why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciple, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear ? But we believe that, through the grace of the Lord, Jesus Christ, we shall be saved even as they.

^h Heb. iv. 14, 16. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, and in fuller communications of the free Spirit of God, than believers under the law did ordinarily partake of.ⁱ

II. God alone is Lord of the conscience,^k and hath left it free from the doctrines and commandments of men, which are, in any thing, contrary to his word, or beside it, in matters of faith or worship.^l So that to believe such doctrines, or to obey such commandments out of conscience, is to betray true liberty of conscience;^m and the requiring of an

that is passed into the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. Heb. x. 19 to 22. Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the vail, that is to say, his flesh; and having an high priest over the house of God; let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

ⁱ John vii. 38, 39. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet glorified. 2 Cor. iii. 13, 17, 18. And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not steadfastly look to the end of that which is abolished. Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. But we all with open face, beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

II. ^k James iv. 12. There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another? Rom. xiv. 4. Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth: yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

^l Acts iv. 19. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. Acts v. 29. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men. 1 Cor. vii. 23. Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the servants of men. Mat. xxiii. 8, 9, 10. But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called Masters: for one is your Master, even Christ. 2 Cor. i. 24. Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand. Mat. xv. 9. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

^m Col. ii. 20, 22, 23. Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances, which all are to perish with the using, after the commandments and doctrines of men? which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship and humility, and neglecting of the implicit faith, and an absolute and blind obedience, is to destroy liberty of conscience, and reason also.^a

III. They who, upon pretence of Christian liberty, do practise any sin, or cherish any lust, do thereby destroy the end of Christian liberty; which is, that, being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, we might serve the Lord without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him all the days of our life.^o

IV. And because the powers which God hath ordained, and the liberty, which Christ hath purchased, are not inbody, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh. Gal. i. 10. For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ. Gal. ii. 4, 5. And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty, which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage. To whom we gave place by subjection, no not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you. Gal. v. 1. Stand fast, therefore, in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

^a Rom. x. 17. So then, faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. Rom. xiv. 23. And he that doubteth, is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith, is sin. Isa. viii. 20. To the law and to the testimony, if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. Acts xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so. John iv. 22. Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. Hos. v. 11. Ephraim is oppressed, and broken in judgment; because he willingly walked after the commandment. Rev. xiii. 12, 16, 17. And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast whose deadly wound was healed. And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: and that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. Jer. viii. 9. The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken; lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

III. ^o Gal. v. 13. For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. 1 Pet. ii. 16. As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. 2 Pet. ii. 19. While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage. John viii. 34. Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin. Luke i. 74, 75. That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

tended by God to destroy, but mutually to uphold and preserve one another ; they who, upon pretence of Christian liberty, shall oppose any lawful power, or the lawful exercise of it, whether it be civil or ecclesiastical, resist the ordinance of God.^p And for their publishing of such opinions, or maintaining of such practices, as are contrary to the light of nature, or to the known principles of Christianity, whether concerning faith, worship, conversation, or the order which Christ hath established in his church, they may be lawfully called to account, and proceeded against by the censures of the church :^q and in proportion

IV. p Mat. xii. 25. And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation: and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. 1 Pet. ii. 13, 14, 16. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well. As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. (Rom. xiii. 1 to the 8th verse.) Heb. xiii. 17. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

q Rom. i. 32. Who knowing the judgment of God, (that they which commit such things are worthy of death,) not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them. With 1 Cor. v. 1, 5, 11, 13. It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named amongst the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. But now I have written unto you, not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolator, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such an one no not to eat. But them that are without, God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person. 2 John 10, 11. If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed: for he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil doings. And 2 Thess. iii. 14. And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. And 1 Tim. vi. 3, 4, 5. If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord, Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness: he is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself. And Tit. i. 10, 11, 13. For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision: whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. This witness is true: wherefore rebuke as their erroneous opinions or practices, either in their own nature, or in the manner of publishing or maintaining them, are destructive to the external peace of the church, and of civil society, they may be also proceeded against by the power of the civil magistrate.^r them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith. And Tit. iii. 10. A man that is an heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject. With Mat. xviii. 15, 16, 17. Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man, and a publican. 1 Tim. i. 19, 20. Holding faith and a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwreck. Of whom is Hymaneus and Alexander; whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme. Rev. ii. 2, 14, 15, 20. I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not; and hast found them liars. But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of Nicolaitans, which thing I hate. Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols. Rev. iii. 9. Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, (which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie,) behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I loved thee.

^r Rom. xiii. 3, 4. For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? Do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same: for he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doth evil. Neh. xiii. 15, 17, 21, 22. In those days saw I in Judah, some treading wine presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading asses; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath-day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the Sabbath-day? Then I testified against them, and said unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? If ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the Sabbath. And I commanded the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath-day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy. 1 Tim. ii. 1, 2. I exhort, therefore, that, first of all, supplications, pray-

OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP, AND THE SABBATH-DAY.

THE light of nature showeth that there is a God, who hath lordship and sovereignty over all ; is good, and doth good unto all ; and is therefore to be feared, loved, praised, called upon, trusted in, and served, with all the heart, and with all the soul, and with all the might.^a But the acceptable way of worshipping the true God is instituted by himself, and so limited by his own revealed will, that he may not be worshipped according to the imaginations and devices of men, or the suggestions of Satan, under any visible representation, or any other way not prescribed in the holy scripture.^b ers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men : for kings, and for all that are in authority ; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. Isa. xlix. 23. And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers : they shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord : for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

I. a Rom. i. 20. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead ; so that they are without excuse. Acts xvii. 24. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands. Psal. cxix. 68. Thou art good, and dost good : teach me thy statutes. Jer. x. 7. Who would not fear thee, O king of nations ? for to thee doth it appertain : for as much as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee. Psal. xxxi. 23. O love the Lord, all ye his saints : for the Lord preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer. Psal. xviii. 3. I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised : so shall I be saved from mine enemies. Rom. x. 12. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek ; for the same Lord over all, is rich unto all that call upon him. Psal. lxii. 8. Trust in him at all times ; ye people, pour out your heart before him : God is a refuge for us. Josh. xxiv. 14. Now, therefore, fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth, and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt : and serve ye the Lord. Mark xii. 33. And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

b Deut. xii. 32. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it ; thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it. Mat. xv. 9. But

II. Religious worship is to be given to God, the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost ; and to him alone :^c not to angels, saints, or any other creature :^d and, since the fall, not without a Mediator ; nor in the mediation of any other but of Christ alone.^e

III. Prayer, with thanksgiving, being one special part of religious worship,^f is by God required of all men ;^g and, in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. Acts xvii. 25. Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. Mat. iv. 9, 10. And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan : for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord, thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. (Deut. xv. to the 20th verse.) Exod. xx. 4, 5, 6. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them : for I the Lord, thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me : and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments. Col. ii. 23. Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship and humility, and neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

II. c Mat. iv. 10. (See before in letter b.) With John v. 23. That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father, which hath sent him. And 2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord, Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

d Col. ii. 18. Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of Angels, intruding into those things, which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind. Rev. xix. 10. And I fell at his feet to worship him : and he said unto me, See thou do it not : I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus : worship God : for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. Rom. i. 25. Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

e John xiv. 6. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life : no man cometh unto the Father but by me. 1 Tim. ii. 5. For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus. Eph. ii. 18. For through him we both have an access by one Spirit unto the Father. Col. iii. 17. And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

III. f Phil. iv. 6. Be careful for nothing : but in every thing by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

g Psal. lxxv. 2. O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.

A John xiv. 13, 14. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it. 1 Pet. ii. 5. Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

i Rom. viii. 26. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

k 1 John v. 14. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing, according to his will, he heareth us.

l Psal. xlviii. 7. For God is the king of all the earth, sing ye praises with understanding. Eccl. v. 1, 2. Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil. Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore, let thy words be few. Heb. xii. 28. Wherefore, we receiving a kingdom, which cannot be moved, let us have grace whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear. Gen. xviii. 27. And Abraham answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, which am but dust and ashes. Jam. v. 16. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. Jam. i. 6, 7. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea, driven with the wind, and tossed. For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord. Mark xi. 24. Therefore, I say unto you, What things soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. Mat. vi. 12, 14, 15. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. For, if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses. Col. iv. 2. Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving. Eph. vi. 18. Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance, and supplication for all saints.

m 1 Cor. xiv. 14. For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

IV. n (1 John v. 14. See letter k.)

o 1 Tim. ii. 1, 2. I exhort, therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men: for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. John xvii. 20. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word. 2 Sam. vii. 29. Therefore now, let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever for the dead,^p nor for those of whom it may be known that they have sinned the sin unto death.^q before thee : for thou, O Lord God, hast spoken it, and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever. Ruth iv. 12. And let thy house be like the house of Pharez (whom Tamar bare unto Judah) of the seed which the Lord shall give thee of this young woman.

^p 2 Sam. xii. 21, 22, 23. Then said his servants unto him, What thing is this that thou hast done ? thou didst fast and weep for the child while it was alive, but when the child was dead, thou didst arise and eat bread. And he said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept : for I said, Who can tell whether God will be gracious to me, that the child may live ? but now he is dead, wherefore should I fast ? can I bring him back again ? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me. With Luke xvi. 25, 26. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou, in thy life-time, receivest thy good things, and likewise Lazare, evil things ; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulph fixed : so that they, which would pass from hence to you, cannot ; neither can they pass to us that would come from thence. Rev. xiv. 13. And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth : yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours ; and their works do follow them.

^q 1 John v. 16. If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death : I do not say that he shall pray for it.

V. ^r Acts xv. 21. For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every Sabbath-day. Rev. i. 3. Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein : for the time is at hand.

^s 2 Tim. iv. 2. Preach the word ; be instant in season, out of season ; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine.

^t James i. 22. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. Acts x. 33. Immediately, therefore, I sent to thee ; and thou hast well done, that thou art come. Now, therefore, are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God. Mat. xiii. 19. When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart : this is he which received seed by the way-side. Heb. iv. 2. For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them : but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. Isa. lxvi. 2. For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord : but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

VII. As it is of the law of nature, that, in general, a due proportion of time be set apart for the worship of God ; so in his word, by a positive, moral, and perpetual commandment, binding all men, in all ages, he hath particularly appointed one day in seven for a Sabbath, to be kept holy unto him ;^k which, from the beginning of the world to the resurrection of Christ, was the last day of the week, and, from the resurrection of Christ, was changed into the first day of the week,^l which, in scripture, is called the Lord's and taketh hold of my covenant : even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer : their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar ; for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people. Heb. x. 25. Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is ; but exhorting one another : and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. Prov. i. 20, 21, 24. Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the streets : she crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates : in the city she uttereth her words, saying, Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded. Pro. viii. 34. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. Acts xiii. 42. And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath. Luke iv. 16. And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up : and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the Sabbath-day, and stood up for to read. Acts ii. 42. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine, and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

VII. ^k Exod. xx. 8, 10, 11. Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God : in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day : wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it. Isa. lvi. 2, 4, 6, 7. Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it : that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil. For thus saith the Lord unto the eunuchs that keep my Sabbaths, and chuse the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant. (See in letter i.)

^l Gen. ii. 2, 3. And on the seventh day God ended his work, which he had made ; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it : because that in it he had rested from all his work, which God created and made. 1 Cor. xvi. 1, 2. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come. Acts xx. 7. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow, and continued his speech until midnight.

worship, is now, under the gospel, either tied unto, or made more acceptable by any place in which it is performed, or towards which it is directed :^c but God is to be worshipped every where,^d in spirit and truth ;^e as in private families^f daily,^g and in secret, each one by himself,^h so more solemnly in the public assemblies, which are not carelessly or wilfully to be neglected or forsaken, when God, by his word or providence, calleth thereunto.ⁱ

VI. c John iv. 21. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.

d Mal. i. 11. For, from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering : for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. 1 Tim. ii. 8. I will, therefore, that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands without wrath and doubting.

e John iv. 23, 24. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth : for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth.

f Jer. x. 25. Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name : for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate. Deut. vi. 6, 7. And these words which I command thee this day shall be in thine heart : and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. Job i. 5. And it was so, when the days of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt-offerings, according to the number of them all : for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and cursed God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually. 2 Sam. vi. 18, 20. And as soon as David had made an end of offering burnt-offerings, and peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hosts. Then David returned to bless his household. 1 Peter iii. 7. Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life ; that your prayers be not hindered. Acts x. 2. A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always.

g Mat. vi. 11. Give us this day our daily bread.

h Mat. vi. 6. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, which is in secret, and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. Eph. vi. 18. Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance, and supplication for all saints.

i Isa. lvi. 6, 7. Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the Lord, to serve him, and to love the name of the Lord, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it,

VII. As it is of the law of nature, that, in general, a due proportion of time be set apart for the worship of God ; so in his word, by a positive, moral, and perpetual commandment, binding all men, in all ages, he hath particularly appointed one day in seven for a Sabbath, to be kept holy unto him ;^k which, from the beginning of the world to the resurrection of Christ, was the last day of the week, and, from the resurrection of Christ, was changed into the first day of the week,^l which, in scripture, is called the Lord's

Heb. x. 25. Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is ; but exhorting one another : and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. Prov. i. 20, 21, 24. Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the streets : she crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates : in the city she uttereth her words, saying, Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded. Pro. viii. 34. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. Acts xiii. 42. And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath. Luke iv. 16. And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up : and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the Sabbath-day, and stood up for to read. Acts ii. 42. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine, and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

VII. ^k Exod. xx. 8, 10, 11. Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God : in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day : wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it. Isa. lvi. 2, 4, 6, 7. Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it : that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil. For thus saith the Lord unto the eunuchs that keep my Sabbaths, and chuse the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant. (See in letter i.)

^l Gen. ii. 2, 3. And on the seventh day God ended his work, which he had made ; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it : because that in it he had rested from all his work, which God created and made. 1 Cor. xvi. 1, 2. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come. Acts xx. 7. VIII. ^o Exod. xx. 8. (See letter k.) Exod. xvi. 23, 25, 26, 29, 30. And he said unto them, This is that which the Lord hath said, Tomorrow is the rest of the Holy Sabbath unto the Lord: bake that which ye will bake to-day, and seeth that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over, lay up for you, to be kept until the morning. And Moses said, Eat that to-day; for to-day is a Sabbath unto the Lord: to-day ye shall not find it in the field. Six days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the Sabbath, in it there shall be none. See, for that the Lord hath given you the Sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days: abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh-day. So the people rested on the seventh day. Exod. xxxi. 15, 16, 17. Six days may work be done, but in the seventh is the Sabbath of rest, holy to the Lord: whosoever doth any work in the Sabbath-day, he shall surely be put to death. Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the Sabbath, to observe the Sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant. It is a sign between me and the children of Israel for ever: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed. Isa. lviii. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable, and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words. Neh. xiii. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22. In those days saw I in Judah, some treading wine-presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading asses; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath-day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on the Sabbath, unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the Sabbath-day? Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel, by profaning the Sabbath. And it came to pass, that when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded that the gates should be shut, and charged that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath: and some of my servants set I at the gates, that

OF LAWFUL OATHS AND VOWS.

A LAWFUL oath is a part of religious worship,^a wherein, upon just occasion, the person swearing, solemnly calleth God to witness what he asserteth or promiseth, and to judge him according to the truth or falsehood of what he swear-eth.^b

II. The name of God only is that by which men ought to swear, and therein it is to be used with all holy fear and reverence :^c therefore, to swear vainly or rashly by that glorious and dreadful name, or to swear at all by any other thing, is sinful, and to be abhorred.^d Yet, as, in matters of there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath-day. Then I testified against them, and said unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? If ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the Sabbath. And I commanded the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath-day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.

Moreover, I call God for a record upon my soul, that to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth. 2 Chron. vi. 22, 23. If a man sin against his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him to make him swear, and the oath come before thine altar in this house: then hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, by requiring the wicked, by recompensing his way upon his own head; and by justifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteousness.

And the servant said unto him, Peradventure the woman will not be willing to follow me unto this land: must I needs bring thy son again unto the land from whence thou camest? And Abraham said unto him, Beware thou, that thou bring not my son thither again. For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another challengeth to be his; the cause of both parties shall come before the judges; and whom the judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour. If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast to keep, and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it; then shall an oath of the Lord be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods: and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good.

Chapter XXIII.

OF THE CIVIL MAGISTRATE.

God, the Supreme Lord and King of all the world, hath ordained civil magistrates to be, under him, over the people, for his own glory, and the public good ; and, to this end, hath armed them with the power of the sword, for the defence and encouragement of them that are good, and for the punishment of evil-doers.^a

II. It is lawful for Christians to accept and execute the office of a magistrate, when called thereunto :^b in the managing whereof, as they ought especially to maintain piety, justice, and peace, according to the wholesome laws of each commonwealth ;^c so, for that end, they may lawfully, now

Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power ? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same. For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid ; for he beareth not the sword in vain : for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. 1 Pet. ii. 13, 14. Hence, magistrates, as such, in a Christian country, are bound to promote the Christian religion, as the most valuable interest of their subjects, by all such means as are not inconsistent with civil rights; and do not imply an interference with the policy of the church, which is the free and independent kingdom of the Redeemer; nor an assumption of dominion over conscience.^g

Rev. xxi. 24. And the nations of them, which are saved, shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it. Col. iii. 17. And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him. 2 Sam. xxiii. 3. The God of Israel said, the Rock of Israel spake to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. 2 Cor. v. 10. For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ, that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

^g Psal. ii. 10, 11, 12. Be wise now, therefore, O ye kings; be instructed, ye judges of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him. John xviii. 36, 37. Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice. James iv. 12. There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another? Rom. xiv. 4. Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth: yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand. (See also letters e and f.)

men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

ⁱ 1 Pet. ii. 17. Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

^k Rom. xiii. 6, 7. For, for this cause pay your tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. Render, therefore, to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due, custom to whom custom, fear to whom fear, honour to whom honour.

^l Rom. xiii. 5. Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake. Tit. iii. 1. Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work.

^m 1 Pet. ii. 13, 14, 16. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme: or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well. As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

ⁿ Rom. xiii. 1. Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God; the powers that be, are ordained of God. Acts xxv. 9, 10, 11. But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me? Then said Paul, I stand at Cæsar's judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged; to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest. For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cæsar. 2 Peter ii. 1, 10, 11. But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. But chiefly them that walk after the flesh, in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government: presumptuous are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities: whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord. Jude 8 to 11. Likewise, also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities. Yet, Michael, the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee. But these speak evil of those things, which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute-beasts; in those things they corrupt themselves. Wo unto them; for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gain-saying of Core.

Chapter XXIV.

OF MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

MARRIAGE is between one man and one woman : neither is it lawful for any man to have more than one wife, nor for any woman to have more than one husband at the same time.^a

II. Marriage was ordained for the mutual help^a of husband and wife ;^b for the increase of mankind with a legitimate issue, and of the church with an holy seed ;^c and for preventing of uncleanness.^d

III. It is lawful for all sorts of people to marry, who are able, with judgment, to give their consent :^e yet, it is the

^a 2 Thess. ii. 4. Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped ; so that he, as God, sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God. Rev. xiii. 15, 16, 17. And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed. And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right-hand, or in their foreheads : and that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

I. ^a Gen. ii. 24. Therefore, shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife : and they shall be one flesh. Mat. xix. 5, 6. And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife : and they twain shall be one flesh. Wherefore, they are no more twain, but one flesh. What, therefore, God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. Prov. ii. 17. Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

II. ^b Gen. ii. 18. And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be alone : I will make him an help meet for him.

^c Mal. ii. 15. And did not he make one ? yet, had he the residue of the Spirit : and wherefore one ? that he might seek a godly seed ; therefore, take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

^d 1 Cor vii. 2, 9. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. But if they cannot contain, let them marry : for it is better to marry than to burn.

III. ^e Heb. xiii. 4. Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled : but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. 1 Tim. iv. 3. Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, duty of Christians to marry only in the Lord.^f And, therefore, such as profess the true reformed religion, should not marry with infidels, papists, or other idolaters; neither should such as are godly be unequally yoked, by marrying with such as are notoriously wicked in their life, or maintain damnable heresies.^g

IV. Marriage ought not to be within the degrees of con-which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth. 1 Cor. vii. 36, 37, 38. But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely towards his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry. Nevertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keep his virgin, doth well. So then, he that giveth her in marriage, doth well: but he that giveth her not in marriage, doth better. Gen. xxiv. 57, 58. And they said, We will call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth. And they called Rebekah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with the man? and she said, I will go.

^f 1 Cor. vii. 39. The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

^g Gen. xxxiv. 14. And they said unto them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised: for that were a reproach unto us. Exod. xxxiv. 16. And thou take of their daughters unto thy sons, and their daughters go a whoring after their gods, and make thy sons go a whoring after their gods. Deut. vii. 3, 4. Neither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son. For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods: so will the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly. 1 Kings xi. 4. For it came to pass when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord, his God, as was the heart of David, his father. Neh. xiii. 25, 26, 27. And I contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons, or for yourselves. Did not Solomon, king of Israel, sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless, even him did outlandish women cause to sin. Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to transgress against our God in marrying strange wives? Mal. ii. 11, 12. Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel, and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the Lord which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god. The Lord will cut off the man that doth this: the master and the scholar out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the Lord of hosts. 2 Cor. vi. 14. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

anguinity or affinity forbidden in the word;^h nor can such incestuous marriages ever be made lawful by any law of man, or consent of parties, so as those persons may live together as man and wife.ⁱ The man may not marry any of his wife's kindred nearer in blood than he may of his own, nor the woman of her husband's kindred nearer in blood than of her own.^k

V. Adultery, or fornication, committed after a contract, being detected before marriage, giveth just occasion to the innocent party to dissolve that contract.^l In the case of adultery after marriage, it is lawful for the innocent party to sue out a divorce,^m and, after the divorce, to marry another, as if the offending party were dead.ⁿ

IV. h (Lev. xxiith chapter.) 1 Cor. v. 1. It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. Amos ii. 7. That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek; and a man and his father will go in unto the same maid, to profane my holy name.

i Mark vi. 18. For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. Lev. xviii. 24 to 28. Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled, which I cast out before you. And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants. Ye shall, therefore, keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you: (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled:) That the land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you.

k Lev. xx. 19, 20, 21. And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, nor of thy father's sister: for he uncovereth his near kin: they shall bear their iniquity. And if a man shall lie with his uncle's wife, he hath uncovered his uncle's nakedness: they shall bear their sin, they shall die childless. And if a man shall take his brother's wife, it is an unclean thing: he hath uncovered his brother's nakedness, they shall be childless.

V. l Mat. i. 18, 19, 20. Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When, as his mother, Mary, was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph, her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary, thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the Holy Ghost.

m Mat. v. 31, 32. It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement. But I say unto you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

VI. Although the corruption of man be such as is apt to study arguments, unduly to put asunder those whom God hath joined together in marriage; yet, nothing but adultery, or such wilful desertion as can, no way, be remedied by the church or civil magistrate, is cause sufficient of dissolving the bond of marriage: wherein a public and orderly course of proceeding is to be observed, and the persons concerned in it not left to their own wills and discretion in their own case.^P

Chapter XXV.

OF THE CHURCH.

THE Catholic or universal church, which is invisible, consists of the whole number of the elect, that have been, are, or shall be gathered into one, under Christ the head thereof; and is the spouse, the body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.^a

^a Mat. xix. 9. And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her which is put away, doth commit adultery. Rom. vii. 2, 3. For the woman, which hath an husband, is bound, by the law, to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband. So then, if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

VI. ^o Mat. xix. 8, 9. He saith unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. (See letter a.) 1 Cor. vii. 15. But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace. Mat. xix. 6. Wherefore, they are no more twain, but one flesh. What, therefore, God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

^p Deut. xxiv. 1 to 4. When a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favour in his eyes, because he hath found some uncleanness in her, then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house. And when she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife. And if the latter husband hate her, and write her a bill of divorcement, and giveth it in her hand, and sendeth her out of his house; or if the latter husband die, which took her to be his wife; her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the Lord, and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the Lord, thy God, giveth thee for an inheritance.

a. II. The visible church, which is also Catholic, or universal under the gospel, (not confined to one nation, as before under the law,) consists of all those throughout the world that profess the true religion,^b together with their children;^c and is the kingdom of the Lord, Jesus Christ,^d times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even in him. And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. Eph. v. 23, 27, 32. For, the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of the body. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy, and without blemish. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church. Col. i. 18. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence.

II. b 1 Cor. i. 2. Unto the church of God, which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord, both theirs and ours. 1 Cor. xii. 12, 13. For, as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ. For, by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. Psal. ii. 8. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Rev. vii. 9. After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands. Rom. xv. 9 to 12. And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laud him all ye people. And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

c 1 Cor. vii. 14. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. Acts ii. 39. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord, our God, shall call. Ezek. xvi. 20, 21. Moreover, thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast born unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured: is this of thy whoredoms a small matter, that thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them? Rom. xi. 16. For, if the first fruit be holy, the lump is also holy; and, if the root be holy, so are the branches. Gen. iii. 15. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed: it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. Gen. xvii. 7. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant; to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ; till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. Mat. xxviii. 19, 20. VI. There is no other head of the church but the Lord, Jesus Christ;ⁿ nor can the Pope of Rome, in any sense, be head thereof, but is that antichrist, that man of sin, and son of perdition, that exalteth himself in the church against Christ, and all that is called God.^o

Well, because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear: for, if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee. Behold, therefore, the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but towards thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

Chapter XXVI.

OF COMMUNION OF SAINTS.

ALL saints that are united to Jesus Christ, their head, by his Spirit, and by faith, have fellowship with him in his graces, sufferings, death, resurrection, and glory^a. And being united to one another in love, they have communion in each other's gifts and graces,^b and are obliged to Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon earth : for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters : for one is your Master, even Christ. 2 Thess. ii. 3, 4, 8, 9. Let no man deceive you by any means : for that day shall not come except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition : who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped ; so that he, as God, sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God. And then shall that wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming : even him whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power, and signs, and lying wonders. Rev. xiii. 6. And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

1. ^a 1 John i. 3. That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us : and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son, Jesus Christ. Eph. iii. 16 to 19. That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man ; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith ; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height ; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God. John i. 16. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. Eph. ii. 5, 6. Even when we were dead in sins hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved,) and hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. Phil. iii. 10. That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death. Rom. vi. 5, 6. For, if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection ; knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. 2 Tim. ii. 12. If we suffer, we shall also reign with him : if we deny him, he also will deny us.

^b Eph. iv. 15, 16. But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ ; from whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of

to the performance of such duties, public and private, as do conduce to their mutual good, both in the inward and outward man.^c

II. Saints by profession, are bound to maintain an holy fellowship and communion in the worship of God, and in performing such other spiritual services as tend to their mutual edification ;^d as also in relieving each other in outward things, according to their several abilities and necessities. Which communion, as God offereth opportunity, is to be extended unto all those who, in every place, call upon the name of the Lord Jesus.^e every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love. 1 Cor. xii. 7. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit with all. 1 Cor. iii. 21, 22, 23. Therefore, let no man glory in men : for all things are yours ; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come : all are yours ; and ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's. Col. ii. 19. And not holding the head, from which all the body, by joints and bands having nourishment, ministered and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

^c 1 Thess. v. 11, 14. Wherefore, comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do. Now, we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly ; comfort the feeble-minded ; support the weak ; be patient toward all men. Rom. i. 11, 12, 14. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established ; that is, that I may be comforted together with you, by the mutual faith both of you and me. I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise. 1 John iii. 16, 17, 18. Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us : and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him ? My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed, and in truth. Gal. vi. 10. As we have, therefore, opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

II. ^d Heb. x. 24, 25. And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works : not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is ; but exhorting one another : and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. Acts ii. 42, 46. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. And they continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart. Isa. ii. 3. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths ; for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. 1 Cor. xi. 20. When ye come together, therefore, into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's Supper.

^e Acts ii. 44, 45. And all that believed were together, and had all things common. And sold their possessions and goods, and parted

III. This communion which the saints have with Christ, doth not make them in any wise partakers of the substance of his Godhead, or to be equal with Christ, in any respect : either of which to affirm, is impious and blasphemous.^f Nor doth their communion one with another, as saints, take away or infringe the title or property, which each man hath in his goods and possessions.^g

OF THE SACRAMENTS.

SACRAMENTS are holy signs and seals of the covenant of grace,^a immediately instituted by God,^b to represent Christ them to all men, as every man had need. 1 John iii. 17. (See in letter c.) (2 Cor. viii. and ix. chapters.) Acts xi. 29, 30. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea. Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

III. f Col. i. 18, 19. And he is the head of the body, the church : who is the beginning, the first born from the dead ; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence. For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fulness dwell. 1 Cor. viii. 6. But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him ; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. Isa. xlii. 8. I am the Lord, that is my name, and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. 1 Tim. vi. 15, 16. Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords. Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto ; whom no man hath seen, nor can see ; to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen. Psal. xlv. 7. Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness : therefore, God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. With Heb. i. 8, 9. But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever : a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom : thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity : therefore, God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

g Exod. xx. 15. Thou shalt not steal. Eph. iv. 28. Let him that stole, steal no more : but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. Acts v. 4. While it remained, was it not thine own ? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power ? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart ? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

I. a Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised : that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised ; that righteousness might be imputed unto and his benefits; and to confirm our interest in him;^c as also to put a visible difference between those that belong unto the church, and the rest of the world;^d and solemnly to engage them to the service of God in Christ, according to his word.^e

II. There is in every sacrament a spiritual relation, or sacramental union between the sign and the thing signified; whence it comes to pass, that the names and effects of the one are attributed to the other.^f them also. Gen. xvii. 7, 10. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant; to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. (See letter f in the following page.)

b Mat. xxviii. 19. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 1 Cor. xi. 23. For, I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread.

c 1 Cor. x. 16. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? 1 Cor. xi. 25, 26. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For, as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. Gal. iii. 27. For, as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ. Gal. iii. 17. And this I say, That the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

d Rom. xv. 8. Now, I say, that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers. Exod. xii. 48. And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the Lord, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof. Gen. xxxiv. 14. And they said unto them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised: for that were a reproach unto us.

e Rom. vi. 3, 4. Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore, we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. 1 Cor. x. 16, 21. (See in letter c.) Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table and of the table of devils.

II. f Gen. xvii. 10. This is my covenant, which ye shall keep between me and you, and thy seed after thee: every man-child, among you, shall be circumcised. Mat. xxvi. 27, 28. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; for, this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. Tit. iii. 5. Not by works of righteousness.

III. The grace which is exhibited in or by the sacraments, rightly used, is not conferred by any power in them; neither doth the efficacy of a sacrament depend upon the piety or intention of him that doth administer it,^g but upon the work of the Spirit,^h and the word of institution; which contains, together with a precept authorising the use thereof, a promise of benefit to worthy receivers.ⁱ

IV. There be only two sacraments ordained by Christ, our Lord, in the gospel, that is to say, Baptism and the Supper of the Lord: neither of which may be dispensed by any but by a minister of the word, lawfully ordained.^k

V. The sacraments of the Old Testament, in regard of the spiritual things thereby signified and exhibited, were, for substance, the same with those of the New.^l which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

III. ^g Rom. ii. 28, 29. For, he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: but he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God. 1 Pet. iii. 21. The like figure whereunto, even baptism, doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

^k Mat. iii. 11. I, indeed, baptize you with water unto repentance; but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. 1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

ⁱ Mat. xxvi. 27, 28. (See in letter f.) Mat. xxviii. 19, 20. (See in letter b.) Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

IV. ^k Mat. xxviii. 19. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 1 Cor. xi. 20, 23. When ye come together, therefore, into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's Supper. For I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread. 1 Cor. iv. 1. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Heb. v. 4. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

V. 1 1 Cor. x. 1 to 4. Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; and were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; and did all eat the same spiritual meat; and did all drink the same spiritual drink. (For they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ.)

Chapter XXVIII.

OF BAPTISM.

BAPTISM is a sacrament of the New Testament, ordained by Jesus Christ,^a not only for the solemn admission of the party baptized into the visible church,^b but also to be, unto him, a sign and seal of the covenant of grace,^c of his ingrafting into Christ,^d of regeneration,^e of remission of sins,^f and of his giving up unto God, through Jesus Christ, to walk in newness of life :^g which sacrament is, by Christ's own appointment, to be continued in his church until the end of the world.^h

II. The outward element to be used in this sacrament is water, wherewith the party is to be baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, by a minister of the gospel, lawfully called thereunto.ⁱ

I. ^a Mat. xxviii. 19. (See letter k of the foregoing chapter.)

^b 1 Cor. xii. 13. For, by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free ; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

^c Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith, which he had yet being uncircumcised ; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised ; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. With Col. ii. 11, 12. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ : buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him, through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

^d Gal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized in Christ, have put on Christ. Rom. vi. 5. For, if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection.

^e Tit. iii. 5. Not by works of righteousness, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

^f Mark i. 4. John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance, for the remission of sins.

^g Rom. vi. 3, 4. Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ, were baptized into his death ? Therefore, we are buried with him by baptism into death : that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

^h Mat. xxviii. 19, 20. (See in letter k foregoing chapter.) Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you : and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

II. ⁱ Mat. iii. 11. I, indeed, baptize you with water unto repentance.

III. Dipping of the person into the water is ~~not~~ necessary; but baptism is rightly administered by pouring or sprinkling water upon the person.^k

IV. Not only those that do actually profess faith in and obedience unto Christ,^l but also the infants of one or both believing parents are to be baptized.^m but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. John i. 33. And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. Mat. xxviii. 19. (See in letter k foregoing chapter.) v. 20. (See in letter k.)

III. k Heb. ix. 10, 19 to 22. Acts ii. 41. Then they that gladly received his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls. Acts xvi. 33. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway. Mark vii. 4. And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups and pots, brazen vessels, and of tables.

IV. l Mark xvi. 15, 16. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach ye the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized, shall be saved; but he that believeth not, shall be damned. Acts viii. 37, 38. And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

m Gen. xvii. 7, 9. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant; to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. And God said unto Abraham, Thou shalt keep my covenant, therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations. With Gal. iii. 9, 14. So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith. And Col. ii. 11, 12. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ: buried with him in baptism, wherein also you are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. And Acts ii. 38, 39. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord, our God, shall call. And Rom. iv. 11, 12. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith, which he had yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also: and the father of circumcision to them, who are not of the circumcision only, but also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham,

V. Although it be a great sin to contemn or neglect this ordinance,^a yet grace and salvation are not so inseparably annexed unto it, as that no person can be regenerated or saved without it,^o or that all that are baptized are undoubtedly regenerated.^p

VI. The efficacy of baptism is not tied to that moment of time wherein it is administered^q; yet notwithstanding, by the right use of this ordinance, the grace promised is not only offered, but really exhibited and conferred by the Holy Ghost, to such (whether of age or infants) as that grace belongeth unto, according to the counsel of God's own will, in his appointed time.^r which he had being yet uncircumcised. 1 Cor. vii. 14. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband; else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. Mat. xxviii. 13. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Mark x. 13 to 16. And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them; and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for, of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them. Luke xviii. 15. And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them; but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

V. ^a Luke vii. 30. But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him. With Exod. iv. 24, 25, 26. And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the Lord met him, and sought to kill him. Then Zipperah took a sharp stone, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and cast it at his feet, and said, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me. So he let him go: then she said, A bloody husband thou art, because of the circumcision.

^o Rom. iv. 11. (See in letter m.) Acts x. 2, 4, 22, 31, 45, 47.

^p Acts viii. 13, 23. Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs, which were done. For, I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

VI. ^q John iii. 5, 8. Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water, and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

^r Gal. iii. 27. For, as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ. Tit. iii. 5. Not by works of righteousness, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. Eph. v. 25, 26. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it: that he might sanctify and

OF THE LORD'S SUPPER.

OUR Lord Jesus, in the night wherein he was betrayed, instituted the sacrament of his body and blood, called the Lord's Supper, to be observed in his church unto the end of the world, for the perpetual remembrance of the sacrifice of himself in his death, the sealing all benefits thereof unto true believers, their spiritual nourishment and growth in him, their farther engagement in and to all duties, which they owe unto him, and to be a bond and pledge of their communion with him, and with each other, as members of his mystical body.^a

II. In this sacrament, Christ is not offered up to his Father, nor any real sacrifice made at all, for remission of sins of the quick or dead ;^b but only a commemoration of cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. Acts ii. 38, 41. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. Then they that gladly received his word, were baptized : and the same day there were added unto them above three thousand souls.

VII. s Tit. iii. 5. (See in letter r.)

I. a 1 Cor. xi. 23 to 26. For, I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread : and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat ; this is my body, which is broken for you : this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For, as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. 1 Cor. x. 16, 17, 21. The cup of blessing, which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? For, we being many, are one bread, and one body : for we are all partakers of that one bread. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils : ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils. 1 Cor. xii. 13. For, by one Spirit, are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free : and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

II. b Heb. ix. 22, 25, 26, 28. And almost all things are, by the law, purged with blood ; and without shedding of blood is no remission. Not yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth that one offering up of himself, by himself, upon the cross, once for all ; and a spiritual oblation of all possible praise unto God for the same ;^c so that the Popish sacrifice of the mass, as they call it, is most abominably injurious to Christ's one only sacrifice, the alone propitiation for all the sins of the elect.^d

III. The Lord Jesus hath, in this ordinance, appointed his ministers to declare his word of institution to the people, to pray, and bless the elements of bread and wine, and thereby to set them apart from a common to an holy use ; and to take, and break the bread, to take the cup, and (they communicating also themselves) to give both to the communicants ;^e but to none who are not then present in the congregation.^f into the holy place, every year with blood of others : (for then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world :) but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many ; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time, without sin, unto salvation.

^c 1 Cor. xi. 24, 25, 26. (See them in letter a.) Mat. xxvi. 26, 27. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat ; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it.

^d Heb. vii. 23, 24, 27. And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death : but this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood. Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's ; for this he did once, when he offered up himself. Heb. x. 11, 12, 14, 18. And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins : but this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God. For, by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

III. ^e Mat. xxvi. 26, 27, 28. (See in letter c.) For, this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. And Mark xiv. 22, 23, 24. And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat ; this is my body. And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them : and they all drank of it. And he said unto them, This is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many. And Luke xxii. 19, 20. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body, which is given for you : this do in remembrance of me. Likewise, also, the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood, which is shed for you. With 1 Cor. xi. 23—26. (See all in letter a.)

^f Acts xx. 7. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready

IV. Private masses, or receiving this sacrament by a Priest, or any other alone,^g as likewise the denial of the cup to the people,^h worshipping the elements, the lifting them up or carrying them about for adoration, and the reserving them for any pretended religious use, are all contrary to the nature of this sacrament, and to the institution of Christ.ⁱ

V. The outward elements, in this sacrament, duly set apart to the uses ordained by Christ, have such relation to him crucified, as that truly, yet sacramentally only, they are sometimes called by the name of the things they represent; to wit, the body and blood of Christ;^k albeit, in substance and nature, they still remain truly and only bread and wine, as they were before.^l

VI. That doctrine, which maintains a change of the substance of bread and wine into the substance of Christ's body and blood, (commonly called Transubstantiation,) by consecration of a priest, or by any other way, is repugnant not to scripture alone, but even to common sense and reason; overthroweth the nature of the sacrament, and hath been, and is the cause of manifold superstitions, yea, of gross idolatries.^m to depart on the morrow, and continued his speech until midnight.

^g 1 Cor. xi. 20. When ye come together, therefore, into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's Supper.

IV. ^g 1 Cor. x. 6. Now, these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

^h Mark xiv. 23. (See in letter c.) 1 Cor. xi. 25 to 29. (See in letter a.) Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For, he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

ⁱ Mat. xv. 9. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

V. ^k Mat. xxvi. 26, 27, 28. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it: for, this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

^l 1 Cor. xi. 26 to 23. For, as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. Mat. xxvi. 29. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day, when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

VII. Worthy receivers, outwardly partaking of the visible elements in this sacrament,^a do then also inwardly by faith, really and indeed, yet not carnally and corporally, but spiritually, receive and feed upon Christ crucified, and all benefits of his death: the body and blood of Christ, being then, not corporally or carnally, in, with, ~~or~~ under the bread and wine; yet as really, but spiritually, present to the faith of believers in that ordinance, as the elements themselves are to their outward senses.^o

VIII. Although ignorant and wicked men receive the outward elements in this sacrament, yet they receive not the thing signified thereby; but by their unworthy coming thereunto, are guilty of the body and blood of the Lord, to their own damnation. Wherefore, all ignorant and ungodly persons, as they are unfit to enjoy communion with him, so are they unworthy of the Lord's table, and cannot, without great sin against Christ, while they remain such, partake of these holy mysteries,^p or be admitted thereunto.^q

VI. m Acts iii. 21. Whom the heaven must receive, until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets, since the world began. With 1 Cor. xi. 24, 25, 26. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood: This do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. (See in letter l.) Luke xxiv. 6, 39. He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you, when he was yet in Galilee. Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

o 1 Cor. x. 16. The cup of blessing, which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? the bread, which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

VIII. p 1 Cor. xi. 27, 28, 29. (See in letter l.) For, he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. 2 Cor. vi. 14, 15, 16. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth, with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God, as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

q 1 Cor. v. 6, 7, 13. Your glorying is not good: Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out, therefore, the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For, even Christ, our passover, is sacrificed for us. But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore, put away from among yourselves that wicked person. 2 Thess. iii. 6, 14, 15. Now, we command you,

Chapter XXX.

OF CHURCH-CENSURES.

THE Lord Jesus, as King and Head of his church, hath therein appointed a government in the hand of church officers, distinct from the civil magistrate.*

II. To these officers the keys of the kingdom of heaven are committed, by virtue whereof they have power brethren, in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition, which he received of us. And, if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Yet, count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother. Mat. vii. 6. Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rent you.

I. a Isa. ix. 6, 7. For, unto us a child is born, unto us a Son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice, from henceforth even for ever: the zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. 1 Tim. v. 17. Let the elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine. 1 Thess. v. 12. And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you. Acts xx. 17, 18. And from Miletus, he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church. And, when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons. Heb. xiii. 7, 17, 24. Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God; whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation. Obey them, that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for, that is unprofitable for you. Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you. 1 Cor. xii. 28. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. Mat. xxviii. 18, 19, 20. And Jesus came, and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world.

respectively to retain and remit sins ; to shut that kingdom against the impenitent, both by the word and censures ; and to open it unto penitent sinners, by the ministry of the gospel, and by absolution from censures, as occasion shall require.^b

III. Church-censures are necessary for the reclaiming and gaining of offending brethren ; for deterring of others from the like offences ; for purging out of that heaven which might infect the whole lump ; for vindicating the honour of Christ and the holy profession of the gospel ; and for preventing the wrath of God, which might justly fall upon the church, if they should suffer his covenant, and the seals thereof, to be profaned by notorious and obstinate offenders.^c

IV. For the better attaining of these ends, the officers of the church are to proceed by admonition, suspension from the sacrament of the Lord's Supper for a season, and by excommunication from the church, according to the nature of the crime, and demerit of the person.^d

II. b Mat. xvi. 19. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven ; and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven : and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven. Mat. xviii. 17, 18. And, if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church : but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man, and a publican. Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven : and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven. John xx. 21, 22, 23. Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you : as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said unto them, receive ye the Holy Ghost. Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them : and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained. 2 Cor. ii. 6, 7, 8. Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many. So that contrariwise, ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow. Wherefore, I beseech you, that you would confirm your love towards him.

III. c (1 Cor. v. throughout.) 1 Tim. v. 20. Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear. Mat. vii. 6. Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rent you. 1 Tim. i. 20. Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme. (1 Cor. xi. 27 to the end.) With Jude 23. And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire ; hating even the garments spotted by the flesh.

IV. d 1 Thess. v. 12. And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you. 2 Thess. iii. 6, 14, 15. Now, we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition

OF SYNODS AND COUNCILS.

For the better government and further edification of the church, there ought to be such assemblies as are commonly called Synods or Councils.^a

II. The ministers of Christ, of themselves, and by virtue of their office ; or they with other fit persons, upon delegation from their churches, have the exclusive right to appoint, adjourn, or dissolve such Synods or Councils : though, in extraordinary cases, it may be proper for magistrates to desire the calling of a Synod of ministers and other fit persons, to consult and advise with about matters of religion ; and in such cases, it is the duty of churches to comply with their desire.^b which he received of us. And, if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Yet, count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother. 1 Cor. v. 4, 5, 13. In the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord, Jesus Christ, to deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore, put away from among yourselves that wicked person. Mat. xviii. 17. And, if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church : but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man, and a publican. Tit. iii. 10. A man, that is an heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject.

I. a Acts xv. 2, 4, 6. When, therefore, Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them. And the apostles and the elders came together for to consider of this matter.

II. b Acts xv. 2, 4, 22, 23, 25. (See in letter a.) Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas ; namely, Judas, surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren. And they wrote letters by them after this manner, The apostles, and elders, and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia. It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul. Isa. xlix. 23. And kings shall be thy nursing-fathers, and their queens thy nursing-mothers ; they shall

III. It belongeth to Synods and Councils, ministerially to determine controversies of faith, and cases of conscience ; to set down rules and directions for the better ordering of the public worship of God, and government of his church ; to receive complaints in cases of mal-administration, and authoritatively to determine the same : which decrees and determinations, if consonant to the word of God, are to be received with reverence and submission, not only for their agreement with the word, but also for the power whereby they are made, as being an ordinance of God, appointed thereunto in his word.^c

IV. All Synods or Councils, since the apostles' times, whether general or particular, may err, and many have erred ; therefore, they are not to be made the rule of faith or practice, but to be used as a help in both.^d

V. Synods and Councils are to handle or conclude nothing but that which is ecclesiastical : and are not to intermeddle with civil affairs. which concern the commonwealth, bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord : for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me. 1 Tim. ii. 1, 2. I exhort, therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men : for kings, and for all that are in authority ; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. Mat. ii. 4, 5. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea : for thus it is written by the prophet. Prov. xi. 14. Where no counsel is, the people fall : but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.

III. c Acts xv. 15, 19, 24, 27 to 31. (See in the Bible.) Acts xvi. 4. And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders, which were at Jerusalem. Mat. xviii. 17 to 20. And, if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church : but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man, and a publican. Verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven : and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven. Again, I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth, as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father, which is in heaven. For, where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

IV. d Eph. ii. 20. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. Acts xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so. 1 Cor. ii. 5. That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God. 2 Cor. i. 24. Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy : for by faith ye stand.

unless by way of humble petition, in cases extraordinary ; or by way of advice for satisfaction of conscience, if they be thereunto required by the civil magistrate.^c

Chapter XXXII.

OF THE STATE OF MEN AFTER DEATH, AND OF THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD.

THE bodies of men after death return to dust and see corruption ;^a but their souls, (which neither die nor sleep,) having an immortal subsistence, immediately return to God who gave them.^b The souls of the righteous, being then made perfect in holiness, are received into the highest heavens, where they behold the face of God in light and glory, waiting for the full redemption of their bodies ;^c and the souls of the wicked are cast into hell, where they remain in torments and utter darkness, reserved to the judg-

V. ^a Luke xii. 13, 14. And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me. And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over you ? John xviii. 36. Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world : if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews : but now is my kingdom not from hence.

I. ^a Gen. iii. 19. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground ; for out of it wast thou taken : for dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return. Acts xiii. 36. For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption.

^b Luke xxiii. 43. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise. Eccl. xii. 7. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was : and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

^c Heb. xii. 23. To the general assembly and church of the first-born which are written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect. 2 Cor. v. 1, 6, 7. For we know, that, if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. Therefore, we are always confident, knowing that whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord : We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. Phil. i. 23. For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ ; which is far better. With Acts iii. 21. Whom the heaven must receive, until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began. And Eph. iv. 10. He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.

ment of the great day.^d Besides these two places for souls separated from the bodies, the scripture acknowledgeth none.

II. At the last day, such as are found alive shall not die, but be changed :^e and all the dead shall be raised up with the self-same bodies, and none other, although with different qualities, which shall be united again to their souls for ever.^f

III. The bodies of the unjust shall, by the power of Christ, be raised to dishonour ; the bodies of the just, by his Spirit, unto honour, and be made conformable to his own glorious body.^g

^d Luke xvi. 23, 24. And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue ; for I am tormented in this flame. Acts i. 25. That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place. Jude 6, 7. And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day. Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire. 1 Peter iii. 19: By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison.

II. ^e 1 Thess. iv. 17. Then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air : and so shall we ever be with the Lord. 1 Cor. xv. 51, 52. Behold, I show you a mystery ; we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump, (for the trumpet shall sound,) and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

^f Job. xix. 26, 27. And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God, whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another ; though my reins be consumed within me. 1 Cor. xv. 42, 43, 44. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption : it is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory : it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power : it is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

III. ^g Acts xxiv. 15. And have hope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. John v. 28, 29. Marvel not at this : for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth, they that have done good unto the resurrection of life ; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. 1 Cor. xv. 43. (See in letter f.) Phil. iii. 21. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

Chapter XXXIII.

OF THE LAST JUDGMENT.

God hath appointed a day, wherein he will judge the world in righteousness by Jesus Christ,^a to whom all power and judgment is given of the Father.^b In which day, not only the apostate angels shall be judged,^c but likewise all persons that have lived upon earth, shall appear before the tribunal of Christ, to give an account of their thoughts, words, and deeds, and to receive according to what they have done in the body, whether good or evil.^d

II. The end of God's appointing this day is for the manifestation of the glory of his mercy, in the eternal salvation of the elect, and of his justice in the damnation of the reprobate, who are wicked and disobedient. For then shall the righteous go into everlasting life, and receive that fulness of joy, and refreshing which shall come from the presence of the Lord; but the wicked, who know not God, and obey not the gospel of Jesus Christ, shall be cast

I. a Acts xvii. 31. Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

b John v. 22, 27. For the Father judgeth no man; but hath committed all judgment unto the Son. And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

c 1 Cor. vi. 3. Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life? Jude 6. (See letter d chapter foregoing.) 2 Pet. ii. 4. For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment.

d 2 Cor. v. 10. For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. Eccl. xii. 14. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil: Rom. ii. 16. In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel. Rom. xiv. 10, 12. But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ. So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. Mat. xii. 36, 37. But I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

into eternal torments, and be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power.^e

III. As Christ would have us to be certainly persuaded that there shall be a day of judgment, both to deter all men from sin, and for the greater consolation of the godly in their adversity :^f so will he have that day unknown to men, that they may shake off all carnal security, and be always watchful, because they know not at what hour the Lord will come, and may be ever prepared to say, Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly. Amen.^g

II. e (Mat. xxv. 31, to the end.) Rom. ii. 5, 6. But after thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God; who will render to every man according to his deeds. Rom. ix. 22, 23. What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction: and that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory? Mat. xxv. 21. His Lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord. Acts iii. 19. Repent ye, therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord. 2 Thess. i. 7.—10. (See in the Bible.)

III. f 2 Peter iii. 11, 14. Seeing then, that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness? Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless. 2 Cor. v. 10, 11. (See in letter d.) Knowing, therefore, the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also, are made manifest in your consciences. 2 Thess. i. 5, 6, 7. Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer. Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you; and to you who are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels. Luke xxi. 27, 28. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh. Rom. viii. 23, 24, 25. And not only they, but ourselves also which have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

g Mat. xxiv. 36, 42, 43, 44. (See in the Bible.) Mark xiii. 35, 36, 37. Watch ye, therefore; (for ye know not when the master of the house cometh; at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning;) lest coming suddenly, he find you sleeping. And what

I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch. Luke xii. 35, 36. Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning; and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. Rev. xxii. 20. He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

THE LARGER CATECHISM.

Question 1. What is the chief and highest end of Man?

Answer. Man's chief and highest end is to glorify God,^a and fully to enjoy him for ever.^b

Q. 2. How doth it appear that there is a God?

A. The very light of nature in man, and the works of God, declare plainly that there is a God;^c but his word and Spirit only do sufficiently and effectually reveal him unto men for their salvation.^d

1. a Rom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. 1 Cor. x. 31. Whether, therefore, ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

b Psal. lxxiii. 24 to 23. Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory. Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee. My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. For lo, they that are far from thee, shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee. But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works. John xvii. 21, 22, 23. That they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee; that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them: that they may be one, even as we are one. I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

2. c Rom. i. 19, 20. Because that which may be known of God, is manifest in them; for God hath showed it unto them. For, the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. Psal. xix. 1, 2, 3. The heavens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handy-work. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge. There is no speech, nor language, where their voice is not heard. Acts xvii. 28. For in him we live, and move, and have our being.

d 1 Cor. ii. 9, 10. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. 2 Tim. iii. 15, 16, 17. And that from a

Q. 3. What is the word of God?

A. The holy scriptures of the Old and New Testament are the word of God,^e the only rule of faith and obedience.^f

Q. 4. How doth it appear that the scriptures are the word of God?

A. The scriptures manifest themselves to be the word of God, by their majesty,^g and purity;^h by the consent of all child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. Isa lix. 21. As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the Lord. My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

3. ^e 2 Tim. iii. 16. All scripture is given by inspiration of God. 2 Peter i. 19, 20, 21. We have also a more sure word of prophecy: whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts: knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

^f Eph. ii. 20. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone. Rev. xxii. 18, 19. For, I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book: and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book. Isa. viii. 20. To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. Luke xvi. 29, 31. They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead. Gal. i. 8, 9. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed. 2 Tim. iii. 15, 16. (See in letter d.)

4. ^g Hos. viii. 12. I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing. 1 Cor. ii. 6, 7, 13. Howbeit, we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world that come to nought. But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the world unto our glory. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual. Psal. cxix. 13, 129. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore, doth my soul keep them.

^h Psal. xii. 6. The words of the Lord are pure words: as silver the parts, and the scope of the whole, which is to give all glory to God ;^k by their light and power to convince and convert sinners, to comfort and build up believers unto salvation :^l but the Spirit of God bearing witness by and with the scriptures in the heart of man, is alone able fully to persuade it that they are the very word of God.^m

Q. 5. What do the scriptures principally teach ?

A. The scriptures principally teach, what man is to believe concerning God, and what duty God requires of man.ⁿ

tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. Psal. cxix. 140. Thy word is very pure : therefore, thy servant loveth it.

ⁱ Acts x. 43. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name, whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins. Acts xxvi. 22. Having, therefore, obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come.

^k Rom. iii. 19, 27. Now we know, that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law : that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. Where is boasting then ? It is excluded. By what law ? of works ? Nay ; but by the law of faith.

^l Acts xviii. 28. For, he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures, that Jesus was Christ. Heb. iv. 12. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. James i. 18. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. Psal. xix. 7, 8, 9. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul : the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart : the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever : the judgments of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether. Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning ; that we, through patience and comfort of the scriptures, might have hope. Acts xx. 32. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

^m John xvi. 13, 14. Howbeit, when he the Spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth : for he shall not speak of himself ; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak : and he will show you things to come. He shall glorify me : for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. 1 John ii. 20, 27. But ye have an unction from the holy One, and ye know all things. But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you : and ye need not that any man teach you : but, as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie ; and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. John xx. 31. But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through his name.

ⁿ 2 Tim. i. 13. Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

And again, when he bringeth in the first begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him. But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever; a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

ⁿ John i. 14, 18. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

^o John xv. 26. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. Gal. iv. 6. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

11. ^p Isa. vi. 3, 5, 8. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts, the whole earth is full of his glory. Then said I, Wo is me, for I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts. Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I, send me. Compared with John xii. 41. These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him. And with Acts xxviii. 25. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet, unto our fathers. 1 John v. 20. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son, Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life. Acts v. 3, 4. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

Q. 12. What are the decrees of God?

A. God's decrees are the wise, free, and holy acts of the counsel of his will,^t whereby, from all eternity, he hath, for his own glory, unchangeably fore-ordained whatsoever comes to pass in time,^v especially concerning angels and men.

Q. 13. What hath God especially decreed concerning angels and men?

A. God, by an eternal and immutable decree, out of his

To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved. 2 Thess. ii. 13, 14. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth : whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

^y Rom. ix. 17, 18, 21, 22. For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Therefore, hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will, he hardeneth. Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour ? What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured, with much long-suffering, the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction ? Mat. xi. 25, 26. At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight. 2-Tim. ii. 20. But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold, and of silver, but also of wood, and of earth ; and some to honour, and some to dishonour. Jude 4. For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ. 1 Pet. ii. 8. And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient, whereunto also they were appointed.

14. ^z Eph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will.

Q. 15. What is the work of creation ?

A. The work of creation is that wherein God did, in the beginning, by the word of his power, make of nothing the world, and all things therein, for himself, within the space of six days, and all very good.^a

Q. 16. How did God create angels ?

A. God created all the angels,^b spirits,^c immortal,^d holy,^e excelling in knowledge,^f mighty in power,^g to execute his commandments, and to praise his name,^h yet subject to change.ⁱ

Q. 17. How did God create man ?

A. After God had made all other creatures, he created man male and female ;^k formed the body of the man of the dust of the ground,^l and the woman of the rib of the man ;^m

Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and the father of it.

^d Job i. 12. And the Lord said unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy power, only upon himself put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the presence of the Lord. Mat. viii. 31. So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

^e 1 Tim. v. 21. I charge thee before God, and the Lord, Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality. Mark viii. 38. Whosoever, therefore, shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father, with the holy angels. Heb. xii. 22. But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels.

^f Psal. civ. 4. Who maketh his angels spirits: his ministers a flaming fire.

^g 2 Kings xix. 35. And it came to pass that night, that the angel of the Lord went out and smote in the camp of the Assyrians, an hundred fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. Heb. i. 14. Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

Q. 20. What was the providence of God toward man in the estate in which he was created?

A. The providence of God toward man in the estate in which he was created, was, the placing him in paradise, appointing him to dress it, giving liberty to eat of the fruit of the earth;^b putting the creatures under his dominion,ⁱ and ordaining marriage for his help;^k affording him communion with himself;^l instituting the Sabbath;^m entering into a covenant of life with him, upon condition of personal, perfect, and perpetual obedience,ⁿ of which the tree of life was a pledge;^o and forbidding to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. upon pain of death.^p

20. A Gen. ii. 8, 15, 16. And the Lord, God, planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed. And the Lord, God, took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, to dress it, and to keep it. And the Lord, God, commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat.

ⁱ Gen. i. 29. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

^k Gen. ii. 18. And the Lord, God, said, It is not good that the man should be alone: I will make him an help meet for him.

^l Gen. i. 26 to 27. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth. And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed: to you it shall be for meat. Gen. iii. 8. And they heard the voice of the Lord, God, walking in the garden, in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord, God, amongst the trees of the garden.

^m Gen. ii. 3. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work, which God created and made.

ⁿ Gal. iii. 12. And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doth them shall live in them. Rom. x. 5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doth these things, shall live by them.

^o Gen. ii. 9. And out of the ground made the Lord, God, to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food: the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

^p Gen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die.

Q. 21. Did man continue in that estate wherein God at first created him ?

A. Our first parents, being left to the freedom of their own will, through the temptation of Satan, transgressed the commandment of God, in eating the forbidden fruit ; and thereby fell from the estate of innocence wherein they were created :

Q. 22. Did all mankind fall in that first transgression ?

A. The covenant being made with Adam as a public person, not for himself only, but for his posterity ; all mankind descending from him by ordinary generation, sinned in him, and fell with him, in that first transgression.^s

Q. 23. Into what estate did the fall bring mankind ?

A. The fall brought mankind into an estate of sin and misery.^t

21. q Gen. iii. 6, 7, 8, 13. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise ; she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her ; and he did eat. And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked ; and they sewed fig-leaves together, and made themselves aprons. And they heard the voice of the Lord God, walking in the garden in the cool of the day ; and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God, amongst the trees of the garden. And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done ? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat. Eccl. vii. 29. Lo, this only have I found, that God made man upright ; but they have sought out many inventions. 2 Cor. xi. 3. But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

s Gen. ii. 16, 17. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat : but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it : for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die. (Compared with Rom. v. 12 to 20.) Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin ; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. For if through the offence of one, many be dead ; much more——. For, the judgment was by one to condemnation——. For, if by one man's offence, death reigned by one ; much more——. Therefore, as by the offence of one, judgment came upon all men to condemnation ; even so——. For, as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience——. And with 1 Cor. xv. 21, 22. For, since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For, as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

Q. 24. What is sin?

A. Sin is any want of conformity unto, or transgression of any law of God, given as a rule to the reasonable creature.^v

Q. 25. Wherein consisteth the sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell?

A. The sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell, consisteth in the guilt of Adam's first sin,^w the want of that righteousness wherein he was created, and the corruption of his nature, whereby he is utterly indisposed, disabled, and made opposite unto all that is spiritually good, and wholly inclined to all evil, and that continually;^x which is commonly called original sin, and from which do proceed all actual transgressions.^y all have sinned. Rom. iii. 23. For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.

24. ^v 1 John iii. 4. Whosoever committeth sin, transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law Gal. iii. 10, 12. For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doth them, shall live in him.

25. ^w Rom. v. 12, 19. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. For, as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

^x Rom. iii. 10 to 19. As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one: there is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable: there is none that doth good, no, not one. Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips: whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and misery are in their ways: and the way of peace have they not known. There is no fear of God before their eyes. Now, we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. Eph. ii. 1, 2, 3. And you hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past, in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others. Rom. v. 6. For, when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. Rom. viii. 7, 8. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God. Gen. vi. 5. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

Q. 26. How is original sin conveyed from our first parents unto their posterity?

A. Original sin is conveyed from our first parents unto their posterity by natural generation, so as all that proceed from them in that way are conceived and born in sin.^a

Q. 27. What misery did the fall bring upon mankind?

A. The fall brought upon mankind the loss of communion with God,^a his displeasure and curse; so as we are by nature children of wrath,^b bond slaves to Satan,^c and justly liable to all punishments in this world, and that which is to come.^d y James i. 14, 15. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. Mat. xv. 19. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies.

Q. 28. What are the punishments of sin in this world?

26. z Psal. li. 5. Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. Job. xiv. 4. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one. Job xv. 14. What is man, that he should be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous? John iii. 6. That which is born of the flesh, is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

27. a Gen. iii. 8, 10, 24. And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God, amongst the trees of the garden. And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden: and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself. So he drove out the man: and he placed, at the east of the garden of Eden, cherubims, and a flaming sword, which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.

b Eph. ii. 2, 3. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Rom. vi. 23. For the wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Mat. xxv. 41, 46. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal. Jude 7. Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

A. The punishments of sin in this world are either inward, as blindness of mind,^e a reprobate sense,^f strong delusions,^g hardness of heart,^h horror of conscience,ⁱ and vile affections;^k or outward, as the curse of God upon the creatures for our sakes,^l and all other evils that befall us in our bodies, names, estates, relations, and employments;^m together with death itself.ⁿ

Q. 29. What are the punishments of sin in the world to come?

A. The punishments of sin in the world to come, are everlasting separation from the comfortable presence of God, and most grievous torments in soul and body, without intermission, in hell-fire, for ever.^o f Rom. i. 28. Even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient.

28. e Eph. iv. 18. Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart.

^r Tit. iii. 4 to 7. But after that the kindness and love of God, our Saviour, toward man appeared. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost: which he shed on us abundantly, through Jesus Christ, our Saviour: that being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. Gal. iii. 21. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for, if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. Rom. iii. 20, 21, 22. Therefore, by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets: even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference.

And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus. And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore, also that holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God. And Elizabeth spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. Gal. iv. 4. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law.

y Heb. iv. 15. For, we have not an high priest, which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Heb. vii. 26. For, such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens.

Q. 39. Why was it requisite that the Mediator should be man ?

a Acts xx. 28. Take heed, therefore, unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he has purchased with his own blood. Heb. ix. 14. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? Heb. vii. 25 to 28. Wherefore, he is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them. For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens: who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself. For, the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

b Rom. iii. 24, 25, 26. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ: whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God: to declare, I say, at this time, his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

d Tit. ii. 13, 14. Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour, Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

e Gal. iv. 6. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying Abba, Father.

f Luke i. 68, 69, 71, 74. Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited and redeemed his people; and hath raised up an horn of salvation for us, in the house of his servant David; that we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us. That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might serve him without fear.

g Heb. v. 8, 9. Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered: and being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him. Heb. ix. 11 to 15. But Christ, being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building; neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. For, if the blood of bulls, and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh; how much more shall the blood of Christ, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? And for this cause he is the Mediator of the New Testa-

A. It was requisite that the Mediator should be man, that he might advance our nature,^h perform obedience to the law,ⁱ suffer and make intercession for us in our nature,^k have a fellow-feeling of our infirmities,^l that we might receive the adoption of sons,^m and have comfort and access with boldness unto the throne of grace.ⁿ

Q. 40. Why was it requisite that the Mediator should be God and man in one person?

A. It was requisite that the Mediator, who was to reconcile God and man, should himself be both God and man, and this in one person, that the proper works of each nature might be accepted of God for us,^o and relied on by us, as the works of the whole person.^p

Q. 41. Why was our Mediator called Jesus?

A. Our Mediator was called Jesus, because he saveth his people from their sins.^q ment, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

Q. 42. Why was our Mediator called Christ?

A. Our Mediator was called Christ, because he was anointed with the Holy Ghost above measure;^r and so set apart, and fully furnished with all authority and ability,^s to execute the offices of prophet,^t priest,^v and king of his church,^w in the estate both of his humiliation and exaltation.

^r John iii. 34. For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. Psal. xlv. 7. Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore, God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

^s John vi. 27. Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed. Mat. xxviii. 18, 19, 20. And Jesus came, and speak unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

^t Acts iii. 21, 22. Whom the heaven must receive, until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets, since the world began. For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you, of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you. Luke iv. 18, 21. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor, he hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

^v Heb. v. 5, 6, 7. So also, Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee. As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec. Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard, in that he feared. Heb. iv. 14, 15. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For, we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

Q. 47. How did Christ humble himself in his conception and birth?

A. Christ humbled himself in his conception and birth, in that, being from all eternity the Son of God, in the bosom of the Father, he was pleased, in the fulness of time, to become the Son of man, made of a woman of low estate, and to be born of her; with divers circumstances of more than ordinary abasement.^t

Q. 48. How did Christ humble himself in his life?

A. Christ humbled himself in his life, by subjecting himself to the law,^v which he perfectly fulfilled;^w and by conflicting with the indignities of the world,^x temptations of Satan,^y and infirmities in his flesh, whether common to the nature of man, or particularly accompanying that of his low condition.^z

Q. 53. How was Christ exalted in his ascension ?

A. Christ was exalted in his ascension, in that having, after his resurrection, often appeared unto and conversed with his apostles, speaking to them of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God,^d and giving them commission to self: I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.

^s Rom. i. 4. And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead.

^t Rom. viii. 34. Who is he that condemneth ? It is Christ that died ; yea rather, that is risen again ; who is even at the right hand of God ; who also maketh intercession for us.

^v Heb. ii. 14. Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same ; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil.

^w Rom. xiv. 9. For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

^x 1 Cor. xv. 21, 22. For, since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For, as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the Head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. Col. i. 18. And he is the head of the body, the church : who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead ; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence.

^z Rom. iv. 25. Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

^a Eph. ii. 1, 5, 6. And you hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins. Even when we were dead in sins hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved.) And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. Col. ii. 12. Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

^b 1 Cor. xv. 25, 26, 27. For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death. For, he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.

Q. 54. How is Christ exalted in his sitting at the right hand of God?

A. Christ is exalted in his sitting at the right hand of God, in that as God-man he is advanced to the highest favour with God the Father,^m with all fulness of joy,ⁿ glory,^o he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles, whom he had chosen. To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God.

Mat. xxviii. 19, 20. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

g Eph. iv. 8. Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

h Acts i. 9, 10, 11. And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up, and a cloud received him out of their sight. And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven, as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. Eph. iv. 10. He that descended, is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things. Psal. lxviii. 18. Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

Q. 56. How is Christ to be exalted in his coming again to judge the world?

A. Christ is to be exalted in his coming again to judge the world, in that he, who was unjustly judged and condemned by wicked men,^b shall come again at the last day in great power,^c and in the full manifestation of his own glory, and of his Father's, with all his holy angels,^d with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet of God,^e to judge the world in righteousness.^f

Q. 57. What benefits hath Christ procured by his mediation?

A. Christ, by his mediation, hath procured redemption,^g with all other benefits of the covenant of grace.^h of the glory of God. 1 John ii. 1, 2. My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous: and he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

Mat. xxv. 31. When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory.

^e 1 Thess. iv. 16. For, the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

^f Acts xvii. 31. Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

^g Heb. ix. 12. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

^h 2 Cor. i. 20. For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him amen, unto the glory of God by us.

Q. 53. How do we come to be made partakers of the benefits which Christ hath procured?

A. We are made partakers of the benefits which Christ hath procured, by the application of them unto us,ⁱ which is the work especially of God the Holy Ghost.^k

Q. 59. Who are made partakers of redemption through Christ?

A. Redemption is certainly applied, and effectually communicated, to all those for whom Christ hath purchased it:^l who are in time, by the Holy Ghost, enabled to believe in Christ according to the gospel.^m

Q. 60. Can they who have never heard the gospel, and so know not Jesus Christ, nor believe in him, be saved by their living according to the light of nature?

q 1 Cor. i. 20 to 24. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? For, after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching, to save them that believe. For, the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom: but we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks foolishness; but unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

r. John iv. 22. Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. Rom. ix. 31, 32. But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law: for they stumbled at that stumbling-stone. Phil. iii. 4 to 9. Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more: circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee; concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless. But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. Yea, doubtless, and I count all things but loss, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung that I may win Christ, and be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith.

67. ⁱ John v. 25. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. Eph. i. 18, 19, 20. The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints; and what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places. 2 Tim. i. 8, 9. Be not thou, therefore, ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel, according to the power of God; who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose, and grace which was given us in Christ Jesus, before the world began.

^k Tit. iii. 4, 5. But after that the kindness and love of God, our Saviour, toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. Eph. ii. 4, 5; 7, 8, 9. But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ; (by grace ye are saved;) that in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness towards us through Christ Jesus. For, by grace are ye saved, through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast. Rom. ix. 11. For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth.

No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. 2. Thess. ii. 13, 14. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth: whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

^m Acts xxvi. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. 1 Cor. ii. 10, 12. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. Now, we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

ⁿ Ezek. xi. 19. I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh. Ezek. xxxvi. 26, 27. A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments and do them. John vi. 45. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man, therefore, that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

Q. 69. What is the communion in grace which the members of the invisible church have with Christ?

A. The communion in grace, which the members of the invisible church have with Christ, is their partaking of the virtue of his mediation, in their justification,^t adoption,^v sanctification, and whatever else, in this life, manifests their union with him.^w

Q. 70. What is justification?

A. Justification is an act of God's free grace unto sinners,^x in which he pardoneth all their sins, accepteth and Holy Ghost, and have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come; if they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance.

^s John xii. 38, 39, 40. That the saying of Esaias, the prophet, might be fulfilled which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed; therefore, they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, he hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. Acts xxviii. 25, 26, 27. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias, the prophet, unto our fathers, saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing, ye shall see, and not perceive. For, the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them. John vi. 64, 65. But there are some of you that believe not. For, Jesus knew from the beginning, who they were that believed not, and who should betray him. And he said, Therefore, said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father. Psal. lxxxii. 11, 12. But my people would not hearken to my voice: and Israel would none of me. So I gave them up unto their own heart's lust: and they walked in their own counsels.

Q. 71. How is justification an act of God's free grace?

A. Although Christ, by his obedience and death, did make a proper, real, and full satisfaction to God's justice in the behalf of them that are justified;^c yet in as much as

y 2 Cor. v. 19, 21. To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. Rom. iii. 22, 24, 25, 27, 28. Even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe, for there is no difference. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith. Therefore, we conclude, that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

z Tit. iii. 5, 7. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. Eph. i. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace.

a Rom. v. 17, 18, 19. For, if by one man's offence, death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore, as by the offence of one, judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For, as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Rom. iv. 6, 7, 8. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works, saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

b Acts x. 43. To him give all the prophets witness, that, through his name, whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins. Gal. ii. 16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ; that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law; for, by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. Phil. iii. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith.

Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. Dan. ix. 24, 26. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. Isa. liii. 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. All we, like sheep, have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many: for he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore, will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many; and made intercession for the transgressors. Heb. vii. 22. By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament. Rom. viii. 32. He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things? 1 Pet. i. 18, 19. Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lamb without blemish and without spot.

Q. 72. What is justifying faith?

A. Justifying faith is a saving grace,ⁱ wrought in the heart of a sinner by the Spirit^k and word of God,^l whereby he, being convinced of his sin and misery, and of the disability in himself and all other creatures, to recover him out of his lost condition,^m not only assenteth to the truth of the promise of the gospel,ⁿ but receiveth and resteth upon Christ and his righteousness therein held forth, for pardon of sin,^o and for the accepting and accounting of his person righteous in the sight of God for salvation.^p

To him give all the prophets witness, that, through his name, whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

Q. 73. How doth faith justify a sinner in the sight of God?

A. Faith justifies a sinner in the sight of God, not because of those other graces, which do always accompany it, or of good works that are the fruits of it,^q nor as if the grace of faith, or any act thereof, were imputed to him for his justification;^r but only as it is an instrument by which he receiveth and applieth Christ and his righteousness.^s

Q. 74. What is adoption?

Surely after that I was turned, I repented: and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

p 2 Cor. vii. 11. For, behold, this self-same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! in all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

q Acts xxvi. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. Ezek. xiv. 6. Therefore, say unto the house of Israel. Thus saith the Lord God, repent, and turn yourselves from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations. 1 Kings viii. 47. 48. Yet, if they shall bethink themselves in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make supplication unto thee in the land of them that carried them captive, saying, We have sinned, and have done perversely, we have committed wickedness; and so return unto thee with all their heart, and with all their soul.

r Psal. cxix. 6, 59, 128. Then I shall not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments. I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. Therefore, I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way. Luke i. 6. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameless. 2 Kings xxiii. 25. And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

Q. 77. Wherein do justification and sanctification differ?

A Although sanctification be inseparably joined with justification,^a yet they differ, in that God in justification imputeth the righteousness of Christ;^t in sanctification his Spirit infuseth grace, and enableth to the exercise thereof:^v in the former, sin is pardoned;^w in the other, it is subdued:^x the one doth equally free all believers from the revenging wrath of God, and that perfectly in this life, that they never fall into condemnation;^y the other is neither equal in all,^z nor in this life perfect in any,^a but growing up to perfection.^b w Rom. iii. 24, 25. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God.

x Rom. vi. 6, 14. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

y Rom. viii. 33, 34. Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth; who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died; yea rather, that is risen again; who is even at the right hand of God; who also maketh intercession for us.

z 1 John ii. 12, 13, 14. I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father. I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one. Heb. v. 12, 13, 14. For, when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat. For every one that useth milk, is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who, by reason of use, have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

Q. 78. Whence ariseth the imperfection of sanctification in believers?

A. The imperfection of sanctification in believers, ariseth from the remnants of sin abiding in every part of them, and the perpetual lustings of the flesh against the spirit; whereby they are often foiled with temptations, and fall into many sins,^c are hindered in all their spiritual services,^d and their best works are imperfect and defiled in the sight of God.^e

Q. 79. May not true believers, by reason of their imperfections, and the many temptations and sins they are overtaken with, fall away from the state of grace?

A. True believers, by reason of the unchangeable love of God,^f and his decree and covenant to give them perseverance,^g their inseparable union with Christ,^h his conti-

b 2 Cor. vii. 1. Having, therefore, these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. Phil. iii. 12, 13, 14. Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect; but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

78. c Rom. vii. 18, 23. For, I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for, to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not. But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin, which is in my members. Mark xiv. 66. to the end. And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest, &c. Gal. ii. 11, 12. But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed. For, before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

Q. 81. Are all true believers at all times assured of their present being in the estate of grace, and that they shall be saved?

A. Assurance of grace and salvation not being of the essence of faith,^r true believers may wait long before they obtain it;^s and, after the enjoyment thereof, may have it weakened and intermitted, through manifold distempers, sins, temptations, and desertions;^t yet are they never left children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed, and in truth. And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God. And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us. 1 John iv. 13, 16. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him. Heb. vi. 11, 12. And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end. Psal. lxxxviii. throughout. 1, 2, 3, 6, 7. O Lord God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee. Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry. For my soul is full of trouble; and my life draweth nigh unto the grave. Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps. Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah—v. 9, 10, 13, 14, 16. Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction: Lord, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee. Wilt thou show wonders to the dead? But unto thee have I cried, O Lord; and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee. Lord, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me? Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire. And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches, which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. Mat. xxv. 46. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment : but the righteous into life eternal.

^z Mat. xxiv. 36, 42, 44. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. Watch, therefore ; for, ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. Therefore, be ye also ready : for, in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh. Luke xxi. 35, 36. For, as a snare shall it come on all

HAVING SEEN WHAT THE SCRIPTURES PRINCIPALLY TEACH US TO BELIEVE CONCERNING GOD, IT FOLLOWS TO CONSIDER WHAT THEY REQUIRE AS THE DUTY OF MAN.

Q. 91. What is the duty which God requireth of man ?

A. The duty which God requireth of man, is obedience to his revealed will.ⁿ

A Mat. xxv. 34, 46. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment : but the righteous into life eternal.

i Eph. v. 27. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing ; but that it should be holy and without blemish. Rev. xiv. 13. And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth ; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours ; and their works do follow them.

k Psal. xvi. 11. Thou wilt show me the path of life : in thy presence is fulness of joy, at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

l Heb. xii. 22, 23. But ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God, the judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect.

m 1 John iii. 2. Beloved, now are we the sons of God ; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be : but we know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him ; for, we shall see him as he is. 1 Cor. xiii. 12. For, now we see through a glass, darkly ; but then face to face : now I know in part ; but then shall I know even as also I am known. 1 Thess. iv. 17, 18. Then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air ; and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore, comfort one another with these words.

n 1 Rom. xii. 1, 2. I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world : but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. Mic. vi. 8. He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good ; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, Q. 92. What did God, at first, reveal unto man as the rule of his obedience?

A. The rule of obedience revealed to Adam in the estate of innocence, and to all mankind in him, beside a special command not to eat of the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, was the moral law.^o

Q. 93. What is the moral law?

A. The moral law is the declaration of the will of God to mankind, directing and binding every one to personal, perfect, and perpetual conformity and obedience thereunto, in the frame and disposition of the whole man, soul and body,^p and in performance of all those duties of holiness to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? 1 Sam. xv. 22. And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt-offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice; and to hearken, than the fat of rams.

92. o Gen. i. 26, 27. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them. Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law, are a law unto themselves: which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing, or else excusing one another. Rom. x. 5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doth those things, shall live by them. Gen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die.

93. p Deut. v. 1, 2, 3, 31, 33. And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. The Lord, our God, made a covenant with us in Horeb. The Lord made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day. But as for thee, stand thou here by me, and I will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land which I give them to possess it. You shall walk in all the ways, which the Lord, your God, hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess. Luke x. 26, 27. He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? and he answering, said, Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. Gal. iii. 10. For, as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for, it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. 1 Thess. v. 23. And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly: and I pray God, your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

and righteousness, which he oweth to God and man :^q promising life upon the fulfilling, and threatening death upon the breach of it.^r

Q. 94. Is there any use of the moral law to man since the fall ?

A. Although no man, since the fall, can attain to righteousness and life by the moral law ;^s yet there is great use thereof, as well common to all men, as peculiar either to the unregenerate, or the regenerate.^t

Q. 95. Of what use is the moral law to all men ?

A. The moral law is of use to all men, to inform them of the holy nature and will of God,^v and of their duty, binding them to walk accordingly ;^w to convince them of their disability to keep it, and of the sinful pollution of their nature, hearts, and lives ;^x to humble them in the sense of u Lev. xi. 44, 45. For, I am the Lord, your God : ye shall, therefore, sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy ; for, I am holy : neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. For, I am the Lord that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God : ye shall, therefore, be holy, for I am holy. Lev. xx. 7, 8. Sanctify yourselves, therefore, and be ye holy : for, I am the Lord, your God. And ye shall keep my statutes, and do them : I am the Lord which sanctify you. Rom. vii. 12. Wherefore, the law is holy ; and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

v Mic. vi. 8. He hath showed thee, O man, what is good : and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God ? James ii. 10, 11. For, whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. For, he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

Q. 96. What particular use is there of the moral law to unregenerate men?

A. The moral law is of use to unregenerate men, to awaken their consciences to flee from the wrath to come,^b and to drive them to Christ:^c or, upon their continuance in the estate and way of sin, to leave them inexcusable,^d and under the curse thereof.^e

Q. 97. What special use is there of the moral law to the regenerate?

A. Although they that are regenerate and believe in Christ, be delivered from the moral law as a covenant of works,^f so as thereby they are neither justified^g nor con-in keeping of them there is great reward. Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults. Rom. iii. 20. Therefore, by the deeds of the law, there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for, by the law is the knowledge of sin. Rom. vii. 7. What shall we say then? is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

y Rom. iii. 9, 23. What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin; for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.

z Gal. iii. 21, 22. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for, if there had been a law given, which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

Q. 98. Where is the moral law summarily comprehended ?

A. The moral law is summarily comprehended in the ten commandments, which were delivered by the voice of God upon mount Sinai, and written by him in two tables of stone ;^m and are recorded in the twentieth chapter of Exodus. The first four commandments containing our duty to God, and the other six our duty to man.ⁿ

Q. 99. What rules are to be observed for the right understanding of the ten commandments ?

A. For the right understanding of the ten commandments, these rules are to be observed ;

1. That the law is perfect, and bindeth every one to full conformity in the whole man unto the righteousness thereof, and unto entire obedience for ever ; so as to require the utmost perfection of every duty, and to forbid the least degree of every sin.^o to all men ; teaching us, that denying ungodliness, and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world ; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour, Jesus Christ : who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

98. m Deut. x. 4. And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the Lord spake unto you in the mount, out of the midst of the fire, in the day of the assembly : and the Lord gave them unto me. Exod. xxxiv. 1, 2, 3, 4. And the Lord said unto Moses, Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first : and I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest. And be ready in the morning, and come up in the morning unto mount Sinai, and present thyself there to me in the top of the mount. And no man shall come up with thee, &c. And he hewed two tables of stone, like unto the first ; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and went up unto mount Sinai, as the Lord had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone.

n Mat. xxii. 37 to 40. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

99. o Psal. xix. 7. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul : the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. James ii. 10. For, whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. Mat. v. to the end. v. 21, 22, 27, 28, 33, 34, 37, 38, 39, 43, 44. Ye have heard that it was said : by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill : and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment : but I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the judgment : and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council : but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell-fire. Ye have heard that it was

2. That it is spiritual, and so reacheth the understanding, will, affections, and all other powers of the soul ; as well as words, works, and gestures.^p

4. That ~~as~~, where a duty is commanded, the contrary sin is forbidden ;^r and, where a sin is forbidden, the con-

said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths. But I say unto you, Swear not at all ; neither by heaven, for it is God's throne : But let your communication be, Yea, yea ; Nay, nay : for, whatsoever is more than these, cometh of evil. Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. But I say unto you, that ye resist not evil. Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies ; bless them that curse you ; do good to them that hate you ; and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you, &c.

^p Rom. vii. 14. For, we know that the law is spiritual : but I am carnal, sold under sin. Deut. vi. 5. Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. Compared with Mat. xxii. 37, 38, 39. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

^q Col. iii. 5. Mortify, therefore, your members which are upon the earth : fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. Amos viii. 5. Saying, When will the new-moon be gone, that we may sell corn ? and the Sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances by deceit ? Prov. i. 19. ~~So~~ are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain : which taketh away the life of the owners thereof. 1 Tim. vi. 10. For, the love of money is the root of all evil : which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

^r Isa. lviii. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day ; and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable ; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words. Deut. vi. 13. Thou shalt fear the Lord, thy God, and ~~serve~~ him, and shalt swear by his name. Compared with Mat. iv. 9. 10. And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee, hence, Satan : for, it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord, thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Mat. xv. 4, 5, 6. For, God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother : and, He that curseth ~~father or mother~~, let him die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift by whatsoever thou mighttrary duty is commanded ;^a so, where a promise is annexed, the contrary threatening is included :^t and, where a threatening is annexed, the contrary promise is included.^v

Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee ; leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way ; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Eph. iv. 28. Let him that stole, steal no more ; but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

^t Exod. xx. 12. Honour thy father and thy mother : that thy days may be long upon the land, which the Lord, thy God, giveth thee. Compared with Prov. xxx. 17. The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

^v Jer. xviii. 7, 8. At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it : If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. Exod. xx. 7. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God, in vain : for, the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain. Compared with Psal. xv. 1, 4, 5. Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle ? who shall dwell in thy holy hill ? in whose eyes a vile person is contemned ; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord : he that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not. He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doth these things, shall never be moved. And with Psal. xxiv. 4, 5. He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart : who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully, he shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

^w Job xiii. 7, 8. Will you speak wickedly for God ? and talk deceitfully for him ? Will ye accept his person ? Will ye contend for God ? Rom. iii. 8. Abstain from all appearance of evil. Jude 23. And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. Gal. v. 26. Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another. Col. iii. 21. Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

^a Exod. xx. 10. But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. Lev. xix. 17. Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him. Gen. xviii. 19. For, I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment: that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him. Josh. xxiv. 15. And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served, that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. Deut. vi. 6, 7. And these words which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children; and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

^b 2 Cor. i. 24. Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

^c 1 Tim. v. 22. Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. Eph. v. 11. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

Q. 100. What special things are we to consider in the ten commandments?

A. We are to consider in the ten commandments, the preface, the substance of the commandments themselves, and several reasons annexed to some of them the more to enforce them.

Q. 101. What is the preface to the ten commandments?

A. The preface to the ten commandments is contained in these words, I am the Lord, thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.^d Wherein God manifesteth his sovereignty, as being JEHOVAH, the eternal, immutable, and almighty God ;^e having his being in and of himself,^f and giving being to all his words,^g and works ;^h and that he is a God in covenant, as with Israel of old, so with all his people ;ⁱ who, as he brought them out of their bondage in Egypt, so he delivereth us from our spiritual thralldom ;^k and that, therefore, we are bound to take him for our God alone, and to keep all his commandments.^l e Isa. xlv. 6. Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer, the Lord of hosts, I am the first, and I am the last ; and beside me there is no God.

f Exod. iii. 14. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM : and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.

g Exod. vi. 3. And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them.

h Acts xvii. 24, 28. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands. For, in him we live, and move, and have our being ; as certain also of your own poets have said, For, we are also his offspring.

i Gen. xvii. 7. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant ; to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. Compared with Rom. iii. 29. Is he the God of the Jews only ? is he not also of the Gentiles ? Yea, of the Gentiles also.

k Luke i. 74, 75. That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

l 1 Pet. i. 15 to 18. But as he, which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation ; because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy. And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear : forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers. 1 Pet. xviii. 30. Therefore, shall ye keep mine ordinance, that ye may

Q. 102. What is the sum of the four commandments, which contain our duty to God?

104. ^o 1 Chron. xxviii. 9. And thou, Solomon, my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind; for, the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee: but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off forever. Deut. xxvi. 17. Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice. Isa. xliii. 10. Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant, whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. Jer. xiv. 22. Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? Art not thou he, O Lord, our God? therefore, we will wait upon thee; for thou hast made all these things.

^p Psal. xcvi. 6, 7. O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord, our Maker. For, he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Mat. iv. 10. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for, it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord, thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Psal. xxix. 2. Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

^q Mal iii. 16. Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another, and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name.

^r Psal. lxxiii. 6. When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night-watches.

v Mal. i. 6. A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master ; if then I be a father, where is mine honour ? and if I be a master, where is my fear ? saith the Lord of hosts unto you, O priests that despise my name.

w Isa. xlv. 23. I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

z Josh. xxiv. 15, 22. And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve, whether the gods which your fathers served, that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites in whose land ye dwell : but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. And Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves, that ye have chosen the Lord, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

y Deut. vi. 5. And thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

z Psal. lxxiii. 25. Whom have I in heaven but thee ? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.

a Isa. viii. 13. Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

b Exod. xiv. 31. And Israel saw that great work which the Lord did upon the Egyptians ; and the people feared the Lord, and believed the Lord, and his servant Moses.

c Isa. xxvi. 4. Trust ye in the Lord for ever : for, in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength.

d Psal. cxxx. 7. Let Israel hope in the Lord : for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

e Psal. xxxvii. 4. Delight thyself also in the Lord ; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

f Psal. xxxii. 11. Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous ; and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

g Rom. xii. 11. Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit ; serving the Lord. Compared with Numb. xxv. 11. Phinehas the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Israel (while he was zealous for my sake among them) that I consumed not the children of Israel in my jealousy.

h Phil. iv. 6. Be careful for nothing : but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

i Jer. vii. 23. But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people : and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you. Jani. iv. 7. Submit yourselves therefore to God ; resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Q. 105. What are the sins forbidden in the first commandment ?

A. The sins forbidden in the first commandment are, Atheism, in denying, or not having a God ;ⁿ Idolatry, in having or worshipping more gods than one, or any with or instead of the true God ;^o the not having and avouching him for God, and our God ;^p the omission or neglect of any thing due to him, required in this commandment ;^q ignorance,^r forgetfulness,^s misapprehensions,^t false opinions,^v cause we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

l Jer. xxxi. 18. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus ; Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke : turn thou me, and I shall be turned ; for thou art the Lord, my God. Psal. cxix. 136. Rivers of waters run down mine eyes : because they keep not thy law.

m Mic. vi. 8. He hath showed thee, O man, what is good ; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God ?

n Psal. xiv. 1. The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God : they are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doth good. Eph. ii. 12. That, at that time, ye were without Christ, being aliens from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world.

o Jer. ii. 27, 28. Saying to a stock, Thou art my father ; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth : for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face : but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us. But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee ? let them arise if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble : for, according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods O Judah. Compared with 1 Thess. i. 9. For, they themselves show of us, what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from Idols, to serve the living and true God.

p Psal. lxxxi. 11. But my people would not hearken to my voice : and Israel would none of me.

q Isa. xliii. 22, 23, 24. But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob, but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel. Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt-offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense. Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices : but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

r Jer. iv. 22. For my people is foolish, they have not known me ; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding : they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge. Hos. iv. 1, 6. Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel : for the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge : because thou hast reject unworthy and wicked thoughts of him ;^w bold and curious searching into his secrets ;^x all profaneness,^y hatred of God ;^z self-love ;^a self-seeking,^b and all other inordinate and immoderate setting of our mind, will, or affections, upon other things, and taking them off from him in whole or in part ;^c vain credulity,^d unbelief,^e heresy,^f misbelief,^g diss Jer. ii. 32. Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire ? yet my people have forgotten me days without number.

t Acts xvii. 23, 29. For, as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD, Whom, therefore, ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you. Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone graven by art and man's device.

v Isa. xl. 18. To whom then will ye liken God ? or what likeness will ye compare unto him ?

w Psal. l. 21. These things hast thou done, and I kept silence : thou thoughtest that I was altogether such a one as thyself : but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

x Deut. xxix. 29. The secret things belong unto the Lord, our God : but those things, which are revealed, belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

y Tit. i. 16. They profess that they know God : but in works they deny him ; being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate. Heb. xii. 16. Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who, for one morsel of meat, sold his birthright.

z Rom. i. 30. Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters.—

b Phil. ii. 21. For all seek their own, not the things, which are Jesus Christ's.

c 1 John ii. 15, 16. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. 1 Sam. ii. 29. Wherefore, kick ye at my sacrifice and at mine offering, which I have commanded in my habitation, and honour thy sons above me, to make yourselves fat with the chiefest of all the offerings of Israel my people ? Col. iii. 2, 5. Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. Mortify, therefore, your members, which are upon the earth ; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

d 1 John iv. 1. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God : because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

h Psal. lxxviii. 22. Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation.

i Gen. iv. 13. And Cain said unto the Lord, My punishment is greater than I can bear.

k Jer. v. 3. O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? Thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

l Isa. xlii. 25. Therefore, he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

m Rom. ii. 5. But after thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God.

n Jer. xiii. 15. Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken.

o Psal. xix. 13. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

p Zeph. i. 12. And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are settled on their lees; that say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil.

q Mat. iv. 7. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord, thy God.

r Rom. iii. 8. And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

s Jer. xvii. 5. Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

t 2 Tim. iii. 4. Traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God.

v Gal. iv. 17. They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude you, that you might affect them. John xvi. 2. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doth God service. Rom. x. 2. For, I bear them record, that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. Luke ix. 54, 55. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did? but he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

^y Ezek. xiv. 5. That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols. Isa. i. 4, 5. Ah! sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil doers, children that are corrupters; they have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward. Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

^z Rom. x. 13, 14. For, whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, shall be saved. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? Hos. iv. 12. My people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff declar-eth unto them; for the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God. Acts x. 25, 26. And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him. But Peter took him up, saying, Stand-up; I myself also am a man. Rev. xix. 10. And I fell at his feet to worship him: and he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. Mat. iv. 10. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord, thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Col. ii. 18. Let no man beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility, and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things, which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind. Rom. i. 25. Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

^a Lev. xx. 6. And the soul that turneth after such as have familiar spirits, and after wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will cut him off from among his people. 1 Sam. xxviii. 7, 11. Then said Saul unto his servants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and inquire of her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at Endor. Then said the woman, Whom shall I bring up unto thee? and he said, Bring me up Samuel. Compared with 1 Chron. x. 13, 14. So Saul died for his transgression, which he committed against the Lord, even against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to inquire of it; and inquired not of the Lord; therefore, he slew him, and turned the kingdom unto David, the son of Jesse.

^b Acts v. 3. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

^c 2 Cor. i. 24. Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand. Mat. xxiii. 9. And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven.

^d Deut. xxii. 15. But Jeshurun waxed fat, and kicked: thou art waxen fat, thou art grown thick, thou art covered with fatness; then he forsook God, which made him, and lightly esteemed the Rock of his salvation. 2 Sam. xii. 9. Wherefore hast thou despised the commandment of the Lord, to do evil in his sight? thou hast killed Uriah, the Hittite, with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slain him with the sword of the children of Ammon. Prov. xiii. 13. Whoso despiseth the word, shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandment, shall be rewarded.

^e Acts vii. 51. Ye stiff necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. Eph. iv. 30. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

^f Psal. lxxiii. 2, 3, 13, 14, 15, 22. But as for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well nigh slipped. For, I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked. Verily, I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency. For, all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning. If I say, I will speak thus: Behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children. So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee. Job i. 22. In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly.

^g 1 Sam. vi. 7, 8, 9. Now, therefore, make a new cart, and take two milch-kine on which there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring their calves home from them: and take the ark of the Lord, and lay it upon the cart, and put the jewels of gold, which we return him for a trespass-offering, in a coffer by the side thereof, and send it away, that it may go. And see, if it goeth up by the way of his own coast to Beth-shemesh, then he hath done us this great evil: but if not, then we shall know that is not his hand that smote us; it was a chance that happened to us.

^h Dan. v. 23. But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven, and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified.

Q. 106. What are we especially taught by these words, [before me,] in the first commandment?

A. These words [before me] or before my face, in the first commandment, teach us, that God, who seeth all things, takes special notice of, and is much displeased with, the sin of having any other god: that so it may be an argument to dissuade from it, and to aggravate it as a most impudent provocation; ^l as also to persuade us to do ~~as~~ in his sight, whatever we do in his service.^m

Q. 107. Which is the second commandment?

A. The second commandment is, *Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord, thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me: and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.*ⁿ

Q. 108. What are the duties required in the second commandment?

A. The duties required in the second commandment are, the receiving, observing, and keeping pure and entire, all such religious worship and ordinances as God hath instituted in his word;^o particularly prayer and thanksgiving in might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth. Dan. iv. 30. The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the house of the kingdom, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty?

^k Hab. i. 16. Therefore, they sacrifice unto their net, and burn incense unto their drag: because by them their portion is fat, and their meat plentiful.

106. ^l Ezek. viii. 5, 6. Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north: so I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward, at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousy in the entry. He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations, &c. (to the end of the chapter.) Psal. xlv. 20, 21. If we have forgotten the name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god: shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

^m 1 Chron. xxviii. 9. And thou, Solomon, my son, know thou the God of thy Father, and serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind: for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever.

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Acts ii. 42. And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. 1 Tim. vi. 13, 14. I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession; that thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukable, untill the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ.

^p Phil. iv. 6. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God. Eph. v. 20. Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

^r Deut. xvii. 18, 19. And it shall be when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book, out of that which is before the priests the Levites: and it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to fear the Lord, his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them. Acts xv. 21. For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every Sabbath-day. 2 Tim. iv. 2. Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine. James i. 21, 22. Wherefore, lay apart all filthiness, and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the ingrafted word which is able to save your souls. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. Acts x. 33. Immediately, therefore, I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now, therefore, are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

^r Mat. xxviii. 19. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 1 Cor. xi. from verse 23 to verse 30. For I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread, &c.

^s Mat. xviii. 15, 16, 17. Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee; go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church; but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. Mat. xvi. 19. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven. 1 Cor. v. chapter. 1 Cor. xii. 28. ^t Eph. iv. 11, 12. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers: for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ. 1 Tim. v. 17, 18. Let the elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine. For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn: and, The labourer is worthy of his reward. 1 Cor. ix. 7—15. Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? &c.

^v Joel ii. 12, 13. Therefore, also now, saith the Lord, Turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning; and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord; your God: for he is gracious and merciful.—1 Cor. vii. 5. Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent, for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer.—

^w Deut. vi. 13. Thou shalt fear the Lord, thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name.

^x Isa. xix. 21. And the Lord shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it. Psal. lxxvi. 11. Vow, and pay unto the Lord, your God; let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

^y Acts xvii. 16, 17. Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry. Therefore, disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him. Psal. xvi. 4. Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another God: their drink-offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips:

^z Deut. vii. 5. But thus shall ye deal with them, ye shall destroy their altars, and break down their images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire: Isa. xxx. 22. Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth, thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

109. ^a Numb. xv. 39. And it shall be unto you for a finge, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them: and that ye seek not after your own heart, and your own eyes, after which ye use to go a whoring:

c Hos. v. 11. Ephraim is oppressed, and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after the commandment. Mic. vi. 16. For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels, that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore, ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

d 1 Kings xi. 33. Because that they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Zidonians, Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and have not walked in my ways to do that which is right in mine eyes, and to keep my statutes and my judgments, as did David his father. 1 Kings xii. 33. So he offered upon the altar which he had made in Bethel, the fifteenth day of the eighth month, even in the month which he had devised of his own heart: and ordained a feast unto the children of Israel, and he offered upon the altar, and burnt incense.

e Deut. xii. 30, 31, 32. Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee, and that thou inquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise. Thou shalt not do so unto the Lord, thy God: for every abomination to the Lord, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods: for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it.

f Exod. xx. 3. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. Deut. xii. 32. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it. Mat. xv. 9. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. Rev. xvii. 12, 16, 17. And the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire. For, God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

g Deut. iv. 15 to 19. Take ye, therefore, good heed unto yourselves, (for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb, out of the midst of the fire,) lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female, the likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air, the likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth: and lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldst be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the Lord, thy God, hath divided unto all nations under the whole heaven. Acts xvii. 2^o. Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone graven by art and man's device. Rom. i. 21, 22, 23, 25. Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools: and changed the glory of the incorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things. Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

A Dan. iii. 18. But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. Gal. iv. 8. Howbeit, then when you knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

ⁱ Exod. xxxii. 5. And when Aaron saw it, he built an altar before it, and Aaron made proclamation, and said, To-morrow is a feast to the Lord.

^k Exod. xxxii. 8. They have turned aside quickly out of the way, which I commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

^l I Kings xviii. 26, 28. And they took the bullock which was given them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Baal, from morning even unto noon, saying, O Baal, hear us. But there was no voice, nor any that answered. And they leapt upon the altar which was made. And they cried aloud, and cut themselves after their manner with knives and lancets, till the blood gushed out upon them. Isa. lxxv. 11. But ye are they that forsake the Lord, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink-offering unto that number.

^m Acts xvii. 22. Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars-hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. Col. ii. 21, 22, 23. (Touch not, taste not, handle not: which all are to perish with the using,) after the commandments and doctrines of men. Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship and humility, and neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

ⁿ Mal i. 7, 8, 14. Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? in that ye say, The table of the Lord is contemptible. And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor, will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the Lord of hosts. ^q Mat. xv. 9. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

^r 1 Peter i. 18. Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers.

^s Jer. xlii. 17. But we will certainly do whatsoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her; as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.

^t Isa. lxxv. 3, 4, 5. A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face, that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense upon altars of brick: which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels: which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou: these are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day. Gal. i. 13, 14. For, ye have heard of my conversation in time past, in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it: and profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

^v 1 Sam. xiii. 11, 12. And Samuel said, What hast thou done? And Saul said, Because I saw that the people were scattered from me, and that thou camest not within the days appointed, and that the Philistines gathered themselves together to Michmash: therefore, said I, The Philistines will come down now upon me to Gilgal, and I have not made supplication unto the Lord: I forced myself, therefore, and offered a burnt-offering. 1 Sam. xv. 21. But the people (said Saul) took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of the things which should have been utterly destroyed, to sacrifice unto the Lord, thy God, in Gilgal.

^w Acts viii. 18. And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands, the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money.

Q. 110. What are the reasons annexed to the second commandment, the more to enforce it?

A. The reasons annexed to the second commandment, the more to enforce it, contained in these words, For I, the Lord, thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me: and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments;^c are, beside God's sovereignty over us, and propriety in us,^d his fervent zeal for his own worship,^e and his revengeful indignation against all false worship, as being a spiritual whoredom,^f accounting the breakers of this commandment such as hate him: and threatening to punish them unto di-

^z Mat. xxii. 5. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandize. Mal. i. 7, 13. Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is contemptible. Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it, and ye have snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hosts; and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hands? saith the Lord.

^a Mat. xxiii. 13. But wo unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men; for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

^b Acts xiii. 44, 45. And the next Sabbath-day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. 1 Thess. ii. 15, 16. Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men: forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fill up their sins alway; for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

Q. 111. Which is the third commandment ?

A. The third commandment is, *Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain : for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.*ⁱ

Q. 112. What is required in the third commandment ?

A. The third commandment requires, that the name of God, his titles, attributes,^k ordinances,^l the word,^m sacratitles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils and not to God : and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils : ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils. Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy ? are we stronger than he ? Jer. vii. 18, 19, 20. The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger. Do they provoke me to anger ? saith the Lord : do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces ? Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, Behold mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched. Ezek. xvi. 26, 27. Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians, thy neighbours, great of flesh, and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger. Behold, therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way. Deut. xxxii. 16 to 20. They provoked him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger. They sacrificed unto devils, not to God ; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not. Of the Rock that begat thee thou art unmindful, and hast forgotten God that formed thee. And when the Lord saw it, he abhorred them, because of the provoking of his sons, and of his daughters. And he said, I will hide my face from them, I will see what their end shall be : for they are a very froward generation, children in whom is no faith.

^g Hos. ii. 2, 3, 4. Plead with your mother, plead : for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband : let her, therefore, put away her whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts ; lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst. And I will not have mercy upon her children : for they be the children of whoredoms.

m Psal. cxxxviii. 2. I will worship towards thy holy temple, and praise thy name, for thy loving-kindness, and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

n 1 Cor. xi. 24, 25, 28, 29. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as you drink it, in remembrance of me. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

p Jer. iv. 2. And thou shalt swear, the Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

q Eccl. v. 2, 4, 6. Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore, let thy words be few. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it: for he hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed. Better is it that thou shouldst not vow, than that thou should vow and not pay. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin, neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

o 1 Sam. xvii. 43. And the Philistine said unto David, Am I a dog, that thou comest to me with staves? and the Philistine cursed David by his gods. 2 Sam. xvi. 5. And when king David came to Bahurim, behold, thence came out a man of the family of the house of Saul, whose name was Shimei the son of Gerar; he came forth, and cursed still as he came.

p Jer. v. 7. How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods; when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses. Jer. xxiii. 10. For, the land is full of adulteries, for because of swearing the land mourneth; the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and their force is not right.

q Deut. xxii. 18. Thou shalt not bring the hire of a whore, or the price of a dog into the house of the Lord, thy God, for any vow: for even both these are abomination unto the Lord, thy God. Acts xxii. 12, 14. And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying, That they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

r Esth. iii. 7. In the first month (that is, the month Nisan) in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is the month Adar. Esth. ix. 24. Because Haman the son of Hamedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is, the lot) to consume them, and to destroy them. Psal. xxii. 18. They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

s Psal. xxiv. 4. He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart: who hath not lift up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. Ezek. xvii. 16, 18, 19. As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised; and whose covenant he brake, even with him, in the midst of Babylon he shall die. Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant (when lo, he had given his hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape. Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

He is proud, knowing nothing, but boasting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself. O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called. 2 Tim. ii. 14. Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord, that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers. Tit. iii. 9. But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.

^e Deut. xviii. 10 to 14. There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For, all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord, &c. Acts xix. 13. Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

^f 2 Tim. iv. 3, 4. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears. And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables. Rom. xiii. 13, 14. Let us walk honestly as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof. 1 Kings xxi. 9, 10. And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaim a fast, and set Naboth on high among the people: and set two men, sons of Belial, before him, to bear witness against him, saying, Thou didst blaspheme God and the king: and then carry him out, and stone him that he may die. Jude v. 4. For, there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

ⁱ 1 Peter iv. 4. Wherein they think it strange that you run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you.

^k Acts xiii. 45, 46, 50. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts. Acts iv. 18. And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all, nor teach in the name of Jesus. Acts xix. 9. But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus. 1 Thess. ii. 16. Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fill up their sins alway: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost. Heb. x. 29. Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: therefore, ye shall receive the greater damnation. Mat. vi. 1, 2, 5, 16. Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them; otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. Therefore, when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily, I say unto you, they have their reward. Moreover, when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.

A. The reasons annexed to the third commandment, in these words, [The Lord, thy God,] and [For the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.^s] are, because he is the Lord and our God, therefore, his name is not to be profaned, nor any way abused by us ;^t especially because he will be so far from acquitting and sparing the transgressors of this commandment, as that he will not suffer them to escape his righteous judgment,^v albeit many such escape the censures and punishments of men.^w

Q. 115. Which is the fourth commandment ?

A. The fourth commandment is, Remember the Sabbath-day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work : But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God : in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day : wherefore, the Lord blessed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it.^x

Q. 116. What is required in the fourth commandment ?

A. The fourth commandment requireth of all men the sanctifying or keeping holy to God such set times as he hath appointed in his word, expressly one whole day in seven ; which was the seventh from the beginning of the world to the resurrection of Christ, and the first day of the week ever since, and so to continue to the end of the world ; which is the Christian Sabbath,^y and in the New Testament, called the Lord's day.^z every one that stealeth, shall be cut off as on this side, according to it : and every one that sweareth, shall be cut off as on that side, according to it. And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none. And the Lord said unto Moses, How long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws? Neh. xiii. 15 to 22. In those days saw I in Judah, some treading wine-presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading asses; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath-day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on the Sabbath, unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the Sabbath-day? Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel, by profaning the Sabbath. And it came to pass, that when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded that the gates should be shut, and charged that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath: and some of my servants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath-day. h Acts xx. 7, 9. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow, and continued his speech until midnight. And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead. Ezek. xxxiii. 30, 31, 32. Also, thou son of man, the children of thy people still are talking against thee by the walls, and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the Lord. And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not. Amos viii. 5. Saying,

Q. 120. What are the reasons annexed to the fourth commandment, the more to enforce it ?

A. The reasons annexed to the fourth commandment, the more to enforce it, are taken from the equity of it, God allowing us six days of seven for our own affairs, and reserving but one for himself, in these words, Six days shalt labour, and do all thy works :^l from God's challenging a special propriety in that day, The seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God :^m from the example of God, who, in six days, made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day : and from that blessing which God put upon that day, not only in sanctifying it to be a day for his service, but in ordaining it to be a means of blessing to us in our sanctifying it ; Wherefore, the Lord blessed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it.ⁿ

Q. 121. Why is the word Remember set in the beginning of the fourth commandment ?

A. The word Remember is set in the beginning of the fourth commandment,^o partly because of the great benefit of remembering it, we being thereby helped in our preparation to keep it,^p and in keeping it, better to keep all the ^k Jer. xvii. 24, 27. And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the Lord, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the Sabbath-day, but hallow the Sabbath-day, to do no work therein. But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the Sabbath-day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath-day : then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched. Isa. lviii. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable ; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words.

u Job. xxix. 12 to 17. Because I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him, the blessing of him that was ready to perish, came upon me : and I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy. I put on righteousness, and it clothed me : my judgment was as a robe and a diadem. I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame. I was a father to the poor : and the cause which I know not, I searched out. And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the spoil out of his teeth. Isa. i. 10, 17. Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom ; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah. Learn to do well, seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

v Eph. vi. 4. And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath : but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness ; not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things ; that they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, to be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

^y 1 Kings iii. 28. And all Israel heard of the judgment which the King had judged, and they feared the King : for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to do judgment.

^z Tit. ii. 15. These things speak and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

130. a Ezek. xxxiv. 2, 3, 4. Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel ; prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, unto the shepherds, Wo be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves : should not the shepherds feed the flocks ? Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed : but ye feed not the flock. The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost ; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

b Phil. ii. 21. For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.

c John v. 44. How can ye believe which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only ? John vii. 18. He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory : but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

d Isa. lvi. 10, 11. His watchmen are blind : they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark ; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. Yea, they are greedy dogs, which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand : they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter. Deut. xvii. 17. Neither shall he multiply wives to himself, that his heart turn not away : neither shall he greatly multiply to himself silver and gold.

e Dan. iii. 4, 5, 6. Then an herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations and languages, that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up. ^o Gen. ix. 21. And he drank of the wine and was drunken, and he was uncovered within his tent. 1 Kings xii. 13 to 16. And the king (Rehoboam) answered the people roughly, and forsook the old men's counsel, that they gave him; and spake to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke; my father also chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions. Wherefore, the king hearkened not unto the people; for the cause was from the Lord, so, when all Israel saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: to your tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David. So Israel departed unto their tents. 1 Kings i. 6. And his father had not displeased him (viz. Adonijah) at any time, in saying, Why hast thou done so? 1 Sam. ii. 29, 30, 31. Wherefore kick ye at my sacrifice, and at mine offering which I have commanded in my habitation, and honourest thy sons above me, to make yourselves fat with the chiefest of all the offerings of Israel my people? Wherefore, the Lord, God of Israel saith, I said indeed, that thy house, and the house of thy father should walk before me for ever; but now the Lord saith, Be it far from me; for them that honour me, I will honour, and they that despise me, shall be lightly esteemed. Behold, the days come that I will cut off thine arm, and the arm of thy father's house, that there shall not be an old man in thine house.

this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. Rom. xiii. 13.
Let us walk honestly as in the day ; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

q Eccl. xii. 12. And further, by these, my son, be admonished : of making many books there is no end, and much study is a weariness of the flesh. Eccl. ii. 22, 23. For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart wherein he hath laboured under the sun ? For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief ; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

r Isa. v. 12. And the harp and the viol, the tabret and pipe, and wine are in their feasts ; but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.

s Prov. xv. 1. A soft answer turneth away wrath : but grievous words stir up anger. Prov. xii. 18. There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword : but the tongue of the wise is health.

t Ezek. xviii. 18. As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he shall die in his iniquity. Exod. i. 14. And they made their lives bitter with hard bondage, in mortar, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field ; all their service wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.

v Gal. v. 15. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another. Prov. xxiii. 29. Who hath wo ? who hath sorrow ? who hath contentions ? who hath babbling ? who hath wounds without cause ?

Q. 137. Which is the seventh commandment ?

A. The seventh commandment is, Thou shalt not commit adultery.^y

Q. 138. What are the duties required in the seventh commandment ?

A. The duties required in the seventh commandment are, chastity in body, mind, affections,^z words,^a and behaviour;^b and the preservation of it in ourselves and others;^c watchfulness over the eyes and all the senses;^d temperance,^e keeping of chaste company,^f modesty in apparel;^g mar-ment of iron, (so that he die,) he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. And if he smite him with throwing a stone, (wherewith he may die,) and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. Or if he smite him with an hand-weapon of wood, (wherewith he may die,) and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. Or in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die: he that smote him shall surely be put to death; for he is a murderer; the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him.

^z Exod. xxi. from verse 18 to the end. [Containing laws for smiters, for an hurt by chance, for an ox that goreth, and for him that is an occasion of harm.]

^y 137. ^y Exod. xx. 14. 138. ^z 1 Thess. iv. 4. That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour. Job xxxi. 1. I made a covenant with mine eyes; why then should I think upon a maid? 1 Cor. vii. 34. There is a difference also between a wife and a virgin: the unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

^a Col. iv. 6. Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

^c 1 Cor. vii. 2, 35, 36. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. And this I speak for your own profit, not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend upon the Lord without distraction. But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

^d Job xxxi. 1. I made a covenant with mine eyes; why then should I think upon a maid?

^e Acts xxiv. 24, 25. And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ. And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled.—

^f Prov. ii. 16 to 20. To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words: which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God. For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead. None that go unto her, return again, neither take they hold of the paths of

Q. 139. What are the sins forbidden in the seventh commandment?

A. The sins forbidden in the seventh commandment, beside the neglect of the duties required,ⁿ are, adultery, fornication,^o rape, incest,^p sodomy, and all unnatural lusts;^q life. That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

g 1 Tim. ii. 9. In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shame-facedness and sobriety: not with brodered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array.

A 1 Cor. vii. 2, 9. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

i Prov. v. 19, 20. Let her be as the loving hind, and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfy thee at all times, and be thou ravished always with her love. And why wilt thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?—

k 1 Peter iii. 7. Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.

l Prov. xxxi. 11, 27, 28. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.

m Prov. v. 8. Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house. Gen. xxxix. 8, 9, 10. But he refused, and said: unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand. There is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me, but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God? And it came to pass as she spake to Joseph day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her.

139. n Prov. v. 7. Hear me now, therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

o Heb. xiii. 4. Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. Gal. v. 19. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness.

p 2 Sam. xiii. 14. Howbeit, he would not hearken unto her voice: but being stronger than she, forced her, and lay with her. 1 Cor. v. 1. It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication, as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.

q Rom. i. 24, 26, 27. Wherefore, God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves. For this cause God gave them up all unclean imaginations, thoughts, purposes, and affections;^r all corrupt or filthy communications, or listening thereunto;^s wanton looks,^t impudent or light behaviour, immodest apparel;^v prohibiting of lawful,^w and dispensing with unlawful marriages;^x allowing, tolerating, keeping of stews, and resorting to them;^y intangling vows of single

Lev. xx. 15, 16. And if a man lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast. And if a woman approach unto any beast and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

^r Mat. v. 28. But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. Mat. xv. 19. For, out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies. Col. iii. 5. Mortify, therefore; your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

^s Eph. v. 3, 4. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named amongst you, as becometh saints; neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient; but rather giving of thanks. Prov. vii. 5, 21, 22. That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words. With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him. He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks.

^t Isa. iii. 16. Moreover, the Lord saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched-forth necks, and wanton eyes, walking, and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet. 2 Pet. ii. 14. Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls—

^v Prov. vii. 10, 13. And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtle of heart. So she caught him and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him.—

^w 1 Tim. iv. 3. Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

^x Lev. xviii. from verse 1 to 21. Mark vi. 18. For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. Mal. ii. 11, 12. Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the Lord which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god. The Lord will cut off the man that doth this: the master and the scholar out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the Lord of hosts.

^y 1 Kings xv. 12. And he took away the Sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made. 2 Kings xxiii. 7. And he brake down the houses of the Sodomites that were by the house of the Lord, where the women wove hangings for the grove.

Dent. xxiii. 17, 18. There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a Sodomite of the sons of Israel. Thou shalt not bring the hire of a whore, or the price of a dog into the house of the Lord thy God for any vow: for even both these are abomination unto the Lord thy God. Lev. xix. 29. Do not prostitute thy daughter, to cause her to be a whore; lest the land fall to whoredom, and the land become full of wickedness. Jer. v. 7. How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses. Prov. vii. 24 to 27. Hearken unto me now, therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth. Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths. For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many strong men have been slain by her. Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

^a Mat. xix. 10, 11. His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry. But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

^a 1 Cor. vii. 7, 8, 9. For, I would that all men were even as I myself: but every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner; and another after that. I say, therefore, to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I. But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. Gen. xxxviii. 26. And Judah acknowledged them, and said, She hath been more righteous than I; because that I gave her not to Shelah, my son: and he knew her again no more.

^b Mal. ii. 14, 15. Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. And did not he make one? yet had he the residue of the Spirit: and wherefore one? that he might seek a godly seed: therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. Mat. xix. 5. And said, for this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh.

^c Mal. ii. 16. For, the Lord, the God of Israel, saith, that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the Lord of hosts: therefore, take heed to your spirit, that you deal not treacherously. Mat. v. 32. But I say unto you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

^d 1 Cor. vii. 12, 13. But to the rest speak I, not the Lord, If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away. And the woman which hath an husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

needy. Prov. xxiii. 30 to 33. They that tarry long at the wine, they that go to seek mixt wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the eup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things.

^f Gen. xxxix. 10. And it came to pass, as she spake to Joseph, day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her. Prov. v. 8. Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house.

^g Eph. v. 4. Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks. Ezek. xxiii. 14, 15, 16. And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermilion, girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity: and as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea. Isa. xxiii. 15, 16, 17. And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as an harlot. Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten, make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered. And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the Lord will visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. Isa. iii. 16. Moreover, the Lord saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks, and wanton eyes, walking, and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet.—Mark vi. 22. And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. Rom. xiii. 13. Let us walk honestly as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. 1 Peter iv. 3. For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries.

^h 2 Kings ix. 30. And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it, and she painted her face, and tired her hair, and looked out at a window. Compared with Jer. iv. 30. And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair, thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life. And with Ezek. xxiii. 40. And furthermore, that ye have sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came; for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments.

Q. 141. What are the duties required in the eighth commandment?

A. The duties required in the eighth commandment are, truth, faithfulness, and justice in contracts and commerce between man and man,^k rendering to every one his due;^l restitution of goods unlawfully detained from the right owners thereof;^m giving and lending freely, according to our abilities, and the necessities of others;ⁿ moderation of our judgments, wills, and affections concerning worldly goods;^o

140. ⁱ Exod. xx. 15. 141. & Psal. xv. 2, 4. He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not. Zech. vii. 4, 10. Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying, And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor, and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. Zech. viii. 16, 17. These are the things that ye shall do, Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour: execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates. And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the Lord.

^l Rom. xiii. 7. Render, therefore, to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due, custom to whom custom, fear to whom fear, honour to whom honour.

^m Lev. vi. 2 to 5. If a soul sin, and commit a trespass against the Lord, and lie unto his neighbour in that which was delivered him to keep, or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbour; or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doth, sinning therein: then it shall be, because he hath sinned and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found, or all that about which he hath sworn falsely; he shall even restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, in the day of his trespass-offering. Compared with Luke xix. 8. And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor: and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

ⁿ Luke vi. 30, 38. Give to every man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, ask them not again. Give, and it shall be given unto you: good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For, with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again. 1 John iii. 17. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? Eph. iv. 28. Let him that stole, steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. Gal. vi. 10. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

^o 1 Tim. vi. 6 to 9. But Godliness with contentment is great gain a provident care and study to get,^p keep, use, and dispose these things which are necessary and convenient for the sustentation of our nature, and suitable to our condition :^q a lawful calling,^r and diligence in it ;^s frugality ;^t avoiding unnecessary lawsuits,^v and suretiship, or other like engagements ;^w and an endeavour by all just and lawful means to

For, we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content. But they that will be rich, fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. Gal. vi. 14. But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord, Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

^p 1 Tim. v. 8. But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

^q Prov. xxvii. from verse 23 to the end. Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds. For riches are not forever. Eccl. ii. 24. There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God. Eccl. iii. 12, 13. I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life. And also, that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God. 1 Tim. vi. 17, 18. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy : that they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate. Isa. xxxviii. 1. In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death : and Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amos, came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order : for thou shalt die, and not live. Mat. xi. 8. Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in king's houses.

^r 1 Cor. vii. 20. Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called. Gen. ii. 15. And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, to dress it and to keep it. Gen. iii. 19. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground.

^s Eph. iv. 28. Let him that stole, steal no more : but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give him that needeth. Prov. x. 4. He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand : but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

^t John vi. 12. When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost. Prov. xxi. 20. There is a treasure to be desired, and oil in the dwelling of the wise : but a foolish man spendeth it up.

^v 1 Cor. vi. from verse 1 to 9. Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints ? &c.

^w Prov. vi. from verse 1 to 6. My son, if thou be surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger, thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, &c. Prov. xi. 15. He that is surety for a stranger, shall smart for it : and he that hateth suretiship, is sure.

Deut. xxii. 1, to 4. Thou shalt not see thy brother's ox, or his sheep go astray, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt in any case bring them again unto thy brother. And if thy brother be not nigh unto thee, or if thou know him not, then thou shalt bring it into thine own house, and it shall be with thee until thy brother seek after it, and thou shalt restore it to him again. In like manner shalt thou do with his ass, and so shalt thou do with his raiment, and with all lost things of thy brother's, which he hath lost, and thou hast found, shalt thou do likewise: thou mayest not hide thyself. Thou shalt not see thy brother's ass or his ox fall down by the way, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt surely help him to lift them up again. Exod. xxiii. 4, 5. If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again. If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee, lying under his burden, and wouldst forbear to help him; thou shalt surely help with him. Gen. xlvii. 14, 20. And Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corn which they bought: and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house. And Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh; for the Egyptians sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so the land became Pharaoh's. Phil. ii. 4. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Mat. xxii. 39. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

142. ^y James ii. 15, 16. If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food; And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled: notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit? 1 John iii. 17. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him.

Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not ? for riches certainly make themselves wings, they fly away as an eagle towards heaven. Psal. lxxii. 10. If riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

^v Mat. vi. 25, 31, 34. Therefore, I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on : is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment ? Therefore, take no thought, saying, What shall we eat ? Take, therefore, no thought for the morrow : for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself, sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. Eccl. v. 12. The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much : but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

^w Psal. lxxiii. 3. For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked. Psal. xxxvii. 1, 7. Fret not thyself because of evil doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him : fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread : but he that followeth after vain persons, shall have poverty enough.

z Eccl. iv. 8. There is one alone, and there is not a second : yea, he hath neither child nor brother ; yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye satisfied with riches, neither saith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my soul of good ? This is also vanity, yea, it is a sore travel. Eccl. vi. 2. A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it : this is vanity, and it is an evil disease. 1 Tim. 5, 8. But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

Q. 148. What are the sins forbidden in the tenth commandment?

A. The sins forbidden in the tenth commandment are, discontentment with our own estate;^d envying,^e and grieving at the good of our neighbour,^f together with all inordinate motions and affections to any thing that is his.^g

For my brethren and companion's sake, I will now say, Peace be within thee. Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will seek thy good. 1 Tim. i. 5. Now the end of the commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned. Esth. x. 3. For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, seeking the wealth of his people, and speaking peace to all his seed. 1 Cor. xiii. 4 to 7. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not: charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up; doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

148. d 1 Kings xxi. 4. And Ahab came into his house, heavy and displeased, because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken to him: for he had said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers; and he laid him down upon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread. Esth. v. 13. Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate. 1 Cor. x. 10. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

e Gal. v. 26. Let us not be desirous of vain-glory, provoking one another, envying one another. James iii. 14, 16. But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth. For where envying and strife is, there is confusion, and every evil work.

f Psal. cxii. 9, 10. He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honour. The wicked shall see it, and be grieved; he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish. Neh. ii. 10. When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

g Rom. vii. 7, 8. What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. But sin taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead. Rom. xiii. 9. For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Col. iii. 5. Mortify, therefore, your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. Deut. v. 21. Neither shalt thou desire thy neighbour's wife, neither shalt thou covet thy neighbour's house, his field, or his man-servant, or his maid-servant, his ox, or his ass, or any thing that is thy neighbour's.

Q. 149. Is any man able perfectly to keep the commandments of God?

A. No man is able, either of himself,^h or by any grace received in this life, perfectly to keep the commandments of God ;ⁱ but doth daily break them in thought,^k word, and deed.^l

Q. 150. Are all transgressions of the law of God equally heinous in themselves, and in the sight of God?

A. All transgressions of the law of God are not equally heinous ; but some sins in themselves, and by reason of several aggravations, are more heinous in the sight of God than others.^m

149. h James iii. 2. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. John xv. 5. 'I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. Rom. viii. 3. For, what the law could not do in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh.

i Eccl. vii. 20. For there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good and sinneth not. 1 John i. 8, 10. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us. Gal. v. 17. For the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. Rom. vii. 18, 19. For I know, that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not. For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

k Gen. vi. 5. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. Gen. viii. 21. And the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth.—

l Rom. iii. 9 to 19. We have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin; as it is written, There is none righteous, no not one. There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one. Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips: whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and misery are in their ways: and the way of peace have they not known. There is no fear of God before their eyes. Now, we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. James iii. from verse 2 to 13. For in many things we offend all.—

Q. 151. What are those aggravations that make some sins more heinous than others?

A. Sins receive their aggravations,

1. From the persons offending;^a if they be of riper age,^o greater experience or grace,^p eminent for profession,^q gifts,^r place,^s office,^t guides to others,^v and whose example is likely to be followed by others.^w he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. Ezek. viii. 6, 13, 15. But turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations. Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do. Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these. 1 John v. 16. If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it. Psal. lxxviii. 17, 32, 56. And they sinned yet more against him, by provoking the Most High in the wilderness: For all this they sinned still: and believed not for his wondrous works. Yet they tempted and provoked the Most High God, and kept not his testimonies.

151. ^a Jer. ii. 8. The priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that handle the law, knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

^o Job xxxii. 7, 9. I said, Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom. Great men are not always wise: neither do the aged understand judgment. Eccl. iv. 13. Better is a poor and a wise child, than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished.

^p 1 Kings xi. 4, 9. For it came to pass when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father. And the Lord was angry with Solomon, because his heart was turned from the Lord, God of Israel, which had appeared unto him twice.

^q 2 Sam. xii. 14. Howbeit, because by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die. 1 Cor. v. 1. It is reported commonly, that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named amongst the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.

^r James iv. 17. Therefore, to him that knoweth to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sin. Luke xii. 47, 48. And that servant which knew his Lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

^s Jer. v. 4, 5. Therefore, I said, Surely these are poor, they are foolish: for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God. I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bands.

t 2 Sam. xii. 7, 8, 9. And Nathan said to David, Thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord, God of Israel, I anointed thee king over Israel, and I gave thee thy master's house, and thy master's wives into thy bosom, and gave thee the house of Israel and of Judah ; and if that had been too little, I would moreover have given unto thee such and such things. Wherefore, hast thou despised the commandment of the Lord, to do evil in his sight ? Esek. viii. 11, 12, And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand, and a thick cloud of incense went up. Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery ? for they say, The Lord seeth us not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

v Rom. ii. 17 to 24. Behold, thou art called a Jew, and retest in the law, and makest thy boast of God ; and knowest his will. And are confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness, an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes. Thou, therefore, which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself ? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal ? Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery ? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege ? thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God ? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles, through you.

w Gal. ii. 11 to 14. But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed. For, before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles : but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him ; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews ?

z Mat. xxi. 38, 39. But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir, come let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance : and they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

y 1 Sam. ii. 25. If one man sin against another, the judge shall judge him : but if a man sin against the Lord, who shall intreat for him ? — Acts v. 4. Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God. Psal. li. 4. Against thee, thee only have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight : that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.

z Rom. ii. 4. Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering ? not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance ?

a Mal. i. 8, 14. And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil ? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil ? offer it now unto thy governor, will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person ? saith the Lord of hosts. But cursed be the deceiver which bath in his

^b Heb. ii. 2, 3. For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward, how shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation? Heb. xii. 25. See that ye refuse not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven.

^c Heb. x. 29. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God? Mat. xii. 31, 32. Wherefore, I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

^d Eph. iv. 30. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

^e Heb. vi. 4, 5, 6. For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost; and have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come; if they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance.—

^f Jude 8. Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities. Numb. xii. 8, 9. Wherefore, then were ye not afraid to speak against my servant Moses? And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them, and he departed. Isa. iii. 5. The child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.

^g Prov. xxx. 17. The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it. 2 Cor. xii. 15. And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you, though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved. Psal. lv. 12 to 15. For it was not an enemy that reproached me, then I could have borne it; neither was it he that hated me, that did magnify himself against me, then I would have hid myself from him. But it was thou, a man, mine equal, my guide and mine acquaintance. We took sweet counsel together, and walked unto the house of God in company. Let death seize upon them, and let them go down quick into hell.—

^h Zeph. ii. 8, 10, 11. I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people. This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts. The Lord will be terrible unto them. Mat. xviii. 6. But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. 1 Cor. vi. 8. Nay, ye

i 1 Cor. viii. 11, 12. And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died? but when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ. Rom. xiv. 13, 15, 21. Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall, in his brother's way. But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably? Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died. It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

k Ezek. xiii. 19. And will ye pollute me among my people, for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear you lies? 1 Cor. viii. 12. But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak consciences, ye sin against Christ. Rev. xviii. 13. (The merchandize of gold,) and cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frank incense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men. Mat. xxiii. 15. Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell than yourselves.

l 1 Thess. ii. 15, 16. Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us: and they please not God, and are contrary to all men: forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved. Josh. xxii. 20. Did not Achan, the son of Zerah, commit a trespass in the accursed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Israel? and that man perished not alone in his iniquity.

m Prov. vi. 30 to 33. Men do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry: but if he be found, he shall restore seven fold. But whoso committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh understanding: he that doth it, destroyeth his own soul. A wound and dishonour shall he get, and his reproach shall not be wiped away. (And so on to the end of the chapter.)

n Ezra ix. 10, 11, 12. And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? for we have forsaken thy commandments, which thou hast commanded by thy servants the prophets, saying, The land unto which ye go to possess it, is an unclean land with the filthiness of the people. Now, therefore, give not your daughters unto their sons, nor—1 Kings xi. 9. ^r Deut. xxii. 22. If a man be found lying with a woman married to an husband, then they shall both of them die, both the man that lay with the woman, and the woman: so shalt thou put away evil from Israel. Compared with v. 28, 29. If a man find a damsel that is a virgin, which is not betrothed, and lay hold on her, and lie with her, and they be found: then the man that lay with her, shall give unto the damsel's father fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife, because he hath humbled her; he may not put her away all his days. Prov. vi. 32 to 35. But whoso committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh understanding: he that doth it, destroyeth his own soul. A wound and dishonour shall he get, and his reproach shall not be wiped away. For jealousy is the rage of a man: therefore, he will not spare in the day of vengeance. He will not regard any ransom: neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

e Amos iv. 8 to 11. So two or three cities wandered into one city, to drink water; but they were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. I have smitten you with blasting and mildew; when your gardens, and your vineyards, and your fig-trees, and your olive-trees increased, the palmer-worm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses, and I have made the stink of your camps to come up into your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a fire-brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. Jer. v. 3. O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction; they have made their faces harder than a rock, they have refused to return.

o Rom. i. 26, 27. For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

Jer. xlii. 5, 6, 20, 21. Then they said to Jeremiah, The Lord be a true and faithful witness between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the Lord, thy God, shall send thee to us. Whether it be good; or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord, our God; to whom we send thee. For, ye dissembled in your hearts, when ye sent me unto the Lord, your God, saying, Pray for us unto the Lord, our God; and according unto all that the Lord, our God, shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it. And now I have this day declared it to you, but ye have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.

^c Eccl. v. 4, 5, 6. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed. Better is it that thou shouldst not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not pay. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin, neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error : wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands? ^q Jer. xxxiv. 8 to 11. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them ; that every man should let his man-servant, and every man his maid-servant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, go free, that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother. Now when all the princes, and all the people which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go. But afterwards they turned and caused the servants and the hand-maids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants, and for hand-maids. 2 Pet. ii. 20, 21, 22. For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome ; the latter end is worse with them than the beginning. For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them. But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again ; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

^v Isa. lviii. 3, 4, 5. Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast you find pleasure, and exact all your labours. Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness; ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high. Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the Lord? Numb. xxv. 6, 7. And behold, one of the children of Israel came and brought unto his brethren a Midianitish woman, in the sight of Moses, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Israel, who were weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And when Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, he rose up from among the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand.

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

t Rom. xvi. 25. Now to him that is of power to establish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began. 1 Thess. iii. 2, 10, 11, 13. And sent Timotheus, our brother and minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith. Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith. Now God himself, and our Father, and our Lord, Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you. To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord, Jesus Christ, with all his saints. Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning: that we, through patience and comfort of the scriptures, might have hope. Rom. x. 13 to 17. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, shall be saved. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? and how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! but they have not all obeyed the gospel. For, Esaias saith. Lord, who hath believed our report? So then, faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. Rom. i. 16. For, I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for, it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth, to the Jew first, and also the Greek.

v Deut. xxxi. 9, 11, 12, 13. And Moses wrote this law, and delivered it unto the priests, the sons of Levi, which bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and unto all the elders of Israel. When all Israel is come to appear before the Lord, thy God, in the place which he shall choose : thou shalt read this law before all Israel, in their hearing. Gather the people together, men and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the Lord, your God, and observe to do all the words of this law : and that their children which have not known any thing, may hear and learn to fear the Lord, your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jordan to possess it. Neh. viii. 2, 3. And Ezra, the priest, brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month. And he read therein before the street that was before the water-gate, from the morning until mid-day, before the men and the women, and those that could understand ; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law. Neh. ix. 3, 4, 5. And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the Lord, their God, one fourth part of the day, and another fourth part they confessed, and worshipped the Lord, their God. Then stood up upon the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua and Bani, &c. and cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God. Then the Levites, Jeshua, and Kadmiel, &c. said, Stand up and bless the Lord, your God, for ever and ever ; and blessed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

^w Deut. xvii. 19. And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life : that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law, and these statutes, to do them. Rev. i. 3. Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein : for the time is at hand. John v. 39. Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life, and they are they which testify of me. Isa. xxxiv. 16. Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read : no one of these shall fail.—

^x Deut. vi. 6 to 9. And these words which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes. And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates. Gen. xviii. 17, 19. And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do ? For, I know him, that he will command his children, and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord. Psal. lxxviii. 5, 6, 7. For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children. That the generations to come might know them, even the children which should be born : who should arise and declare them to their children : that they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God : but keep his commandments.

Q. 157. How is the word of God to be read?

A. The holy scriptures are to be read with an high and reverent esteem of them;^z with a firm persuasion that they are the very word of God,^a and that he only can enable us to understand them;^b with desire to know, believe, and obey unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine? So likewise you, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for, ye shall speak into the air. Therefore, if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian; and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me. Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. Else when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say, Amen, at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest? but if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all. If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course? and let one interpret. But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

157. z Psal. xix. 10. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey, and the honey-comb. Neh. viii. 3 to 6. And he read therein before the street that was before the water-gate, from the morning until mid-day, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people, were attentive unto the book of the law. And Ezra, the scribe, stood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose. And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, (for he was above all the people,) and when he opened it, all the people stood up: and Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the Lord with their faces to the ground, &c. to verse 10. Exod. xxiv. 7. And he (Moses) took the book of the covenant, and read in the audience of the people: and they said, All that the Lord hath saith, will we do, and be obedient. 2 Chron. xxxiv. 27. Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou heardest his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the Lord. Isa. lxvi. 2. But to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

a 2 Peter i. 19, 20, 21. We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts. Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For, the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

-b Luke xxiv. 45. Then opened he their understanding, that they the will of God revealed in them;^c with diligence,^d and attention to the matter and scope of them;^e with meditation,^f application,^g self-denial,^h and prayer.ⁱ

Q. 158. By whom is the word of God to be preached?

A. The word of God is to be preached only by such as might understand the scriptures. 2 Cor. iii. 13 to 16. And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished. But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away, in the reading of the Old Testament; which vail is done away in Christ. But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon the heart. Nevertheless, when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

c Deut. xvii. 19, 20. And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law, and these statutes, to do them: that his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he turn not aside from the commandment to the right hand or to the left: to the end that he may prolong his days.—

d Acts xvii. 11. These (Bereans) were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

e Acts viii. 30, 34. And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man? Luke x. 26, 27, 28. He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering, said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

f Psal. i. 2. But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night. Psal. cxix. 97. O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.

g 2 Chron. xxxiv. 21. Go, inquire of the Lord for me, and for them that are left in Israel, and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found; for great is the wrath of the Lord that is poured out upon us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this book.

h Prov. iii. 5. Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. Deut. xxxiii. 3. Yea, he loved the people; all his saints are in thine hand; and they sat down at thy feet; every one shall receive of thy words.

i Prov. ii. 1 to 6. My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee; so that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding: yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding: if thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her, as for hid treasures: then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord; and find the knowledge of God. For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. Psal. cxix. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. Neh. viii. 6, 8. And Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God: and all the people are sufficiently gifted,^k and also duly approved and called to that office.^l

Q. 159. How is the word of God to be preached by those that are called thereunto?

A. They that are called to labour in the ministry of the word, are to preach sound doctrine,^m diligently,ⁿ in season and out of season;^o plainly,^p not in the enticing words of sawered, Amen, amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the Lord with their faces to the ground. So they read in the book, in the law of God distinctly.—

158. ^k 1 Tim. iii. 2, 6. A bishop, then, must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach; not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the devil. Eph. iv. 8 to 11. Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men. (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended, is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.) And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers. Hos iv. 6. My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children. Mal. ii. 7. For the priests' lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts. 2 Cor. iii. 6. Who also hath made us able ministers of the New Testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

^l Jer. xiv. 15. Therefore, thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that prophecy in my name, and I sent them not—Rom. x. 15. And how shall they preach, except they be sent?—Heb. v. 4. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. 1 Cor. xii. 28, 29. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles? 1 Tim. iii. 10. And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless. 1 Tim. iv. 14. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. 1 Tim. v. 22. Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

159. ^m Tit. ii. 1, 8. But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine. Sound speech that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

ⁿ Acts xviii. 25. This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord.—

^o 2 Tim. iv. 2. Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine.

^p 1 Cor. xiv. 19. Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

q 1 Cor. ii. 4. And my speech, and my preaching, was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power.

r Jer. xxiii. 28. The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream ; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully : what is the chaff to the wheat ? saith the Lord. 1 Cor. iv. 1, 2. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

s Acts xx. 27. For, I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

t Col. i. 28. Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom ; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus. 2 Tim. ii. 15. Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

v 1 Cor. iii. 2. I have fed you with milk, and not with meat : for, hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able. Heb. v. 12, 13, 14. For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God ; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat. For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness : for he is a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil. Luke xii. 42. And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season ?

w Acts xviii. 25. This man was instructed in the way of the Lord : and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord.—

z 2 Cor. v. 13, 14. For, whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God : or whether we be sober, it is for your cause. For, the love of Christ constraineth us, because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead. Phil. i. 15, 16, 17. Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife ; and some also of good-will : the one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds : but the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

y Col. iv. 12. Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and complete in all the will of God. 2 Cor. xii. 15. And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you, though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

z 2 Cor. ii. 17. For, we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God : but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Christ. 2 Cor. iv. 2. But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God

his glory,^a and their conversion,^b edification,^c and salvation.^d

Q. 160. What is required of those that hear the word preached ?

A. It is required of those that hear the word preached, that they attend upon it with diligence,^e preparation,^f and prayer ;^g examine what they hear by the scriptures ;^h redeceitfully, but by manifestation of the truth, commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

a 1 Thess. ii. 4, 5, 6. But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts. For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness : God is witness. Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ. John vii. 18. He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory : but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

b 1 Cor. ix. 19 to 22. For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews ; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law ; to them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law. To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak : I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.

c 2 Cor. xii. 19. Again, think you that we excuse ourselves unto you ? we speak before God in Christ : but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying. Eph. iv. 12. For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ.

d 1 Tim. iv. 16. Take heed unto thyself, and unto thy doctrine ; continue in them : for, in doing this, thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee. Acts xxvi. 16, 17, 18. But rise, and stand upon thy feet : for, I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee ; delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, to open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

f 1 Peter ii. 1, 2. Wherefore, laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil-speaking, as new born babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. Luke viii. 18. Take heed, therefore, how ye hear : for whosoever hath, to him shall be given ; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

Q. 161. How do the sacraments become effectual means of salvation?

A. The sacraments become effectual means of salvation, not by any power in themselves, or any virtue derived from the piety or intention of him by whom they are administered; but only by the working of the Holy Ghost, and the blessing of Christ, by whom they are instituted.^s all perseverance, and supplication for all saints; and for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel.

ⁱ Acts xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

^k Heb. iv. 2. For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

^l 2 Thess. ii. 10. And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness, in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

^m James i. 21. Wherefore, lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

ⁿ Acts xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

^o 1 Thess. ii. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

^p Luke ix. 44. Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men. Heb. ii. 1. Therefore, we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

^q Luke xxiv. 14. And they talked together of all these things which had happened. Deut. vi. 6, 7. And these words which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children; and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

^r Prov. ii. 1. My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee. Psal. cxix. 11. Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

^s Luke viii. 15. But that on the good ground, are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience. James i. 25. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

161. ^t 1 Peter iii. 21. The like figure whereunto, even baptism.

Q. 162. What is a sacrament?

A. A sacrament is an holy ordinance instituted by Christ in his church,^t to signify, seal, and exhibit^v unto those that are within the covenant of grace,^w the benefits of his mediation;^x to strengthen and increase their faith, and all doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Acts viii. 13. Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done. Compared with verse 23. For I perceive, said Peter to Simon, that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity. 1 Cor. iii. 6, 7.—I have planted, Apollos watered: but God gave the increase. So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth: but God that giveth the increase. 1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

162. ^t Gen. xvii. 7, 10. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant; to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee. This is my covenant which ye shall keep between me, and you, and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised. Exod. ch. xii. Containing the institution of the passover. Mat. xxviii. 19. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Mat. xxvi. 26, 27, 28. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it: For this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many, for the remission of sins.

^v Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. 1 Cor. xi. 24, 25. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

^w Rom. xv. 8. Now I say, that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers. Exod. xii. 48. And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the Lord, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof.

^x Acts ii. 33. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. 1 Cor. x. 16. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

other graces ;^y to oblige them to obedience ;^z to testify and cherish their love and communion one with another ;^a and to distinguish them from those that are without.^b

Q. 163. What are the parts of a sacrament ?

A. The parts of a sacrament are two ; the one an outward and sensible sign, used according to Christ's own appointment ; the other an inward and spiritual grace thereby signified.^c

Q. 164. How many sacraments hath Christ instituted in his church under the New Testament ?

A. Under the New Testament Christ hath instituted in his church only two sacraments, Baptism and the Lord's supper.^d ^y Rom. iv. 11. (See in v above.) Gal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ.

^z Rom. vi. 3, 4. Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ, were baptized into his death ? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death : that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. 1 Cor. x. 21. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of devils : ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table and of the table of devils.

^a Eph. iv. 2 to 5. With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love ; endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling : One Lord, one faith, one baptism. 1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free ; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

^b Eph. ii. 11, 12. Wherefore remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called uncircumcision by that which is called the circumcision in the flesh made by hands ; that at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise ; having no hope, and without God in the world. Gen. xxxiv. 14. And they said unto them, we cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised : for that were a reproach unto us.

I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance, but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear : he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire. 1 Pet. iii. 21. The like figure whereunto, even baptism, doth also now save us, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Rom. ii. 28, 29. For he is not a Jew which is one outwardly ; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh : But he is a Jew who is one inwardly ; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

Q. 165. What is Baptism.

A. Baptism is a sacrament of the New Testameat, where-in Christ hath ordained the washing with water in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost,^e to be a sign and seal of ingrafting into himself,^f of remission of sins by his blood,^g and regeneration by his Spirit;^h of adoption,ⁱ and resurrection unto everlasting life;^k and whereby the parties baptized are solemnly admitted into the visible church,^l and enter into an open and professed engagement to be wholly and only the Lord's.^m

Q. 166. Unto whom is baptism to be administered?

A. Baptism is not to be administered to any that are out of the visible church, and so strangers from the covenant of promise, till they profess their faith in Christ, and obedience to him;ⁿ but infants, descending from parents, either both or but one of them, professing faith in Christ

Q. 167. How is our baptism to be improved by us?

A. The needful but much neglected duty of improving our baptism, is to be performed by us all our life long especially in the time of temptation, and when we are present at the administration of it to others; ^P by serious and thankful consideration of the nature of it, and of the ends for which Christ instituted it, the privileges and benefits conferred and sealed thereby, and our sole ^{an} vow made there-

Q. 163. What is the Lord's supper?

A. The Lord's supper is a sacrament of the New Testament;^a wherein, by giving and receiving bread and wine according to the appointment of Jesus Christ, his death is shewed forth; and they that worthily communicate feed upon his body and blood, to their spiritual nourishment and growth in grace;^a have their union and communion with him confirmed;^b testify and renew their thankfulness^c and engagement to God,^d and their mutual love and fellowship each with other, as members of the same mystical body.^e

Q. 169. How hath Christ appointed bread and wine to be given and received in the sacrament of the Lord's supper?

A. Christ hath appointed the ministers of his word, in the administration of this sacrament of the Lord's supper, to set apart the bread and wine from common use, by the word of institution, thanksgiving, and prayer; to take and

For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread: And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. Q. 170. How do they that worthily communicate in the Lord's supper feed upon the body and blood of Christ therein ?

A. As the body and blood of Christ are not corporally or carnally present in, with, or under the bread and wine in the Lord's supper ;^g and yet are spiritually present to the faith of the receiver, no less truly and really than the elements themselves are to their outward senses :^h so they that worthily communicate in the sacrament of the Lord's supper, do therein feed upon the body and blood of Christ, not after a corporal and carnal, but in a spiritual manner ; yet truly and really,ⁱ while by faith they receive and apply unto themselves Christ crucified, and all the benefits of his death.^k

After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For, as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come. Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. ^t 1 Cor. x. 16, 17. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? For, we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread. Acts ii. 46, 47. And they continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart; praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

Q. 174. What is required of them that receive the sacrament of the Lord's supper in the time of the administration of it?

A. It is required of them that receive the sacrament of the Lord's supper, that, during the time of the administration of it, with all holy reverence and attention they wait upon God in that ordinance; ^l diligently observe the sacramental elements and actions; ^m heedfully discern the Lord's body, ⁿ and affectionately meditate on his death and sufferings, ^o and thereby stir up themselves to a vigorous exercise of their graces; ^p in judging themselves, ^q and sorrowing for sin; ^r in earnest hungering and thirsting after Christ, ^s

Why art thou cast down, O my soul: and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God, for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

^k 2 Chron. xxx. 18, 19. For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim, and Manasseth, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet did they eat the passover, otherwise than it was written: but Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord pardon every one; that prepareth his heart to seek God, the Lord God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary. Isa. i. 16, 18. Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, cease to do evil. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

^l 2 Cor. vii. 11. For, behold, this self same thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! in all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter. 1 Chr. ii. xv. 12, 13, 14. And (David) said unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Levites: sanctify yourselves, both ye and your brethren, that you may bring up the ark of the Lord God of Israel, unto the place that I have prepared for it. For, because ye did it not at the first, the Lord, our God, made a breach upon us, for that we sought him not after the due order. So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the Lord God of Israel.

strength, and hope of acceptance in prayer, from Christ and his mediation?

Q. 181. Why are we to pray in the name of Christ?

A. The sinfulness of man, and his distance from God by reason thereof, being so great, that we can have no access into his presence without a mediator; and there being none in heaven or earth appointed to, or fit for, that glorious work but Christ alone; we are to pray in no other name but his only.

Q. 182. How doth the Spirit help us to pray?

A. We not knowing what to pray for as we ought, the Spirit helpeth our infirmities, by enabling us to understand both for whom, and what, and how prayer is to be made; and by working and quickening in our hearts (although not in all persons, nor at all times in the same measure) these apprehensions, affections, and graces which are requisite for the right performance of that duty.

o Heb. iv. 14, 15, 16. Seeing, then, that we have a great High Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For, we have not an High Priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us, therefore, come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. 1 John v. 13, 14, 15. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us. Then said his servants unto him, What thing is this that thou hast done? thou didst fast and weep for the child while it was alive, but when the child was dead, thou didst rise and eat bread. And he said, while the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept, for I said, Who can tell whether God will be gracious to me, that the child may live? But now he is dead, wherefore should I fast? can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me.

Q. 184. For what things are we to pray?

A. We are to pray for all things tending to the glory of God, the welfare of the Church, our own or others good, but not for any thing that is unlawful.

Q. 185. How are we to pray?

A. We are to pray with an awful apprehension of the majesty of God, and deep sense of our own unworthiness, necessities, and sins; with penitent, thankful, and enlarged hearts; with understanding, faith, sincerity, sep-

Q. 186. What rule hath God given for our direction in the duty of prayer?

A. The whole word of God is of use to direct us in the duty of prayer;^a but the special rule of direction is that form of prayer which our Saviour Christ taught his disciples, commonly called The Lord's Prayer.^b

Q. 187. How is the Lord's Prayer to be used?

A. The Lord's prayer is not only for direction, as a pattern, according to which we are to make other prayers, but may also be used as a prayer, so that it be done with understanding, faith, reverence, and other graces necessary to the right performance of the duty of prayer.^c

Q. 188. Of how many parts doth the Lord's prayer consist?

A. The Lord's prayer consists of three parts; a preface, petitions, and a conclusion.

And David said to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Israel, from Beer-sheba even to Dan ; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it. And Joab answered, The Lord make his people an hundred times so many more as they be : but my lord the king, are they not all my lord's servants ? why then doth my lord require this thing ? why will he be a cause of trespass to Israel ? Nevertheless, the king's word prevailed against Joab : wherefore Joab departed.—2 Chron. xvi. 7 to 10. And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said unto him, Because thou hast relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the Lord thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand. Were not the Ethiopians and the Lubims a huge host, with very many chariots and horsemen ? yet, because thou didst rely on the Lord, he delivered them into thine hand. For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect towards him. d Dan. ix. 4, 7, 8, 9, 16, 17, 18, 19. And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments. O Lord, righteousness becometh unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day.—O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness, though we have rebelled against him. O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem.—Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousness, but for thy great mercies. O Lord, hear, O Lord, forgive, O Lord, hearken and do, defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy name.

* The Shorter Catechism is, simply, an abridgement of the Larger; so that the proof of both must be the same. The reader, therefore, who desires to see the Scripture authorities for any doctrine taught in this catechism, will turn to that doctrine in the Larger Catechism, which may very easily be done, and there he will find the necessary texts fully referred to, or inserted. It was judged unnecessary to print the very same texts twice over.

The most important proofs, however, under each question, are definitely referred to, at the bottom of the page; and they can readily be examined in the Bible.

Q. 6. How many persons are there in the Godhead?

A. There are three persons in the God-head; the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost; and these three are one God, the same in substance, equal in power and glory.^d

Q. 7. What are the decrees of God?

A. The decrees of God are, his eternal purpose according to the counsel of his will, whereby, for his own glory, he hath fore-ordained whatsoever comes to pass.^e

Q. 8. How doth God execute his decrees?

A. God executeth his decrees in the works of creation and providence.

Q. 9. What is the work of creation?

A. The work of creation is, God's making all things of nothing, by the word of his power, in the space of six days, and all very good.^f

Q. 10. How did God create man?

A. God created man male and female, after his own image, in knowledge, righteousness, and holiness, with dominion over the creatures.^g

Q. 11. What are God's works of providence?

A. God's works of providence are, his most holy,^h wise,ⁱ and powerful preserving,^j and governing all his creatures, and all their actions.^k

Q. 12. What special act of providence did God exercise toward man in the estate wherein he was created?

A. When God had created man, he entered into a covenant of life with him, upon condition of perfect obedience: forbidding him to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. upon the pain of death.^l

Q. 13. Did our first parents continue in the estate wherein they were created?

A. Our first parents, being left to the freedom of their own will, fell from the estate wherein they were created, by sinning against God.^m

Q. 14. What is sin?

A. Sin is any want of conformity unto, or transgression of, the law of God.ⁿ

Q. 97. What is required to the worthy receiving of the Lord's supper?

A. It is required of them that would worthily partake of the Lord's supper, that they examine themselves of their knowledge to discern the Lord's body,^f of their faith to feed upon him,^g of their repentance,^h love,ⁱ and new obedience;^k lest coming unworthily, they eat and drink judgment to themselves.^l

Q. 98. What is prayer?

A. Prayer is an offering up of our desires unto God,^m for things agreeable to his will,ⁿ in the name of Christ,^o with confession of our sins,^p and thankful acknowledgment of his mercies.^q

Q. 99. What rule hath God given for our direction in prayer?

A. The whole word of God is of use to direct us in prayer;^r but the special rule of direction is that form of

Approving an Overture concerning the Government, Discipline, and Worship of the Church.

THE Synod having, at several meetings, maturely considered the Overture concerning government, discipline, and worship, which was published by them in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, and transmitted to the different Presbyteries; and the said Overture having undergone sundry alterations and amendments, the Synod do solemnly receive the form of Presbyterian church government therein contained, and prepared by the Assembly of Divines at Westminster, as being, in substance, the only form of government which the Lord Jesus hath prescribed to his church. They do also receive the application thereof in the aforesaid Overture, both to church discipline and to the other practical parts of government, as sound and scriptural, and greatly conducive to the edification of the body of Christ. And they do likewise receive the Directories for the public and private worship of God, contained in the aforesaid Overture, as holding forth such things as are of divine institution in every ordinance of worship. And they do hereby declare, that the aforesaid form of Presbyterian church government, with its said applications, and the Directories for the public and private worship of God, to be the true and genuine Government, Discipline, and Worship of the Associate-Reformed Church.

Book I.

PREFACE.

JESUS CHRIST, upon whose shoulders the government is, whose name is called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace,^a of the increase of whose government and peace there shall be no end, who sits upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and justice, from henceforth even for ever; having all power given unto him in heaven and in earth by the Father, who raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand, far above all principalities, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come, and put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all: He being ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things, received gifts for his church, and gave officers necessary for the edification of his church, and perfecting of his saints.^b

Chapter I.

SECTION I. Of the Church.

1. THERE is one general church visible, held forth in the New-Testament.^c

2. The ministry, oracles, and ordinances of the New-Testament, are given, by Jesus Christ, to the general church visible, for the gathering and perfecting of it in this life, until his second coming.^d

^a Isa. ix. 6, 7. ^b Mat. xxviii. 18, 19, 20. Eph. i. 20 to 23.—
Compared with Eph. iv. 8, 11. and Psal. lxxviii. 18. ^c 1 Cor. xii.
12, 13, 28. ^d 1 Cor. xii. 28. Eph. iv. 4, 5. with 10.—16.

3. Particular visible churches, members of the general church are also held forth in the New Testament.^e Particular churches are made up of visible saints, viz. of such as, being of age, profess faith in Christ, and obedience to Christ, according to the rules of faith and life taught by Christ and his apostles; and of their children.^f

SECTION II. Of the OFFICERS of the Church.

1. Christ hath instituted a government, and governors ecclesiastical in the church. To that purpose the apostles did immediately receive the keys from the hand of Jesus Christ; and did use and exercise them in all the churches of the world upon all occasions.

2. And Christ hath since continually furnished some in his church with gifts of government, and with commission to execute the same when called thereunto.

3. The officers which Christ hath appointed for the edification of his church, and the perfecting of the saints, are, some extraordinary, as apostles, evangelists, and prophets, which are ceased: others ordinary and perpetual, as pastors, teachers, and other church governors and deacons.

SECTION III. Of ECCLESIASTICAL ASSEMBLIES.

1. It is lawful and agreeable to the word of God, that the church be governed by several sorts of ASSEMBLIES, which are composed of pastors and other elders, and are CONGREGATIONAL, CLASSICAL, and SYNODICAL.

2. The government of the church, by these several sorts of Assemblies, in a just subordination of the congregational to the classical, and of the classical to the synodical assembly, is called PRESBYTERIAL CHURCH-GOVERNMENT; and is the true and only form of Government which the Lord Jesus Christ hath prescribed in his word.

3. The power which, according to the word of God, belongeth, in common, to all the judicatories of the church, is,

To call before them every person or persons under their inspection, whom the ecclesiastical business which is before them doth concern.^g

To hear and determine such causes and differences as do orderly come before them.

To dispense church censures.

Chapter II.

Of Church Officers in particular.

SECTION I. PASTORS.

THE Pastor is an ordinary and perpetual officer in the church.^a

It belongs to his office,

1. To pray for and with his flock, as the mouth of the people unto God. Acts vi. 2, 3, 4, and xx. 36. Where preaching and prayer are joined as several parts of the same office. The office of the elder, (that is the pastor,) is to pray for the sick even in private, to which a blessing is especially promised;^b much more, therefore, ought he to perform this in the execution of his office, as a part thereof.^c

2. To read the scriptures publicly. For the proof of which let it be observed,

1st. That the Priests and Levites in the Jewish church were trusted with the public reading of the word.^d

2d. That the ministers of the gospel have as ample a charge and commission, to dispense the word, as well as other ordinances, as the Priests and Levites had under the law, which is proved from Isaiah lxvi. 21. Mat. xxiii. 34. where our Saviour entitleth the officers of the New Testament, whom he will send forth, by the same names of the teachers of the old. Which propositions prove that therefore (the duty being of a moral nature) it followeth, by just consequence, that the public reading of the scriptures belongeth to the Pastor's office.

3. To feed the flock, by preaching of the word, according to which he is to teach, convince, reprove, exhort, and comfort.^e

4. To catechise, which is a plain laying down the first principles of the oracles of God,^f or of the doctrine of Christ; and is a part of preaching.

5. To administer the sacraments.^g

6. To bless the people from God. Num. vi. 23, 26. with Rev. xiv. 5. (where the same blessings, and persons from whom they come, are expressly mentioned,) Isa. lxvi. 21, where, under the names of Priests and Levites to be continued under the gospel, are meant evangelical Pastors, who are therefore by office to bless the people.^h

7. To visit his people from house to house, as often as may consist with the other duties of his office, and the situation of the people among whom he labours ; but in closely connected congregations it ought to be essayed once every year. In these visitations he is to inquire into the spiritual condition of his flock ; and to give them such counsel, exhortation, warning, and encouragement, as they may respectively need.ⁱ

8. To take care of the poor.^k

9. And he hath also a ruling power over the flock as a Pastor.^l

SECTION II. TEACHER or DOCTOR.

1. The scripture doth hold out the name and title of teacher as well as the pastor.^m

2. Who is also a minister of the word, as well as the pastor, and hath power of administration of the sacraments.

3. The Lord having given different gifts, and diverse exercises according to these gifts, in the ministry of the word ;ⁿ though these different gifts may meet in, and accordingly be exercised by, one and the same minister ;^o yet, where there are several ministers in the same congregation, they may be designed to several employments, according to the different gifts in which each of them doth most excel :^p And he that doth more excel in exposition of scripture, in teaching sound doctrine, and in convincing gainsayers, than he doth in application, and is accordingly employed therein, may be called a teacher or doctor. Nevertheless, where there is but one minister in a particular congregation, he is to perform, so far as he is able, the whole work of the ministry.^q

4. A teacher or doctor is of most excellent use in schools and universities ; as of old in the schools of the prophets, and at Jerusalem, where Gamaliel and others taught as doctors.

5. The scripture acknowledgeth no degrees of rank or dignity among the ministers of the word ; but hath established them in a perfect equality of office and authority.

^h Dent. x. 8. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. ⁱ Acts xx. 20. ^k Acts iv. 34 to 37. xi. 30. Gal. ii. 9, 10. ^l 1 Tim. v. 17. Acts xx. 17, 28. Heb. xiii. 7, 17. ^m 1 Cor. xii. 28. Eph. iv. 11. ⁿ Rom. xii. 6, 8. 1 Cor. xii. 1, 7. ^o 1 Cor. xiv. 3. 2 Tim. iv. 2. Tit. i. 9. ^p See letter c. 1 Peter iv. 10, 11. ^q See letter p.

The names of pastor, teacher, bishop, and presbyter, are but different names for one and the same office. The distinction of superior and inferior clergy, under whatever form or pretext adopted, is highly unscriptural and anti-christian.^r

SECTION III. Other Church-Governors.

1. As there were in the Jewish church elders of the people, joined with the Priests and Levites in the government of the church ;^s so Christ, who hath instituted government, and governors ecclesiastical in the church, hath furnished some in his church, beside the ministers of the word, with gifts for government, and with commission to execute the same when called thereunto : who are to join with the minister in the government of the church :^t which officers reformed churches commonly call Elders.

2. It belongs not to this class of elders to preach the word, or to administer the sacraments ; but, as far as relates to the government of the church, their voice in judicatories is equal to that of the preaching presbyters.^u

1. The scripture doth hold out deacons as distinct officers in the church.^v

2. Whose office is perpetual.^w To whose office it belongs not to preach the word, or administer the sacraments ; or to join in the government of the church, but chiefly to take special care in distributing to the necessities of the poor.^x

SECTION V. Of Particular Congregations.

1. It is lawful and expedient that there be fixed congregations ; that is, a certain company of Christians to meet in one assembly ordinarily for public worship. When believers multiply to such a number that they cannot conveniently meet in one place, it is lawful and expedient that they should be divided into distinct and fixed congregations, for the better administration of such ordinances as belong unto them, and for the discharge of mutual duties.^y

2. The ordinary way of dividing Christians into distinct congregations, and most expedient for edification, where it is practicable, is by the respective bounds of their dwellings.

First, Because they who dwell together, being bound to all kind of moral duties one to another, have the better opportunity thereby to discharge them ; which moral tie is perpetual : for Christ came not to destroy the law, but to fulfil it.^a

Secondly, The communion of saints must be so ordered, as may consist with the most convenient use of the ordinances, and discharge of moral duties, without respect of persons.^a

Thirdly, The pastor and people must so nearly dwell together, as that they may mutually perform their duties each to other with most conveniency.

3. In this society some must be set apart to bear office.

1. For officers in a single congregation there ought to be one at the least, both to labour in the word and doctrine, and also to rule.

2. It is also requisite that there should be others to join in the government.

3. And likewise it is proper that there be others to take special care for the relief of the poor.

4. The number of each of which is to be proportioned according to the condition of the congregation.

5. Officers, not disqualified by misdemeanors in their stations, ought ordinarily to retain their offices for life.

Chapter III.

Of the Election of Church Officers.

SECTION I. Of the ELECTION of PASTORS.

1. NO person can be chosen pastor to any congregation who has not been regularly licensed to preach the gospel.

2. The choice of a pastor to a particular congregation belongs to the male members thereof, who, whenever such a choice is necessary, are to be convened, by the elders, for that purpose.

3. The members, thus convened, having appointed a mo-

^a Deut. xv. 7, 11. Mat. xxii. 39,—17. 1 Cor. xiv. 28. Heb. x. 24, 25, James ii, 1, 2, derator of the meeting, shall delegate one or more of their own number to the Presbytery,* under whose inspection they are placed, to apply for the moderation of a call.†

4. The commissioners, thus authorized, appearing before the Presbytery, and, having presented their commission, shall be interrogated concerning the provision which the congregation have already made for a minister, the maintenance they intend to give him, and their prospects of being able to fulfil their engagements. If the presbytery receive such satisfaction on these points, as, in connexion with other circumstances, shall, in their judgment, warrant a moderation, they shall grant it accordingly. If not, they shall deliver their objections in writing, to the commissioners, to be laid before the congregation at their return.

5. When a moderation is granted, the Presbytery shall appoint one of their number to preach on a week-day, as soon as convenient, in the petitioning congregation, and to moderate in the preparation of a call.

6. The form of a call being drafted, the minister, after concluding public worship, shall, in presence of the congregation, demand the name of the person for whom the call is designed, and, having twice distinctly mentioned it, shall require such members as favour the nomination to hold up their right hands, and afterwards, such as are against it.

7. If there be more than one candidate, the moderating minister shall, in the manner now described, take the votes of the congregation on each nomination. The greatest number of votes, not less than a clear majority, constitutes an election.

8. Although a majority of votes must be considered as expressing the sense of a congregation, yet it is desirable that their choice should be unanimous, or nearly so. It is, therefore, judged advisable, in cases where the majority is small, that the call be not hastily prosecuted, unless the minority cordially acquiesce : and, on the other hand, public order and Christian love require a minority, however, respectable, not to persist in opposition without weighty reasons.

* For the form of a commission see Appendix I. No. 3.

† A minister, deputed by the Presbytery to a vacant congregation, presiding in the meeting at which a call is to be made out for a particular person, ascertaining the votes of the people, and certifying the whole proceeding for presbyterial decision, is said to moderate a call.

9. If it appear that the members of the congregation have not been duly notified, or that, by any accident, a large proportion of them has been detained from attending, the minister may defer the election another week, without a new order from the Presbytery : nor shall he be obliged to preach on this second day of election, unless he omitted it on the first.

10. After the election, the call shall be signed, first by the elders and deacons of the congregation, and then by the electing members respectively. After this, the ordinary hearers, though not entitled to vote, may, if they please, affix their signatures to the call as adherents.

11. The call subscribed, witnessed by two or more respectable persons not members of the congregation, if they can be obtained, and attested by the moderating minister, shall be transmitted to the Presbytery by a commissioner or commissioners duly authorized.*

12. The call being now in the hands of the Presbytery, shall be by them proceeded in, as hereafter prescribed.

SECTION II. Of the ELECTION of ELDERS and DEACONS.

1. When a vacancy in either of these offices is to be filled, or the number of officers to be enlarged, the existing officers should previously confer among themselves, and, after mature deliberation, nominate such of their brethren as they judge most eminently fitted for official stations, and as may meet the approbation of the congregation.

2. If a congregation be destitute of officers, the oldest and most experienced members should, upon conference with each other, and with the other members, as they have opportunity, agree on a nomination of elders and deacons.

3. After due notice given in public, the electing members shall be assembled, some time in the week, days of fasting and thanksgiving excepted, for the purpose of choosing such officers, and the number of them as shall be necessary.

4. At this meeting, the candidates, nominated as aforesaid, shall be publicly proposed. In this nomination, however, the congregation are by no means obliged to concur ; but it is lawful for any member to propose any other member in the room of any of the aforesaid candidates.

5. When the congregation, on being interrogated, by the minister, shall declare themselves ready to vote, he shall take their sense with respect to each candidate separately. The votes to be given, on both sides of the question, by holding up the right hand.

6. The names of the persons elected shall, on the succeeding Sabbath, or as soon after as possible, be publicly intimated to the congregation ; together with the day of ordination, which, in settled congregations, shall be at least two weeks after the notification ; and all who have any just objections against the ordination of the said officers-elect, shall be required to lay them before the Session previously to the time appointed for ordination.

7. It is expedient that a meeting of Session be held before the ordination, to examine the candidates, and hear objections, if any there be.

8. If the congregation be vacant, they shall apply, by their commissioner or commissioners duly authorized, to the Presbytery, for one of their number to ordain the said officers-elect ; and if there be no officers in the congregation, to depute a committee of Presbytery to act as their Session.

9. No valid objections being offered, the candidates, on the day of ordination, presenting themselves before the congregation after the conclusion of sermon, and, agreeably to the annexed formula, engaging to maintain the doctrine, government, worship, and discipline of the church, shall, with solemn prayer, be set apart by the minister to their respective offices. After prayer, the minister is to exhort both officers and people to their several duties.

10. An elder or deacon, removing from his own into another congregation, and bringing with him recent testimonials of his personal and official conduct, may, with the consent of the congregation, be added to the Session without a new ordination.

11. A list of the ruling elders in every congregation, with the time of their ordination, is to be given by the minister to the Presbytery.

FORMULA of QUESTIONS for RULING ELDERS and DEACONS.

DO you believe the holy scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the word of the living God; the perfect and only rule of faith and practice, to which nothing is to be added, and from which nothing is to be taken, at any time, or upon any pretext, whether of new revelations of the Spirit or traditions of men?

Do you receive the doctrine of this church, contained in her Confession and Catechisms, as founded on the word of God, and as the expression of your own faith? and do you resolve to adhere thereto, in opposition to all Deistical, Popish, Arian, Socinian, Arminian, Neonomian, and Sectarian errors, and all other opinions which are contrary to sound doctrine and the power of godliness?

Do you approve the form of Presbyterian church-government, and the Directories for worship, received by this church, as agreeable to, and founded on, the word of God? and do you resolve to maintain and observe them accordingly?

Do you promise to submit, in the spirit of meekness, to the admonitions of the brethren of this Session, in subordination to the Synod? and do you promise to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace; and that you will not follow any divisive courses, by complying with the defections of the times, or by giving yourself [or yourselves] up to a detestable neutrality in the cause of God?

Are not zeal for the glory of God, and a desire of being instrumental in edifying his Church, the principal motives which induce you to take the office of [ruling Elder or Deacon] to this congregation?

Have you used any undue method to procure your call to the office of—[ruling Elder, or Deacon?]

Do you sincerely resolve to rule your family, [or families,] in the fear of the Lord, and to be circumspect in the whole of your conversation, following after righteousness, faith, charity? and do you also promise to promote the edification of the body of Christ, by endeavouring to perform all the official duties incumbent upon you with zeal and fidelity?

For RULING ELDERS.

Do you promise to be faithful and impartial in the exercise of discipline, and to be punctual in attending meetings of Session, and superior judicatories, as you may be called?

For DEACONS.

Do you promise to attend to the necessities of the poor, with Christian meekness and tenderness, and to manage all such temporalities of the church as may be committed to your care with diligence and fidelity, according to the directions which, from time to time, may be given you by the Session?

For RULING ELDERS, and DEACONS.

Do you make these promises as in the presence of Him, who searcheth the hearts, and trieth the reins of the children of men; and as you would desire to give in your account with joy, at the great day of the Redeemer's appearance, when He shall come, and all his saints with him?

Chapter IV.*Of Congregational Assemblies or Sessions.SECTION I. *Of the Session in general.

1. THE Session consists of the minister or ministers, and elders of a particular congregation.

2. They have power to inquire into the knowledge and spiritual estate of the several members of the congregation—to take cognizance of all scandals which happen in it; add, for this purpose, authoritatively to call before them any member or members of the congregation, and to introduce, as they shall see occasion, witnesses or informants from other congregations or denominations—to admonish and rebuke—to suspend, authoritatively, from the sacraments, persons not yet cast out of the church—to determine the seasons of congregational fasts and thanksgivings—to regulate the hours of service on the Lord's day, and also on week days, except the regulation be made by a superior judicatory—and generally to make such prudential arrangements respecting the religious circumstances of the congregation as do not contravene the received order of the church.

3. The minister has power to convene the Session as often as he shall judge necessary, and shall always do it, when requested by two of the elders. Applications for baptism may be properly intimated to them on the Lord's day, in the interval, or at the close of public worship, without the formality of a constituted judicatory.

4. Deacons, though not members of the Session, ought always to be present, that they may make reports, and receive instructions, on the business of their office. It is expedient that the Session consult them in things belonging to their office; and it may also, at times, be profitable to ask their opinion and advice in matters relating to the exercise of discipline, and other Sessional functions.

5. It is incumbent on the members of Session, in cases where their transactions do not require publication, to maintain a prudent reserve, and not communicate, unnecessarily, to others, the facts which come before them, and their consequent proceedings.

6. That families may be punctually visited, the conduct of members carefully observed, and discipline effectually exercised, it may be proper that the congregation be divided, by the Session, into as many districts as there are elders : and that a district be committed to each elder for his official inspection.

7. Extraordinary cases, in which the due order cannot, in every thing, be observed, may be referred to the Presbytery for direction ; but if the emergency require a decision before the Presbytery can be assembled, the Session, after mature deliberation, may proceed.

8. Every Session shall take care that an exact register be kept of the members of the congregation, of marriages, and of the births of children baptized.

SECTION II. PRINCIPLES of CHURCH-FELLOWSHIP to be carefully attended to by Sessions.

1. Visible membership is solemnly recognized by admission to the seals of the covenant of grace, viz. baptism and the Lord's supper.^a

2. These sacraments, being seals of the same covenant, and representing the same benefits,^b cannot be disjoined with respect to the right and the duty of receiving them. Therefore, all baptized persons, being, by their baptism, acknowledged members of the visible church, are bound, by the baptismal vow, to shew forth the Lord's death, when arrived at the years of discretion ; and are the lawful subjects of church-government.

3. As visible membership, not being inseparably connected with regenerating grace,^c may be forfeited by open renunciation of Christ's truth ;^d by evident want of acquaintance with its power,^e or by unholy conduct ;^f no person, though baptized, may be admitted to a seat at the table of the Lord, or to baptism for his children, unless his profession and practice, afford sufficient reason for the judgment of charity, that he is a member of the church invisible.^g

4. No unbaptized person can be admitted to the Lord's table, or to baptism for his children.^h

5. All who dedicate their children in baptism, do thereby avouch the Lord to be their God in Christ ;ⁱ and shall, therefore, on their admission to that privilege, be strictly enjoined to act consistently in their profession, by celebrating, in the sacrament of the supper, the dying love of the Lord Jesus.

6. Such as offer their children in baptism, while they abstain from the sacrament of the supper, and persist in neglecting this ordinance, after solemn and frequent admonition by the officers of the church, do, in effect, renounce their obedience to Christ,^k and shall be debarred from every sacramental privilege.

7. But, as some persons of tender consciences, who find liberty in presenting their children in baptism, may, notwithstanding, be deterred by darkness of mind, distressing fears, or strong temptations, from approaching the table of the Lord, an exception is made in favour of those who give evidence of their labouring under such discouragements; and it is enjoined on the officers, particularly the minister or ministers of the congregation, to use every gentle and persuasive method for removing their difficulties, and for bringing them forward to shew their love to Jesus Christ, by performing the great duty, and improving the unspeakable mercy, of partaking of the communion of his body and blood.^l

8. Such as have been at the Lord's table, and afterward neglect that ordinance, shall, after admonition duly, but ineffectually, used for their reformation, be judiciously excluded from the privileges of the church.

SECTION III. Of the Admission of Members.

1. Application for membership from members of other denominations, shall, at all times, be cautiously received: nor shall it be admitted in any case, unless, upon deliberate examination, the applicants shall appear to act from a solid conviction of duty, and shall discover Christian meekness towards the party whose communion is relinquished. The application shall also, when made by individuals, be accompanied with testimonials, if they can be obtained on a regular request to the Session, or at least minister of the congregation to which they belong. No encouragement shall be given to causeless desertion from other churches, nor the smallest countenance to fugitives from discipline.^m

2. In ordinary cases, applications for baptism, or for a seat at the Lord's table for the first time, must be timeously made to the minister, or an elder of the congregation, and by either of them be communicated, without delay, in the Session, that they may have sufficient time to inquire into the characters and conversation of the applicants. The same regulation shall be observed with respect to application from persons of other denominations, and from members who have been more than a year absent, at a distance from the congregation, and do not produce satisfactory testimonials; or who have been debarred, by a judicial sentence, from the communion of the church, and are desirous of re-admission.

^k John xiv. 15. with Luke xxii. 19. and vi. 48. ^l Heb. xii. 12, 13.

3. It is left to the discretion of Sessions, who are best acquainted with their particular circumstances, to fix the time which ought to intervene between application for church-privileges and the obtaining of them. But in ordinary cases it should not be less than eight days.

4. Applicants shall be examined concerning their knowledge, principles, and experience, by the minister or ministers; or by one or more of the ruling elders in conjunction with him, as the Session may judge advisable. Nor shall there be made any distinction between the qualifications requisite for baptism, whether of adults or their infants, and for their admission to the table of the Lord.

SECTION IV. Of Testimonials.

1. When a member of a congregation is called in providence to remove to another, or to some distant place, he is to apply for testimonials of his character and standing in the church, which, if not more than a year old, shall entitle him to sealing ordinances in any congregation^a under the inspection of the Synod: And without such testimonials, no person, not well known to one or more of the Session, shall be admitted to communion merely on the plea of having been a member of another congregation. In such case, he must either obtain testimonials from the place he last left, or submit to the regulations prescribed in the foregoing Section.

2. To members of unexceptionable character, who are about to remove, testimonials shall, at all times, be granted at their request; but they shall, on no consideration, be given to any person who is known to be corrupt in principle, or immoral in practice, or who is under censure.

3. Members removing to a distance, and neglecting to apply for their testimonials, shall not obtain them in virtue of a subsequent application, unless the Session have reason to believe that their conversation, during their absence, hath been as becometh the gospel of Christ.

4. In ordinary cases, testimonials must be signed by the minister or ministers of the congregation, or one of them; and by one or more of the elders.

5. Testimonials of persons who become resident members, are to be carefully preserved by the minister, and new ones to be given in their stead, whenever removal or other occurrence shall render it necessary.*

Chapter V.

Of Classical Assemblies or Presbyteries.

SECTION I. Of the PRESBYTERY in general.

1. THE scripture doth hold out a Presbytery in a church.^a

2. The Presbytery consisteth of all the ministers of the word, within a certain district; each accompanied by a ruling elder commissioned from the Session. An organized congregation that is vacant, but able and willing to support a pastor, hath a right to be represented by an elder, and should never neglect to send one, commissioned by the rest.

3. The scripture doth hold forth, that many particular congregations may be under one Presbyterial government.

The proposition is proved by instances:

1. OF THE CHURCH OF JERUSALEM, which consisted of more congregations than one; and all these congregations were under one Presbyterial government.

That the church of Jerusalem consisted of more congregations than one, is manifest,

1st. By the multitude of believers mentioned in divers places; both before the dispersion of the believers there, by means of the persecution;^b and also after the dispersion.^c

2d. By the many apostles and other preachers in the church of Jerusalem. And if there were but one congregation there, then each apostle preached but seldom; which will not consist with Acts vi. 2.

* Appendix I. No. 1, 2.

^a 1 Tim. i. 14. Acts xv. 2, 4, 6. ^b Acts i. 15. ii. 41, 46, 47. iv. 4. v. 14. vi. 1, 7. viii. 1. ^c Acts ix. 31. xii. 24. xxi. 20.

3d. The diversity of languages among the believers mentioned both in the second and sixth chapters of the Acts, doth argue more congregations than one in that church.

Secondly. All those congregations were under one Presbyterian government; because,

1st. They were one church.^d

2d. The elders of the church are mentioned.^e

3d. The apostles did the ordinary acts of Presbyters, as Presbyters, in that church: which proveth a Presbyterian church before the dispersion. Acts vi.

4th. The several congregations in Jerusalem being one church, the elders of that church are mentioned as meeting together for acts of government,^f which proves that those several congregations were under one Presbyterian government.

And whether these congregations were fixed or not fixed, in regard of officers or members, it is all one as to the truth of the proposition.

Nor doth there appear any material difference betwixt the several congregations in Jerusalem, and the many congregations now in the ordinary condition of the church, as to the point of fixedness required of officers or members.

Therefore, the scripture doth hold forth, that many congregations may be under one Presbyterian government.

II. By the instance OF THE CHURCH OF EPHESUS; for,

First, That there were more congregations than one in the church of Ephesus, appears by Acts xx. 31. where is mention of Paul's continuance at Ephesus, in preaching, for the space of three years: and Acts xix. 18, 20. where the special effect of the word is mentioned; and ver. 10 and 17 of the same chapter, where is a distinction of Jews and Greeks: and 1 Cor. xvi. 8, 9. where it is assigned as a reason of Paul's stay at Ephesus unto Pentecost, that a great and effectual door was opened unto him; and ver. 19. where is mention of a particular church in the house of Aquila and Priscilla, then at Ephesus, as appears from Acts xviii. 19, 24, 26; all which laid together, doth prove that the multitude of believers did make more congregations than one in the church of Ephesus.

Secondly, That there were many elders over these many congregations, as one flock, appeareth.^g

^d Acts ii. 47. v. 11. viii. 1. xii. 5. xv. 4. ^e Acts xi. 30. xv. 4, 6, 22. xxi. 17, 18. ^f See letter c. ^g Acts xi. 17, 25, 28, 30, 36, 37.

Thirdly, That these many congregations were one church, and that they were under one Presbyterial government, appeareth.^h

4. The authority of the Presbytery reacheth to all things that concern the particular churches within their bounds, which do not belong to sessional or synodical jurisdiction : such as deciding on appeals from church-sessions, and other references brought orderly before them—rebuking groes or contumacious offenders—directing the censure of excommunication—approving or censuring the sessional records—appointing supplies of preaching and other ordinances to vacancies—examining and taking charge of students of ~~theology~~—examining and licensing candidates for the ministry—ordaining, installing, removing, and judging ministers—disjoining or uniting congregations—resolving cases of conscience—inquiring into the state of the churches under their inspection ; and rectifying any disorders, abuses, or other evils, by which any of them may suffer.

5. Although the number of members in Presbyteries cannot be determined by any general rule, yet, that the affairs of the church of CHRIST may be properly conducted, it is proper that a Presbytery consist of not less than two ministers, with two elders.

6. As the office of minister includeth that of elder, a Presbytery, if no elders attend, may be constituted by ministers alone, provided their number be not less than three.

7. Presbyteries should meet as frequently as the situation of the ministers will admit : but they are strictly required to meet at least once in six months. Besides their stated meetings, they should meet occasionally, when any urgent business demands immediate attention. In these cases, the moderator hath power to convene the Presbytery, and shall always do it at the request of two members.

8. All occasional meetings of Presbytery shall be called by letters addressed from the moderator to the ministers thereof respectively ; or by personal information.

SECTION II. The duty of Presbyteries with respect to STUDENTS of DIVINITY.

1. As an able, evangelical, and faithful ministry is of unspeakable moment to the peace, the purity, the prosperity, and the glory of the Christian church, Presbyteries are bound to use their utmost diligence in training up young men for that holy office.

^h Rev. ii. 1, 6. compared with letter g.

2. No person can be admitted as a student of divinity without previous examination, by a committee of Presbytery, as to abilities, education, and piety; and every applicant for such admission must produce, as an essential preliminary, testimonials of his having been in full communion with the Christian church.ⁱ

3. As great literature and abilities, without the sanctifying grace of the Lord Jesus, are not only useless, but pernicious to vital religion, no person, whatever be his eminence in either, shall, on any consideration, be admitted by a Presbytery, to study for the ministry, unless they have ground to believe that he hath some saving acquaintance with the power of godliness.^k And Presbyteries are enjoined to be particularly careful, as well as tender, in this inquiry, that the honour of JESUS CHRIST, and the eternal interests of men, be not betrayed through negligence or partiality.

4. Since many whom the Lord hath blessed with excellent endowments, and with the saving grace of his Spirit, are deterred by groundless fears, or disabled by penurious circumstances, from prosecuting theological studies, Presbyteries are especially required to make inquiries after such, and to encourage and aid them to become qualified for the holy ministry.

5. Students should attend, if possible, the meetings of judicatories.

SECTION III. Of licensing Candidates.

1. In ordinary cases, no student of divinity can be admitted to trials for licence, without a course of theological study, during three full years, after the time of his being received by the Presbytery.

2. No student of divinity shall be taken on trials for licence, without producing satisfactory testimonials, as well of his unexceptionable conduct, as of his proficiency in classical and philosophical literature.

3. The candidate must, on examination by the Presbytery, give proof of his skill in the original languages of the scriptures—of his acquaintance with ecclesiastical history, and with the doctrines of our holy religion. He shall be examined, especially, on the Deistical, Socinian, and Arminian controversies; on the nature of the sacraments; on the principles of church government ; and, privately, on his own experience of the grace of the LORD JESUS.¹

4. In order to afford a specimen of his ministerial talents, the candidate shall perform the following pieces of trial :

1st. A Homily ; which is a doctrinal discourse on some text of scripture, and is required to be accurate, perspicuous, and concise.

2d. An Exegesis ; or dissertation in Latin, on some topic in divinity ; in which, as in the former, the candidate is to confine himself closely to his subject, and to aim at the establishment of truth, or the refutation of error, chiefly by pertinent scriptural reasoning.

3d. A Critical Exercise ; which is intended to furnish the candidate with an opportunity of displaying his taste and judgment in sacred criticism, by giving a critical explanation of the text ; removing its difficulties ; solving any important question which may spring from it ; detecting misapplications and perversions of it ; stating its connexion, and summing up its contents in a brief, energetic paraphrase. This exercise is to close with a short deduction of the doctrines natively arising from the text, and with a concise application.

4th. A Lecture ; which is an exposition of several verses of scripture, and the excellence of which consists in elucidating the meaning of those verses, by rigidly following the train of truth contained in them ; stating with clearness and precision, their connexion and mutual dependence ; and placing, in a strong light, the argument of the inspired writer.

5th. A popular Sermon.

5. It is expedient that these pieces of trial be delivered before the Presbytery at different times, that they may be able to judge of the progress of the candidate. The lecture and popular sermon are to be delivered in public, immediately before license.

6. When the candidate hath finished his trials, the moderator shall take the sense of the Presbytery concerning them ; and if they be not satisfied, and refuse to sustain them, the candidate, after having the objections of the Presbytery stated to him, with all possible gentleness and tenderness, shall either be remanded to his studies, or have those parts of trial in which he was defective, again appointed to him on the same, or on different subjects, as the Presbytery shall judge fit.

7. If the Presbytery be satisfied with his trials, and sustain them for license, he is to be affectionately and solemnly reminded by the moderator, of the importance, the difficulty, and the excellence of that work on which he is about to enter; and exhorted to a suitable deportment. He is then, after taking upon himself the engagements prescribed in the formula of questions,* to be licensed, in the name of the LORD JESUS CHRIST, to preach the everlasting gospel, as a probationer for the holy ministry.† The remarks of the Presbytery on trials are always to be private, unless the candidate, in his public discourses, advance such errors, as they judge necessary, for the cause of truth, to be publicly noticed.

8. All probationers are to be under the direction, and to fulfil the appointments, of the Presbyteries by which they were licensed; and may not, without Presbyterial permission, or unavoidable necessity, desert the boundaries assigned to them.

9. Probationers should attend Presbyterial and Synodical meetings, but have no vote in either, nor any right to dispense the sacraments, or to exercise any part of church discipline.

10. In laying appointments on probationers, Presbyteries should consult, as far as possible, their circumstances and inclinations.

SECTION IV. Of the ORDINATION of MINISTERS.

Under the head of ordination of ministers, is to be considered, the doctrine of ordination, the power of it, and the manner of performing it.

I. Of the DOCTRINE of Ordination.

1. No man ought to take upon him the office of a minister of the word, without a lawful calling.^m

2. Ordination is always to be continued in the church.ⁿ

3. Ordination is the solemn setting apart of a person to some public church-office.^o

* See III. of the following Section.

† For the form of licensure see Appendix I. No. 6.

^m John iii. 27. Rom. x. 14, 15. Jer. xiv. 14. Heb. v. 4. ⁿ Tit. i. 5. 1 Tim. v. 21, 22. ^o Numb. viii. 10, 11, 14, 19, 22. Acts vi. 3, 5, 6.

4. Every minister of the word is to be ordained by imposition of hands and prayer, with fasting, by those preaching Presbyters to whom it doth belong.^p

5. It is agreeable to the word of God, and very expedient, that such as are to be ordained ministers, be designed to some particular church, or other ministerial charge.^q

6. He that is to be ordained minister, must be duly qualified, both for life and ministerial abilities, according to the rules of the apostle.^r

7. He is to be examined and approved by those by whom he is ordained.^s

8. No man is to be ordained a minister for a particular congregation, if they of that congregation can shew just cause of exception against him.^t

II. Of the Power of Ordination.

1. Ordination is the act of a Presbytery.^v

2. The power of ordering the whole work of ordination is in the whole Presbytery; which, when it is over more congregations than one, whether those congregations be fixed or not fixed, in regard of officers or members, it is indifferent as to the point of ordination.^w

3. It is very requisite, that no single congregation that can conveniently associate, do assume to itself all and sole power in ordination.

1st. Because there is no example in scripture, that any single congregation, which might conveniently associate, did assume to itself all and sole power in ordination; neither is there any rule which may warrant such a practice.

2d. Because there is, in scripture, example of an ordination in a Presbytery over divers congregations: as in the church of Jerusalem, where were many congregations: these many congregations were under one Presbytery, and this Presbytery did ordain.

4. The preaching Presbyters orderly associated in Presbyterial judicatory, are those to whom the imposition of hands doth appertain, for those congregations within their bounds respectively.

^p 1 Tim. v. 22. Acts xiv. 23. xiii. 3. ^q Acts xiv. 23. Titus i. 5. Acts xx. 17, 28. ^r 1 Tim. iii. 2, 6. Titus i. 5, 9. ^s 1 Tim. iii. 7, 10. v. 22. ^t 1 Tim. iii. 2. Titus i. 7. ^v 1 Tim. iv. 14. ^w 1 Tim. iv. 14.

III. Of the MANNER of ordaining Ministers.

1. No call shall be presented or accepted, but from the Presbytery to which the presentee belongs, and at a Presbyterial meeting.

2. The Presbytery hath power to prevent the ordination of a particular person to a particular congregation, but not to compel it against the consent of either of the parties.

3. When a Presbytery hath so far approved a regular call for a probationer, as to grant thereupon trials for ordination, it shall be put into his hands by the moderator ; and he be required to declare his acceptance or refusal ; time, however, being, by his desire, granted to him for consideration.

4. If the call be accepted by the probationer, the Presbytery shall appoint him two public discourses, a lecture and a popular sermon, in order to judge of his progress since his licensure, and of the fitness of his gifts to the place to which he is called.

5. Satisfaction being given in these, the Presbytery shall appoint a day for the ordination ; and shall also cause the congregation to be assembled at a convenient time previously thereto ; and at that meeting a written intimation, termed an EDICT, purporting that “ the Presbytery, having received a call for Mr. A. B. preacher of the gospel, to be their minister, and finding nothing to impede his settlement among them, will ordain him accordingly, if no just objection be seasonably offered,” shall be publicly read to the congregation.^x

6. The Presbytery meeting at the time specified in the edict, the person by them appointed to serve it, or, in his absence, the clerk of the congregation, or one of the Session, shall return it, endorsed with his certification, that it has been duly served. If no objections be made, the Presbytery shall proceed to the ordination ; if any be made, the Presbytery shall carefully consider them, and either sustain or overrule them, as their nature and proof shall render necessary.

7. On the day of ordination a solemn fast shall be observed in the congregation, that they may the more earnestly join in public prayer for the Lord's blessing upon his ordinances, and on the labours of his servant to whom the administration of them is about to be committed.

8. Immediately before ordination, one of the members of the Presbytery, previously appointed, shall preach a sermon concerning the office and duty of the ministers of CHRIST, and how the people should receive them for their work's sake. The sermon and prayer being ended, the minister shall briefly state the proceedings of Presbytery relatively to the occasion of the meeting, and shall then desire the candidate to present himself.

9. On his appearing, the presiding minister shall, in the face of the congregation, and, according to the annexed formula, interrogate him concerning his faith in CHRIST JESUS, and his persuasion of the reformed religion according to the scripture; his sincere intention and ends in desiring to enter into this calling; his diligence in praying, reading, meditation, preaching, ministering the sacraments, discipline, and doing all ministerial duties towards his charge: his zeal and faithfulness in maintaining the truth of the gospel, and unity of the church against error and schism; his care that himself and his family may be unblameable, and examples to the flock: his willingness and humility, in meekness of spirit, to submit unto the admonitions of his brethren, and discipline of the church; and his resolution to continue in his duty against all trouble and persecution.

10. In all which having declared himself, professed his willingness, and promised his endeavours, by the help of God; the minister likewise shall demand of the people concerning their willingness to receive and acknowledge him as the minister of CHRIST, and to obey and submit unto him, as having rule over them in the LORD, and to maintain, encourage, and assist him in all the different parts of his office.

11. Which being mutually promised by the people, the presiding minister shall descend from the pulpit, and the candidate, kneeling, shall be solemnly set apart to the office and work of the ministry, by the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery, which is to be accompanied with a short prayer or blessing, by the presiding minister in their mouth, to the following effect:—"Thankfully acknowledging the great mercy of God in sending JESUS CHRIST for the redemption of his people, and for his ascension to the right hand of God the FATHER, and thence pouring out his SPIRIT, and giving gifts to men, apostles, evangelists, prophets, pastors, and teachers, for the gathering and building up of his church, and for fitting and inclining this man to this great work : [Here let them impose hands on his head :] to intreat him to fill him with his HOLY SPIRIT ; to give him, (whom in his great and venerable name they thus set apart to his holy service,) to fulfil the work of his ministry in all things, that he may both save himself, and the people committed to his charge."

12. The prayer to this purpose being ended, the presiding and other ministers are to take the person ordained by the right hand, saying, We give unto you the right hand of fellowship, to take part of the ministry with us. The officers of the congregation should also take him by the right hand as a testimony of their accepting him as the minister of that congregation.

13. After this, the presiding, or some other, minister is briefly to exhort him to consider the greatness of his office and work ; the danger of negligence both to himself and his people, and the blessing which will accompany his faithfulness, in this life, and that to come. He is likewise to exhort the people to carry themselves according to their promise, dutifully, respectfully, and kindly to him, as to their minister in the LORD : praying for him, accepting his message in humility and love, and endeavouring to encourage his heart, and strengthen his hands, in the discharge of his weighty ministerial duties. And so, by prayer, commending both him and his flock to the grace of God, after singing a psalm, let him dismiss the assembly with a blessing,

FORMULA of QUESTIONS for MINISTERS at their ORDINATION.

DO you believe the holy scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the word of the living God ; the perfect and only rule of faith and practice, to which nothing is to be added, and from which nothing is to be taken, at any time, or upon any pretext, whether of new revelations of the Spirit or traditions of men ?

Do you receive the doctrine of this church, contained in the Confession and Catechisms, as founded on the word of God, and as the expression of your own faith ? and do you resolve to adhere thereto, in opposition to all Deistical, Popish, Arian, Socinian, Arminian, Neonomian, and Sectarian errors, and all other opinions which are contrary to sound doctrine and the power of godliness ?

Do you approve the form of Presbyterian church-government, and the Directories for worship, received by this church, as agreeable to, and founded on, the word of God ? and do you resolve to maintain and observe them accordingly ?

Do you promise to submit, in the spirit of meekness, to the admonitions of the brethren of this Presbytery, in subordination to the Synod ? and do you promise to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace ; and that you will not follow any divisive courses, by complying with the defections of the times, or by giving yourself up to a detestable neutrality in the cause of God ?

Are not zeal for the glory of God, and a desire of being instrumental in edifying his Church, the principal motives which induce you to take the office of a pastor to this congregation ?

Have you used any undue method to procure your call to the office of Pastor ?

Do you sincerely resolve to rule your family, in the fear of the Lord, and to be circumspect in the whole of your conversation, following after righteousness, faith, charity ? and do you also promise to promote the edification of the body of Christ, by endeavouring to perform all the official duties incumbent upon you with zeal and fidelity ?

Do you accept the call to be the pastor of this congregation ? And do you promise to preach the gospel, not with the enticing words of man's wisdom, but in the purity and simplicity thereof ; not shunning to declare the whole counsel of God ; to catechise and exhort from house to house ; to visit the sick ; and to perform what other duties are incumbent upon you, as a faithful minister of Christ, for convincing and reclaiming sinners, and for building up saints in their most holy faith ?

Do you make these promises as in the presence of Him, who searcheth the hearts, and trieth the reins of the children of men ; and as you would desire to give in your account with joy, at the great day of the Redeemer's appearance, when He shall come, and all his saints with him ?

SECTION V. Of the Translation of Ministers.

1. Since ministers are officers of the church at large, they may, upon weighty reasons, be translated from one pastoral charge to another.

2. Translation is the act of a Presbytery; nor may any minister, without such an act, forsake his own congregation.

3. Forasmuch as the hasty and causeless translation of ministers may create jealousies and dissensions, and otherwise endanger the peace and comfort of the church, Presbyteries should act, in this matter, with great caution, deliberation, and tenderness, towards all parties concerned.

4. A call for a settled minister is to be prepared in the same manner as one for a probationer, or a minister without a charge.

5. When such a call hath been regularly laid before a Presbytery, they shall summon the congregation in which the minister is settled, and that by which he is called, to appear, by their commissioners, on a day appointed for that purpose, that the reasons both for and against the translation, may be fairly and fully stated and discussed. If his congregation send no commissioners, they shall be considered as acquiescing in the call. If, by their commissioners, they oppose the call, the Presbytery, after a patient and impartial hearing, and with their view fixed on the general good of the church, shall decide on the propriety or impropriety of the proposed translation. If they and the minister called accede to it, they shall forthwith dissolve his pastoral relation to his present charge, and proceed to settle him in the congregation whither he is called.

6. The Presbytery shall always enter upon their minutes their reasons for translating a minister; and where that measure is likely to give much dissatisfaction to his people, a copy of the reasons shall be extracted from the minutes, and sent to them by their commissioner or commissioners.

7. After the translation of a minister hath been determined by the Presbytery, his settlement is to be conducted in the same manner as at his ordination; excepting, however, the trials, imposition of hands, the right hand of fellowship by ministers, so much of the formula as doth not relate to his new connexion; and the presence of the Presbytery. Though this be desirable, yet a single minister, by Presbyterial appointment, is competent to instal one who hath been formerly ordained.

8. When a minister judges it necessary to demit his charge to the Presbytery, he must give his reasons, a copy of which shall be sent by the clerk to his congregation, and they shall be desired, if they have any objections, to represent them to the Presbytery as soon as possible, by an authorized commissioner. The Presbytery shall then proceed and decide, as in the case of translation from one charge to another.

SECTION VI. General Rules concerning LICENSURES, ORDINATIONS, and TRANSLATIONS.

1. Every licensure, ordination, and instalment must be directed by the authority of the Presbytery within whose bounds it takes place ; and, therefore, students of divinity, probationers, and ministers must obtain a regular dismission from the Presbytery to which they belong, before they can be licensed, ordained, or installed, by the authority of another.

2. Probationers or ministers must be translated from the jurisdiction of one Presbytery to that of another, on the application of the latter to the former, or by the authority of Synod.

3. A call from a vacancy in one Presbytery, to a probationer, or minister, in another, must be addressed to the former, and by them transmitted to the latter, that it may be presented to the candidate, and he regularly transferred to the Presbytery by whose authority he is to be ordained or installed.

4. Students of divinity, probationers, or ministers, removing with the consent of their Presbytery, shall receive a Presbyterial certificate, suited to their respective conditions.^z

5. Every Presbytery shall keep exact records of persons licensed, ordained, and installed, with their testimonials, the time and place of their licensures, ordinations, and instalments ; as also of the increase of their members, probationers, and students ; of removals and deaths ; and shall make a report thereof to the Synod at their next meeting.

6. No money or gift of any kind shall be received from the person to be licensed, ordained, or installed, or from any on his behalf, for licensure, ordination, or instalment, or ought else belonging to them, by any of the Presbytery, or any appertaining to any of them, upon what pretence soever. Only the necessary expences contracted by the members of the Presbytery in attending an ordination or instalment, should be borne by the congregation where the settlement is made.

7. In all ordinary cases, the regulations of this, and of the four sections immediately preceding, are to be strictly observed: but in the cases of great and pressing emergency, Presbyteries are to proceed in licensing probationers, and ordaining and installing ministers, as, after mature deliberation, they shall judge prudent; conforming themselves, however, to the order prescribed, as closely as necessity will permit; and making an accurate statement to the Synod of their deviations from it, and of the reasons of such deviations.

Chapter VI.

Of Synodical Assemblies.

These are either particular or general.

SECTION I. Of the PARTICULAR SYNOD.

1. THIS Synod is immediately superior to the Presbytery, and consists of several Presbyteries met together for their mutual help and comfort, and for managing the affairs of the churches under their inspection.

2. The Synod hath power to decide on references and appeals, brought regularly before them from Presbyteries—to examine, censure, or approve their records—to try all causes in which a Presbytery is a party: if found guilty of flagrant misdemeanors in their judicial capacity, to censure them according to the nature of their offence—to erect new Presbyteries—to unite or divide those which are already erected—to appoint days of fasting and thanksgiving throughout their bounds—to employ members of Presbyteries, or probationers belonging to any of them, in public service—to give advice to Presbyteries—and, generally, to make such regulations, with respect to Presbyteries, Sessions, and people under their care, as do not interfere with the established order of the church.

SECTION II. Of the GENERAL SYNOD.

1. When the multiplication of Presbyteries, and their distances from each other, render it impracticable or unedifying to meet all in one Synod, it is proper that they be divided into two or more, as their circumstances may require.

2. It is lawful and requisite, for the maintenance of union, and for the promotion of the common interest, that all the particular Synods meet together, by Presbyterial delegation, in one general Synod.^a

3. Delegates to the general Synod shall be apportioned as follows: Every Presbytery containing not more than two ministers, shall be entitled to send one minister and one elder; and for every three ministers above that number, one minister and one elder more. This proportion shall be preserved till the number of delegates exceed thirty; after which each Presbytery consisting of more than ten ministers, shall, for every four additional ministers, be entitled to send one minister and one elder.

4. Delegates to the general Synod must produce commissions signed by the moderator and clerk of the Presbytery by whom they are sent; nor can they, without such commissions, be entitled to a seat.^b

6. Nine delegates shall constitute a quorum for business.

7. The general Synod, thus constituted, is, in every respect, to the particular Synods, what the latter are to the Presbyteries within their bounds. It is also the province of the general Synod, to decide questions respecting doctrine and discipline—to bear testimony against errors and immoralities—to correspond with other churches; and, in general, to preside over the religious interests of the church at large. But no regulations intended to be universal and permanent shall be established, without previously transmitting them to the several Presbyteries, that they may have time to consider and report their judgment thereon.

8. The particular Synods are required to be very strict in calling the several Presbyteries to account, with respect to their punctuality in sending delegates to the general Synod, and censuring such as are found negligent. Presbyteries are to observe equal strictness in examining their delegates with respect to their attendance, and in censuring delinquents.

Chapter VII.

SECTION I. Of their CONSTITUTION.

1. EVERY stated meeting of a Judicatory, church sessions excepted, is, ordinarily, to be introduced with a sermon by the last moderator; who shall also, with solemn prayer, constitute the court in the name of the LORD JESUS CHRIST, and shall preside till another moderator be chosen.

2. To avoid inconvenience, a substitute shall be appointed to preach before the Judicatory in case of the moderator's absence.

3. If the last moderator be absent, the oldest minister present shall take his place.

4. Excepting in church sessions, moderators are to be elected in the following manner:—The moderator, for the time being, shall nominate two ministers, and out of these one is to be elected by ballot.

5. Every Judicatory is to have a clerk, who may either be a member thereof or not, as shall be deemed expedient. He is to be chosen by an open vote, unless two or more members of the Judicatory be proposed; in which case he shall be elected by ballot.

SECTION II. Of the OFFICE of the MODERATOR.

1. The moderator is to begin and conclude every sitting of the Judicatory with a short and pertinent prayer.

2. The moderator, as the mouth of the Judicatory, is to propound the subjects of deliberation—to confine speakers to the point under consideration—to put the question when the members are prepared to vote; previously to which he shall give a clear and concise statement of it—to prevent members from leaving the Judicatory without permission from himself—to decide questions of order, subject, however, to the judgment of the Judicatory—to give the casting vote in all equal divisions—to enforce the strict observation of the rules of procedure—and, in general, to maintain the dignified order necessary in a court met in the name of JESUS.

3. Although the moderator, from the nature of his office, cannot take a part in the deliberations of a Judicatory, yet he may propose what appears to him the most eligible method of conducting any particular business ; and, in cases of any intricacy, it is proper and respectful that his judgment be requested by the court.

SECTION III. Of the Office of the Clerk.

1. The clerk is to be a person of religious character, and of good reputation for prudence and fidelity. On entering upon his office, he shall promise the faithful discharge of its duties, and is to continue during the pleasure of the Judicatory.

2. He is to insert nothing in the minutes but by direction of the moderator ; and every minute of importance is immediately to be read for the approbation of the Judicatory.

3. He is carefully to preserve the papers and books of the Judicatory ; nor is he to give extracts from them, (except to members or parties concerned,) without their order ; nor is he, without such an order, to let the original documents go out of his hands ; nor to expose the records of the private transactions of the court, or any part of them.

c These are in Appendix II.

Book II.

OF DISCIPLINE.

Chapter I.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES of DISCIPLINE.

1. IN the imperfect and mingled state of the visible church, disorders cannot be altogether avoided. But, from the ungodliness of carnal professors of religion, (whom the utmost vigilance of church-officers cannot always exclude,) and from remaining depravity, even in the truly gracious, offences or scandals do, and must frequently arise.^a

2. An offence or scandal is not every thing which displeaseth. It is, in scripture, directly opposed to edification, and, properly speaking, is something in a professor's carriage which either in itself, or from its circumstances, may tempt others to sin, or may, in any respect, mar their spiritual edification or comfort.^b

3. To remove scandals, and to prevent their unhappy effects, is the design of Discipline. For this purpose it hath been instituted by the LORD JESUS CHRIST;^c nor can a church, without the faithful and spiritual application of it, hope for his countenance and blessing.^d

4. The exercise of discipline is highly important and necessary,

1st. For vindicating the honour of JESUS CHRIST, that suffereth by the miscarriage of professors.^e

2d. For maintaining the dignity of his ordinances, and chastening disobedience thereto.^f

3d. For averting the judgments of God, which are threatened against such churches as are not zealous in purging out scandals.^g

4th. For preserving the purity of the church, that the profane leaven do not spread and infect the whole body.^h

5th. For the benefit of the offender himself, that by the impartial administration of this ordinance of CHRIST, he may, through grace, be humbled, ashamed, recovered from his sin.ⁱ

^a Mat. xviii. 7. Acts viii. 13. ^b Rom. xiv. 13, 20, 21. Rev. ii. 14. ^c Mat. xviii. 17. 1 Cor. v. 13. ^d Rev. ii. 5, 16, &c. ^e 1 Tim. viii. 1. ^f 2 Cor. ii. 6. ^g Rev. ii. 5, 16, &c.

5. Hence it is evident, that nothing ought to be admitted, by any Judicatory, as a ground of censure, which cannot be proved scandalous from the word of God, or from the regulations and practice of the church founded thereon ; and which doth not involve those evils, for the prevention of which church discipline is instituted.^k

6. From the ends of discipline it is farther manifest, that scandals of the same kind are not always to be treated in the same manner : since what may edify in one case, may destroy edification in another. Church officers are, therefore, wisely to consider occasion, time, place, disposition of offenders, present state of the church, and other circumstances, which, in different cases, may greatly vary their manner of proceeding for the attainment of the same end. Nor is this to be accounted partiality, or respecting of persons in judgment, provided nothing be done from carnal considerations. For as the principle is dictated by sound reason ; so it is sanctioned by apostolic example, and exhibited, in the scripture, for our direction.^l

7. Exercise of discipline being one, of the most delicate and difficult parts of the duty of church-officers, and in which their discretion may be highly salutary, or their indiscretion highly pernicious, it is incumbent on them, in the discharge of it, to use their utmost prudence and circumspection ; to blend tenderness with fidelity, and moderation with firmness ; and to implore from the Head of the church, both jointly and separately, that wisdom which is profitable to direct.

Chapter II.

Of Private Scandals.

1. PRIVATE scandals are those which are known only to an individual, or, at most, to a few.

2. These are not to be immediately prosecuted before a Church Judicatory ; as it would be attended with great and serious evils—it would wear the appearance of personal ⁱ 1 Cor. v. 6, 7. ^j 1 Cor. v. 5. ^k Rom. xiv. 1. ^l 1 Tim. i. 20. Gal. v. 12. Jude i. 23.

malice—would alienate the affections of members from each other—would open numerous sources of angry and vexatious litigation—would probably exasperate and harden the offender instead of reclaiming him—would grieve the hearts of the godly—would stumble many who otherwise would not be stumbled—would bring a reproach on the name of CHRIST—would tend to break the peace of the church—to engender divisions—to render the discipline of CHRIST's house contemptible and odious ; and would thus become more scandalous than the scandals which it was intended to remove.

3. In all cases of private scandal, it is necessary to observe the comely order prescribed by our LORD JESUS CHRIST.

First. The person offended is to go privately to his offending brother, and, dealing faithfully with his conscience, is to try the effect of serious, affectionate remonstrance. Tell him his fault between thee and him ALONE. Nor is the duty to be viewed as fulfilled by a single admonition. It is to be so often repeated, and at such intervals, as may give a fair opportunity, to produce the effect. If this succeed, the offence is done away, and a transgressor recovered, without disturbing the quiet, or sullyng the reputation, of the church. Thou hast gained thy brother.

Secondly. Due time, after these attempts, being allowed for reflection, and for manifesting some reformation, if the offender continue in his sinful course, the brother who admonished him is to take with him two or three more members of the church, and in the spirit of meekness, to repeat, in their presence, his former expostulations : they are also to join in endeavouring to reclaim the offender ; warning him of his danger, and of the necessity which his obstinacy will impose on them, of bringing him before the bar of the church.

Thirdly. If, on due forbearance, it appear that these tender and Christian proceedings are disregarded, the whole affair shall be represented to the Judicatory to which the offender is immediately subject. If he neglect to hear them, tell it unto the CHURCH.^m

4. Informers who have not taken these previous steps, shall themselves be considered as scandalous, and treated accordingly.

Chapter III.

Of Public Scandals.

1. PUBLIC Scandals are those which are so circumstanced as to require the cognizance of a Judicatory.

2. It often may, and does happen, that a scandal may be gross in itself, and known to several, while yet it cannot be pursued to conviction. In such cases, though it be afflicting to upright men to see the church of CHRIST profaned with impunity; yet it is proper to forbear, till the LORD shall bring to light the hidden things of darkness: since nothing tends more to weaken the authority of discipline, and to multiply scandals, than Judicatories commencing processes against offenders, and failing in their proof.

3. Offences are public, i. e. are to be brought before Church Judicatories for trial:

First. When they are not removed by the method laid down in the preceding chapter. In such cases, a scandal, though at first private, is aggravated, by obstinacy, into an evil which requires, as the last human remedy, the interference of public authority: and it is then the duty of the person offended to lay it, with its evidence, and the means which it hath resisted, before the proper Judicatory. Tell it to the church.

Secondly. When a scandal, gross in its nature, is so notorious and open, that many are in danger of being infected, it is immediately to be inquired into judicially; nor is private admonition at all necessary to ripen it for a process.

Thirdly. When a scandal is rumoured abroad, even though it doth not appear to have been committed before a considerable number of witnesses, it falls under the cognizance of the Church Judicatory. It is the duty of members who hear such reports to acquaint the Judicatory. Nor is previous expostulation, in private, either necessary or proper: because the scandal is not in any sense private; and because the credit of religion, especially in that branch of the church to which the scandal is attached, may greatly suffer before private admonition can produce its effect.

This ground of process is denominated in church discipline, FAMA CLAMOSA, (crying fame;) and the management of it requires the greatest prudence.

It is not every tale of scandal which amounts to a FAMA CLAMOSA. In order to this it is indispensable, 1st. That the report specify some particular sin or sins: 2dly. That it be wide spread: 3dly. That it be not transient: 4thly. That it be accompanied with public presumptions of its truth.

4. When scandals, originally private, are brought before a Judicatory, it may often be expedient to deal with the scandalous person by a deputation of members, in order to gain him, without resorting to a formal process.

Chapter IV.

Of Processes in general.

1. When all other means of removing a scandal are found ineffectual, the Judicatory which hath immediate cognizance thereof, is to take it under the most serious judicial consideration.

2. No person can be admitted as an accuser, who either is, at the time of accusation, or who hath been recently, at enmity with the person accused; or who is employed by another to accuse; or who is not of entire fame; or who is actually under censure, or process for censure. Judicatories are also to be exceedingly cautious in receiving accusations from any who have the prospect of temporal advantage from the accusation, or of temporal disadvantage from its failure: as likewise, in receiving them from any who, though not of ill repute, are known to be trifling, officious, querulous, passionate, rash, or imprudent.

3. No person can be compelled to become an accuser.

4. All processes, raised at the instance of a party complaining, against scandals originally private, must be pursued in the name of the complainer; and he bound to make out, not only the proof of the scandal, but of his previous Christian demeanor with regard to it, on peril of being himself censured as a scandalous person.

5. In all other processes for public scandals there is no need of an accuser; nor is the name of the informer, without his consent, to be given up. Yet if the innocence of the party charged be satisfactorily cleared, the Judicatory is to inquire whether the information was lodged through malice, or imprudence, or otherwise, and to deal with the informer accordingly.

6. Although a process for scandal be relinquished by the party who commenced it, yet it may not therefore be dismissed by a Judicatory ; since the support of discipline, the recovery of the offender, and the edification of the church, are concerned in bringing it to an issue.

7. In a judicial process it is requisite that the scandal be libelled—the offender cited—proof adduced—and sentence given.

Of LIBELS.

1. A libel is a written charge of scandal preferred against an individual by judicial authority. It consists of two parts, whereof the first contains the scandal itself, and the second charges it, in point of fact, on a particular person. Thus, if A. B. were prosecuted for drunkenness, the libel would set forth, first, the heinousness of the sin, and then, that A. B. hath actually committed it.ⁿ But, in ordinary cases, it may be sufficient simply to state the charges against the offender.

2. Every libel, excepting those grounded on a fama clamosa,^o must specify not only the scandal libelled, but also time and place, that the person accused may have the benefit of every circumstance which can contribute to his vindication.

3. In the case of fama clamosa, it often happens, that though the scandal be exceedingly flagrant, yet the circumstances of time and place are very difficult to be proved ; and, therefore, in such cases the charge in the libel should be couched in more general terms.

When a complaint is, in the judgment of a Judicatory, clearly vexatious and frivolous, they are to endeavour to convince and satisfy the complainer ; but, on no consideration to grant a libel.

Of CITATIONS.

1. When it is judged proper to prefer a libel against an offender, he shall, by a written citation, signed by the moderator and clerk of the Judicatory, or either of them, be summoned, at least eight free days, to appear at the bar of the Judicatory, and put in his answer.

2. Every citation must specify, 1st. The Judicatory before which the offender is to appear : 2d. The name of the offender : 3d. The time and place of appearance : and 4th. The name of the prosecutor, unless the process be instituted by the Judicatory. It must also be accompanied, in the first instance, with a copy of the libel.^p ⁿ Appendix I. No. 11. ^o See chap. iii. 3. ^p Appendix I. No. 12.

3. A citation is also to be sent to all who are designed witnesses, provided they be members of the church ; and persons, and members of other churches, can only be requested to appear.

4. If the offender refuse to obey his summons, he is to be cited again within at least ten free days after the day first appointed for his appearance ; but the time allotted him after his second summons, is left to the discretion of the Judicatory, provided it be not less than is fully sufficient for a seasonable appearance before them. A second neglect or refusal shall be followed by a third citation, with a certification, that if the offender do not appear at the time appointed, the Judicatory, besides censuring him for contumacy, will proceed to try the libel exhibited against him as if he were present.

5. That Judicatories may not be rash or unreasonable in this part of the process, they are to be well ascertained, before they order a second or third citation, that the first and second have been duly served ; and for this purpose, the person appointed to serve the summons shall certify the Judicatory of its execution.

6. If the offender appear, or if, having refused to appear, he be proceeded against in his absence, the first thing to be considered is the Relevancy of the libel ; that is, whether the thing charged, even supposing it to be proved, is really censurable. To the relevancy, the person accused hath always a right to object ; but the Judicatory must judge of the weight of his objections.

7. If, on due consideration, the libel be found not relevant, all further proceedings are precluded of course ; but if it be sustained, the offender is to be interrogated respecting the matter of fact. If he acknowledge it, the way is prepared for a decision ; but if he deny it, the Judicatory is to examine the proof by which it is supported ; and previously to give him a list of the witnesses.

Of WITNESSES.

1. Witnesses, who, being members of the church, refuse to appear and give their testimony when legally summoned, may be censured for contumacy.

2. Children, idiots, those defective in any of the senses on which the accuracy of their knowledge and testimony depends, accusers, persons of infamous character, at en-nity with the accused, under censure or process for censure, who expect, directly or indirectly, to reap any temporal advantage, or to avoid any temporal disadvantage, by giving testimony, cannot be admitted as witnesses either for or against an offender. On any of these grounds, he has a right to challenge a witness, and the Judicatory is candidly to hear and to decide on his exceptions.

3. Two unexceptionable witnesses, at least, whose testimony goes to the precise act charged in the libel, and to the circumstances of time and place under which it is stated to have been committed, are necessary to conviction.

4. In those cases, however, of a fama clamosa, in which the libel charges the scandal more generally, although there be not two concurring testimonies as to the same act; yet if several unexceptionable witnesses bear testimony to different similar acts, belonging unquestionably to the scandal charged, the libel shall be considered as proved. Thus, if a person be accused on a fama clamosa, of profane swearing, if several good witnesses testify; one, that he hath heard him swear profanely at such a time or place; another, at such a time or place; another, at such a time or place, &c. it shall be sufficient for conviction.

5. Witnesses are to be examined in the presence of the accused, who is at liberty to cross-examine them: the same privilege belongs to every member of the Judicatory; but no questions are to be put or answered, except through the moderator.

6. Every witness, before his testimony is heard, must be solemnly purged of malice against the accused, or of receiving any advantage, directly or indirectly, from appearing as a witness; and then is to be solemnly sworn. The oath is to be administered by the moderator, and to be taken by the witness, holding up his right hand; all the members of the Judicatory, and others present, standing.^r

7. The depositions of witnesses are to be taken down in writing, and then read to them, that mistakes may be corrected, or omissions supplied; after which they are to be signed by the deponents, and to be laid up among the papers of the Judicatory.

8. When an offence is committed in the bounds of a Judicatory, different from that with which the offender is immediately connected, the former should give intelligence thereof to the latter: if they do not, the latter, on knowledge thereof, shall, if proof cannot otherwise be had, make speedy application to the former, who shall either cite the witnesses before the said Judicatory, or shall themselves hear the testimony, and transmit it to the applicants, as circumstances may require.

9. When such an application is received by a Judicatory, and the distance is too great for the witnesses conveniently to repair to the other, the Judicatory applied to shall appoint a day for hearing the cause, at such an interval as shall afford the offender an opportunity of appearing in his own defence, if he be so minded: of which time information shall be given to the moderator of the Judicatory applying, and by him seasonably notified to the offender.

Other Proof.

1. The records of a Judicatory, or any part thereof, whether original or transcribed, if authenticated by the moderator and clerk, or either of them, shall be deemed good and sufficient evidence in every other Judicatory.

2. Testimony taken before a Judicatory, and certified as above, shall be received by every other as no less valid, than if it had been taken before themselves.

3. Genuine private papers, such as letters, &c. shall be admitted in proof, unless just cause can be shewn for refusing them.

4. Although conviction cannot be grounded on presumptions alone, yet they are always to be taken in connexion with the testimony, as they are frequently of essential importance in establishing or destroying its credibility; and less or more stress is to be laid upon them, as they are trivial, probable, or violent.

Of Exculpation.

1. The accused hath always a right to exculpate himself, and for this purpose to adduce every kind of proof which is admitted against him.

2. In the case of contradictory evidence, the Judicatory is carefully to consider the nature, number, respectability, and circumstances of the different proofs.

3. After the several proofs have been heard, the accused shall have the privilege of commenting on them.

Of Sentences.

1. The accused having finished his remarks or defence, if any be offered, the Judicatory shall seriously ponder the libel, and the proofs, together with the exculpation, in order to prepare their sentence.

2. It is not, however, to be understood, that Judicatories are bound to give sentence at the same meeting at which the cause is tried, or even to finish the trial at one meeting. Herein they must use their discretion, being careful, at the same time, that a process be not needlessly protracted.

3. Sentences are either absolutory, which acquit the accused; or condemnatory, which pronounce him guilty of the scandal libelled; or mixed, which partly acquit, and and partly condemn.

Chapter V.

Of Processes against Ministers.

1. ALL processes against ministers are to commence before the Presbyteries to which they belong.

2. The honour and success of the gospel being intimately connected with the unblemished reputation of ministers, both as to doctrine and conduct, scandalous charges are not to be received by any Judicatory upon slight grounds; nor, when received, to be negligently examined; nor, if found true, to be slightly censured.

3. That the faults of ministers may not be indiscreetly spared, nor rashly made the subject of judicial cognizance, the same candour, caution, and method, substituting only the Presbytery for the Session, are to be observed in investigating charges against them, as are prescribed in the case of private members.

4. If a minister be convicted of such principles or conduct as are clearly and grossly scandalous, the Presbytery, whatever be his repentance, or however manifested, is immediately to depose him, and to assign him a day for the public confession of his sin, and profession of repentance.

5. A minister, accused of atrocious crimes, and refusing, after three regular citations, to appear at the bar of the Presbytery, shall be suspended from the exercise of his office; and if he persist in his contumacy, may be deposed and excommunicated.

6. Presbyteries are to be extremely careful of involving in the shame and severity of a judicial process, those irregularities which appear to be merely acts of infirmity ; and those errors which do not strike at the vitals of doctrinal or practical godliness ; which are not pertinaciously adhered to, nor mischievously propagated to the subversion of the order, unity, purity, and peace of the church. They are, therefore, thoroughly to sift accusations against ministers, and to be well satisfied respecting the criminal and pernicious nature and tendency of the scandal charged, before they allow a libel to be grounded thereon. And they are to use special diligence for removing those uneasinesses and complaints which arise from causes that will not warrant a process.

7. Calumniators of ministers are to be severely censured, and in proportion to the malignity or rashness which shall appear in the prosecution.

Chapter VI.

Of Censures.

1. CHURCH CENSURES, being entirely of a spiritual nature, cannot operate any civil effect.

2. As they are among the most important means by which the LORD JESUS reigns in his church, they are to be employed with much caution, reverence and solemnity ; nor can there be a greater indignity offered to his majesty, than to prostitute them to any carnal purposes.

3. Although the contempt which the world pours upon ecclesiastical censures should call forth the exercise of prudence, yet church-officers, being clothed with the authority of their King, are not thereby to be deterred from the faithful discharge of their duty ; they are rather to be stimulated to double vigilance, lest the barriers which CHRIST hath erected to separate his church from the world, be swept away by the torrent of evil opinion and evil example.

4. The LORD JESUS CHRIST having promised that he will ratify in heaven, those censures which, in his name, and according to his appointment, are inflicted by his officers upon earth,^a they cannot be despised but at the utmost peril ; and will be found to have a serious influence on the spiritual condition of those who fall under them.

Church censures are five fold : admonition, rebuke, suspension, deposition, and excommunication.

Of ADMONITION.

1. Admonition is the lowest degree of censure. It consists in gently reproving an offender, for his sin and scandal ; warning him of his guilt and danger ; and exhorting him to be more watchful and circumspect for the future. It supposes the offence to be known only to a few, or to be less aggravated in its circumstances.

2. It ought to proceed on a certain knowledge of the sin and scandal having been committed ; and is the first step which should be taken towards the offender's reformation.

3. Admonition, in the case of a private church-member, or ruling elder, ought to be administered in private by one or more members of Session : in the case of a minister, by one or more members of Presbytery.

Of REBUKE.

1. Rebuke is a higher degree of censure, and should be administered by an ecclesiastical court in a judicial capacity. When it can be done without injuring the public credit of religion, Judicatures may find it for edification to rebuke the offender in private. This is particularly necessary in cases of private scandal, and it must always be done in the name of the Head of the church.

2. When the scandal is public, and the sin more aggravated, it is proper that the rebuke be publicly administered. But it is generally expedient that rebukes, whether private or public, be preceded by private admonition.

Of SUSPENSION.

1. Suspension relates either to the private members, or to the officers of the church. With respect to the former, it is a temporary judicial exclusion of an offender from sealing ordinances.^b With respect to the latter, it is a temporary judicial exclusion from the exercise of office.^c

2. This censure is attached to scandals which cannot be removed by admonition or rebuke, and which render it improper for the scandalous person to remain in the actual enjoyment of sacramental privilege, or in the exercise of office.

3. Suspensions are generally indefinite in their duration, continuing till the person suspended afford signs of penitence which may warrant their repeal. But Judicatories are to consider how far it may be expedient, in certain cases, to limit their operation to a fixed period.

4. Suspension, unless of ministers, may be either private or public. The former is oftentimes indispensable, when bringing the scandal to public view, would be unnecessary, yea, highly injudicious.

5. Sessions may find it their duty to keep back from sealing ordinances, by a private resolution, members of whom scandalous reports are corroborated by strong presumptions, even though they have not been, or cannot be legally convicted.

6. When a scandal, or the charge of a scandal is made public so near the time of celebrating the sacrament of the supper, that there is not leisure for a due examination, the accused person, provided his offence, if proved, require such a censure, is by all means to be restrained from communicating.

7. Suspension, after public rebuke, is always to be public.

8. As the maintenance of the honour of Christ, the exoneration of church-officers, and the warning of others, are principal ends of censure, it is not necessary to the propriety of a public suspension, that the person suspended be actually present. But this does not absolve the offender from his obligation to appear; and he is to be strictly required thereto by the Judicatory censuring.

Of DEPOSITION.

1. Deposition is the judicial degradation of an officer from his office.^d Probationers, though they may be suspended or discharged, having never been invested with office, cannot, properly, be deposed.

2. An act of deposition is not to be passed but with the greatest deliberation; and for the most important reasons. It is ordinarily to be preceded by suspension. It is not, if possible, to be inflicted on ministers, without Synodical advice; nor on other presbyters, without the advice of a Presbytery.

3. When a minister is deposed, his congregation is immediately to be declared vacant.

4. Deposition doth not necessarily draw after it the censure of excommunication.

Of EXCOMMUNICATION.

1. Excommunication is the judicial excision of an offender, from the visible church of CHRIST, and a pronouncing him to belong to the kingdom of Satan.^e

2. Heinous violations of the law of God in practice, and such errors in principle as unhinge the Christian profession, are the only scandals for which the sentence of excommunication shall be passed.

3. Even on those enormous scandals, except they be accompanied with aggravations of peculiar atrocity, this dreadful censure is not to be pronounced till gentler means have failed.

4. When private members or officers, not being ministers of the word, fall into such scandals, the Session is to proceed as in the prosecution of other public scandals; and having brought the matter to a public admonition and suspension from sealing ordinances, is to refer the case, and all proceedings therein, to the Presbytery.

5. The Presbytery, when there is no appeal, shall resume the process where the Session left it, unless there appear such defects in the Sessional proceedings, or in the proof of the libel, as shall call for a revision; and having fully considered the scandal libelled, the steps taken in the prosecution of it, and the subsequent carriage of the offender, shall give their decision respecting the censure of excommunication.

6. The censure being passed, a Presbyterial warrant for the intimation of it shall be directed to the moderator of the aforesaid Session; or, if the congregation be vacant, to some other minister.^f

7. At the time appointed for this purpose, the minister, having briefly explained the nature, necessity, and end of church censures, shall relate the steps of the process in order, shewing the church's faithfulness and tenderness to the offender; his obdurate impenitence under all the endeavours used to reclaim him ; and the duty of cutting him entirely off from the fellowship of the faithful, as the only remaining means of bringing him to repentance.

8. The minister then repeating the Presbyterial warrant for the censure he is about to intimate, is to call upon the congregation to join with him in imploring the Lord's blessing on this terrible ordinance, that it may be effectual, both to recover the offender, and to edify others.

9. Prayer being ended, the minister is, with great gravity and solemnity, to intimate the censure, declaring the scandalous person, in the name, and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, cut off from the fellowship of the church, and delivered unto Satan, for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

10. After this intimation of the censure, all the members of the congregation are to be warned that the person cast out of the church is no longer a brother ; and are to be exhorted and enjoined to shun all intercourse or conversation with him that can be avoided. Nevertheless, excommunication dissolveth not the bonds of natural or civil relations, nor exempteth from the duties belonging to them.

Chapter VII.

Of the PENITENCE and RESTORATION of OFFENDERS.

1. OUR Lord Jesus hath committed to the officers of his church, the power not only of inflicting censures, but of repealing them, and admitting returning offenders to the communion and the privileges of his people.

2. As persons are censured not for the want of saving grace, but for outward scandal ; so, the penitence required to warrant their restoration is not a really gracious and saving change, but such as will remove the scandal for which they are censured.

3. It is not, however, every verbal profession of contrition, nor every promise of amendment, nor even a partial reformation, that is to be judged satisfying.

4. Such persons as, from time to time, profess their sorrow for their sin, and yet live in the practice of it, are doubly scandalous ; as they not only dishonour God by their crime, but mock him by their hypocrisy.

5. Professions of repentance, accompanied by those circumstances, which are admitted in other cases to be good evidences of MORAL SERIOUSNESS, such as freeness, gravity, and apparent humility, in confession of sin, and of the justice of the censure ; using the proper means for attaining the desired end ; abstaining from such things as may render a profession suspected ; and persevering in diligence and circumspection—such professions are to be deemed satisfactory, and warrant a release from censure.

6. An offender may exhibit such tokens of repentance as should induce a Judicatory to forbear censure other than admonition. But this principle is to be applied with great caution in cases where no penitence is evinced, nor any confession made, before the fact is fully proved.

7. Where a person is under process for a higher censure, his penitence, on conviction, may be so far satisfying as to require a milder one. Thus, the penitence of a person under process for excommunication, may render it proper to proceed no farther than suspension.

8. The carriage of an offender may be such as that a Judicatory may not have freedom to inflict the censure to which the process would natively lead ; nor yet to dismiss him altogether with a gentler one. In these cases it may be proper to censure more lightly than was at first intended, and in the mean time to stay process. This, it is to be observed, does not terminate the prosecution, but merely suspends it ; and in the event of an offender's relapse into his scandal, leaves all that was done formerly in full force ; and the Judicatory resumes the process in that stage of it in which it was suspended. Provided, however, that if a suspended process be not resumed, on account of the scandal again breaking out in one year, it shall be considered as finally closed.

9. Offenders are to be restored by the same authority which censured them.

10. No public censure is to be removed, but in virtue of public satisfaction. For private censures, nothing more than private satisfaction shall be exacted.

11. When an offender, who hath been excommunicated, is desirous of re-admission into the church of CHRIST, he is to lay his request before the Presbytery by whom the censure was passed ; and if they, after close and faithful dealing with his conscience, and a careful inquiry into the tenor of his conversation since censure, be satisfied with his professions of repentance; that the scandal hath been in a good measure done away by his edifying behaviour; and that there is no danger of reviving it by acceding to his request; they are to absolve and restore him, and order his absolution and restoration to be intimated to the congregation.

12. The day appointed for this purpose is to be previously intimated from the pulpit: when it arrives, the offender is to appear before the congregation, and to make a solemn profession of his sense of his misery in being shut out from the fellowship of the saints—of the justice of the censure passed upon him—of his contrition for his sin in dishonouring God; in grieving the hearts of his people, and causing the profane to blaspheme—of his unfeigned desire to flee for pardon to the blood of CHRIST—and of his resolution, through grace, henceforward to study to adorn the doctrine of God the SAVIOUR.

13. This profession being finished, the minister is briefly to unfold the grace of our LORD JESUS CHRIST towards the returning sinner; and, having read the Presbyterian warrant, is to call upon the congregation to join with him in “praising the LORD for blessing the censure inflicted by his church; and in praying that he would mercifully accept this person, who, for his great sin, and for his contempt of all admonition, was cut off from HIS PEOPLE; that he would, by HIS Holy Spirit, give him the grace of unfeigned repentance; would pardon him freely through the righteousness of our LORD JESUS CHRIST, and would grant him increase in all godliness; that Satan may be bruised under his feet, the name of our LORD JESUS magnified, the church edified, and himself saved with an everlasting salvation.”

14. After prayer; the minister shall declare the absolution; accompanying it with an exhortation to the person absolved, to double watchfulness in his Christian profession. He is also to exhort the members of the congregation to receive their brother in the spirit of meekness and of love; rejoicing in his recovery, and endeavouring to strengthen him in the good ways of God.

15. Deposed officers, especially ministers, who have also been debarred by suspension or excommunication from sealing ordinances, may often be restored to the latter, when it would be highly injudicious to reinstate them in their offices.

16. An officer, deposed for scandalous conduct, may not be restored, even on the most convincing evidence of deep sorrow for his sin, without some time of eminent and exemplary, humble and edifying conversation, to heal the wound made by his scandal.

17. No scandal, which hath been removed by satisfaction, shall ever be the ground of any other process; nor is the person restored ever to be upbraided with it, either by church-officers or private members. Such as transgress in this respect shall be accounted scandalous, and treated accordingly.

Chapter VIII.

Of Declinatures.

1. A declinature is the refusal of a person under process to submit to trial by a particular Judicatory.

2. When a person, in order to evade a process, or without assigning any just reason, declines the authority of his proper Judicatory, such a declinature is not only unwarrantable, but contumacious; and is not to impede the process, unless it be referred to the next higher Judicatory.

3. If a Judicatory betray unfairness or partiality; if they, before full investigation, by any judicial act, prejudge the cause; if, in conducting the process, they claim to decide on subjects of which they have no cognizance, or otherwise act illegally; if they permit members who are nearly related to, or who are at personal variance with, either of the parties; or who have themselves been active as parties; still to sit in judgment, after being duly challenged; in all these cases a declinature is warrantable.

4. It is not, however, to be supposed, that even a lawful declinature quashes a process. It only removes it to another Judicatory; and if the declinature be not accompanied with an appeal to the superior Judicatory, the party is to be cited thither by the Judicatory, which he declined.

Chapter IX.

Of References.

1. A Reference is a judicial representation, made by an inferior Judicatory to the next superior, of a case not yet decided, and is always to be in writing.

2. References are either for advice, or for full discussion and final decision.

3. References of the former kind only suspend the determination of the Judicatory from which they come ; but do not interfere with the ultimate decision.

4. References of the latter kind relinquish the prosecution of the case referred, and leave it implicitly to the judgment of the superior Judicatory.

5. Though references, except for special reasons, ought always to procure advice from Judicatories referred to, yet the latter are not necessarily bound, even when desired, to give a final judgment ; but may, if they see fit, remit the matter, with advice, to the Judicatory referring.

6. Cases new, important, difficult, whose decision may establish a principle or precedent of extensive influence, or on which the sentiments of the Judicatory are greatly divided, form some of the principal subjects of reference.

Chapter X.

Of Appeals.

1. AN appeal is the removal of a cause from an inferior to a superior Judicatory, by a party aggrieved.

2. Appeals are either from a part of the proceedings of a Judicatory, or from a definitive sentence.

3. When appeals of the former kind are brought before a Judicatory, it is in their option either to take the whole of the cause under cognizance, or merely to decide on the particular acts excepted against, and remit the cause to the Judicatory appealed from.

4. Appeals from a definitive sentence require a revision of the whole cause.

5. Every appellant is bound to give his appeal, with the reasons thereof, in writing, to the Judicatory appealed from, at the most in ten days after notice of his intention ; which notice is to be made at the time when he conceives himself aggrieved : and on default, his appeal falls.

6. Appeals are always to be carried, in regular gradation, from an inferior Judicatory to the one immediately superior.

7. When an appeal is brought before a Judicatory, they are first to inquire whether it hath been regularly conducted ; and if not, to refuse it, without special reasons to the contrary ; and never when it contravenes the preceding regulation.

8. The Judicatory appealed to is next to inquire into the procedure of that appealed from ; and if it shall appear to have been regular and proper, no blame shall be attached to said Judicatory, even though the appeal be sustained, and the sentence reversed.

9. If, on due consideration, an appeal from a definitive sentence be sustained, the Judicatory appealed to shall try the libel as though it had been originally ordered by themselves ; and if they find cause for overruling the sentence appealed from, shall use every method of satisfying the injured, as well as of doing him justice.

10. When an appeal from a definitive sentence is not sustained, or if sustained, the appellant is cast, the Judicatory appealed to is to ratify the sentence, and direct that appealed from to proceed in the execution of it.

11. Litigious appellants are to be censured ; but this censure is not to suspend or mitigate the censure attached to the crime libelled.

12. If an appellant, after entering his appeal before a superior Judicatory, cease to prosecute it, it shall be considered as indefensible, and the proceedings of the inferior Judicatory confirmed.

13. Judicatories appealed from, being parties in the cause, cannot, in the superior Judicatories, vote on any question connected with the appeal.

Book III.

OF WORSHIP.^a

Chapter I.

Of the Ordinances in a Particular Congregation.

THE ordinances in a single congregation are prayer and thanksgiving ; singing of psalms ; the word read, (although there follow no immediate explication of what is read) the word expounded and applied ; the sacraments administered ; dismissing the people with a blessing ; catechising ; visitation of the sick.^b

Chapter II.

The Design of the ensuing Directory.

CARE hath been taken to hold forth therein such things as are of divine institution in every ordinance, and to set forth other things according to the rules of Christian prudence, agreeable to the general rules of the word of God : nothing more being meant, than that the general heads, the sense and scope of the prayers, and other parts of public worship, being known to all, there may be a consent of all the churches in those things that contain the substance of the service and worship of God ; and the ministers may be hereby directed, in their administrations, to keep like soundness in doctrine and prayer, and may, if need be, have some help and furniture ; and yet so as they become not hereby slothful and negligent in stirring up the gifts of CHRIST in them ; but that each one, by meditation, by taking heed to himself, and the flock of God committed to him, and by wisely observing the ways of divine providence, may be careful to furnish his heart and tongue with farther or other materials of prayer and exhortation, as shall be needful upon all occasions.

^a For the principle and rule of religious worship, see the Larger Catechism, on the second commandment.

Chapter III.

The Directory for Public Worship.

SECTION I. Of the ASSEMBLING of the CONGREGATION, and their BEHAVIOUR in the PUBLIC WORSHIP of GOD.

WHEN the congregation is to meet for public worship, the people (having before prepared their hearts thereunto) ought all to come and join therein ; not absenting themselves from the public ordinances through negligence, or upon pretence of private meetings. And it is highly requisite, for the decorum of public worship, that both ministers and people use their diligence to attend punctually at the hour appointed.

2. Let all enter the assembly, and take their seats or places, not irreverently, but in a grave and seemly manner ; avoiding whispering or conversation.

3. The congregation being assembled, the minister, after solemnly calling on them to the worshipping of the great name of God, may begin with prayer.

“ In all reverence and humility acknowledging the incomprehensible greatness and majesty of the LORD, (in whose presence they do then, in a special manner, appear,) and their own vileness and unworthiness to approach so near him, with their utter inability of themselves to so great a work ; and humbly beseeching him for pardon, assistance and acceptance, in the whole service then to be performed ; and for a blessing on that particular portion of his word then to be read : and all in the name and mediation of the LORD JESUS CHRIST.”

But as it has been, for a long time, the ordinary practice of our church to commence public worship with singing of psalms, it is left to the discretion of congregations to adopt either of these modes which they shall judge best suited to their circumstances. Nor shall a few explanatory remarks upon the psalm previous to its being sung, be construed an infringement of this order : Nevertheless, in this exercise brevity is recommended.

4. The public worship being begun, the people are wholly to attend upon it, forbearing to read any thing, except what the minister is then reading or citing ; and abstaining much more from all private whisperings, conferences, salutations, or doing reverence to any person present or coming in ; as also from all gazing, sleeping, and other indecent behaviour, which may disturb the minister or people, or hinder themselves or others in the service of God.

5. If any, through necessity, be hindered from being present at the beginning, they are not, when they come in to the congregation, to betake themselves to their private devotions, but reverently to compose themselves to join with the assembly in that ordinance of God which is then in hand.

SECTION II. Of PUBLIC READING of the HOLY SCRIPTURES.

1. Reading of the word in the congregation, being part of the public worship of God, (wherein we acknowledge our dependence upon him, and subjection to him,) and one mean sanctified by him for the edifying of his people, is to be performed by the pastors and teachers, and such as have been regularly licensed to preach the gospel, though not yet ordained.

2. How large a portion shall be read at once, and in what order, is left to the wisdom of the person conducting the worship ; although usually it should not be less than one chapter ; but in this, as in all other public exercises, the season of the year, and state of the weather, and other circumstances, are carefully to be considered, that the service may not be unsuitably protracted.

3. When the minister who readeth shall judge it necessary to expound any part of what is read, let it not be done until the whole chapter or psalm be ended.

4. Beside public reading of the holy scriptures, every person that can read is to be exhorted to read the scriptures privately, (and all others that cannot read, if not disabled by age, or otherwise, are likewise to be exhorted to learn to read,) and to have a Bible.

SECTION III. Of SINGING of PSALMS.

1. It is the duty of Christians to praise God publicly, by singing of psalms together in the congregation.

2. It is the will of God, that the sacred songs contained in the book of Psalms, be sung in his worship, both public and private, to the end of the world : and the rich variety and perfect purity of their matter, the blessing of God upon them in every age, and the edification of the church thence arising, set the propriety of singing them in a convincing light ; nor shall any composures merely human, be sung in any of the Associate-Reformed Churches.

3. These songs should be sung, not barely with the same frame of spirit with which they should be read ; but with such an elevation of soul as is suited to praise as a distinct ordinance : and in singing those parts of them which are expressed in ceremonial style, or describe the circumstances of the writers, or of the church in ancient times, we should have our eye upon the general principles which are implied in them, and which are applicable to individuals, or the church in every age.

4. In singing, the voice is to be tunably ordered ; but the chief care must be to sing with understanding, and with grace in the heart, making melody unto the Lord.

5. No tunes shall be sung in worshipping assemblies, but such as are grave and simple : and no new tune shall be introduced into any of the churches without the knowledge and consent of the church-officers ; nor even then, unless it shall be evident, that the introduction of such tune would be acceptable to the congregation, and would promote its real edification.

6. No chorus of singers, nor alternate singing shall be introduced into any of the churches, because it is the duty of the whole congregation to praise God with united voices.

7. As the use of musical instruments, in public worship, has no sanction in the New Testament, nor in the practice of the Christian church for several hundred years after its erection, it shall not be introduced, under any form, into any of the churches.

8. That the whole congregation may the more profitably join in the delightful exercise of praise, it is recommended that every one who can read have a psalm book.

SECTION IV. Of PUBLIC PRAYER before the SERMON.

The preceding parts of worship being performed, the minister who is to preach is to endeavour to get his own and his hearers' hearts to be rightly affected with their sins, that they may all mourn in sense thereof before the LORD, and hunger and thirst after the grace of God in JESUS CHRIST, by proceeding to a more full confession of sin, with shame and holy confusion of face, and to call upon the Lord to this effect :

“ To acknowledge our great sinfulness, First, by reason “ of original sin, which (beside the guilt that makes us liable "to everlasting damnation) is the seed of all other sin,

 "hath depraved and poisoned all the faculties and power
 "of soul and body, doth defile our best actions, and (were
 "it not restrained, or our hearts renewed by grace) would "break forth into innumerable transgressions, and greatest "rebellions against the Lord that ever were committed by "the vilest of the sons of men. And, next, by reason of "actual sins, our own sins, the sins of magistrates, of mi"nisters, and of the whole nation, unto which we are many "ways accessory: which sins of ours receive many fear"ful aggravations, we having broken all the commandments
 "of the high and just and good law of God, doing that which "is forbidden, and leaving undone what is enjoined; and "that not only out of ignorance and infirmity, but also "more presumptuously, against the light of our minds,
 "checks of our consciences, and motions of his own HOLY "SPIRIT to the contrary, so that we have no cloak for our "sins; yea, not only despising the riches of God's good"ness, forbearance, and long-suffering, but standing out "against many invitations and offers of grace in the gospel;
 "not endeavouring, as we ought, to receive CHRIST into "our hearts by faith, or to walk worthy of him in our lives.

"To bewail our blindness of mind, hardness of heart,
 "unbelief, impenitency, security, lukewarmness, barren"ness; our not endeavouring after mortification and new"ness of life, nor after the exercise of godliness in the "power thereof; and that the best of us have not so sted-
 "fastly walked with God, kept our garments so unspotted,
 "nor been so zealous of his glory, and the good of others,
 "as we ought: and to mourn over such other sins as the "congregation is particularly guilty of, notwithstanding the "manifold and great mercies of our God, the love of "CHRIST, the light of the gospel, and reformation of reli"gion, our own purposes, promises, vows, and other spe"cial obligations to the contrary.

"To acknowledge and confess, that, as we are convinced "of our guilt, so, out of a deep sense thereof, we judge "ourselves unworthy of the smallest benefits, most worthy "of God's fiercest wrath, and of all the curses of the law,
 "and heaviest judgments inflicted upon the most rebellious
 "sinners; and that he might most justly take his kingdom
 "and gospel from us, plague us with all sorts of spiritual
 "and temporal judgments in this life, and afterwards cast us "into outer darkness in the lake that burneth with fire and “ brimstone, where is weeping and gnashing of teeth forever more.

“ Notwithstanding all which, to draw near to the throne of grace, encouraging ourselves with hope of a gracious answer of our prayers, in the riches and all-sufficiency of that only one oblation, the satisfaction and intercession of the LORD JESUS CHRIST, at the right hand of his Father and our Father ; and in confidence of the exceeding great and precious promises of mercy and grace in the new covenant, through the same Mediator thereof, to deprecate the heavy wrath and curse of God, which we are not able to avoid, or bear ; and humbly and earnestly to supplicate for mercy in the free and full remission of all our sins, and that only for the bitter sufferings and precious merits of that our only Saviour JESUS CHRIST.

“ That the Lord would vouchsafe to shed abroad his love in our hearts by the HOLY GHOST ; seal unto us, by the same Spirit of adoption, the full assurance of our pardon and reconciliation ; comfort all that mourn in Zion, speak peace to the wounded and troubled spirit, and bind up the broken-hearted : and as for secure and presumptuous sinners, that he would open their eyes convince their consciences, and turn them from darkness unto light and from the power of Satan unto God, that they also may receive forgiveness of sin, and an inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in CHRIST JESUS.

“ With remission of sins through the blood of Christ, to pray for sanctification by his Spirit ; the mortification of sin dwelling in, and many times tyrannizing over us ; the quickening of our dead spirits with the life of God in CHRIST ; grace to fit and enable us for all duties of conversation and callings towards God and men ; strength against temptations ; the sanctified use of blessings and crosses ; and perseverance in faith and obedience unto the end.

“ To pray for the propagation of the gospel and kingdom of CHRIST to all nations ; for the conversion of the Jews, the fulness of the Gentiles, the fall of Antichrist, and the hastening of the second coming of our LORD ; for the deliverance of the distressed churches abroad from the tyranny of the Antichristian faction, and from the cruel oppressions and blasphemies of the Turk ; for the blessing of God upon all the reformed churches, espe"cially upon the churches in the United States of America :

 " more particularly for that church whereof we are mem- " bers, that therein God would establish peace and truth,
 " the purity of all his ordinances, and the power of godli-
 " ness ; prevent and remove heresy, schism, profaneness,
 " superstition, security, and unfruitfulness under the means
 " of grace ; heal all our rents and divisions, and preserve
 " us from declensions in the ways of holiness.

" To pray for all in authority ; especially the President " of the United States ; that God would make him rich in " blessings, both in his person and administration, establish " his rule in religion and righteousness, save him from evil
 " counsel, and make him a blessed and glorious instrument
 " for the conservation and propagation of the gospel, for " the encouragement and protection of them that do well,
 " the terror of all that do evil, and the great good of the " whole church, and of all these States : for a blessing up-
 " on both Houses of Congress (when sitting,) upon the " Governors and Legislatures of the several States ; more " especially of the States in which we immediately reside ;
 " on the subordinate judges and officers ; and on the citi- " zens at large : for all pastors and teachers, that God
 " would fill them with his Spirit, make them exemplarily
 " holy ; sober, just, peaceable, and gracious in their lives ;
 " sound, faithful and powerful in their ministry ; and follow
 " all their labours with abundance of success and blessings,
 " and give unto all his people pastors according to his own
 " heart : for such as design the holy ministry : for univer- " sities, and all schools and religious seminaries, that they " may flourish in learning and piety : for the particular
 " city or congregation, that God would pour out a blessing
 " upon the ministry of the word, sacraments and discipline ;
 " upon the civil government, and all the several families
 " and persons therein : for mercy to the afflicted under any
 " inward or outward distress : for seasonable weather and
 " fruitful seasons, as the time may require : for averting
 " the judgments, that we either feel or fear, or are liable
 " unto, as famine, pestilence, the sword, and such like.

" And with confidence of his mercy to his whole church,
 " and the acceptance of our persons, through the merits
 " and mediation of our high priest, the LORD JESUS, to " profess that it is the desire of our souls to have fellow- " ship with God in the reverend and conscientious use of
 " his holy ordinances ; and, to that purpose, to pray ear- “ nestly for his grace and effectual assistance to the sancti“ fication of his holy Sabbath, the LORD’s day, in all the “ duties thereof, public and private, both to ourselves and “ to all other congregations of his people, according to the “ riches and excellency of the gospel this day celebrated “ and enjoyed.

“ And because we have been unprofitable hearers in “ times past, and now cannot of ourselves receive, as we “ should, the deep things of God, the mysteries of Jesus “ Christ, which require a spiritual discerning ; to pray that
 “ the Lord, who teacheth to profit, would graciously please
 “ to pour out the Spirit of grace, together with the outward “ means thereof, causing us to attain such a measure of the “ excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord, “ and, in him, of the things which belong to our peace, that “ we may account all things but as dross in comparison of “ him : and that we, tasting the first fruits of the glory that “ is to be revealed, may long for a full and perfect commu“ nion with him, that where he is we may be also, and en“ joy the fulness of those joys and pleasures which are at “ his right hand for evermore.

“ More particularly, that God would, in a special man“ ner, furnish his servant (now called to dispense the “ bread of life unto his household) with wisdom, fidelity, “ zeal and utterance, that he may divide the word of God “ aright, to every one his portion, in evidence and demon“ stration of the Spirit and power ; and that the Lord would “ circumscribe the ears and hearts of the hearers, to hear, “ love, and receive with meekness the ingrafted word,
 “ which is able to save their souls ; make them as good “ ground to receive in the good seed of the word, and “ strengthen them against the temptations of Satan, the “ cares of the world, the hardness of their own hearts,
 “ and whatsoever else may hinder their profitable and sav“ ing hearing ; that so Christ may be so formed in them, “ and live in them, that all their thoughts may be brought “ into captivity to the obedience of Christ, and their hearts “ established in every good word and work forever.”

We judge this to be a convenient order, in the ordinary public prayer ; yet so, as the minister may defer (as in prudence he shall think meet) some part of these petitions till after his sermon, or offer up to God some of the thanksgivings hereafter appointed, in his prayer before his sermon.

SECTION V. Of the PREACHING of the WORD.

1. Preaching of the word, being the power of God unto salvation, and one of the greatest and most excellent works belonging to the ministry of the gospel, should be so performed, that the workman need not be ashamed, but may save himself, and those that hear him.

2. It is presupposed (according to the rules for ordination,) that the minister of Christ is in some good measure gifted for so weighty a service, by his skill in the original languages, and in such arts and sciences as are handmaids unto divinity; by his knowledge in the whole body of theology, but most of all in the holy scriptures, having his senses and heart exercised in them above the common sort of believers; and by the illumination of God's Spirit, and other gifts of edification, which (together with reading and studying of the word) he ought still to seek by prayer, and an humble heart, resolving to admit and receive any truth not yet attained, whenever God shall make it known unto him. All which he is to make use of, and improve, in his private preparations, before he deliver in public what he hath provided.

3. Ordinarily, the subject of his sermon is to be some text of scripture, holding forth some principle or head of religion, or suitable to some special occasion; or he may go on in some chapter, psalm, or book of the holy scripture, as he shall see fit.

4. Let the introduction to his text be brief and perspicuous, drawn from the text itself, or context, or some parallel place, or general sentence of scripture.

5. If the text be long (as in histories or parables it some times must be,) let him give a brief sum of it; if short, a paraphrase thereof, if need be: in both, looking diligently to the scope of the text, and pointing at the chief heads and grounds of doctrine which he is to raise from it.

6. In analysing and dividing his text, he is to regard more the order of matter than of words: and neither to burden the memory of the hearers in the beginning with too many members of division, nor to trouble their minds with obscure terms of art.

7. In raising doctrines from the text, his care ought to be, First, That the matter be the truth of God. Secondly, That it be a truth contained in or grounded on that text, that the hearers may discern how God teacheth it from thence. Thirdly, That he chiefly insist upon those doctrines which are principally intended, and make most for the edification of the hearers.

8. The doctrine is to be expressed in plain terms; or, if any thing in it need explication, it is to be opened, and the consequence also from the text cleared. The parallel places of scripture confirming the doctrine are rather to be plain and pertinent than many; and, (if need be,) somewhat insisted upon, and applied to the purpose in hand.

9. The arguments or reasons are to be solid, and as much as may be, convincing. The illustrations, of what kind soever, ought to be full of light, and such as may convey the truth into the hearers' heart with spiritual delight.

10. If any doubt, obvious from scripture, reason, or prejudice of the hearers, seem to arise, it is very requisite to remove it, by reconciling the seeming differences, answering the reasons, and discovering and taking away the causes of prejudice and mistake. Otherwise it is not fit to detain the hearers with propounding or answering vain or wicked cavils, which, as they are endless, so the propounding and answering of them doth more hinder than promote edification.

11. He is not to rest in general doctrine, although ever so much cleared and confirmed, but to bring it home to special use, by application to his hearers: which, although it prove a work of great difficulty to himself, requiring much prudence, zeal and meditation, and to the natural and corrupt man will be very unpleasant; yet he is to endeavour to perform it in such a manner, that his auditors may feel the word of God to be quick and powerful, and a discern-er of the thoughts and intents of the heart; and that, if any unbeliever or ignorant person be present, he may have the secrets of his heart made manifest, and give glory to God.

12. In the use of instruction or information in the knowledge of some truth, which is a consequence from his doctrine, he may (when convenient) confirm it by a few firm arguments from the text in hand, and other places of scripture, or from the nature of that common place in divinity, whereof that truth is a branch.

13. In confutation of false doctrines, he is neither to raise an old heresy from the grave, nor to mention a blasphemous opinion unnecessarily: but, if the people be in danger of an error, he is to confute it soundly, and endeavvour to satisfy their judgments and consciences against all objections.

14. In exhorting to duties, he is, as he seeth cause, to teach also the means that help to the performance of them.

15. In delhortation, reprehension, and public admonition, (which require special wisdom,) let him, as there shall be cause, not only discover the nature and greatness of the sin, with the misery attending it, but also shew the danger his hearers are in to be overtaken and surprized by it, together with the remedies and best way to avoid it.

16. In applying comfort, whether general against all temptations, or particular against some special troubles or terrors, he is carefully to answer such objections as a troubled heart and afflicted spirit may suggest to the contrary.

17. It is also sometimes requisite to give some notes of trial, (which is very profitable, especially when performed by able and experienced ministers, with circumspection and prudence, and the signs clearly grounded on the holy scripture,) whereby the hearers may be able to examine themselves whether they have attained those graces, and performed those duties, to which he exhorteth; or be guilty of the sin reprehended, and in danger of the judgments threatened; or be those to whom the consolations propounded do belong; that accordingly they may be quickened and excited to duty, humbled for their wants and sins, affected with their danger, and strengthened with comfort, as their condition, upon examination, shall require.

18. And, as he needeth not always to prosecute every doctrine which lies in his text, so is he wisely to make choice of such uses, as, by his residence and conversing with his flock, he findeth most needful and seasonable; and, amongst these, such as may be most effectual to draw their souls to CHRIST, the fountain of light, holiness and comfort.

19. This method is not prescribed as necessary for every man, or upon every text; but only recommended, as being found by experience to be very much blessed of God, and very helpful for the people's understandings and memories.

20. But the servant of CHRIST, whatever his method be, is to perform his whole ministry.

1st. Painfully, not doing the work of the Lorn negligently.

2d. Plainly, that the weakest may understand; delivering the truth not in the enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the SPIRIT and of power, lest the cross of CHRIST should be made of none effect ; abstaining also from an unprofitable use of unknown tongues, strange phrases, and cadences of sounds and words ; sparingly citing sentences of ecclesiastical or other human writers, ancient or modern, be they ever so elegant.

3d. Faithfully, looking at the honour of CHRIST, the conversion, edification and salvation of the people, not at his own gain or glory ; keeping nothing back which may promote those holy ends ; giving to every one his own portion, and bearing indifferent respect unto all, without neglecting the meanest, or sparing the greatest, in their sins.

4th. Wisely, framing all his doctrines, exhortations, and especially his reproofs, in such a manner as may be most likely to prevail ; shewing all due respect to each man's person and place, and not mixing his own passion or bitterness.

5th. Gravely, as becometh the word of God ; shunning all such gesture, voice and expressions, as may occasion the corruptions of men to despise him and his ministry.

6th. With loving affection, that the people may see all coming from his godly zeal, and hearty desire to do them good. And,

7th. As taught of God, and persuaded in his own heart, that all that he teacheth is the truth of CHRIST ; and walking before his flock, as an example to them in it ; earnestly, both in private and public, recommending his labours to the blessing of God, and watchfully looking to himself, and the flock whereof the Lord hath made him overseer : So shall the doctrine of truth be preserved uncorrupt, many souls be converted and built up, and himself receive manifold comforts of his labours even in this life, and afterwards the crown of glory laid up for him in the world to come.

21. Where there are more ministers in a congregation than one, and they of different gifts, each may more especially apply himself to doctrine or exhortation, according to the gift wherein he most excelleth, and as they shall agree between themselves.

SECTION VI. Of PRAYER after SERMON.

1. The sermon being ended, the minister is "To give thanks for the great love of God, in sending his Son JESUS CHRIST unto us ; for the communication of his HOLY SPIRIT ; for the light and liberty of the glorious gospel, and the rich and heavenly blessings revealed therein : &c."

"namely, election, vocation, adoption, justification, sanctification, and hope of glory; and for the admirable goodness of God in casting our lot in a land of civil and religious liberty, where, in nothing terrified by our adversaries we may serve him in holiness and righteousness, without fear, all the days of our lives.

"To pray for the continuance of the gospel, and all ordinances thereof, in their purity, power, and liberty: to turn the chief and most useful heads of the sermon into some few petitions; and to pray that it may abide in the heart, and bring forth fruit.

"To pray for preparation for death and judgment, and a watching for the coming of our LORD JESUS CHRIST: to entreat of God the forgiveness of the iniquities of our holy things, and the acceptance of our spiritual sacrifice, through the merit and mediation of our High Priest and Saviour the LORD JESUS CHRIST."

2. And because the prayer which CHRIST taught his disciples is not only a pattern of prayer, but itself a most comprehensive prayer, it may also be used in the prayers of the church.

3. And whereas, at the administration of the sacraments, the holding public fasts and days of thanksgiving, and other special occasions, which may afford matter of special petitions and thanksgivings, it is requisite to express somewhat in our public prayers, every minister is herein to apply himself in his prayer, before or after sermon, to those occasions; but, for the manner, he is left to his liberty, as God shall direct and enable him, in piety and wisdom to discharge his duty.

4. The prayer ended, let a psalm, or part of a psalm, be sung, if with conveniency it may be done. After which, (unless some other ordinance of CHRIST that concerneth the congregation at that time be to follow,) let the minister dismiss the congregation with the apostolical benediction.

SECTION VII. Of the ADMINISTRATION of the SACRAMENTS.

And, first, of Baptism.

1. Baptism, as it is not unnecessarily to be delayed, so it is not to be administered in any case by any private person, but by a minister of CHRIST, called to be the steward of the mysteries of God.

2. Nor is it to be administered in private places, or privately, but in a place of public worship, and in the face of the congregation, where the people may most conveniently see and hear : nor is it to be prostituted to the purposes of worldly gain.

3. The child to be baptized, after due notice given to the minister, is to be presented by the father ; in case of his death, or necessary absence, or incapacity of taking upon him the requisite vows, by the mother. Those sponsors, commonly called godfathers and godmothers, are utterly disallowed.

4. Before baptism, the minister, if he shall judge it necessary, is to use some words of instruction, touching the institution, nature, use, and ends of this sacrament : shewing,

“ That it is instituted by our LORD JESUS CHRIST : that “ it is a seal of the covenant of grace, of our ingrafting into “ CHRIST, and of our union with him ; of remission of sins, “ regeneration, adoption, and life eternal : that the water “ in baptism representeth and signifieth both the blood of “ CHRIST, which taketh away all guilt of sin original and “ actual, and the sanctifying virtue of the SPIRIT of CHRIST “ against the dominion of sin, and the corruption of our “ sinful nature : that baptizing, or sprinkling and washing
 “ with water, signifieth the cleansing from sin by the blood
 “ and for the merit of CHRIST, together with the mortifica“ tion of sin, and rising from sin to newness of life, by vir“ tue of the death and resurrection of CHRIST : that the “ promise is made to believers and their seed ; and that “ the seed and posterity of the faithful, born within the “ church, have, by their birth, a visible interest in the “ covenant, and right to the seal of it, and to the outward “ privileges of the church, under the gospel, no less than “ the children of Abraham, in the time of the Old Testa“ ment ; the covenant of grace, for substance, being the “ same ; and the grace of God, and the consolation of be“ lievers, more plentiful than before ; that the Son of God “ admitted little children into his presence, embracing and “ blessing them, saying, For of such is the kingdom of God :
 “ that children, by baptism, are solemnly acknowledged as “ members of the visible church, distinguished from the “ world, and them that are without, and united with be“ lievers ; and that all who are baptized in the name of “ CHRIST, do renounce, and by their baptism are bound to “ fight against, the devil, the world, and the flesh : that “ they are Christians, and federally holy before baptism.

“and therefore are they baptised: that the inward grace “and virtue of baptism is not tied to that very moment of “time wherein it is administered; and that the fruit and “power thereof reach to the whole course of our life:
 “and that outward baptism is not so necessary, that through “the want thereof the infant is in danger of damnation, or “the parents guilty if they do not condemn or neglect the “ordinance of CHRIST, when and where it may be had.”

In these or the like instructions, the minister is to use his own liberty and godly wisdom, as the ignorance or errors in the doctrine of baptism, and the edification of the people, shall require.

5. HE IS ALSO TO ADMONISH ALL THAT ARE PRESENT

“To look back to their baptism; to repent of their sins “against their covenant with God; to stir up their faith;
 “to improve and make right use of their baptism, and of “the covenant sealed thereby betwixt God and their souls.”

6. HE IS TO REQUIRE THE PARENT

“To profess his faith in the holy scriptures of the Old “and New Testaments, as the word of the living God; the “perfect and only rule of faith and practice, to which no“thing is to be added, and from which nothing is to be ta“ken, at any time, or upon any pretext, whether of new “revelations of the SPIRIT, or traditions of men; together “with his approbation of the Westminster Confession of “Faith and Catechisms; the form of Presbyterial govern“ment, and the directory for public worship, as received
 “by this church—to promise, if it shall please God to spare “him with his child, to bring *him up in the nurture and “admonition of the LORD; to instruct him, according to “his ability, in the knowledge of his miserable condition
 “by nature, and of the way of salvation by JESUS CHRIST;
 “to press upon him his obligation; in virtue of his baptis“mal vows, to shew forth the LORD’s death at his table;
 “to set a godly example before his child; by praying with “him and for him; by worshipping the LORD regularly, “morning and evening, agreeably to the directory for fam“ily worship; and by studying, in all things, so to walk
 “even as CHRIST also walked.”

7. This being done, prayer is also to be joined with the word of institution, for sanctifying the water to this spirit-

* Or HER, as the case may be.

nal use ; and the minister is to pray to this or the like effect :

“ That the LORD, who hath not left us as strangers without the covenant of promise, but called us to the privileges of his ordinances, would graciously vouchsafe to sanctify and bless his own ordinance of baptism at this time : that he would joyn the inward baptism of his Spirit with the outward baptism of water ; make this baptism to the infant a seal of adoption, remission of sin, regeneration, and eternal life, and all other promises of the covenant of grace : that the child may be planted into the likeness of the death and resurrection of CHRIST ; and that the body of sin being destroyed in him, he may serve God in newness of life all his days.”

8. Then the minister is to demand the name of the child ; which being told him, he is to say (calling the child by his name.)

I baptize thee in the name of the FATHER, and of the SON, and of the HOLY GHOST.

As he pronounceth these words, he is to baptize the child with water : which, for the manner of doing it, is not only lawful but sufficient, and most expedient to be, by pouring or sprinkling of the water on the face of the child, without adding any other ceremony.

9. This done, he is to give thanks and pray, to this or the like purpose :

“ Acknowledging, with all thankfulness, that the LORD is true and faithful in keeping covenant and mercy : That he is good and gracious, not only in that he numbereth us among his saints, but is pleased also to bestow upon our children this singular token and badge of his love in CHRIST : that, in his truth and special providence, he daily bringeth some into the bosom of his church, to be partakers of his inestimable benefits, purchased by the blood of his dear SON, for the continuance and increase of his church.

“ And praying that the LORD would still continue, and daily confirm more and more this his unspeakable favour : that he would receive the infant now baptized, and solemnly entered into the household of faith, into his fatherly tuition and defence, and remember him with the favour that he sheweth to his people ; that, if he shall be taken out of this life in his infancy, the LORD, who is rich in mercy, would be pleased to receive him up into glory ;

“ and if he live, and attain the years of discretion, that the “ LORD would so teach him by his word and SPIRIT, and “ make his baptism effectual to him, and so uphold him, by “ his divine power and grace, that by faith he may prevail “ against the devil, the world, and the flesh, till in the end “ he obtain a full and final victory, and so be kept by the “ power of God through faith unto salvation, through JESUS “ CHRIST our LORD.

SECONDLY. *Of the CELEBRATION of the COMMUNION, or SACRAMENT
 of the LORD'S SUPPER.*

1. The communion, or supper of the LORD, is frequently to be celebrated; but how often, may be considered and determined by the ministers, and other church-governors of each congregation, as they shall find most convenient for the comfort and edification of the people committed to their charge. And, when it shall be administered, it is convenient to be done after the morning sermon.

2. The ignorant and the scandalous are not fit to receive this sacrament of the LORD'S supper.

3. Where this sacrament cannot with convenience be frequently administered, it is requisite that public warning be given the sabbath-day before the administration thereof: and that either then, or on some day of that week, something concerning that ordinance, and the due preparation thereunto, and participation thereof, be taught; that, by the diligent use of all means sanctified of God to that end, both in public and private, all may come better prepared to that heavenly feast.

4. When the day is come for administration, the minister, having ended his sermon and prayer, shall make a short exhortation, “ Expressing the inestimable benefit we have by this sacrament, together with the ends and use thereof; setting forth the great necessity of having our comforts and strength renewed thereby in this our pilgrimage and warfare: how necessary it is that we come unto it with knowledge, faith, repentance, love, and with hungering and thirsting souls after CHRIST and his benefits: how great the danger to eat and drink unworthily.

“ Next, he is, in the name of CHRIST, on the one part, to warn all such as are ignorant, scandalous, profane, or that live in any sin or offence against their knowledge or conscience, that they presume not to come to that holy

“table; shewing them, that he that eateth and drinketh “unworthily, eateth and drinketh judgment unto himself:
 “and that the warning may be more particular and point“ed, he may either briefly sum up the violations of the “several precepts of the moral law, or read a few of such “passages of scripture as describe the characters of unre-“generated men; as 1 Cor. vi. 9, 10. Gal. v. 19—21.
 “1 Tim. i. 9, 10, &c. or do both; and, on the other part,
 “he is in an especial manner to invite and encourage all
 “that labour under the sense of the burden of their sins, “and fear of wrath, and desire to reach out unto a greater “progress in grace than yet they can attain unto, to come “to the LORD’s table; assuring them, in the same name, “of ease, refreshing and strength, to their weak and wearied souls.”

5. After this exhortation, warning and invitation, the table being before decently covered, and so conveniently placed, that the communicants may orderly sit about it, or at it, the minister is to begin the action with sanctifying and blessing the elements of bread and wine set before (the bread in comely and convenient vessels, so prepared, that, being broken by him, and given, it may be distributed amongst the communicants; the wine also in large cups,) having first, in a few words, shewed that those elements, otherwise common, are now set apart and sanctified to this holy use, by the word of institution and prayer.

6. Let the words of institution be read out of the Evangelists, or out of the first Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Corinthians, chap. xi. 23. I have received of the Lord, &c. to the 27th verse, which the minister may, when he seeth requisite, explain and apply.

7. Let the prayer, thanksgiving, or blessing of the bread and wine, be to this effect:

“With humble and hearty acknowledgment of the greatness of our misery, from which neither man nor angel “was able to deliver us, and of our great unworthiness of
 “the least of all God’s mercies; to give thanks to God for “all his benefits, and especially for that great benefit of our “redemption, the love of GOD the FATHER, the sufferings
 “and merits of the LORD JESUS CHRIST the Son of God,
 “by which we are delivered; and for all means of grace,
 “the word and sacraments: and for this sacrament in particular,
 “by which CHRIST and all his benefits are applied.”

"and sealed up unto us; which, notwithstanding the denial "of them unto others, are in great mercy continued unto "us, after so much and long abuse of them all.

"To profess, that there is no other name under heaven
 "by which we can be saved, but by the name of JESUS "CHRIST, by whom alone we receive liberty and life;
 "have access to the throne of grace; are admitted to eat
 "and drink at his own table; and are sealed up by his "SPIRIT, to an assurance of happiness and everlasting life.

"Earnestly to pray to God, the FATHER of all mercies,
 "and God of all consolation, to vouchsafe his gracious
 "presence, and the effectual working of his SPIRIT in us;
 "and so to sanctify these elements, both of bread and wine,
 "and to bless his own ordinance, that we may receive by "faith the body and blood of JESUS CHRIST crucified for "us, and so feed upon him, that he may be one with us, "and we one with him; that he may live in us, and we in
 "him, and to him who hath loved us, and given himself
 "for us."

8. All which he is to endeavor to perform with suitable affections, answerable to such an holy action, and to stir up the like in the people.

9. The elements being now sanctified by the word and prayer, the minister, being at the table, is to take the bread in his hand, and say, in these expressions (or other the like, used by CHRIST or his apostle upon this occasion):

"According to the holy institution, command, and example of our blessed Saviour Jesus Christ, I take this bread; and, having given thanks, break it, and give it unto you"—(here the minister is to break the bread, and give it to the communicants;) "Take ye, eat ye; this is the body of CHRIST which is broken for you: do this in remembrance of him."

In like manner the minister is to take the cup, and say, in these expressions (or other the like, used by CHRIST or the apostle upon the same occasion):

"According to the institution, command, and example of our Lord Jesus Christ, I take this cup, and give it unto you"—(here he giveth it to the communicants;) "This cup is the new testament in the blood of Christ, which is shed for the remission of the sin of many: drink ye all of it." The minister himself is also to communicate.

10. After all have communicated, the minister may, in a few words, put them in mind

"Of the grace of God in Jesus Christ, held forth in this sacrament; and exhort them to walk worthy of it."

The minister is to give solemn thanks to God

"For his rich mercy, and invaluable goodness, vouchsafed to them in that sacrament; and to intreat for pardon for the defects of the whole service, and for the gracious assistance of his good Spirit, whereby they may be enabled to walk in the strength of that grace, as becometh those who have received so great pledges of salvation."

11. Collections, where made, are so to be ordered, that no part of the public worship be thereby hindered.

1. The Lord's day ought to be so remembered beforehand, as that all worldly business of our callings may be so ordered, and so timely and seasonably laid aside, as they may not be impediments to the due sanctifying of the day when it comes.

2. The whole day is to be celebrated as holy to the Lord, both in public and private, as being the Christian sabbath. To which end, it is requisite that there be a holy cessation or resting all that day from all unnecessary labours; and an abstaining, not only from all sports and pastimes, but also from all worldly words and thoughts.*

3. That the diet on that day be so ordered, as that neither servants be unnecessarily detained from the public worship of God, nor any other person hindered from the sanctifying that day.

4. That there be private preparations of every person and family, by prayer for themselves, and for God's assistance of the minister, and for a blessing upon his ministry; and by such other holy exercises, as may further dispose them to a more comfortable communion with God in his public ordinances.

5. That all the people meet so timely for public worship, that the whole congregation may be present at the beginning, and with one heart solemnly join together in all parts of the public worship, and not part till after the blessing.

6. That what time is vacant, between or after the solemn meetings of the congregation in public, be spent in reading, meditation, repetition of sermons; especially by calling their families to an account of what they have heard, and catechising of them ; holy conferences ; prayer for a blessing upon the public ordinances ; singing of psalms ; visiting the sick ; relieving the poor ; and such like duties of piety, charity and mercy, accounting the sabbath a delight.

SECTION IX. Of Catechising.

1. Catechising is a plain and familiar method of conveying religious instruction, and is an essential part of ministerial duty.

2. For this purpose it is warrantable and necessary, to use concise and judicious abridgements of Christian doctrine, particularly in the form of question and answer.

3. The Larger and Shorter Catechisms are to be employed by ministers in their catechetical exercises. The latter, especially, is to be committed to memory, and repeated by the catechumens. As introductory to this, for the help of the young and ignorant, the smaller catechisms, authorised for that purpose, are to be previously learned.

4. That this excellent ordinance may be attended with suitable effects, the minister is carefully to adapt his instructions to the capacities and improvements of his catechumens—He is to condescend, with the utmost tenderness, to the ignorant, the weak, and the timid ; studiously avoiding whatever may confound or expose them—He is to lead his catechumens, in a regular and methodical order, from first principles, and the more obvious fundamental points, to a more enlarged view of those truths which necessarily arise out of them, and which, though equally useful, are less evident—He is not to debase the ordinance by using it as an occasion for displaying his own wit ; or for indulging in trifling and abstruse speculations ; or for promoting the strife of party—And he is, with all fidelity, seriously and solemnly to press the truths which he explains, on the consciences and hearts of those who hear him.

5. It is expedient that the catechumens be divided into classes according to their age and knowledge. But the particular arrangement, being materially affected by local circumstances, is left to the discretion of ministers.

SECTION X. Concerning Visitation of the Sick.

1. It is the duty of the minister not only to teach the people committed to his charge in public, but privately ; and particularly to admonish, exhort, reprove and comfort them, upon all seasonable occasions, so far as his time, strength and personal safety will permit.

2. He is to admonish them in time of health to prepare for death ; and, for that purpose, they are often to confer with their minister about the estate of their souls ; and, in times of sickness, to desire his advice and help, timely and seasonably, before their strength and understanding fail them.

3. Times of sickness and affliction are special opportunities put into his hand by God to minister a word in season to weary souls ; because then the consciences of men are, or should be, more awakened to bethink themselves of their spiritual estate for eternity ; and Satan also takes advantage then to load them more with sore and heavy temptations : therefore, the minister, being sent for, and repairing to the sick, is to apply himself, with all tenderness and love, to administer some spiritual good to the afflicted, to this effect :

4. He may, from the consideration of the present sickness, instruct him out of scripture, that diseases come not by chance, or by distempers of body only, but by the wise and orderly guidance of the good hand of God to every particular person smitten by them. And that, whether it be laid upon him out of displeasure for sin, for his correction and amendment, or for trial and exercise of his graces, or for other special and excellent ends, all his sufferings shall turn to his profit, and work together for his good, if he sincerely labour to make a sanctified use of God's visitation, neither despising his chastening, nor waxing weary of his correction.

5. If he suspect him of ignorance, he shall examine him in the principles of religion, especially touching repentance and faith ; and, as he seeth cause, instruct him in the nature, use, excellency, and necessity, of those graces ; as also touching the covenant of grace, and CHRIST the Son of God, the Mediator of it ; and, concerning remission of sins by faith in him.

6. He shall exhort the sick person to examine himself, to search and try his former ways, and his estate towards God.

And if the sick person shall declare any scruple, doubt, or temptation that are upon him, instructions and resolutions shall be given to satisfy and settle him.

7. If it appear that he hath not a due sense of his sins, endeavours ought to be used to convince him of his sins; of the guilt and desert of them; of the filth and pollution which the soul contracts by them; and of the curse of the law, and wrath of God, due to them; that he may be truly affected with and humbled for them; and withal to make known the danger of deferring repentance, and of neglecting salvation at any time offered; to awaken his conscience, and rouse him up out of a stupid and secure condition, to apprehend the justice and wrath of God before whom none can stand, but he that, lost in himself, layeth hold upon Christ by faith.

8. If he hath endeavoured to walk in the ways of holiness, and to serve God in uprightness, although not without many failings and infirmities; or, if his spirit be broken with the sense of sin, or cast down through want of the sense of God's favour; then it will be fit to raise him up, by setting before him the freeness and fulness of God's grace, the sufficiency of righteousness in Christ, the gracious offers in the gospel, that all who repent, and believe with all their heart in God's mercy through Christ, renouncing their own righteousness, shall have life and salvation in him. It may be also useful to shew him, that death hath in it no spiritual evil to be feared by those that are in Christ, because sin, the sting of death, is taken away by Christ, who hath delivered all that are his from the bondage of the fear of death, triumphed over the grave, given us victory, is himself entered into glory to prepare a place for his people; so that neither life nor death shall be able to separate them from God's love in Christ, in whom such are sure, though now they must be laid in the dust, to obtain a joyful and glorious resurrection to eternal life.

9. Advice also may be given, as to beware of an ill-grounded persuasion on mercy, or on the goodness of his condition for heaven, so to disclaim all merit in himself, and to cast himself wholly upon God for mercy, in the sole merits and mediation of Jesus Christ, who hath engaged himself never to cast off them who in truth and sincerity come unto him. Care also must be taken that the sick person be not cast down into despair, by such a severe representation of the wrath of God due to him for his sins, as is not mollified by a sensible propounding of Christ and his merit for a door of hope to every penitent believer.

10. When the sick person is best composed, may be least disturbed, and other necessary offices about him least hindered, the minister, if desired, shall pray with him, and for him, to this effect :

“ Confessing and bewailing of sin original and actual :
 “ the miserable condition of all by nature, as being children
 “ of wrath, and under the curse ; acknowledging that all “ diseases, sicknesses, death, and hell itself, are the proper “ issues and effects thereof ; imploring God’s mercy for the “ sick person, through the blood of Christ ; beseeching
 “ that God would open his eyes, discover unto him his sins, “ cause him to see himself lost in himself, make known to “ him the cause why God smiteth him, reveal Jesus Christ “ to his soul for righteousness and life ; give unto him his “ Holy Spirit, to create and strengthen faith to lay hold upon “ on Christ, to work in him comfortable evidences of his “ love, to arm him against temptations, to take off his heart
 “ from the world, to sanctify his present visitation, to furnish him with patience and strength to bear it, and to give “ him perseverance in faith to the end.

“ That, if God shall please to add to his days, he would “ vouchsafe to bless and sanctify all means of his recovery ;
 “ to remove the disease, renew his strength, and enable “ him to walk worthy of God, by a faithful remembrance, “ and diligent observing, of such vows and promises of holiness and obedience, as men are apt to make in times of “ sickness, that he may glorify God in the remaining part “ of his life.

“ And, if God have determined to finish his days by the “ present visitation, that he may find such evidence of the “ pardon of all his sins, of his interest in Christ, and eternal life by Christ, as may cause his inward man to be renewed, while his outward man decayeth ; that he may “ behold death without fear, cast himself wholly upon “ Christ, without doubting, desire to be dissolved and to be
 “ with Christ, and so receive the end of his faith, the salvation of his soul, through the only merits and intercession
 “ of the Lord Jesus Christ, our alone Saviour and all sufficient Redeemer.”

11. The minister shall admonish him also (as there shall be cause,) to set his house in order, thereby to prevent inconveniencies ; to take care for payment of his debts, and to make restitution or satisfaction where he hath done any wrong ; to be reconciled to those with whom he hath been at variance, and fully to forgive all men their trespasses against him, as he expects forgiveness at the hand of God

Lastly, The minister may improve the present occasion to exhort those about the sick person to consider their own mortality, to return to the Lord, and make peace with him; in health to prepare for sickness, death, and judgment; and all the days of their appointed time so to wait until their change come, that when Christ, who is our life, shall appear, they may appear with him in glory.

Chapter IV.

Concerning Extraordinary Days for Public Worship.

1. THERE is no day commanded in scripture to be kept holy under the gospel but the Lord's Day, which is the Christian sabbath.

2. Festival-Days, vulgarly called Holy-Days, having no warrant in the word of God, are not to be observed.

3. Nevertheless, it is lawful and necessary, upon special emergent occasions, to separate a day, or days, for public fasting or thanksgiving, as the several eminent and extraordinary dispensations of God's providence shall administer cause and opportunity to his people.

4. The reason of devoting any part of our time to extraordinary religious worship being laid, not in the will of man, but in the will of God, declared in his word, and manifested in the extraordinary dispensations of his providence, no human authority can create any obligation to observe such days. Nevertheless, when the call of providence is clear, civil or religious rulers may, for concentrating the general devotion, specify and recommend a particular season to be spent in fasting or thanksgiving. Nor, without very weighty reasons, are such recommendations to be disregarded.

Chapter V.

Concerning Public Solemn Fasting.

1. WHEN some great and notable judgments are either inflicted upon a people, or apparently imminent, or by some extraordinary provocations notoriously deserved; as also when some special blessing is to be sought and obtained ; public solemn fasting (which is to continue the whole day) is a duty that God expecteth from that nation or people.

2. A religious fast requires total abstinence, not only from all food (unless bodily weakness do manifestly disable from holding out till the fast be ended, in which case somewhat may be taken, yet very sparingly, to support nature, when ready to faint,) but also from all worldly labour, discourses and thoughts, and from all bodily delights, (although at other times lawful,) rich apparel, ornaments, and such like, during the fast ; and much more from whatever is scandalous and offensive, as gaudy attire, lascivious habits and gestures, and other vanities of either sex ; which we recommend to all ministers, in their places, diligently and zealously to reprove, as at other times, so especially at a fast, without respect of persons, as there shall be occasion.

3. Before the public meeting, each family and person apart are privately to use all religious care to prepare their hearts to such a solemn work, and to be early at the congregation.

4. So large a portion of the day as conveniently may be, is to be spent in public reading and preaching of the word, with singing of psalms, fit to quicken affections suitable to such a duty : but especially in prayer, to this or the like effect :

“ Giving glory to the great Majesty of God, the Creator, “ Preserver, and supreme Ruler of all the world, the bet“ ter to affect us thereby with an holy reverence and awe
 “ of him : acknowledging his manifold, great, and tender “ mercies, especially to the church and nation, the more “ effectually to soften and abase our hearts before him :
 “ humbly confessing our sins of all sorts, with their sev-
 “ ral aggravations ; justifying God’s righteous judgments, “ as being far less than our sins deserve ; yet humbly and “ earnestly imploring his mercy and grace for ourselves,
 “ the church and nation, for all in authority, and for all “ others for whom we are bound to pray (according as the
 “ nity and enlargement than at other times : applying by “ faith the promises and goodness of God for pardon, help
 “ and deliverance from the evils felt, feared, or deserved ;
 “ and for obtaining the blessings which we need and expect ;
 “ together with a giving up of ourselves wholly and for “ ever unto the Lord.”

5. In all these, the ministers, who are the mouths of the people unto God, ought so to speak, from their hearts, upon serious and thorough premeditation of them, that both themselves and their people may be much affected, and even melted thereby, especially with sorrow for their sins; that it may be indeed a day of deep humiliation and afflicting of the soul.

6. Special choice is to be made of such scriptures to be read, and of such texts for preaching, as may best work the hearts of the hearers to the special business of the day, and most dispose them to humiliation and repentance; insisting most on those particulars which each minister's observation and experience tell him are most conducing to the edification and reformation of that congregation to which he preacheth.

7. Before the close of the public duties, the minister is, in his own and the people's names, to engage his and their hearts to be the Lord's, with professed purpose and resolution to reform whatever is amiss among them, and more particularly such sins as they have been more remarkably guilty of; and to draw near unto God, and to walk more closely and faithfully with him in new obedience, than ever before.

8. He is also to admonish the people, with all importunity, that the work of that day doth not end with the public duties of it; but that they are so to improve the remainder of the day, and of their whole life, in inforcing upon themselves and their families, in private, all these godly affections and resolutions which they professed in public, as that they may be settled in their hearts for ever, and themselves may more sensibly find that God hath smelled a sweet savour in Christ from their performances, and is pacified towards them, by answers of grace, in pardoning of sin, in removing of judgments, in averting or preventing of plagues, and in conferring of blessings, suitable to the conditions and prayers of his people, by Jesus Christ.

9. Beside solemn and general fasts, we judge that at other times, congregations may keep days of fasting, as divine Providence shall administer unto them special occasion: and also that families may do the same, so it be not on days wherein the congregation to which they belong is to meet for fasting, or other public duties of worship.

Chapter VI.

Concerning the Observation of Days of Public Thanksgiving.

1. WHEN any such day is to be kept, let notice be given of it, and of the occasion thereof, some convenient time before, that the people may the better prepare themselves thereunto.

2. The day being come, and the congregation (after private preparations) being assembled, the minister is to begin with a word of exhortation, to stir up the people to the duty for which they are met, and with a short prayer for God's assistance and blessing (as at other conventions for public worship) according to the particular occasion of their meeting.

3. And, because singing of psalms is of all other the most proper ordinance for expressing of joy and thanksgiving, let some pertinent psalm or psalms be sung for that purpose, before or after the reading of some portion of the word suitable to the present business.

4. Then let the minister, who is to preach, proceed to further prayer before his sermon, with special reference to the present work; after which, let him preach upon some text of scripture pertinent to the occasion.

5. The sermon ended, let him not only pray; as at other times is directed, with remembrance of the necessities of the church and state, (if before the sermon they were omitted,) but enlarge himself in due and solemn thanksgiving for former mercies and deliverances; but more especially for that which at the present calls them together to give thanks: with humble petition for the continuance and renewing of God's wonted mercies, as need shall be, and for sanctifying grace to make a right use thereof. And so, having sung another psalm suitable to the mercy, let him dismiss the congregation with a blessing, that they may have some convenient time for their repast and refreshing.

6. But the minister (before their dismissal) is solemnly to admonish them to beware of all excess and riot, tending to gluttony or drunkenness, and much more of these sins themselves, in their eating and refreshing; and to take care that their mirth and rejoicing be not carnal, but spiritual, which may make God's praise to be glorious and themselves humble and sober; and that both their feeding and rejoicing may render them more cheerful and enlarged, further to celebrate his praises in the midst of the congregation, when they return unto it in the remaining part of the day.

7. When the congregation shall be again assembled, the like course in praying, reading, preaching, singing psalms, and offering up of more praise and thanksgiving, that is before directed for the morning, is to be renewed and continued, so far as the time will give leave.

8. At one or both of the public meetings that day, a collection, if necessary, is to be made for the poor (and in the like manner upon the day of public humiliation,) that their loins may bless us, and rejoice the more with us. And the people are to be exhorted, at the end of the latter meeting, to spend the residue of that day in holy duties, and testimonies of Christian love and charity one towards another, and of rejoicing more and more in the Lord; as becometh those who make the joy of the Lord their strength.

Chapter VII.

Directory for Secret and Private Worship.

BESIDES the public worship in congregations, secret worship of each person alone, and private worship of families, is carefully to be observed, that the profession and power of godliness, both personal and domestic, may be advanced.

1. And first, For SECRET worship, it is most necessary that every one, by himself, be given to prayer and meditation; the unspeakable benefit whereof is best known to them who are most exercised therein: this being the mean whereby, in a special way, communion with God is entertained, and right preparation for all other duties obtained; and, therefore, it becometh not only pastors, within their several charges, to press persons of all sorts to perform this duty morning and evening, and at other occasions; but also it is incumbent on heads of families to have a care, that both themselves, and all within their charge, be daily diligent herein.

2. The ordinary duties to be performed in FAMILY WORSHIP, morning and evening, are these:

PRAISE; which is to be done by singing a psalm, or part of a psalm; and wherein all the members of the family should be careful to join.^a

Reverent READING OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES.^b

SOLENN PRAYER,^c with reference as well to the public condition of the church, and of the land, as to the present case of the family, and the special circumstances of any of the members thereof.

2. These exercises may be profitably introduced with a short and fervent ejaculation to the following effect:

“That the Lord, who requireth us to worship him in spirit and in truth, would compose our minds, and fix our attention in the duties now to be entered upon; assist us in every part thereof; and make them subservient to his glory and the refreshment of our souls; by filling us with a sense of his presence; lifting our hearts to things above, and vouchsafing us his gracious communion through our Lord Jesus Christ.”

3. In the prayer which succeeds to reading of the scriptures, they who conduct the worship of families should endeavour, as occasion may demand, to spread before the Lord its special circumstances in their petitions; the substance whereof may, in general, be to the ensuing effect:

“Let them confess to God how unworthy they are to come into his presence, and how unfit to worship his Majesty; and, therefore, earnestly ask of him the Spirit of prayer.”

“They are to confess their sins, and the sins of the family; accusing, judging, and condemning themselves for them; and aiming to bring their souls to some measure of true humiliation.”

“They are to pour out their hearts to God, in the name of Christ, by the Spirit, for forgiveness of sins; for grace to believe, repent, and to live soberly, righteously, and godly; and that they may serve God with joy and delight, walking before him.”

“They are to give thanks to God for his many mercies to his people, and to themselves, and especially for his love in Christ, and for the light of the gospel.”

“They are to pray for such particular benefits, spiritual and temporal, as they stand in need of for the time,

^a Col. iii. 16. ^b Deut. vi. 6, 7. John v. 39. Acts xvii. 11.
^c Mat. xviii. 20. with Jerem. x. 25.

"whether it be morning or evening; as concerning health or sickness, prosperity or adversity.

"They ought to pray for the churches of Christ in general, and for the church and congregation whereof they are members in particular; for the place where they reside; and for magistrates, ministers, and the community at large.

"The prayer may be closed with an earnest desire that God may be glorified in the coming of the kingdom of his Son, and in doing of his will; and with assurance that themselves are accepted, and their petitions agreeable to his will shall be granted, through the merit and intercession of the Lord Jesus Christ."

4. These exercises ought to be performed in great sincerity and regularity, neither tediously prolonged, nor slightly passed over; laying aside all worldly business; studiously avoiding and removing every hindrance, and persisting therein with holy firmness, notwithstanding the common and sinful negligence of professors of religion, and the scoffings of ungodly men.

5. The head of the family to whom belongeth the ordinary performance of the exercises of family worship, is to see that none of the family withdraw from any part thereof. And that the attendance of all the members of the family may be punctual, and interruptions from others prevented, it would be profitable to observe, as much as may be, a stated hour, especially in the evening, which should always be so early that the family, when called to the worship of God, may not be disfitted with sleep.

6. Where the head of the family is unfit for leading the worship, another, constantly residing therein, may be employed in that service till the former be prepared for taking it upon himself; and, for this end he is diligently to use the means to which he hath access.

7. At family-worship, each family is to keep by itself, neither requiring, inviting, nor admitting persons from other families, unless it be those who are lodged with them, or at meals, or otherwise with them upon lawful occasions.

8. Besides the ordinary duties above mentioned, extraordinary duties, both of humiliation and thanksgiving, are to be carefully performed in families when the Lord, by extraordinary occasions, private or public, calleth for them.

9. For as much as the conscientious observance of family worship hath lamentably fallen into decay among professors, it is enjoined on the officers of the church, to use every exertion that it may be duly maintained by those under their charge ; to deal with, and censure, according to their offence, such church-members as shall be found remiss therein ; and by no means to admit, either to the table of the Lord, or to baptism for their children, any by whom it is habitually neglected.

APPENDIX II.

OF PROCEEDINGS IN JUDICATORIES, AND THE BEHAVIOUR OF MEMBERS.

1. AS the dispatch of business depends greatly upon punctual attendance, diligence is to be used, that the Judiciary assemble precisely at the hour appointed; the roll is therefore to be called immediately after prayer by the moderator, and all absentees to be marked, and, if their absence appears not to have been necessary, censured.
2. If a quorum be assembled at the hour, and the moderator be absent, the oldest minister shall take his place, and shall moderate during that sitting.
3. After calling the roll, the minutes of the last sitting are to be read, and, if need be, corrected.
4. Business left unfinished at the last meeting or sitting, is ordinarily to be concluded first.
5. All papers presented to the court, shall be filed in the order in which they are read, with proper indorsements, and minutes thereof shall be given to the moderator.
6. No motion, excepting for adjournment, shall be admitted for discussion, unless it be committed to writing, and seconded.
7. Members are to observe great gravity while judicially convened, and closely to attend, in their speeches, to the subject in debate, avoiding prolix and desultory harangues.
8. Personal reflections are by no means to be tolerated.
9. Without express permission, members are not to engage in private conversation; nor are they to address one another, or any person concerned, but through the moderator.
10. Every speaker, unless disabled by age or infirmity, is to rise and address himself to the moderator.
11. No speaker is to be interrupted, except he be out of order, or to correct mistakes and misrepresentations.
12. Without the special permission of the court, no member is to speak more than twice on the same subject, before the rest of the members have had an opportunity of speaking. If any member persist in the breach of this, and of the foregoing regulation, after having been twice admonished by the moderator, he shall lose the privilege of debate for that sitting.

13. In cases of great importance or difficulty, it may be highly proper, before the members have made up their minds, or have committed themselves in their speeches, to employ one of the brethren in prayer for special light and direction.

14. Members ought not, without weighty reasons, to decline voting, as this practice might leave the decision of very interesting questions to a very small proportion of the Judicatory. Silent members are reckoned to acquiesce with the majority.

15. In cases where a number of members feel themselves perplexed, and unable to come to any settled conclusion, it may be prudent to defer a decision, or to take the previous question, whether they will vote on the main question or not.

16. When the members are equally divided, and the moderator feels himself too much embarrassed to give a casting vote, the question shall be deferred until the next sitting; and if, on a second trial, the equal division and the moderator's embarrassment remain, it shall lie over for future consideration.

17. The votes shall not be recorded unless it be required by one third of the members present.

18. As it may sometimes answer valuable ends for the members of Judicatories to confer together on certain subjects, in a manner which would not consist with the regularity and authority of a constituted court; it may be expedient to hold on such occasions, EXTRA JUDICIAL conferences; when the members, laying aside their judicial character, converse as private individuals.

19. All Judicatories have a right to sit in private, on business which, in their judgment, ought not to be matter of public speculation.

20. Judicatories are to meet upon their own adjournment, except when assembled occasionally by the moderator, or an act of a higher court.

21. No business regularly before an ordinary, shall be transacted at an occasional meeting.

22. No member is to leave a Judicatory to return home, or for other business, without its consent.

23. All Judicatories, Sessions excepted, are to close their meetings, with prayer, with singing the 133d, or some other PSALM, and pronouncing the APOSTOLICAL BLESSING.

APPENDIX III.

OF THE SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGE.*

1. ALTHOUGH Marriage be no sacrament, nor peculiar to the church of God, but common to mankind, and of public interest in every commonwealth ; yet, because such as marry are to marry in the Lord, and have special need of instruction, direction, and exhortation from the word of God, at their entering into such a new condition, and of his blessing upon them therein, it is expedient that marriage be solemnized by a lawful minister of the word, that he may accordingly counsel them, and pray for a blessing upon them.

2. No marriage is to be solemnized between parties under age, without the consent of parents ; or, if these be dead, of guardians. Nor is it lawful for parents or guardians to compel their children or wards to marry against their free consent ; nor should they, without just cause, withhold their own consent.

3. And when the parties are of age, or even have been married before, it nevertheless belongeth to the reverence due to parents, to endeavour, if possible, to obtain their consent.

4. It is an excellent mean of preventing improper or unlawful marriages, that the purpose of marriage, previously to the solemnization thereof, be published three several sabbaths to the congregation, at the place or places where the parties usually reside. But in extraordinary cases, arising from the diversity of local circumstances, ministers, with the advice of their Sessions, when necessary, may act, as they find for edification. Provided always, that when such cases occur, the parties produce testimonials from parents or guardians, or, if these be dead, or reside in a place very far distant, from near relatives, or other respectable persons well acquainted with them ; that they are both single ; are not within the forbidden degrees of consanguinity or affinity ; and that no reason is known to the testifiers why they may not be lawfully married.

* Concerning the doctrine of Marriage, see Con. chap. xiv.

† Appendix I. No. 21, 22.

5. After the purpose or contract of marriage hath been made known in either of these ways, the marriage is not to be long deferred. Therefore, the minister, having had convenient warning, and nothing been objected to hinder it, is to solemnize it before a competent number of credible witnesses, on any day of the year, excepting the Lord's day, and days of public humiliation.

6. And because all relations are sanctified by the word and prayer, the minister is to pray for a blessing on the parties to this effect :

" Acknowledging our sins, whereby we have made ourselves less than the least of all the mercies of God, and provoked him to embitter all our comforts ; earnestly, in the name of CHRIST, to intreat the LORD, whose presence and favour are the happiness of every condition, and sweeten every relation, to be their portion, and to own and accept them in CHRIST, who are now to be joined in the honourable estate of marriage, the covenant of their God ; and that, as he hath brought them together by his providence, he would sanctify them by his SPIRIT, giving them a frame of heart fit for their new estate ; enriching them with all the graces whereby they may perform the duties, enjoy the comforts, undergo the cares, and resist the temptations, which accompany that condition, as becometh Christians."

7. Prayer being ended, let the minister briefly declare unto them, out of the scripture,

" The institution, use, and ends of marriage, with the conjugal duties which, in all faithfulness, they are to perform each to other ; exhorting them to study the holy word of God, that they may learn to live by faith ; and to be content in the midst of all marriage cares and troubles, sanctifying God's name, in a thankful, sober, and holy use of all conjugal comforts ; praying much with and for one another ; watching over, and provoking each other to love and good works ; and to live together as heirs of the grace of life."

8. After solemnly charging the parties before the great God, who searcheth all hearts, and to whom they must give a strict account at the last day, that if either of them know any cause, by pre-contract or otherwise, why they may not lawfully proceed to marriage, that they now discover it ; and no impediment being acknowledged, it minister shall direct them to join their right hands, and shall address himself first to the bridegroom, and then to the bride, as follows :

To the BRIDEGROOM.

YOU take this woman, whom you have by the hand, to be your lawful and married wife, and do promise and covenant, in the presence of God and of these witnesses, to be a loving and faithful husband unto her, till God shall separate you by death.

ANSWER. I do.

To the BRIDE.

YOU take this man, whom you have by the hand, to be your lawful and married husband, and do promise and covenant, in the presence of God and of these witnesses, to be a loving, faithful, and obedient wife to him, till God shall separate you by death.

ANSWER. I do.

9. Then, without any further ceremony, the minister shall pronounce them to be husband and wife, according to God's ordinance, and conclude with prayer to this effect :

“That the Lord would be pleased to accompany his own ordinance with his blessing ; beseeching him to enrich the persons now married, as with other pledges of his love, so particularly with the fruits and comforts of marriage, to the praise of his abundant mercy, in and through CHRIST JESUS.”

APPENDIX IV.

CONCERNING BURIAL OF THE DEAD.

WHEN any person departeth this life, let the dead body, upon the day of burial, be decently attended from the house to the place appointed for public burial, and there immediately interred, without any ceremony.

And because the customs of kneeling down, and praying by, or towards the dead corpse, and other such usages, in the place where it lies before it be carried to burial, are superstitious ; and for that, praying, reading, and singing both in going to, and at the grave, have been grossly abused, are no way beneficial to the dead, and have proved many ways hurtful to the living ; therefore, let no such things be observed.

Howbeit, it is very convenient, that the Christian friends who accompany the dead body to the place appointed for public burial, do apply themselves to meditations and conferences suitable to the occasion ; and that the minister, as upon other occasions, so, at this time, if he be present, may put them in remembrance of their duty.

That this shall not extend to deny any civil respects or deferences at the burial, suitable to the rank and condition of the party deceased, while he was living.

THE Sum of Saving Knowledge, and the Practical Use of Saving Knowledge, are subjoined by order of Synod, not as a part of the public standards of the church; but as a comprehensive summary of divine truth which God hath blessed, which is savoury to his people; and which numbers of them wish to have bound up in the same volume with the Confession and Catechisms it is designed to epitomize. At the same time the Synod judged it necessary to model some expressions in such a manner as to avoid the improper distinction between the covenant of redemption, and the covenant of grace, which, in reality, are not two, but one and the same blessed covenant, viewed under different aspects; and to conform the phraseology to the doctrine of the Confession and Catechisms.* One or two explanatory notes have also been added.

SUM OF SAVING KNOWLEDGE, &c.

The Sum of Saving Knowledge may be taken up in these four heads :

1. The woful condition wherein all men are by nature, through breaking of the covenant of works. 2. The remedy provided for the elect in Jesus Christ by the covenant of grace. 3. The means appointed to make them partakers of this covenant. 4. The blessings which are effectually conveyed unto the elect by these means. Which four heads are set down each of them in some few propositions.

Head I.

Our WORFUL CONDITION by Nature, through breaking the Covenant of Works. Hos. xiii. 9. O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself.

I. THE Almighty and eternal God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, three distinct persons in the one and the same undivided Godhead, equally infinite in all perfections, did, before time, most wisely decree, for his own glory, whatsoever cometh to pass in time ; and doth most holily and infallibly execute all his decrees, without being partaker of the sin of any creature.

II. This God, in six days, made all things of nothing, very good in their own kind : In special, he made all the angels holy ; and he made our first parents, Adam and Eve, the root of mankind, both upright and able to keep the law written in their heart. Which law they were naturally bound to obey under pain of death ; but God was not bound to reward their service, till he entered into a covenant or contract with them, and their posterity in them, to give them eternal life, upon condition of perfect personal obedience ; withal, threatening death in case they should fail. This is the covenant of works.

III. Both angels and men were subject to the change of their own free-will, as experience proved ; (God having reserved to himself the incommunicable property of being naturally unchangeable ;) for many angels of their own accord fell by sin from their first estate, and became devils.

Our first parents, being enticed by Satan, one of these devils, speaking in a serpent, did break the covenant of works, in eating the forbidden fruit ; whereby they, and their posterity, being in their loins, as branches in the root, and comprehended in the same covenant with them, became not only liable to eternal death, but also lost all ability to please God ; yea, did become by nature enemies to God, and to all spiritual good, and inclined only to evil continually. This is our original sin, the bitter root of all our actual transgressions, in thought, word, and deed.

Head II.

The REMEDY provided in Jesus Christ for the Elect, by the Covenant of Grace. Hos. xiii. 9. O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself ; but in me is thine help.

I. ALBEIT man, having brought himself into this woful condition, be neither able to help himself, nor willing to be helped by God out of it, but rather inclined to lie still, insensible of it, till he perish ; yet God, for the glory of his rich grace, hath revealed in his word a way to save sinners, viz. by faith in Jesus Christ, the eternal Son of God, by virtue of, and according to the tenor of the covenant of grace, made and agreed upon between God the Father, and God the Son, in the council of the Trinity, before the world began.

II. The sum of the covenant of grace is this : God having freely chosen unto life a certain number of lost mankind, for the glory of his rich grace, did give them, before the world began, unto God the Son, appointed Redeemer, that, upon condition he would humble himself so far as to assume the human nature, of a soul and a body, unto personal union with his divine nature, and submit himself to the law, as surety for them, and satisfy justice for them, by giving obedience in their name, even unto the suffering of the cursed death of the cross, he should ransom and redeem them all from sin and death, and purchase unto them righteousness and eternal life, with all saving graces leading thereunto ; to be effectually, by means of his own appointment, applied in due time to every one of them. This condition, the Son of God (who is Jesus Christ our Lord,) did accept before the world began ; and in the fulness of time came into the world, was born of the virgin Mary, subjected himself to the law, and completely paid the ransom on the cross. But by virtue of the foresaid bargain, made before the world began, he is, in all ages, since the fall of Adam, still upon the work of applying actually the purchased benefits unto the elect. And that he doth by the power of his Holy Spirit, who worketh faith in them, whereby they are united to Christ, and have a right and interest in himself, and in all his blessings.

III. For the accomplishment of this covenant of grace, and making the elect partakers of the benefits thereof, Christ Jesus was clad with threefold office of Prophet, Priest, and King: made a Prophet, to reveal all saving knowledge to his people, and to persuade them to believe and obey the same; made a Priest, to offer up himself a sacrifice once for them all, and to intercede continually with the Father, for making their persons and services acceptable to him; and made a King, to subdue them to himself, to feed and rule them by his own appointed ordinances, and to defend them from their enemies.

Head III.

The OUTWARD MEANS appointed to make the Elect Partakers of this Covenant, and all the rest that are called to be inexcusable. Mat. xxii. 14. Many are called.

I. THE outward means and ordinances for making men partakers of the covenant of grace, are so wisely dispensed, as the elect shall be infallibly converted and saved by them; and the reprobate, among whom they are, not be justly stumbled. The means are especially these four: 1. The word of God. 2. The Sacraments. 3. Church-government. 4. Prayer. In the word of God, preached by sent messengers, the LORD makes a gracious offer of JESUS CHRIST and his salvation, to all sinners; and who-soever do confess their sin, accept of CHRIST offered, and submit themselves to his ordinances, he will have both them and their children received into the honour and privileges of the covenant of grace. By the sacraments, God will have the covenant sealed, for confirming the interest of believers therein. By church-government, he will have them hedged in, and helped forward in the ways of holiness.

ness. And by prayer, he will have his own glorious grace, promised in the covenant, to be daily drawn forth, acknowledged, and employed. All which means are followed either really, or in profession only, according to the quality of the persons, as they are true or counterfeit believers.

II. The covenant of grace, set down in the Old Testament before Christ came, and in the New since he came, is one and the same in substance, albeit different in outward administration: For the covenant in the Old Testament, being sealed with the sacraments of circumcision and the paschal Lamb, did set forth Christ's death to come, and the benefits purchased thereby, under the shadow of bloody sacrifices, and sundry ceremonies: but since Christ came, the covenant being sealed by the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's supper, doth clearly hold forth Christ already crucified before our eyes, victorious over death and the grave, and gloriously ruling heaven and earth, for the good of his own people.

Head IV.

The BLESSINGS which are effectually conveyed by these means to the Lord's Elect, or chosen ones. Mat. xxii. 14. Many are called, but few are chosen.

I. BY these outward ordinances, as our Lord makes the reprobate inexcusable, so, in the power of his Spirit, he applies unto the elect, effectually, all saving graces purchased to them in the covenant of grace, and maketh a change in their persons. In particular, 1. He doth convert or regenerate them, by giving spiritual life to them, in opening their understandings, renewing their wills, affections, and faculties, for giving spiritual obedience to his commands. 2. He gives them saving faith, by making them, in the sense of deserved condemnation, to give their consent heartily to the covenant of grace, and to embrace Jesus Christ, unfeignedly. 3. He gives them repentance, by making them, with godly sorrow, in the hatred of sin, and love of righteousness, turn from all iniquity to the service of God. And, 4. He sanctifies them, by making them go on and persevere in faith, and spiritual obedience to the law of God, manifested by fruitfulness in all duties, and doing good works as God offereth occasion.

II. Together with this inward change of their persons, God changes also their state: For so soon as they are brought by faith into the covenant of grace, 1. He justifies them, by imputing unto them that perfect obedience which Christ gave to the law, and the satisfaction also which upon the cross, Christ gave unto justice in their name. 2. He reconciles them, and makes them friends to God, who were before enemies to God. 3. He adopts them, that they shall be no more children of Satan, but children of God, enriched with all the spiritual privileges of his sons. And, last of all, after their warfare in this life is ended, he perfects the holiness and blessedness, first of their souls at their death, and then both of their souls and their bodies, being joyfully joined together again in the resurrection, at the day of his glorious coming to judgment, when all the wicked shall be sent away to hell, with Satan whom they have served: but Christ's own chosen and redeemed ones, true believers, students of holiness, shall remain with himself for ever, in the state of glorification.

SAVING KNOWLEDGE,
Contained in Scripture,

AND HELD FORTH BRIEFLY IN THE CONFESSION OF FAITH AND CATECHISMS.

THE chief general use of Christian doctrine is, to convince a man of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment, John xvi. 8. partly by the law or covenant of works, that he may be humbled and become penitent; and partly by the gospel, that he may become an unfeigned believer in Jesus Christ, and be strengthened in his faith upon solid grounds and warrants, and give evidence of the truth of his faith by good fruits, and so be saved.

The sum of the covenant of works, or of the law, is this: "If thou do all that is commanded, and not fail in any point, thou shalt be saved: but if thou fail, thou shalt die." Rom. x. 5. Gal. iii. 10, 12.

The sum of the gospel, is this: "If thou flee from deserved wrath to the true Redeemer, Jesus Christ, (who is able to save to the uttermost all that come to God through him,) thou shalt not perish, but have eternal life." Rom. x. 8, 9, 11.

For convincing a man of sin, of righteousness, and of judgment by the law, or covenant of works, let these scriptures among many more be made use of.

I. For convincing a man of sin by the law, consider Jeremiah xvii. 9, 10.

The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it? I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

Here the Lord teacheth these two things :

1. That the fountain of all our miscarriage, and actual sinning against God, is in the heart, which comprehendeth the mind, will, affections, and all the powers of the soul, as they are corrupted and defiled with original sin ; the mind being not only ignorant and incapable of saving truth, but also full of error and enmity against God, and the will and affections being obstinately disobedient unto all God's directions, and bent toward that only which is evil : "The heart (saith he) is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked ;" yea, and unsearchably wicked, so that no man can know it. And Gen. vi. 5. "Every imagination of the thoughts of man's heart is only evil continually," saith the Lord, whose testimony we must trust in this and all other matters ; and experience may also teach us, that, till God makes us deny ourselves, we never look to God in any thing, but fleshly self-interest alone doth rule us, and move all the wheels of our actions.

2. That the Lord bringeth our original sin, or wicked inclination, with all the actual fruits thereof, unto reckoning before his judgment-seat ; "For he searcheth the heart, and trieth the reins, to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings."

Hence let every man reason thus :

"What God and my guilty conscience beareth witness of, I am convinced that it is true.

"But God and my guilty conscience beareth witness, that my heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked ; and that all the imaginations of my heart, by nature, are only evil continually.

"Therefore, I am convinced that this is true."

Thus a man may be convinced of sin by the law.

II. For convincing a man of righteousness by the law, consider Gal. iii. 10.

As many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse : for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

Here the apostle teacheth us three things :

1. That, by reason of our natural sinfulness, the impossibility of any man's being justified by the works of the law is so certain, that whosoever do seek justification by the works of the law, are liable to the curse of God for breaking of the law ; "For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse," saith he.

2. That, unto the perfect fulfilling of the law, the keeping of one or two of the precepts, or doing of some, or of all duties, (if it were possible,) for a time, is not sufficient; for the law requireth, that "a man continue in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them."

3. That, because no man can come up to this perfection, every man by nature is under the curse; for the law saith, "Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them."

Now, to be under the curse, comprehendeth all the displeasure of God, with the danger of the breaking forth more and more of his wrath upon soul and body, both in this life, and after death perpetually, if grace do not prevent the full execution thereof.

Hence let every man reason thus :

"Whosoever, according to the covenant of works, is liable to the curse of God, for breaking the law, times and ways out of number, cannot be justified, or find righteousness by works of the law.

"But I (may every man say) according to the covenant of works, am liable to the curse of God, for breaking the law, times and ways out of number.

"Therefore, I cannot be justified, or have righteousness by the works of the law."

Thus may a man be convinced of righteousness, that it is not to be had by his own works, or by the law.

III. For convincing a man of judgment by the law, consider 2 Thess. i. 7.

The Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, v. 8. In flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: v. 9. Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power; v. 10. When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe.

Wherein we are taught, that our Lord Jesus, who now offers to be Mediator for them who believe in him, shall, at the last day, come armed with flaming fire, to judge, condemn, and destroy all them who have not believed God, have not received the offer of grace made in the gospel, nor obeyed the doctrine thereof; but remain in their natural state, under the law or covenant of works.

Hence let every man reason thus :

"What the righteous Judge hath forewarned me shall be done at the last day, I am sure is just judgment.

"But the righteous Judge hath forewarned me, that if I do not believe God in time, and obey not the doctrine of the gospel, I shall be secluded from his presence and his glory, at the last day, and be tormented in soul and body for ever.

"Therefore, I am convinced that this is a just judgment.

"And I have reason to thank God heartily, who hath forewarned me to flee from the wrath which is to come.

Thus every man may be, by the law or covenant of works, convinced of judgment, if he shall continue under the covenant of works, or shall not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus.

IV. For convincing a man of sin, righteousness, and judgment, by the gospel.

As for convincing a man of sin, and righteousness, and judgment, by the gospel, he must understand three things.

1. That not believing in Jesus Christ, or refusing of the covenant of grace offered in him, is a greater and more dangerous sin than all other sins against the law : because the hearers of the gospel not believing in Christ, do reject God's mercy in Christ, the only way of freedom from sin and wrath, and will not yield to be reconciled to God.

2. Next, He must understand, that perfect remission of sin, and true righteousness, is to be had only by faith in Jesus ; because God requireth no other conditions but faith ; and testifies from heaven, that he is well pleased to justify sinners upon this condition. 3. He must understand, that upon righteousness received by faith, judgment shall follow, on the one hand, to the destroying of the works of the devil in the believer, and to the perfecting of the work of sanctification in him, with power : and that, upon refusing to take righteousness by faith in Jesus Christ, judgment shall follow, on the other hand, to the condemnation of the unbeliever, and destroying of him with Satan and his servants for ever.

For this end, let these passages of scripture, among many others, serve to make the greatness of the sin of not believing in Christ appear : or, to make the greatness of the sin of refusing of the covenant of grace offered to us, and the offering of Christ unto us, let the fair offer of it be looked upon as it is made, Isa. lv. 3. Incline your and come unto me, saith the Lord: hear, and your soul shall live, and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. That is, If ye believe me, and be reconciled to me. I will, by covenant, give unto you Christ, and all saving graces in him: repeated Acts. xiii. 34.

Again, consider, that this general offer, in substance, is equivalent to a special offer made to every one in particular; as appeareth by the Apostle's making use of it, Acts xvi. 31. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. The reason of which offer is given, John iii. 16. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth him should not perish, but have everlasting life. Seeing then this great salvation is offered in the Lord Jesus, whosoever believeth not in him, but looks for happiness some other way, what doth he else but observe lying vanities, and forsake his own mercy, which he might have had in Christ? Jonah ii. 8, 9. What doth he else but blaspheme God in his heart? as it is said, 1 John v. 10, 11. He that believeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. And this the record, that God hath given to us eternal life: and this life is in his Son. And that no sin against the law is like unto this sin, Christ testifies, John xv. 22. If I had not come, and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin. This may convince a man of the greatness of this sin of not believing in Christ.

For convincing a man of righteousness to be had only by faith in Jesus CHRIST, consider how, Rom. x. 3, 4.

It is said, that the Jews, being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God: (and so they perished:) For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. And Acts, xiii. 39. By Christ Jesus, all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. And 1 John i. 7. The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

For convincing a man of judgment, if a man embrace this righteousness, consider 1 John iii. 8. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. And Heb. ix. 14. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

But if a man embrace not this righteousness, his doom is pronounced, John iii. 18, 19. He that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light.

Hence let the penitent, desiring to believe, reason thus :

“ What doth suffice to convince all the elect in the world “ of the greatness of the sin of not believing in CHRIST, or “ refusing to flee to him for relief from sins done against “ the law, and from wrath due thereto ; and what sufficeth “ to convince them, that righteousness and eternal life is “ to be had by faith in JESUS CHRIST, or by consenting to
“ the covenant of grace in him ; and what sufficeth to con“ vince them of judgment to be exercised by CHRIST, for “ destroying the works of the devil in a man, and sanctify-“ ing and saving all that believe in him, may suffice to con“ vince me also.

“ But what the Spirit hath said, in these or other like “ scriptures, sufficeth to convince the elect world of the “ foresaid sin, and righteousness and judgment.

“ Therefore what the Spirit hath said, in these and other “ like scriptures, serveth to convince me thereof also.”

Whereupon let the penitent desiring to believe, take with him words, and say heartily to the LORD, seeing thou sayest, seek ye my face, my soul answereth unto thee, thy face, Lord, will I seek : I have hearkened unto the offer of an everlasting covenant of all saving mercies to be had in CHRIST, and I do heartily embrace thy offer. Lord, let it be a bargain ; Lord, I believe ; help my unbelief : Behold, I give myself to thee, to serve thee in all things for ever ; and I hope thy right hand shall save me ; the LORD will perfect that which concerneth me ; thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever ; forsake not the works of thine own hands.

Thus may a man be made an unfeigned believer in CHRIST.

For strengthening the man's faith, who hath agreed unto the covenant of grace.

Because many true believers are weak, and do much doubt if ever they shall be sure of the soundness of their own faith and effectual calling, or made certain of their justification and salvation, when they see, that many who profess faith, are found to deceive themselves ; let them how every believer may be made strong in the faith, and sure of his own election and salvation upon solid grounds, by sure warrants, and true evidences of faith. To this end among many other scriptures, take these following.

1. For laying solid grounds of faith, consider 2 Peter i. 10.

Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall.

In which words, the Apostle teacheth us these four things, for help and direction how to be made strong in the faith:

1. That such as believe in CHRIST JESUS, and are fled to him for relief from sin and wrath, albeit they be weak in the faith, yet they are indeed children of the same Father with the Apostles; for so he accounteth of them while he calleth them brethren.

2. That albeit we be not sure, for the time, of our effectual calling and election, yet we may be made sure of both, if we use diligence; for this he presupposeth, saying, "Give diligence to make your calling and election sure."

3. That we must not be discouraged, when we see many seeming believers prove rotten branches, and make defection; but we must the rather take the better heed to ourselves: "Wherefore the rather, brethren," saith he, "give all diligence."

4. That the way to be sure both of our effectual calling and election, is to make sure work of our faith, by laying the grounds of it solidly, and bringing forth the fruits of our faith in new obedience constantly: "For if ye do these things," saith he, "ye shall never fall;" understanding by these things, what he had said of sound faith, ver. 1, 2, 3, 4. and what he had said of the bringing out of the fruits of faith, ver. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

To this same purpose, consider Rom. viii. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. Ver. 2. For the law of the Spirit of life, in Christ Jesus, hath made me free from the law of sin and death. Ver. 3. For, what the law could not do in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: Ver. 4. That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

Wherein the Apostle teacheth us these four things, for laying of the ground of faith solidly:

1. That every one is a true believer, who, in the sense of his sin, and fear of God's wrath, doth flee for full relief from both unto Jesus Christ alone, as the only Mediator, and all-sufficient Redeemer of men; and, being fled to Christ, doth strive against his own flesh, or corrupt inclination of nature, and studieth to follow the rule of God's Spirit, set down in his word: for the man, whom the Apostle doth here bless, as a true believer, is a man in Christ Jesus, "who doth not walk after the flesh, but after the Spirit."

2. That all such persons as are fled to Christ, and do strive against sin, howsoever they may be possibly exercised under the sense of wrath, and fear of condemnation, yet they are in no danger; for "there is no condemnation," saith he, "to them that are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit."

3. That albeit the Apostle himself (brought in here for example's cause) and all other true believers in Christ, be by nature under the law of sin and death, or under the covenant of works; (called the law of sin and death, because it bindeth sin and death upon us, till Christ set us free;) yet the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus, or the covenant of grace, (so called, because it doth enable and quicken a man to a spiritual life through Christ,) doth set the Apostle, and all true believers, free from the covenant of works, or the law of sin and death; so that every man may say with him, "The law of the Spirit of life," or the covenant of grace, "hath made me free from the law of sin and death," or covenant of works.

4. That the fountain and first ground, from whence our freedom from the curse of the law doth flow, is the covenant of grace, past betwixt God, and God the Son, as incarnate, wherein Christ takes the curse of the law upon him for sin, that the believer, who could not otherwise be delivered from the covenant of works, may be delivered from it. And this doctrine the Apostle holdeth forth in these four branches: (1.) That it was utterly impossible for the law, or the covenant of works, to bring righteousness and life to a sinner, because it was weak. (2.) That this weakness and inability of the law, or covenant of works, is not the fault of the law, but the fault of sinful flesh, which is neither able to pay the penalty of sin, nor to give perfect obedience to the law (presuppose by-gone sins were forgiven:) "The law was weak," saith he,

“through the flesh.” (3.) That the righteousness and salvation of sinners, which was impossible to be brought about by the law, is brought to pass by sending God’s own Son, Jesus Christ, in the flesh, in whose flesh sin is condemned and punished, for making satisfaction in the behalf of the elect, that they might be set free. (4.) That, by his means, the law loseth nothing, because the righteousness of the law is best fulfilled this way ; first, by Christ’s giving perfect active obedience in our name unto it in all things : next, by his paying in our name the penalty (due to our sins) in his death : And, lastly, by his working of sanctification in us, who are true believers, who strive to give new obedience unto the law, and “walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.”

WARRANTS TO BELIEVE.

FOR building our confidence upon this solid ground, these four warrants and special motives to believe in Christ may serve.

The first whereof is God’s hearty invitation, held forth in Isa. lv. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money ; come ye, buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price. Ver. 2. Wherefore, do you spend money for that which is not bread ? and your labour for that which satisfieth not ? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. Ver. 3. Incline your ear, and come unto me : hear, and your soul shall live, and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. Ver. 4. Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people, &c.

Here (after setting down the precious ransom of our redemption by the sufferings of Christ, and the rich blessings purchased to us thereby, in the two former chapters) the Lord, in this chapter,

1. Maketh open offer of Christ and his grace, by proclamation of a free and gracious market of righteousness and salvation, to be had through Christ to every soul, without exception, that truly desires to be saved from sin and wrath : “Ho, every one that thirsteth,” saith he.

2. He inviteth all sinners, that for any reason stand at distance with God, to come and take from him riches of grace, running in Christ as a river, to wash away sin, and to stoken wrath: "Come, ye to the waters," saith he.

3. Lest any should stand aback, in the sense of his own sinfulness or unworthiness, and inability to do any good, the Lord calleth upon such persons in special, saying, "He that hath no money "come."

4. He craveth no more of his merchant, but that he be pleased with the wares offered, which are grace, and more grace; and that he heartily consent unto, and embrace this offer of grace, that so he may be brought under the bond of the covenant: "Come, buy without money," saith he, "come, eat:" That is, consent to have, and take unto you, all saving graces; make the wares your own, possess them, and make use of all blessings in Christ; whatsoever maketh for your spiritual life and comfort, use and enjoy it freely, without paying any thing for it: "Come, buy wine "and milk without money, and without price," saith he.

5. Because the Lord knoweth how much we are inclined to seek righteousness and life by our own performances and satisfaction, to have righteousness and life as it were by the way of works; and how loth we are to embrace Christ Jesus, and to take life by way of free grace through Jesus Christ; therefore the Lord lovingly calls us off this our crooked and unhappy way, with a gentle and timeous admonition, giving us to understand, that we shall but lose our labour in this our way: "Wherefore do ye spend your "money (saith he) for that which is not bread? and your "labour for that which satisfieth not?"

6. The Lord promiseth to us solid satisfaction, in the way of betaking ourselves unto the grace of Christ, even true contentment, and fulness of spiritual pleasure, saying, "Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is "good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness."

7. Because faith cometh by hearing, he calleth for audience unto the explication of the offer, and calleth for believing of, and listening unto the truth, which is able to beget the application of saving faith, and to draw the soul to trust in God: "Incline your ear, and come unto me," saith he. To which end, the Lord promises, that in receiving this offer, the dead sinner shall be quickened and translated into a covenant-state of perpetual reconciliation and peace: "Hearken and your soul shall live, and I will make an

"everlasting covenant with you." Which covenant, he declareth, shall be in substance the assignation, and the making over, of all the saving graces which David (who is Jesus Christ, Acts xii. 34) hath bought for us in the covenant of grace: "I will make a covenant with you," saith he, "even the sure mercies of David." By sure mercies, he means saving graces, such as are righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost, adoption, sanctification, and glorification, and whatsoever belongs to godliness and life eternal.

8. To confirm and assure us of the real grant of these saving mercies, and to persuade us of the reality of the covenant-relation betwixt God and the believer of this word, the Father hath made a fourfold gift of his eternal and only begotten Son:

First, To be incarnate and born for our sake, of the seed of David his type; for which cause he is called here, and Acts xiii. 34. DAVID, the true and everlasting king of Israel. This is the great gift of God to man. John iv. 10. And here, I have given him to be David, or born of David, to the people.

Secondly, He hath made a gift of Christ to be a witness to the people, both of the sure and saving mercies granted to the redeemed in the covenant of grace; and also of the Father's willingness and purpose to apply them, and to make them sure to such as embrace the offer: "I have given him" (saith the Lord here) "to be a witness to the people." And truly he is a sufficient witness in this matter, in many respects: 1st, Because he is one of the blessed Trinity, and party-contractor for us, in the covenant of grace, before the world was. 2dly, He is by office, as Mediator, the messenger of the covenant, and hath gotten commission to reveal it. 3dly, He began actually to reveal it in Paradise, where he promised, that the seed of the woman should bruise the head of the serpent. 4thly, He set forth his own death and sufferings, and the great benefits that should come thereby to us, in the types and figures of sacrifices and ceremonies before his coming. 5thly, He gave more and more light about this covenant, speaking by his Spirit, from age to age, in the holy prophets. 6thly, He came himself, in the fulness of time, and did bear witness of all things belonging to this covenant, and of God's willing mind to take believers into it; partly by uniting our nature in one person with the divine nature; partly by preaching the good tidings of the covenant with his own mouth ; partly by paying the price of redemption on the cross ; and partly by dealing still with the people, from the beginning to this day, to draw in, and to hold in the redeemed in this covenant.

Thirdly, God hath made a gift of Christ, as a leader to the people, to bring us through all difficulties, all afflictions and temptations, unto life, by this covenant : And he it is, and no other, who doth, indeed, lead his own unto the covenant ; and, in the covenant, all the way on unto salvation : 1. By the direction of his word and Spirit. 2. By the example of his own life, in faith and obedience, even to the death of the cross. 3. By his powerful working, bearing his redeemed ones in his arms, and causing them to lean on him, while they go up through the wilderness.

Fourthly, God hath made a gift of Christ unto his people, as a commander : which office he faithfully exerciseth, by giving to his church and people, laws and ordinances, pastors and governors ; and all necessary officers ; by keeping courts and assemblies among them, to see that his laws be obeyed ; subduing, by his word, Spirit, and discipline, his people's corruptions ; and, by his wisdom and power, guarding them against all their enemies whatsoever.

Hence, he who hath closed with God's covenant, may strengthen his faith, by reasoning after this manner :

" Whosoever doth heartily receive the offer of free grace, made here to sinners, thirsting for righteousness and salvation ; unto him, by an everlasting covenant, be- longeth Christ, the true David, with all his sure and saving mercies.

" But I (may the weak believer say) do heartily receive the offer of free grace made here to sinners, thirsting for righteousness and salvation.

" Therefore, unto me, by an everlasting covenant, be- longeth Christ Jesus, with all his sure and saving mer- cies."

The second warrant and special motive to embrace Christ, and believe in him, is the earnest request that God maketh to us to be reconciled to him in Christ, held forth 2 Cor. v. 19, 20, 21.

God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them ; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. Ver. 20. Now then we are ambassadors for Christ as though God did beseech you by us ; we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. Ver. 21. For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin ; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

Wherein the Apostle teacheth us these nine doctrines :

First, That the elect world, or world of redeemed souls, are, by nature, in the estate of enmity against God : This is presupposed in the word reconciliation ; for reconciliation, or renewing of friendship, cannot be, except betwixt those that have been at enmity.

Second, That in all the time by-past, since the fall of Adam, Christ Jesus, the eternal Son of God, as Mediator, and the Father in him, hath been about the making friendship (by his word and Spirit) betwixt himself and the elect world : " God," saith he, " was in Christ reconciling the " world to himself."

Third, That the way of reconciliation was in all ages one and the same in substance, viz. by forgiving the sins of them who do acknowledge their sins and their enmity against God, and do seek reconciliation and remission of sins in Christ : " For God," saith he, " was in Christ reconciling " the world to himself," by way of not imputing their trespasses unto them."

Fourth, That the end and scope of the gospel, and whole word of God, is threefold : 1. It serveth to make people sensible of their sins, and of their enmity against God, and of their danger, if they should stand out, and not fear God's displeasure. 2. The word of God serveth to make men acquainted with the course which God hath prepared for making friendship with them through Christ, viz. That if men shall acknowledge the enmity, and shall be content to enter into friendship with God, through Christ, then God will be content to be reconciled with them freely. 3. The word of God serveth to teach men how to carry themselves towards God, as friends, after they are reconciled to him, viz. To be loth to sin against him, and to strive heartily to obey his commandments : and therefore the word of God here is called the word of reconciliation, because it teacheth us what need we have of reconciliation, and how to obtain it, and how to keep the reconciliation or friendship, being made with God through Christ.

Fifth, That albeit the hearing, believing, and obeying of this word, doth belong to all those to whom this gospel doth come ; yet the office of preaching of it, with authority, be longeth to none but to such only as God doth call to his ministry; and sendeth out with commission for this work. This the Apostle holdeth forth, yer. 19. in these words: "He hath committed to us the word of reconciliation."

Sixth, That the ministers of the gospel should behave themselves as Christ's messengers, and should closely follow their commission set down in the word, Matt. xxviii. 19, 20. and, when they do so, they should be received by the people as ambassadors from God; for here the Apostle, in all their names, saith, "We are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us."

Seventh, That ministers, in all earnestness of affections, should deal with people to acknowledge their sins, and their natural enmity against God, more and more seriously; and to consent to the covenant of grace and embassy of Christ more and more heartily; and to evidence more and more clearly their reconciliation, by a holy carriage before God. This he holdeth forth, when he saith, "We pray you be reconciled to God."

Eighth, That in the minister's affectionate dealing with the people, the people should consider that they have to do with God and CHRIST, requesting them, by the ministers, to be reconciled: Now, there cannot be a greater inducement to break a sinner's hard heart, than God's making a request to him for friendship; for when it became us, who have done so many wrongs to God, to seek friendship of God, he preventeth* us; and (O wonder of wonders!) he requesteth us to be content to be reconciled to him; and therefore most fearful wrath must abide them who do set light by this request, and do not yield when they hear ministers with commission, saying, "We are ambassadors for CHRIST, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you, in CHRIST's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

Ninth, To make it appear, how it cometh to pass that reconciliation should be so easily effected betwixt God and an humble sinner fleeing to CHRIST, the Apostle leads us unto the cause of it, held forth in the covenant of grace, the sum whereof is this: "It is agreed betwixt God and the Mediator JESUS CHRIST, the Son of God, surety for the redeemed, as parties-contractors, that the sins of the redeemed should be imputed to innocent CHRIST, and he both condemned and put to death for them, upon this

* "Preventeth," i. e. before hand with us.

“very condition, that whosoever heartily consents unto the “reconciliation offered through CHRIST, shall, by the im“putation of his obedience unto them, be justified and held “righteous before GOD; for GOD hath made CHRIST, who “knew no sin, to be sin for us, saith the Apostle, that we “might be made the righteousness of God in him.”

Hence may a weak believer strengthen his faith, by reasoning from this ground after this manner :

“He that, upon the loving request of GOD and CHRIST, “made to him by the mouth of ministers, (having commis“sion to that effect,) hath embraced the offer of perpetu“al reconciliation through CHRIST, and doth purpose, by “GOD’s grace, as a reconciled person, to strive against sin, “and to serve GOD to his power constantly, may be as “sure to have righteousness and eternal life given to him, “for the obedience of CHRIST imputed to him, as it is sure “that CHRIST was condemned and put to death for the sins
“of the redeemed imputed to him.

“But I, (may the weak believer say,) upon the loving “request of GOD and CHRIST, made to me by the mouth “of his ministers, have embraced the offer of perpetual “reconciliation through CHRIST, and do purpose, by GOD’s “grace, as a reconciled person, to strive against sin, and “to serve GOD to my power constantly.

“Therefore, I may be as sure to have righteousness and “eternal life given to me, for the obedience of CHRIST im“puted to me, as it is sure that CHRIST was condemned
“and put to death for the sins of the redeemed imputed
“to him.”

The third warrant and special motive to believe in CHRIST, is the strait and awful command of God, charging all the hearers of the gospel to approach to CHRIST in the order set down by him, and to believe in him : held forth, 1 John iii. 23.

This is his commandment, that we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

Wherein the Apostle giveth us to understand these five doctrines :

1. That if any man shall not be taken with the sweet invitation of GOD, nor with the humble and loving request of GOD, made to him to be reconciled, he shall find he hath to do with the sovereign authority of the highest Majesty ; for “this is his commandment, that we believe in him,” saith he.

2. That if any man look upon this commandment as he hath looked heretofore upon the neglected commandments of the law, he must consider that this is a command of the gospel,* posterior to the law, given for making use of the remedy of all sins; which, if it be disobeyed, there is no other command to follow but this, "Go, ye cursed, into the everlasting fire of hell:" for "this is his commandment," the obedience of which is most pleasant in his sight, ver. 22. and without which it is impossible to please him.—Heb. xi. 6.

3. That every one who heareth the gospel, must make conscience of the duty of lively faith in CHRIST: the weak believer must not think it presumption to do what is commanded; the person inclined to desperation must take up himself, and think upon obedience unto this sweet and saving command: The strong believer must dip yet more in the sense of his need he hath of JESUS CHRIST, and more and more grow in the obedience of this command: yea, the most impenitent, profane, and wicked person must not thrust out himself, or be thrust out by others, from orderly aiming at this duty, how desperate soever his condition seem to be: for he that commands all men to believe in CHRIST, doth thereby command all men to believe that they are damned and lost without CHRIST: he thereby commands all men to acknowledge their sins, and their need of CHRIST, and in effect commands all men to repent and believe in him.—And whosoever do refuse to repent of their by-gone sins, are guilty of disobedience to this command, given to all hearers, but especially to those that are within the visible church: for "this is his commandment, that we should believe on the name of his Son JESUS CHRIST," saith he.

4. That he who obeyeth this commandment, hath built his salvation on a solid ground; for, 1. He hath found the promised Messiah, completely furnished with all perfections unto the perfect execution of the offices of Prophet, Priest, and King; for he is that CHRIST, in whom the man doth believe. 2. He hath embraced a Saviour, who is able to save to the uttermost; yea, and who doth effectually save, every one that cometh to God through him: for he is JESUS the true Saviour of his people from their sins. 3. He that

* i. e. A command founded on the dispensation of grace revealed in the gospel, and which could not be enjoined by the law as a covenant of works, which knows nothing of a Mediator: otherwise all commands do, in their own nature, belong to the law.

obeyeth this command, hath built his salvation on the rock, that is, on the Son of God, to whom it is no robbery to be called equal to the Father, and who is worthy to be the object of saving faith, and of spiritual worship : for "this is his command," saith he, "that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ."

5. That he who hath believed on Jesus Christ (though he be freed from the curse of the law) is not freed from the command and obedience of the law, but tied thereunto by a new obligation, and a new command from Christ ; which new command from Christ importeth help to obey the command ; unto which command from Christ, the Father addeth his authority and command also ; for "this is his commandment," saith John, "that we believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he hath commanded us." The first part of which command, enjoining belief in him, necessarily implieth love to God, and so obedience to the first table ; for believing in God, and loving God, are inseparable, and the second part of the command enjoineth love to our neighbour, (especially to the household of faith,) and so obedience to the second table of the law.

Hence may a weak believer strengthen himself, by reasoning from this ground after this manner :

"Whosoever, in the sense of his own sinfulness and fear of God's wrath, at the command of God, is fled to Jesus Christ, the only remedy of sin and misery, and hath engaged his heart to the obedience of the law of love, his faith is not presumptuous or dead, but true and saving faith."

"But I, (may the weak believer say,) in the sense of my own sinfulness, and fear of God's wrath, am fled to Jesus Christ, the only remedy of sin and misery, and have engaged my heart to the obedience of the law of love."

"Therefore, my faith is not a presumptuous and dead faith, but true and saving faith."

The fourth warrant and special motive to believe in CHRIST, is much assurance of life given, in case men shall obey the command of believing ; and a fearful certification of destruction, in case they obey not ; held forth, John iii. 35.

The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. Ver. 36. He that believeth on the Son, hath everlasting life : And he that believeth not the Son, shall not see life ; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

1. That the Father is well satisfied with the undertakings of the Son, entered Redeemer and Surety to pay the ransom of believers, and to perfect them in holiness and salvation: "The Father loveth the Son," saith he; viz. as he standeth Mediator in our name, undertaking to perfect our redemption in all points: The Father loveth him, that is, doth heartily accept his offer to do the work, and is well pleased with him; his soul delighteth in him, and resteth upon him, and maketh him, in this his office, the "receptacle of love, and grace, and good will," to be conveyed by him to believers in him.

2. That, for fulfilling of the covenant of grace, the Father hath given to the Son (as he standeth in the capacity of the Mediator, or as he is God incarnate, the word made flesh) all authority in heaven and earth, all furniture of the riches of grace, and of spirit and life, with all power and ability, which the union of the divine nature with the human, or which the fulness of the Godhead dwelling substantially in his human nature, or which the indivisible all-sufficiency and omnipotency of the inseparable, everywhere present Trinity doth import, or the work of redemption can require: "The Father (saith he) hath given all things into the Son's hand," to wit, for accomplishing his work.

3. Great assurance of life is held forth to all who shall heartily receive Christ, and the offer of grace and reconciliation through him: He that believeth on the Son," saith he, "hath everlasting life;" for it is made fast unto him, 1. In God's purpose and irrevocable decree, as the believer is a man elected to life. 2. By effectual calling of him unto life by God, who, as he is faithful, so will he do it. 3. By promise and everlasting covenant, sworn by God, to give the believer strong consolation in life and death, upon immutable grounds. 4. By a pawn and infestment* under the great seal of the sacrament of the Lord's supper, so oft as the believer shall come to receive the symbols and pledges of life. 5. In Christ the fountain and head of life, who is entered in possession, as attorney for believers; in whom our life is so laid up, that it cannot be taken away. 6. By begun possession of spiritual life in regeneration, and a kingdom consisting in righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost, erected within the believer, as earnest of the full possession of everlasting life.

4. A fearful certification is given, if a man receive not the doctrine concerning righteousness and eternal life to be had by Jesus Christ: "He that believes not the Son, shall not see life;" that is, not so much as understand what it meaneth.

5. He further certifieth, that if a man receive not the doctrine of the Son of God, he shall be burdened twice with the wrath of God; once as a born rebel by nature, he shall bear the curse of the law, or the covenant of works; and next he shall endure a greater condemnation, in respect that light being come into the world, and offered to him, he hath rejected it, and loveth darkness rather than light: And this double wrath shall be fastened and fixed indomoveably upon him, so long as he remaineth in the condition of unbelief: "The wrath of God abideth on him," saith he.

Hence may the weak believer strengthen his faith, by reasoning from this ground after this manner:

"Whosoever believeth the doctrine delivered by the Son of God, and findeth himself partly drawn powerfully to believe in him, by the sight of life in him, and partly driven by the fear of God's wrath to adhere unto him, may be sure of right and interest to life eternal through him.

"But sinful and unworthy I (may the weak believer say) do believe the doctrine delivered by the Son of God, and do feel myself partly drawn powerfully to believe in him, by the sight of life in him, and partly driven, by the fear of God's wrath, to adhere unto him.

"Therefore, I may be sure of my right and interest unto eternal life through him."

THE EVIDENCES OF TRUE FAITH.

SO much for the laying the grounds of faith, and warrants to believe. Now, for evidencing of true faith by fruits, these four things are requisite: 1. That the believer be soundly convinced in his judgment, of his obligation to keep the whole moral law, all the days of his life; and that not the less, but so much the more, as he is delivered by Christ from the covenant of works, and curse of the law. 2. That he endeavour to grow in the exercise and daily practice of godliness and righteousness. 3. That the course of his new obedience run in the right channel, that is, through faith in Christ, and through a good conscience, to all the duties of love towards God and man. 4. That he keep strait communion with the fountain Christ Jesus, from whom grace must run along for furnishing of good fruits.

For the first, viz. To convince the believer, in his judgment, of his obligation to keep the moral law, among many passages, take Mat. v. 16.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. Ver. 17. Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. Ver. 18. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. Ver. 19. Whosoever, therefore, shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: But whosoever shall do, and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. Ver. 20. For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Wherein our Lord,

1. Giveth commandment to believers, justified by faith, to give evidence of the grace of God in them, before men, by doing good works: "Let your light so shine before men," saith he, "that they may see your good works."

2. He induceth them so to do, by shewing that albeit they be not justified by works, yet spectators of their good works may be converted or edified; and so glory may redound to God by their good works, when the witnesses "thereof shall glorify your Father which is in heaven."

3. He gives them no other rule for their new obedience than the moral law, set down and explicated by Moses and the prophets; "Think not (saith he) that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets."

4. He gives them to understand, that the doctrine of grace and freedom from the curse of the law, by faith in him, is readily mistaken by men's corrupt judgments, as if it did loose or slacken the obligation of believers to obey the commands, and to be subject to the authority of the law: and that this error is indeed a destroying of the law and of the prophets, which he will in no case ever endure in any of his disciples, it is so contrary to the end of his coming, which is first to sanctify, and then to save believers : "Think not " (saith he) that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets."

5. He teacheth, that the end of the gospel and covenant of grace is to procure men's obedience unto the moral law : "I am come " (saith he) to fulfil the law and the prophets."

6. That the obligation of the moral law, in all points, unto all holy duties, is perpetual, and shall stand to the world's end, that is, "till heaven and earth pass away."

7. That as God hath had a care of the scriptures from the beginning, so shall he have a care of them still to the world's end, that there shall not one jot or one tittle of the substance thereof be taken away ; so saith the text, ver. 18.

8. That as the breaking of the moral law, and defending the transgressions thereof to be no sin, doth exclude men, both from heaven, and justly also from the fellowship of the true church ; so the obedience of the law, and teaching others to do the same, by example, counsel, and doctrine, according to every man's calling, proveth a man to be a true believer, and in great estimation with God, and worthy to be much esteemed of by the true church. ver. 19.

9. That the righteousness of every true Christian must be more than the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees ; for the Scribes and Pharisees, albeit they took great pains to discharge sundry duties of the law, yet they cut short the exposition thereof, that it might the less condemn their practice ; they studied the outward part of the duty, but neglected the inward and spiritual part ; they discharged some meaner duties carefully, but neglected judgment, mercy, and the love of God : In a word, they went about to establish their own righteousness, and rejected the righteousness of God by faith in Jesus. But a true Christian must have more than all this ; he must acknowledge the full extent of the spiritual meaning of the law, and have a respect to all the commandments, and labour to cleanse himself from all filthiness of flesh and spirit, and "not lay " weight upon what service he hath done, or shall do," but clothe himself with the imputed righteousness of Christ, which only can hide his nakedness, or else he cannot be saved ; so saith the text, "except your righteousness," &c.

The second thing requisite to evidence true faith is, that the believer endeavour to put the rules of godliness and righteousness in practice, and to grow in the daily exercise thereof, held forth, 2 Pet. i. 5.

And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; ver. 6. And to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness: ver. 7. And to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly-kindness, charity.— Ver. 8. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Wherein, 1. The Apostle teacheth believers, for evidencing of precious faith in themselves, to endeavour to add to their faith seven other sister graces. The first is Virtue, or the active exercise and practice of all moral duties, that so faith may not be idle, but put forth itself in work. The second is Knowledge, which serves to furnish faith with information of the truth to be believed, and to furnish virtue with direction what duties are to be done, and how to go about them prudently. The third is Temperance, which serveth to moderate the use of all pleasant things, that a man be not clogged therewith, nor made unfit for any duty whereto he is called. The fourth is Patience, which serveth to moderate a man's affections, when he meeteth with any difficulty or unpleasant thing; that he neither weary for pains required in well-doing, nor faint when the Lord chastiseth him, nor murmur when he crosseth him. The fifth is Godliness, which may keep him up in all the exercises of religion, inward and outward; whereby he may be furnished from God, for all other duties which he hath to do. The sixth is Brotherly-kindness, which keepeth estimation of, and affection to, all the household of faith, and to the image of God in every one wheresoever it is seen. The seventh is Love, which keepeth the heart in readiness to do good to all men, whatsoever they be, upon all occasions which God shall offer.

2. Albeit it be true, that there is much corruption and infirmity in the godly; yet the Apostle will have men uprightly endeavouring, and doing their best, as they are able, to join all these graces one to another, and to grow in the measure of exercising them: "Giving all diligence, (saith he,) add to your faith," &c.

3. He assureth all professed believers, that as they shall profit in the obedience of this direction, so they shall profitably prove the soundness of their own faith ; and if they want these graces, that they shall be found blind deceivers of themselves, ver. 9.

The third thing requisite to evidence true faith is, that obedience to the law run in the right channel, that is, through faith in Christ, &c. held forth, 1 Tim. i. 5.

Wherein the Apostle teacheth these seven doctrines :

1. That the obedience of the law must flow from love, and love from a pure heart, and a pure heart from a good conscience, and a good conscience from faith unfeigned :— This he makes the only right channel of good works : “ The end of the law is love,” &c.

2. That the end of the law is not, that men may be justified by their obedience of it, as the Jewish doctors did falsely teach ; for it is impossible that sinners can be justified by the law, who, for every transgression, are condemned by the law : “ For the end of the law is (not such as the Jewish doctors taught, but) love, out of a pure heart,” &c.

3. That the true end of the law, preached unto the people, is that they, by the law, being made to see their deserved condemnation, should flee to Christ unfeignedly, to be justified by faith in him ; so saith the text, while it maketh love to flow through faith in Christ.

4. That no man can set himself in love to obey the law, except in as far as his conscience is quieted by faith, or is seeking to be quieted in Christ ; for “ the end of the law is love, out of a good conscience, and faith unfeigned.”

5. That feigned faith goeth to Christ without reckoning with the law, and so wants an errand ; but unfeigned faith reckoneth with the law, and is forced to flee for refuge unto Christ, as the end of the law for righteousness, so often as it finds itself guilty for breaking of the law : “ For the end of the law is faith unfeigned.”

6. That the fruits of love may come forth in act particularly, it is necessary that the heart be brought to the hatred of all sin and uncleanness, and to a stedfast purpose to follow all holiness universally ; “ For the end of the law is love, out of a pure heart.”

7. That unfeigned faith is able to make the conscience good, and the heart pure, and the man lovingly obedient to the law; for when Christ's blood is seen by faith to quiet justice, then the conscience becometh quiet also, and will not suffer the heart to entertain the love of sin, but sets the man on work to fear God for his mercy, and to obey all his commandments, out of love to God, for his free gift of justification, by grace bestowed on him: "For this is the end of the law indeed," whereby it obtaineth of a man more obedience than any other way.

The fourth thing requisite to evidence true faith is, the keeping strict communion with Christ, the fountain of all graces, and of all good works, held forth, John xv. 5.

I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

Wherein Christ, in a similitude from a vine tree, teacheth us,

1. That by nature we are wild barren briers, till we be changed by coming unto Christ; and that Christ is that noble vine-tree, having all life and sap of grace in himself, and able to change the nature of every one that cometh to him, and to communicate spirit and life to as many as shall believe in him: "I am the vine" (saith he) "and ye are the branches."

3. That, Christ loveth to have believers so united unto him, as that they be not separated at any time by unbelief: And that there may be a mutual inhabitation of them in him by faith and love; and of him in them, by his word and Spirit; for he joineth these together, "If ye abide in me, and I in you," as things inseparable.

3. That, except a man be ingrafted in Christ, and united to him by faith, he cannot do any the least good works of his own strength; yea, except in as far as a man doth draw spirit and life from Christ by faith, the work which he doth is naughty and null in point of goodness, in God's estimation: "For without me" (saith he) "ye can do nothing."

4. That this mutual inhabitation is the fountain and infallible cause of constant continuing and abounding in well doing: For "he that abideth in me, and I in him" (saith he) "the same beareth much fruit." Now, as our abiding

Christ presupposeth three things : 1. That we have heard the joyful sound of the gospel, making offer of Christ to us, who are lost sinners by the law ; 2. That we have heartily embraced the gracious offer of Christ ; 3. That by receiving of him we are become the sons of God, John i. 12. and are incorporated into his mystical body, that he may dwell in us, as his temple, and we dwell in him, as in the residence of righteousness and life : So our abiding in Christ importeth other three things : 1. An employing of Christ in all our addresses to God, and in all our undertakings of whatsoever piece of service to him ; 2. A contentedness with his sufficiency, without going out from him to seek righteousness, or life, or furniture in any case, in our own or any of the creature's worthiness ; 3. A fixedness in our believing in him, a fixedness in our employing and making use of him, and a fixedness in our contentment in him, and adhering to him, so that no allurements, no temptation of Satan or the world, no terror nor trouble, may be able to drive our spirits from firm adherence to him, or from the constant avowing of his truth, and obeying his commands, who hath loved us, and given himself for us ; and in whom, not only our life is laid up, but also the fulness of the Godhead dwelleth bodily, by reason of the substantial and personal union of the divine and human nature in him.

Hence let every watchful believer, for strengthening himself in faith and obedience, reason after this manner :

" Whosoever doth daily employ Christ Jesus, for cleansing his conscience and affections from the guiltiness and filthiness of sins against the law, and for enabling him to give obedience to the law in love, he hath the evidence of true faith in himself.

" But I (may every watchful believer say) do daily employ Jesus Christ, for cleansing my conscience and affections from the guiltiness and filthiness of sins against the law, and for enabling me to give obedience to the law in love.

" Therefore, I have the evidence of true faith in myself."

And hence also, let the sleepy and sluggish believer reason, for his own upstirring, thus :

" Whatsoever is necessary for giving evidence of true faith, I must study to do it, except I would deceive myself and perish.

" But, to employ Christ Jesus daily, for cleansing of "conscience and affections from the guiltiness and filthiness

 "of sins against the law, and for enabling me to give obedience to the law in love, is necessary for evidencing of "true faith in me.

"Therefore, this I must study to do, except I would deceive myself and perish."

And, lastly, Seeing Christ himself hath pointed this forth, as an undoubted evidence of a man elected of God unto life, and given to Jesus Christ to be redeemed, "if he come unto him," that is, close covenant, and keep communion with him, as he teacheth us, John vi. 37. saying, "All that the Father hath given me, shall come to me; and him that cometh to me, I will, in no wise, cast out." Let every person, who doth not in earnest make use of Christ for remission of sin, and amendment of life, reason hence, and from the whole premises, after this manner, that his conscience may be awakened:

"Whosoever is neither by the law, nor by the gospel, so convinced of sin, righteousness, and judgment, as to make him come to Christ, and employ him daily for remission of sin, and amendment of life; he wanteth not only all evidence of saving faith, but also all appearance of his election, so long as he remaineth in this condition.

"But I (may every impenitent person say) am neither by the law nor gospel so convinced of sin, righteousness, and judgment, as to make me come to Christ, and employ him daily for remission of sin, and amendment of life.

"Therefore, I want not only all evidence of saving faith, but also all appearance of my election, so long as I remain in this condition."
